YOU CAN'T

Progress always involves a certain amount of risk. After all, you can't steal second base and still keep one foot on first.—Exchange.

CHAPLAIN SAYS WORK "GETS IN YOUR BLOOD"

Priest Guides 700 At State School

This fall about 15 mentally deficient children will march reverently to a portable altar in the gymnasium of Columbus State School and make their First Holy Communion. On another festive occasion, 180 of their retarded playmates will receive the Sacrament of Confirmation.

The difficult task of teaching these afflicted children the basic tenets of the Catholic Church falls on Rev. Francis W. McConville, forty-year-old Boston-born priest who has spent 9 of 13 years since his ordination as a hospital chaplain.

Rev. McConville, who insists that working with the mentally retarded "gets in your blood," said he uses an entirely different technique in teaching Catechism to these unfortunate youngsters. He declared:

"In dealing with these children, the first thing you must remember is that everything is slow. You must say the same thing many times before the youngsters grasp the idea. If you succeed in teaching them one idea a Sunday, and one prayer a month—then that is real progress."

Four boys even learned the Latin responses at Mass, and served for him regularly. But Rev. McConville is at the moment selecting four more boys for this training—since the old servers are going home. In the past three years, about 700 patients have learned some sort of work at the school, and have returned to society to work in special jobs.

Another example of his patient training is found in the case of a 27-year-old spastic who is learning Catechism with the aid of a typewriter. The young man, who is unable to control his muscle reflexes, manages to punch the typewriter with his thumb.

Thus, a typical instruction session finds Rev. McConville asking the questions, and the student, who cannot talk, typing out the answers. In the fall, he will make his First Communion.

In describing the types of personalities he encounters daily at the school, Rev. McConville said the patients are very affectionate, extremely appreciative of even the smallest gift, and acutely conscious of right and wrong.

Because of their awareness of their faults, Rev. McConville said, some of the students often make better Communions than those on the outside.

If some of the patients do not know how to say thank you, they often express appreciation in some other fashion. For example, even on sweltering days, students will assemble buckets, rags and brooms, and converge on the car which Rev. McConville drives to the school. Then, they'll proceed to clean the vehicle inside and out.

The young chaplain, however, does not like to take credit for the spiritual advancement of the approximately 700 Catholics in the W. Broad St. institution.

He has high praise for the work of the St. Dymphna Guild, an organization whose members teach Catechism, collect sales tax stamps, and assist him in many other works of charity at the school. One member plays the organ at High Mass. Another has taught the students the Mass of the Angels, which they will sing next on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, Aug. 15.

The group is composed of four Sisters of Mercy from Holy Family School, and a number of lay people. Active members include Miss Susan Price, Miss Grace Price, Miss Florence Stroyne, Joseph Lohr, Art Miller, Miss Mary Bentz and Mrs. Agnes McConnell.

Moreover, during the school year from five to 10 students from St. Mary of the Springs College teach Catechism on Mondays and Wednesdays. Other assistance comes from numerous Catholic organizations throughout the state.

About 2000 patients with similar afflictions are cared for at Orient State School, situated about 15 miles south of Columbus in Pickaway County. Their chaplain, Rev. Edward Joyce, is also a member of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, who have served at the institution for the past six years.

Rev. Joyce celebrates Mass every Sunday for the 800 Catholic patients, hears Confessions, and gives Holy Communion to about 35 of the students.

He and Rev. McConville reside at St. Simon and Jude rectory in West Jefferson.

ROUGH SAILING?

While we may be heading into rough times, it is well to remember the economists have been forecasting a recession every year for the last three years now, having been wrong twice, and may not have the answer this time.

HE WASN'T

The teacher had been giving her class a lesson on the great inventions of the country and was now anxious to test how much her pupils had learned.

"No children," she began, "Can you tell me the name of one important thing unknown a century ago?"

A small boy rose at the back of the class. "Me, teacher," he replied.

MR. ADVERTISER:

This is what we said twenty years ago

BUILDING BUSINESS

Newspaper advertising is news — and it is also profitable. Newspaper advertising sets the successful merchants in any community apart from those who are following antiquated and more costly methods of attracting customers. Moreover, newspaper advertising is the least expensive method of building business for the average merchant. America's largest advertisers are more exacting of the return of their advertising dollars than the smallest merchant, who can ill afford to be wasteful. One does not see the postcard, dodger or handbill stuffed in thir mail boxes or under their doors every week from outstanding national advertisers. Yet, there is hardly a week passes that their familiar names do not greet you and sell you through the columns of the newspapers. If advertising will build up the biggest business concerns in the world, why wouldn't it help the smaller concerns to prosper in proportion. There's something for every merchant to ponder over.

AND IT IS STILL NEWS TODAY

McFADYEN'S ACRES
RESTRICTED

Ranch sites, conventional sites, 100 ft. frontage and over. Some wooded. $75 down, $15 mo. Before buying any lot always ask these questions—

1. Have you provided a park for my children to play in so they may be safe from the streets?
2. Are the parks and roads dedicated for the public use? You may save a little now but OH! those assessments that come later.
3. Are there any foul smelling factories within 2 miles of the location?

If you get a yes answer to all the above questions then ask to see the plat. If it is signed by the planning commission, county engineer and county commissioners then it is true. If the plat is not signed then go to 4415 Alum Creek Dr. and see the sign there. It is always wise to call O. W. Dunn if you want to buy or sell, DI. 2466 or FA. 9063.

Glen. Methodist Upsets Westgate EUB In Thriller

In the most startling upset of the season, Glenwood toppled Westgate EUB from the undefeated rank with a 14-12 victory. Every team has lost at least one game to this first round of play. At times in the Glenwood-Westgate game, the fielding of the Glenwood team bordered on the sensational, with several unbelievable catches being made by Brenot. Westgate made a final bid for victory in the last of the seventh with a two-run rally, but fell short as the determined Methodists would not be denied. Harvey Postlewaithe, Eldon Koehler, and Ev. Strickland belted homers for the Glenwood team while C. Horne hit for the circuit for Westgate EUB.

Hilltop Kiwanis continued on its hitting binge by scuttling the New Rome squad 19 to 9. The first four batters in the Kiwanis line-up proved to be Murderers' Row," getting 14 hits and scoring 12 runs between them. Those lucky were Detrick, Best, Rice and Wendell Glass. Peters continued on his hitting spree with three safeties as did Bud Dougherty for New Rome.

Hillcrest tasted victory for the first time with a 16-11 win over the Hilltop Lions. Richards, Gurina, Freeman, and Miller were the top sluggers for Hillcrest Baptist, while Dusty Rhodes turned in his usual solid game at third base. Anderson, Bucher, Craytor, and Grassie played the leading roles for the Lions.

West Park Methodist dropped its second game of the season allowing Westway Post VFW to regain a portion of the league lead. VFW topped the West Par gang 12-8 in a game very close for five innings. VFW rallied for four runs in the sixth inning and added two insurance runs in the seventh for the win.

In a make-up game at Westgate Park on June 30, West Park Methodist defeated Hillcrest Baptist 11-4. Bowers, Kearney, Dille, Kuhn, and Dailey each had two hits for West Park. Dusty Rhodes drove in all four of the Hillcrest runs with a grand slam homer in the third inning. Rhodes also turned in two double plays with fine stops of line drives at his third base position.

New Rome and Westway Post VFW battled to a 10-inning 22-22 tie on July 1 at the New Rome diamond. This game was called on account of darkness and will be replayed at a later date.

Hilltop YMCA Little 9 League Begins With Lots Of Action

The Hilltop YMCA Little 9 Baseball league opened two weeks ago at West Hi School diamond, with the Little Dodgers meeting the Little Indians. The Don Fury-coached Indians mauled the Miller Dodgers 6-5 as the losers collected nine hits and the victors got seven.

Tom Marinazzi, winning pitcher, was capably received by Kenny McKenzie. Bill Kuhn led both teams at the plate, getting a single, double, and home run in three trips to the plate.

Billy Karns burled a good game for the losers by limiting the Indians to seven hits, but his wildness and passed balls cost him the ball game.

The Little Cards and Little Yanks put on a slugging-bee in the second game of the week as the Dick Furry-coached Cards smashed out 14 runs, while the Yanks under the managership of Tom Reeves, could only collect 12. Calvin English was credited with the win and Bobby Saint was charged with the loss. Larry Fox led the victors' runs-scored department with three. Billy Fraker and Saint got three runs scored apiece for the losers.

The Jerry Stewart-coached Little Braves outplayed Cliff Shoemaker's Little Tigers in the third game of the week to win 9-4. Pitcher Dick Williamson limited the Tigers to three hits, but at times displayed a complete lack of control as he walked 10 batters in the game. His battery-mate, Bob Dent, showed a lot of scrap behind the plate and played good ball throughout. Little Fortcamp was charged with the loss.

The opening week's play was climaxed as the Little Cubs edged the Little Redlegs 7-6 in the best game of the week. The score was tied in the last half of the last inning with the bases loaded, two outs and a 3-2 count on Jeff Leighninger, the batter. Then Mike Cantlon tossed a low inside pitch to walk the winning run. Don Barnes was the winning pitcher and Bill Ingle starred for the losers as he led his team at bat with two for three and displayed a lot of spirit behind the plate.

Glenwood Juniors Drop Knothole League Opener To Hosts At Arlington

The Glenwood Recreation Center entry in the junior knothole baseball league opened its season on Thursday, July 1, as visitors of the Arlington-Barrington team at Arlington High School. The hosts treated their visitors roughly and sent them home 16-1 losers.

The combined efforts of the two Arlington pitchers, Welch and Ballard, allowed the Glenwood team only one hit, this being a home run by Bill Quinn, the Glenwood catcher. Quinn's round-tripper came in the top of the sixth with one out. It was a line drive into left field falling over the head of the left fielder.

Arlington jumped to a 5-0 first inning lead which was never overcome by Glenwood and added two runs in the second and third innings each and seven in the fifth to end its scoring.

DIG THAT CRAZY CLOCK

Was it haunted, pixilated or just plain crazy? The experts called it syncopated, but even Einstein said there was nothing he could do. Glenwood Recreation Center solved the mystery. It was a dream, the syncopation that is. The clock was real enough. It belonged to a man, Nelson Green, whose dream sequence was acted, danced and sung to the tune of the "Syncopated Clock."

This was part of the annual Drama Festival of the Columbus recreation department playgrounds. The choreography for the play was worked out by Sidney and Nelson Green and presented with skits from other playgrounds on the stage at Sunshine Recreation Center.

Glenwood's Jump Pit Used In Physical Fitness

Glenwood Recreation Center announces the construction of a new broad jump and high jump pit, with the jumping pit measuring 10 by 15 feet, amply supplied with sawdust.

The top mark in height so far has been Orville Scott's four feet in the high jump. Bill Quinn has paced the juniors with a broad jump of 13 feet.

The physical fitness program which consists of sprints, walk and run, sit-ups, pull-ups, and standing broad jump are set up for both boys and girls so as not to make them unfair or too easy for either group. These certificates will be available at the end of the summer season for those who successfully complete the test.

West Park Methodist And Glenwood Methodist Leap To Y Junior League Wins

by Harry Grashel

West Park Methodist and Glenwood Methodist jumped off to good starts with victories in the opening set of games in the Hilltop YMCA Junior Softball loop. West Park showed a lot of class in thumping the Westgate EUB nine, 26-2. George Breckenridge, on the mound for West Park, was very impressive and can be counted on as an outstanding softball pitcher of the future if he continues his present pace. The entire West Park team clouted the ball to all corners of the lot, with Charles Doyo smacking a long homer for the big blow of the game.

The Westgate team, although soundly thumped in this game, showed several good boys who will improve as the season goes on and will cause a lot of trouble for everyone before the season ends. Tom Reeves played a good game at short for Westgate.

Glenwood Methodist defeated the West Jr. Hi-Y by the score of 13-9 in a hard-fought game. George Tittle pitched a good game for Glenwood and Dick Furry pitched equally well for the Hi-Y, but was the victim of some fielding lapses by his team-mates. For Glenwood, Steve Byerly, Cozad, R. Tittle, and Jerry Hummel were the leading hitters. Dick Furry and John Herold hit homers for W. Jr. Hi-Y.

Glenwood Seniors Earn 4-2 Victory In First Knothole Game Clash

The Glenwood Recreation Center Senior Knothole baseball team opened its season Tuesday, June 29, with a 6-2 victory over the West End Kids at McKinley Playground.

Glenwood pitcher Bob Dixon allowed but one hit and struck out seven, while his teammates were gathering five bingles, with shortstop Paul Lombard collecting two of the five.

The Kids took a first inning 1-0 lead, but this was quickly erased by a six-run barrage in the bottom of the second by Glenwood. The Kids were able to collect one more in the third inning and the rest of the game found neither team able to cross the plate.

AMONG THE MAIN ATTRACTIONS at the Hilltop Bean Dinner, July 27 and 28, will be two huge exhibits furnished by the United States Air Force. At left is the F-89 Jet Fighter, which has proven itself in combat. The model on display has been especially designed to show all the intricate parts of the craft. At right is the fuselage of the B-29 Superfortress, identical to the plane that dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima. People will be allowed to view the entire inside of the hull and look at all of the craft's mechanism. The Air Force will bring these displays from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base on huge trailers, which will be placed at Westgate Park for the public's inspection during the Bean Dinner. Air Force personnel will be on hand to explain details of operations of both planes during the two days. Many local merchants and businesses will also have outstanding displays of interest in the Bean Dinner exhibits tent which will be open throughout the two days.

MAURICE JACKSON TO EMCEE HI-Y AND Y-TEENS' DANCE

Morris Jackson, well-known WVKO disc jockey, will be the guest emcee of the variety show which will be the highlight of the tomorrow night "Moonlight Serenade." This dance is being co-sponsored by the West Senior Hi-Y of the Hilltop YMCA and the West Y Teens of the Columbus YWCA and will be held at Westgate Park shelter house on Friday, July 16, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Billy Grim and his 10-piece orchestra will furnish the music for the dance and the Variety Show, according to Dee Patton, chairman of the committee in charge.

The variety show will have five acts of local talent, including individuals well known for their skills and entertainment. Highlighting the program will be a West High Trio composed of Kay Glass, Judy Peery and Joan Courtney, which will present several popular selections. Sue Sevenus will do her unique novelty act. Marilyn Gordon, supervisor of Glenwood Recreation Center, announced that the remaining three acts are still in the process of being organized, but promise to be highly entertaining.

Vic Jutt, president of the West Hi, announced that all teen-agers are invited to come to this dance, either stag or with dates. Tickets may be purchased for 50 cents each from Alma Booth of the Hilltop Community Council, any member of the West Y Teens, or any member of the West Senior Hi-Y.

Expressway Plans Revision Will Decrease Traffic On The Hilltop

The Hilltop is losing those localities which figure in the drastic revision of the master plan for expressways costing $18,000,000 above present estimated costs. The revisions were recommended Thursday, July 8, by Alden E. Stilson, consulting engineer.

The purpose of Stilson's plan is to place Broad and High-sts within 20 to 25 minutes travel from any town or community in Franklin County. He maintains that if this can be done, Columbus will reverse its present tendency to lose business.

The relocation of Route 40 is one of the major steps in Stilson's plan. It would be routed north of its present location, thus, much of the traffic which now passes through the heart of the Hilltop would by pass the community entirely. The new route would join the present Route 40 at the Phillippi-rd interchange, just west of New Rome.

BEAN DINNER SPECIAL EVENTS, GAMES LISTED

Melon-Eating Contest Will Climax Games

THE FOUR FLAMES, popular and widely known barbershop quartet, of the Gas Co. will be one of the feature attractions at the Hilltop Bean Dinner on Wednesday evening, July 28. This group has performed for service clubs and conventions in many cities in Ohio and has made numerous radio and TV appearances. They are members of the Buckeye Chapter of the Barbershop Society. The members, reading from left to right, are William Headley, Dick Schoedel, Ken Culbertson, and Walter Murphy. All are Gas Co. employees.

EARN A BROILER

All teen-agers in the city have a chance to win one of two $40 electric broilers to give as gifts to their parents in the disc jockey poster contest now underway at Sunshine Recreation Center. The contest will be judged on July 24 by Dorothy Jones, supervisor for the city recreation department.

Contestants must draw a caricature of WCOL Disc Jockey Bob Wery, who emcees and spins platters for the Saturday night dances at Sunshine.

KIWANIS TO SEE COLOR FILM

Showing of a color film, "Nature's Children," will highlight the entertainment at today's noon luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club in the Colony Restaurant.

At last week's meeting, 15 of the 84 charter members received pins for 100 per cent attendance. President Otto Best appointed Bud McVay and Jim Foote co-captains of the Kiwanis team which will meet the Hilltop Lions Club in the annual tug-of-war at the Hilltop Bean Dinner.

Columbus Federation Of Musicians To Present Two Summer Park Concerts On Sunday, July 18

A high point in the summer band concert series will be reached Sunday, July 18, when the Columbus Federation of Musicians will present two concerts.

At Whetstone Park, which adjoins the Park of Roses, the Columbus Municipal Band will play a concert starting at 5 p. m. The band will be under the baton of Joseph F. Masdea. For soloist, Masdea will have Teresa Montavon who has performed for the band on many occasions. This band, composed entirely of members of the Columbus Federation of Musicians, was recently designated as the Columbus Municipal Band and it is expected, that eventually the City of Columbus will assume full sponsorship.

At 8 p. m. in Schiller Park, a fully-instrumented dance band will play a concert following the precedent established last season and in response to numerous requests from listeners. It is to be expected that the program will embrace all the latest releases of popular numbers from scores arranged by its leader, Ray Roop. Roop has had great success in the dance field, having led the band at the Seneca Hotel for several seasons past.

These concerts are the result of funds provided by the City of Columbus through its Recreation Department augmented by those furnished by the Columbus Federation of Musicians through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the Recording and Film Industries.

The program at the Park of Roses will include; march, "Hail America," by Richards; selections from the "Free Lance," by Sousa; grand selection from "La Traviata" by Verdi; novelty, "Two Guitars" by Horlick; vocal, "Only A Rose" by Friml and "Serenata Rimpiano" by Toselli, sung by Teresa Montavon; march, "Salute to Masdea," by Stansell; and overture, "La Forza del Destino," by Verdi.

Following intermission, symphonic march, "Honor in Art," by Sbracia; selection "Martha," by von Flotow; American sketch, "Down South," by Myddleton; vocal, "Moonlight and Roses," by Lemare, sung by Teresa Montavon; march, "Municipal Band," by Masdea; overture, "Light Cavalry," by Suppe; march, "Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa; and "The Star Spangled Banner."

WEST GATE LAWN FETE SATURDAY

A good way to make this Saturday night one of your most pleasant is to attend the annual West Gate Lawn Festival from 5 p. m. to midnight on the West Gate Temple Grounds. School Bond Issue Proposed For Fall Ballot At Hilliards

Ways and means of providing adequate public school facilities to meet the greatly increased enrollment in the Hilliards area during the next few years was discussed at a public meeting, held on Wednesday evening of last week at the Hilliards High school.

Formal approval by the school board of a $489,000 bond issue to be placed on the November ballot for construction of additional school facilities to solve the growth problem highlighted the meeting. The bonds would mature in 23 years.

Bassel Johnson, school board president, told of the rapid growth of the area embraced by the school district, and forecast the probable expansion of the local district.

M. D. Hartsook, schools superintendent, said that a survey indicated that 12 additional classrooms would be needed to take care of the increased enrollment and proposed building at the present high school site. The unit would include a cafeteria and kitchen in the basement, which would, at least for a time, serve both elementary and high school students.

He also recommended the erection of a cement block industrial arts shop, 32 feet long and 32 feet wide.

This separate building would house an agriculture room, drawing room, dressing rooms for outdoor sports, and other specialized functions. It would free two classrooms in the present high school building.

New Municipal Golf Course On Hilltop Plans Grand Opening July 31

The new Raymond municipal golf course at Trabue and Wilson-rds will have its first putt putted at a grand opening rite tentatively planned for July 31, Mayor Sensenbrenner revealed yesterday. Both the mayor and his recreation commission have been in hot water in past months for alleged "slowness" in completing the course.

The mayor revealed that completion of the course had been hurried through the use of prison labor to permit local golfers to enjoy this season on the 214-acre course. Land for the golf course, which extends from Hague-av to Wilson-rd and is bound on the south by Trabue-rd, was purchased at a cost of $88,000.

This week Mrs. Grooms called to let us know how happy she was with the results she got from the ad she gave us. She had numerous answers and sold the dining room suite on the second call!

New Rome Mayor Declares CMASC Might Initiate Single Metropolitan City

New Rome Mayor D. J. Kunz happily declared, following the initial meeting of the fact-finding group of the Columbus Metropolitan Area Study Council Tuesday in the regional planning commission office that "the people should watch carefully the deliberations of the CMASC.

"Through its efforts," he said, "the entire Columbus metropolitan area will become at least a great cooperative example of democracy in action, if not eventually incorporated as one great city."

Kunz represented the Franklin County Mayors' Association at the meeting, which was attended by representatives of all the major interested city and county government offices, plus a representative of the Township Trustees Association. George Beery, county superintendent of schools, chairman of the fact-finding group, presided at the session.

Discussed tentatively were problems that must be solved pertaining to annexation petitions pending from Sharon, Truro, and Clinton Townships. The group, composed of non-paid volunteers, will meet within the next 30 days to present their findings on these problems.

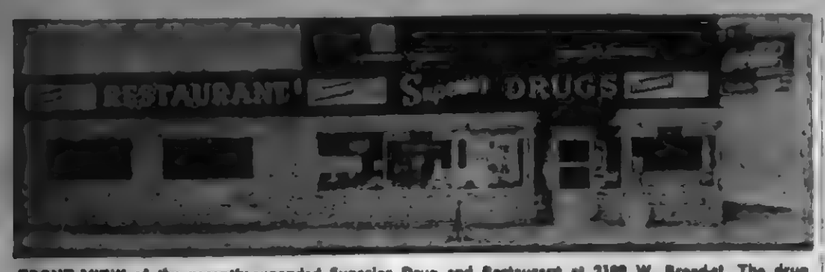
LAWN FETE TONIGHT

A lawn fete will be held tonight, July 15, from 5 to 7:30 at Westgate Methodist Church, under the auspices of the WSCS. The Wesleyan Guild will sell home-made candy. Tickets are available from Mrs. George Proden, RA. 9670, or from circle leaders.

Westgate School's Two New Classrooms To Assist In Handling Expected 600

Two new classrooms are on their way toward completion at Westgate Elementary School to help take care of the expected enrollment of 600 pupils at the school, Principal James Heaney announced this week.

The new rooms, which are to be completed by Sept. 1, will be added to the West wing of the brick school at 2080 Wicklow-rd and will cost approximately $30,000.



Henry stated that six more rooms would be added to the rear of the building, in the future, making a total of 20 rooms in all.

Superior Drugs To Mark 10th Anniversary With Sale, Gifts For Customers

Superior Drugs and Restaurant, 2109 W. Broad-st at Whitethorne-av, will mark their 10th anniversary starting today, July 15, through Sunday, July 18, with a gigantic sale of drugs, notions, and specials in the restaurant.

The store, co-owned and managed by Robert Henery and Newton Davis, brothers-in-law, was taken over by them on July 17, 1944. Since that time, Superior has been changed from an old fashioned drugstore to one of the finest and most modern drugstores and restaurants in Columbus.

Their new knotty pine restaurant, the newest addition, seats 57 people. Their original staff of four has grown to a staff of 16 employees. Superior has one of the largest fountains on the Hilltop.

In 1946, a complete grocery department was added to the enterprise, marking one of the many expansions since the new management took over.

To help celebrate their 10th anniversary, they are giving to any customer that walks in a free cup of coffee, valuable gifts, and free comic books for children. They will also offer sensationally low prices on many items as shown in today's advertisement.

At the same location, the Superior Drug Co. also offers a complete watch repair and engraving service, which is operated by John Blackwood, who has had 30 years experience in the business.

The co-owners are married to twin sisters. Bob's wife, Marj, is actively associated in the business. Hilltoppers since 1919, Bob and Marj have a son and two grandsons.

[illegible] C. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Reed, [illegible] recently returned to his base at Treasure Island, Cal., after spending a 37-day leave with his family. A member of the Navy Harbor Defense Unit at Pearl Harbor for nearly two years, Reed was stationed with another Hilltop boy, David Bill, and South Sider, Earl Douglas Williamson, both of whom will be returning shortly to the [illegible].

Reed's mother was his guest at Waikiki a year ago, when she flew over and stayed for six weeks at the Islander Hotel while her son was on leave. During Mrs. Reed's stay she and her son saw many points of interest on the island, such as Diamondhead and the Punch Bowl, where Ernie Pyle is buried.

One of her most pleasant memories was Mother's Day in Waikiki when she invited 12 boys from the base to dinner. Mrs. Reed also has a second son in the service, Pfc. Jerry Reed of the U.S. Marines. He is stationed at Twenty-Nine Palms, Cal., at present.

John Shrick, Jr., 33, 387 Nashoba-av, was reported in fair condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital Saturday, after suffering leg and face cuts and possible back injuries when his car crashed into a tree near 2771 McKinley-av.

Glad to hear that Jerry Schroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schroy, 88 N. Roys-av, is recovering from his busted knee, sustained while "vacationing" in Wisconsin. It didn't turn out to be much of a pleasure trip for Jerry, though, as he spent four of the six days in a local hospital after falling some six feet off a wall. St. Mary Magdalene Church To Build Hilltop Structure

St. Mary Magdalene Church has announced plans to construct a $490,000 church building on the Hilltop.

When complete, in November, 1956, the new structure will be the first church building the parish has had since it was established 28 years ago. The present church was designed as part of the school building. Upon completion of the new church this large room in the west end of the school building will be converted into a full-size gymnasium. The church will be located on part of the present school playground and parking lot and will face Wicklow-rd.

Architect Edward Ramsey, in describing the project, said the church, to be built in the shape of a cross, will have a seating capacity of 700. A cross, 186 feet from the ground, will stand atop a tower rising from the center of the church.

On the exterior, the church will be brick with an Indiana limestone trim. The roof will be copper. Its stained glass windows will be protected by an outside layer of clear glass.

Probably the most unusual feature of the interior is the location of the choir loft at the rear of the main altar, in full view of the congregation. The church will also have two side altars, four confessionals, a limestone floor, concrete arches and limestone wainscoating.

The concrete basement will be large enough to use for a parish hall.

Pioneers In Aiding Mentally Ill With Religious Therapy

Rev. Charles Everett Hill

By Betty L. Daft

Still serving the community in his role of Methodist minister, although he was officially retired in 1943 and is now approaching his 79th birthday, is Rev. Charles Everett Hill, 112 S. Ogden-av. He is now assuming some of the pastoral duties of Rev. Joseph Shellhaas while the latter is on vacation and last Friday, officiated at the weddings of two local couples.

Probably the most constructive work of his lifetime, pioneering in the field of psychiatric ministry, has been accomplished since his retirement. During the years between 1927 and 1933 while he was pastor of Gift Street Methodist Church, Rev. Hill was one of several local ministers who conducted services one Sunday afternoon a month at Columbus State Hospital. He always set aside a period following the service for personal interviews with some of the patients, [illegible] through the doctor in charge.

Sensing the sincere interest Rev. Hill felt in their needs and welfare, the patients wrote him many letters, appealing for his help. It was in answer to this need that, following his retirement in 1943, Rev. Hill voluntarily took over full time ministerial duties at the hospital. Later the post of chaplain was created and he continued in this position until 1951.

His religious guidance brought about a cure in many instances. His simple therapy consisted in listening carefully to their stories and, finally "persuading them to admit, to themselves and to me, their own fault in the situations that led to their hospitalization." And then, Rev. Hill added, "When they became honest with themselves, and penitent, they began to get well."

Impressed and enthused with the results Rev. Hill was getting, Dr. Bateman, then superintendent of the hospital, wrote letters to all State hospitals about the need of chaplains in such institutions. And, because there were no men trained for this purpose, a school was founded at the Columbus State Hospital, under the direction of Rev. Maurice C. Clark, ordained minister and trained in physiatric work. Rev. Clark is the present chaplain at the State Hospital.

At one time, there were ministers from nearly every state in the union enrolled. The school is now used to train replacements for these posts.

Rev. Hill has realized from his work, not only the satisfaction of an important job well done, but proof in his personal belief, "Religion not only comforts, but offers constructive help."

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareous are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory, until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche, later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALlon 8-5355, 6959 W. Broad Street. Adv.

PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY

By Rev. Hubert Riedel, Pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church

One of the problems which thoughtful Christians feel most acutely is the general lack of concern they observe in their neighbors for the very practical, down-to-earth business of living the Christian life. There are very few people in any community who will claim to be indifferent to the religious and moral values embodied in Christian faith.

Rev. Riedel

Most everyone will acknowledge that religion is a good thing, fine for a community (especially for children) and indispensable to the progress and stability of society. But what some folks say is often quite different from what the same folks do. As a matter of fact, people constantly compromise their moral position. They are Christians intellectually, but atheists practically.

The difficulty is that this situation is not apparent enough to alarm anyone very much. If the average person were more noticeably hostile to religion, or more stikingly bad than he seems to be on the surface, perhaps more people would be disturbed about their "respectable paganism." But people in an average community like ours are just that — average — neither overwhelmingly evil, nor impressively saintly. Like T. S. Eliot's "decent, godless people" they seem to think that so long as their behavior is not terribly offensive, they have fulfilled all virtue.

It is probably generally true to quote Eliot again that:

"Our age is an age of moderate virtue.
And of moderate vice.
When men will not lay down the cross.
Because they will never assume it."

Doesn't that seem to you to be our problem — that there is a tremendous cleavage between what we say is proper behavior and our actual conduct? Yet the folly of this must be obvious to an age which faces the tremendous problems we face. Why not let St. Paul help you decide what you're going to do!

"With eyes wide open to the mercies of God, I beg you . . . as an act of intelligent worship, to give Him your bodies as a living sacrifice, consecrated to Him and acceptable by Him. Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould, but let God remould your minds from within, so that you may prove in practice that the Plan of God for you is good, meets all His demands and moves towards the goal of true maturity . . .

Let us have no imitation Christian love. Let us have a genuine break with evil and a real devotion to good." (Romans XII, in "Letters To Young Churches," translated by J. B. Phillips.)

IT WON'T

If we sit back and let the other fellow do it, it won't be long before he is doing us.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

New Book Praises 'The Library Habit' As Character-Builder For Children

By Mildred Pheler

"Long before your child learns how to read it is a wise idea to get him to know the local library, to find people reading there, to see rooms surrounded by walls of books and to see you select books for yourself."

"Another thing the 'Library habit' can do for the child is to teach him a new concept of sharing and ownership." The above statements were lifted bodily from a new book by Lillian and Godfrey Frankel "What to Do with your Preschooler." The general idea of the book is to present ideas for helping you to help your child in his development by providing him with enjoyable activities. Ideas are profuse and varied.

Another important book, "Personality in the Making," is the fact-finding report of the Midcentury White House Conference on children and youth. All parents should be interested in the results of this conference. The book is divided into two section—Part I: "The Development of the Healthy Personality," has such chapters as "The Importance of Parent-Child relations," "Income Level and Health of Personality," and "Religion as an aid to healthy personality Development." Part II: "Implications for the Conduct of Social Institutions," contains chapters on the family, the church and the school. An authoritative book intended to interpret for the general reader the means available for developing future generations of emotionally healthy citizens.

A revised edition of a book by Erwin T. Saunders, "Making Good Communities Better," is written for officers and leaders of clubs, associations, and all groups interested in the welfare of their communities. Contents include chapters as follows: "How to Promote a Civic Program"; "How to Make Our Group Effective"; "Our Philosophy of Civil Service"; and "Procedure for Civic Leaders." This is a handbook emphasizing thinking before doing.

Seven civic-minded members of our Hilltop Community are telling stories to the children at the Hilltop Branch Library every Wednesday morning through July and half of August. Guest story tellers at the Library sponsored Story Hours, have been to date — Patty Gibson, 209 S. Brinker-av; Mrs. Kathryn Hakola, 126 S. Richardson-av and Mrs. Ruth Cray, 2900 Crescent-dr. Children who have been attending the Story Hour have found them very entertaining. Despite hard rains between nine and ten o'clock one day, 83 children were present for the stories. Mrs. Ruth Cray, formerly a teacher at Dana Avenue School told stories for the week of July 14. Mrs. Cleo Stickel, 656 Chestershire-rd, a member of the Story Telling League, will be the Story Teller for the week of July 21. In the following successive weeks there will be Maxine Barnes, 32 Orel-av, teacher at Westgate School, Wilma Borland 725 Binns-blvd, teacher at Burk Street School and Bess Sperry, 2235 W. Broad-st, teacher at West Broad School.

Crippled Kids To Enjoy Summer Camp Through Aid Of Easter Seal Sales

More than 1,000 crippled children will know the joy and excitement of camping this summer, according to Walter W. Underwood, executive director of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children. Underwood stated that at least eight camps will be open for 10-day to four-week periods to children whose limiting conditions prevent their going to camps for physically normal youngsters.

Nearly 200 boys and girls are expected to be enrolled during the four-week session of two periods, Aug. 1-29, conducted by the Ohio Society itself at Camp Pittenger in Seneca County. Affiliated units of the Society and other interested local organizations will sponsor children, financing maintenance at camp for the most part when parents are unable to afford it through Easter Seal funds. The children will enjoy a program of activities as nearly as possible like that at regular camps, including water sports, games, crafts, hikes, and the traditional evening council ring.

Special Stations For Ohio Vendor's Tax Return Filing Listed For Readers

All persons having Ohio vendors' licenses will be required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by July 31, 1954, for the period of Jan. 1, to June 30, 1954, according to an announcement by the department of taxation, division of sales and highway use taxes.

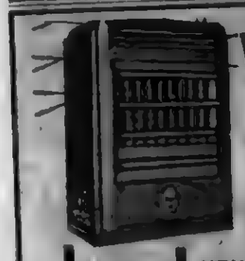
Returns mailed to the Treasurer of State, PO Box 1789, Columbus, should be postmarked not later than July 31, to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing. Vendors are no longer required to have sales tax returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the Department of Taxation. The vendor, however, is required to sign the declaration on the return that the information given is true.

To assist vendors with these returns, the department of taxation has arranged to have several examiners stationed in Franklin County. Local stations for readers of the Hilltop Record, West Side News, and South Side Leader are as follows: Columbus Engine House, W. Broad and Wheatland; Columbus Engine House, Parsons and Hinman, 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., July 28-30, Broadway Restaurant, Grove City, Thursday p. m., July 29.

Mel Martin Of TV And Radio Fame To Appear At Christian Drive-In

Mel Martin of WLW-TV and NBC television, who is now in full-time Christian work, will appear at the Interdenominational Free Christian Drive-In Theatre in person on Saturday and Sunday, July 17 and 18. No film will be shown these two nights as Mel and his wife, Ruth, will have full charge of the complete service. This will begin at 8:15 p. m.

About three years ago Mel became associated with WLW-TV and radio in Cincinnati, O. While there, he had his own daily television and radio programs. In the summer of 1951 NBC-TV asked Mel to take over the summer replacement of "The Kate Smith Show" on the network. This was done and "Straw Hat Matinee" became a hit at once. Then NBC wanted him to go on a morning show, "Breakfast Party".



Mel also starred in the Sunday morning program, "Down Memory Lane" which enjoyed the largest listening and viewing audiences of any Sunday morning telecast in the midwest.

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

Of Water-Sewer Lines To New Homes Work Goes Ahead Fast On Extension

By Louise Pahlmann
FR. 8-4186

It was announced by Mayor Edward Patterson last week that work is proceeding rapidly on the extension of water and sewer lines to serve new residential developments on all boundaries of the village. Because the area of the village has practically doubled in recent months, a greater drain is expected upon the policing and also street lighting in servicing the enlarged limits of the town.

The new budget adopted by Village Council in its adjourned meeting on July 2 took note of the need of additional expenditures and accordingly represents somewhat higher figures than have been customary.

The water main on Cemetery-rd is being extended to service the new Spears allotment facing on Leap-rd. Other extensions to expanding areas are also going ahead rapidly, Mayor Patterson said.

The mayor also said that it is planned to ask in the near future for bids for drilling a new well for standby purposes. He said that the demands on the present water system have been very heavy this summer, great quantities of water being used daily at the Raceway in servicing the horse barns, sanitary facilities, and sprinkling the track to keep it in condition. Because he does not want to be faced with the necessity of asking Hilliards residents to curtail water consumption, to refrain from lawn sprinkling, and similar economies resorted to by other municipalities, he considers it wise at this time to proceed with the new well so that if the continuing drain on existing systems proves beyond capacity of the present well to supply, Hilliards residents will not have to go without water. Funds to finance the project are already in the village treasury, Patterson said.

It is planned further, to begin surveying operations for the new sewage plant to replace the present one which is far from adequate at this time with new connections constantly being requested. Work should begin this fall, on both projects, the mayor said.

"TIS AN ILL WIND that blows no one good" might be the proverb uppermost in the minds of Hilliards small fry as they frolic about in a new playground to be made available because a big wind visited town recently and blew down some trees on a vacant lot at Center and Wayne-sts.

Located near the center of town, the lot is owned by the heirs of an estate and has been left vacant for many years. Howard Crager, 32 N. Center-st, decided after the wind-storm damage, that if the debris were cleared away and the surface graded, and consent of the owners given to the plan, the spot would be ideal as a play area for the youngsters of the community.

The school grounds are used by the children for ball games and such activities, and there has been some modest amount of equipment installed in the park adjoining the Fair Grounds. Both these locations are at the far ends of town, one north and the other south. Kids had to trek a considerable distance to enjoy the facilities of either one.

Crager has gone ahead with the clearing and grading and has the support of the village mayor and others in his project. Consent of the property owners is hoped for at an early date.

Really Playing It Cool!

While adults swelter, kids run helter-skelter. Parents suffer from the heat; children skim the weather's egst. That little hunk of dogeared weight will serve as caption to the picture below of small fry "playing it real cool" at the Glenwood Park wading pool last Thursday. That egret sure looks inviting! The Victor Stenger family, 3548 Dover-rd, spent their summer vacation in a fashion different than most families. The past week Mr. Stenger has been busy painting the interior of his home. Two of the Stenger children, Mary and Bobbie, have been busy completing the exhibits which they will enter in the 4-H exhibit at the Ohio State Fair. Mary is finishing a four-piece wardrobe as her entry and Bobbie is intently caring for a garden, out of which he will select the best of the variety of vegetables to enter in the exhibit. On July 16 Mary, along with other 4-H members, will give a demonstration on tailor tacks and darts at Plumb Hall on the Ohio State University campus.

They were driven there by their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cruse. The trip sounds wonderful, but the only trouble is that after the Ives' had left, Mrs. Perry Carpenter arrived here for a two-week visit with them. I sure hope they all get together.

Get-well wishes are extended to Mrs. Genevia Pierson, 3532 Dover-rd, who entered Mt. Carmel Hospital last week. We hope she will soon be well enough to return home.

The new building is of cement block and is now up to roof level. The contracting is being handled by Charles Cunningham, 4575 Fisher-rd, son-in-law of the grocery owners, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayslip, Plainview-dr.

Here's Suggestions From Returning Vacationers

Have you taken a vacation this summer? Many of our readers answered no when we asked that question early this week. Here are some timely tips for them from those experienced vacationers who answered us in the affirmative and have already made the most of those "two weeks with pay."

Mrs. William R. Moore, 680 Whitethorne-av, had this to say to potential summer travelers with children. "We took our two small children when we visited friends in Toledo and Fremont, last summer. We found the children's playpen a very valuable article. At night all we had to do was to put pillows and blankets in it and the children had a comfortable bed that was up off the floor but that they couldn't fall out of."

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip McKellar, 30 N. Warren-av, just returned from their vacation and Mrs. McKellar gives us this ominous warning, "Stay out of Georgia! We traveled through there on our way to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. We'll never drive through in the summer again. The temperature was 110 degrees!"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bock, 585 Chestershire-rd, were also visitors to Florida. They made the trip in April and May of last year. Mrs. Bock was enthusiastic about one type of entertainment she was sure visitors would enjoy. "Don't miss Marineland on the east coast. There is every kind of fish you'd ever want to see. We spent almost the whole day there. Those porpoise are just the cutest things you ever saw. They just love to play and show off. If we ever go back to Florida I want to go there again."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Graham, 275 Columbiana-av, visited relatives in south-eastern Washington and Seattle last August. They took the Milwaukee line out and returned over the Canadian Pacific. Both that time they have been recommending Washington as the perfect vacation spot due to the temperate climate and magnificent scenery. Even the long train ride was counted as a very enjoyable part of the experience.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Emrich, 144 S. Westgate-av, enjoy week ends at their cabin at Madison Lake, where they are often joined by their two daughters. Mrs. Emrich tells readers, "There is very good fishing there, we've caught catfish, blue gills and crappies. But no matter what lake you visit you should take along a good insect spray and if you're planning to do much fishing or boating you should be sure to get yourself a good sun tan lotion so that you won't burn."

Mrs. Norman Clevenger, 37 S. Warren-av, said, "We took a lunch when we went to Chicago last July to visit relatives. We were driving through with our two children and it was their first trip. It's much easier with children when you can stop off in some shady spot and eat your own food. They don't get so fretful that way. It isn't good for children to piece too much when traveling. I think when you're taking small children on their first trip that it's a good idea to take them to see relatives or friends so that everything isn't so completely strange to them."

Other July vacationers were Mr. and Mrs. George S. Skipper, 146 N. Terrace-av, who drove to New Jersey last summer to visit their daughter. They found a tourist lodge in the mountains just as nice and perhaps even more pleasant than the motels and tourist cabins that are so abundant on the highways. They found the New Jersey countryside very interesting and full of historical monuments. Among those which they visited were Roosevelt's home and the academy at West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Wagner, 647 Wiltshire, drove through West Virginia last year and learned that it was a good idea to stop early to get good accommodations at the motels. Mr. Wagner suggests Washington D. C. as an ideal spot for tourists. "We were through there last year but we're leaving Aug. 26 to go back. The scenery is so beautiful and there are endless historical places including the homes of some of our early presidents. We didn't get to see it all last time, so we're headed back."

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Davis, 171 N. Reys-av, just returned from a three-week vacation with another Columbus family at Owen's Lake in Minnesota, just north of Grand Rapids. It is about 80 miles from the inspiring sight of International Falls. Mr. Davis reports that the fishing is very good but warns tourists to start looking for motels in the evening when they are on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas, 500 Prospect-rd, visited relatives during their vacation last summer. Mrs. Thomas declares, "The scenery in West Virginia was so beautiful. It's a good idea when you are driving through to stop off and rest a little while. You have a chance to take in so much more of the scenery that way than if you just went whizzing through. We got a big kick out of swimming in the little River too. They're building a new super-highway through the mountains now so that leaves can get through easily and it will be a lot easier on vacation driving."

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dodge, 424 S. Richardson-av, spent the week-end of July 4 at Indian Lake with their two small children. Mrs. Dodge advises, "Get the children wearing slippers. They can be rented at the lake. We didn't know about them at first but I'm glad we found out. The little girl in the cabin next to us cut her foot on a tin can while wading because she wasn't wearing them."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Walker, 437 Jasmine-av, are not contemplating a trip this summer but have taken two enjoyable trips to the Pacific Northwest. On their last trip, they travelled through Yellowstone National Park and found it to be just as magnificent as they had imagined. They hope to go back again in the future and find the climate in the northwest very nearly perfect. However, traveling through the midwest proved to be exceedingly hot and they suggest an automobile fan for any other travelers making such a trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John Granger, 111 S. Wayne-av, recently returned from a June trip to Corona, N. Y. Mr. Granger recommends it as "—a wonderful place to visit. There is the sea and swimming and we had a very nice time when we visited Coney Island. We had good roads all the way and the traveling was very easy. The scenery was really beautiful."

Mrs. Alfred Casey, 856 Wiltshire-rd, has made several trips to her English homeland. Her 20-month-old son accompanied her on such a trip last summer. Mrs. Casey finds that flying is the best way to travel long distance. She adds that the travel bureau is very helpful to inexperienced travelers.

Mrs. James A. Hayes, Jr., 2792 Vanderbergav, is sure that Crystal Beach in Ontario, Canada would delight any vacationer. Mrs. Hayes tells readers, "My husband and I went up there last July and we had a wonderful time. They have a big vacation park at Crystal Beach and swimming. It's very nice anyplace in Ontario and not too expensive."

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jackson, 349 Midland-av, enjoy taking short trips by car. Mrs. Jackson explains, "We usually take the whole day and stop and eat at restaurants along the way. When you are traveling you should stop and rest when you feel you are getting tired. No one can enjoy scenery and traveling when they are over-tired."

Let's Explore Ohio

American history was made on the site of the George Rogers Clark Memorial west of Springfield. Here, General Clark's forces, in 1780, destroyed the Shawnee village where the Indian war parties started their raids on Kentucky. Tecumseh, then twelve years of age, watched this engagement and escaped to become the most famous of the Indian war chieftains. Last year 221,884 people visited this State Memorial, according to the records of the Ohio Historical Society.

Col. Auto Club Outlines 169-Mile Tour Of Interest

An ideal week-end motor outing has been outlined by Russ Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club, for families who are interested in seeing some of the most interesting historical and scenic spots in Ohio. The entire trip involves just about 169 miles of motoring.

Follow Route 62 through Washington Court House on to Hillsboro. Take Route 73 from Hillsboro to Locust Grove, passing Serpent Mound, an Effigy Mound, 1,335 feet long, built by prehistoric Indians, a 61-acre area with museum, and camping and picnicking facilities.

Route 41 winds through typical picturesque Ohio country, to Bainbridge, passing Fort Hill, a prehistoric fortification. Over 1200 acres of forests with nature trails, a museum, camping and picnicking. Bainbridge, home of the "Cradle of Dental Science," first dental college in the world, founded by Dr. John Harris, 1828.

Follow Route 50 to Chillicothe, and Route 23 to Columbus. Chillicothe, the first capital of Ohio, has many important historical shrines, including: Ross County Historical Museum; Adena, home of Thomas Worthington, sixth governor of Ohio, and Mound City Group, an extensive Moundbuilder works.

NOW TRUE?

The world would be a nicer place to live in if just about everybody didn't have an axe to grind or a motive behind his (or her) behavior.

Ohio Rates Among The Best Fishing States And One Of Most Travelled

Because of thousands of miles of clear streams and hundreds of clean lakes and ponds Ohio is one of the best states that a fisherman could choose. What's more, Ohio is listed in the latest national survey as one of the seven top traveled states in America, according to the Ohio Development and Publicity Commission.

Ohio is particularly an excellent place in which to initiate a small boy or girl into the angling game. With its liberalized fishing laws, Ohio doesn't ruin the sport by imposing annoying restrictions that tend to frustrate the beginner who naturally isn't familiar with all varities of the finny tribe. In Ohio the angler doesn't have to worry about the size or species of the fish he catches, furthermore, he doesn't have to keep a constant count to avoid exceeding any bag limits.

When you fish in Ohio you can relax and enjoy the outdoor life to its fullest. Maybe you won't catch any record breaking fish, but you won't have to throw back nine of every ten because they are a trashfish or any such short line you're compelled to do in states where publicized and commercialized fishing is the continent.

Where do you find good fishing water in Ohio? Here are some suggested spots that are easily accessible:

Lake Erie has 235 miles of shoreline plus the islands and reefs in the Sandusky-Port Clinton area. The Ohio Department of Natural Resources has created two parking lots on the Sandusky Bay Bridge for the convenience of shore fishermen. Access to Lake Erie is also provided at Catawba Island State Park, South Bass Island State Park, and East Harbor State Park. The Lake Erie islands and peninsula areas are nationally famous for good smallmouth and walleye fishing.

Deer Creek Lake on State Routes 38 and 72, and Rocky Fork Lake on Route 124 are two fairly new reservoirs that have been proving very satisfactory to host and panfish anglers this season.

Some of the old reliable fishing places are Lake Loramie, Routes 66, 119 and 54; Indian Lake, Routes 33, 68 and 117; Buckeye Lake, south of US 40; Grand Lake or Lake St. Mary's, Routes 33, 66 and 127; Delaware Reservoir, Route 23 near Waldo.

Pymatuning Reservoir, Routes 6 and 322; Portage Lakes, twelve lakes and reservoirs linked by channels and canals, on Route 26, south of Akron; Lake Alma, Route 76 North of Wellston; Guilford Lake, Routes 9, 30, and 45; Mt. Gilead State Park, Route 95, southeast of Marion.

Jefferson Lake, Route 28 near Richmond; Chippewa Lake, Route 3, south of Medina; Nettle Lake, Route 49, northwest of Bryan; Milton Reservoir, near Youngstown.

The Muskingum River from Zanesville to Marietta offers a great variety of species including muskies, walleyes, and giant-size catfish. The Maumee River has bass, pickerel and catfish, and the best spots are in the vicinity of Grand Rapids.

Exceptionally good fishing may be had in the chain of lakes that belong to the Muskingum Conservancy District which includes: Seneca, Tappan, Piedmont, Clendening, Atwood, Charles Mill, Leesville, Wills Creek, Pleasant Hill, and Beach City.

LAKE ERIE has 235 miles of shorelines, plus islands and reefs in the Sandusky-Port Clinton area, and every mile is a potential vacationer's paradise.

Lake Erie Can't Be Beat For Fun, Declare Officials

If you are still undecided about where to spend your vacation, the Ohio Development and Publicity Commission makes this suggestion: "Just dream of your ideal vacation spot then go to Lake Erie Vacationland and you'll finds its counterpart.

No other region on earth offers a wider variety of pleasurable pursuits than the 235-mile shoreline at the top of Ohio. Boating enthusiasts have vast expanses of water over which they may chart voyages to the picturesque wine islands or numerous quaint harbors around the most historic segment of the Great Lakes. Incidentally, some of the best water crafts in the country are manufactured in Port Clinton and Sandusky. Boat liveries, supply stores and repair docks are ready to serve the vacationers.

Great stretches of rugged cliffs and miles of clean sandy beaches make this area a paradise for artists, photographer hikers, and sun bathers. Beautiful old lighthouses, fishing wharves, ancient wine cellars, well-kept vineyards caves, and many other landmarks peculiar to that area, provide unforgettable vistas.

The vacationer at Lake Erie can choose between the crowded beaches connected with some of the resorts and amusement parks, or the solitude of private waterfronts that go with cottages or cabins that may be rented in the less thickly populated spots.

Fishing is one thing that makes Lake Erie outstanding, because the best smallmouth bass fishing in the world is claimed by the area that is appropriately named the Bass Islands. Lake Erie pickerel are plentiful especially among the reefs.

A GOOD IDEA

It's a good idea to take along a blanket or old sheet when starting out for a motor outing. Many times, passengers will grow tired and feel too cramped to sit in the car. Shady plots of grass under roadside trees look ideal, but the passengers find they have nothing to sit on.

WATCH THE GAUGE

Many short trips through the countryside are marred by motorists' failure to start with a full tank of gas. On many of the back roads of Ohio, walking to the nearest gasoline station would involve a hike of some 10 miles. For complete peace of mind, drive first to your service station and say, "Fill 'er up."

PUBLIC COMMENT

Redick Offers Novel Proposal To Relieve Water Shortage

Safety Director Redick's recently announced schedule whereby occupants of city houses with uneven numbers sprinkle their lawns on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and those with even numbers on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays caused varied comments, last week.

MRS. MARY SHEPARD, 255 S. OGDEN-AV, "Yes, it probably would. I believe people will go along with the suggestion. They certainly should, considering how short water has been and how much water is needed to fight a fire."

MRS. RALPH NORRIS, 180 DEMOREST-AV, "I suppose it would do some good if people cooperate with the ruling. I think most people feel, though, that they pay for the water and they will sprinkle whenever they feel it is necessary."

EDWARD DUGAN, 56 MIDLAND-AV, "Truthfully I don't know if it would help or not. I really feel that when water is short people should not sprinkle lawns at all. There are too many really important needs for water to use it on lawns when the supply is low."

MRS. SARAH E. GUSTINA, 90 E. LINCOLN, "We live in an apartment house so the ruling doesn't affect us, personally. I do feel that folks should be careful of water when it is short."

MRS. FRANCES HUGHES, 231 MIXED, "I think people should try to cooperate with the suggestion, because something must be done to ease the shortage."

State Fish and Game Hearings Set For July 22

July 22 is the date of the annual State Fish and Game Hearings, to be held in the large hearing room of the State Office Building. The fish hearing will start at 9:30 a. m. and the game hearing is scheduled to start at the conclusion of the fish hearing.

These hearings are held so that interested individuals may present their ideas concerning wildlife regulations to the Wildlife Council. The Council considers these recommendations along with recommendations from the Division of Wildlife, before setting open seasons, bag limits, and other regulations.

"Now I hope you won't think this shocking, but I heard the other day . . ."

Penney Employees To Hold Annual Family Picnic

Oak Park, 544 Sunbury-rd, will be the location for the annual Pennsylvania, Railroad employees family picnic on Sunday, July 19. All employees and their families, whether active of furloughed, and especially those on retirement, are invited by A. M. Harris, superintendent of the Columbus Division, to attend.

A special chartered bus will meet the Columbus Transit Co.'s Cleveland-av bus at Mecca-rd and Cleveland-av at noon, 1, 2, and 3 p. m. and will make return trips at 7, 8, and 9 p. m.

Trivia

THE EDITOR'S DESK

STRAWS IN THE WIND: The board of education is "having a ball" in selecting a suitable name for the new 1,000-pupil junior high school slated to go up in the near future on the southwest corner of the extension of Highland-av and W. Mound-st. The school will take the load off of West and Starling Junior Highs.

See from the Dispatch that the friendly lady up at Swen's Cleaners' Hilltop branch wasn't just soft soaping me when she suggested I store my wife's furs (as if she had any!) in the company's fur vault. Congratulations, Dorothy Ballard, on winning an extra week's paid vacation as one of five winners in the company's big drive. Just as an afterthought, — you don't know what really hot heat is until you have worked over a steam table in a cleaning establishment.

Here's the kind of stuff that makes us feel good: Harry D. Penney of 239 S. Westgate-av, says he enjoys the Record so much that he sends it regularly to his daughter in Hawaii. MUSING: Wonder if Congress is ever going to get on the ball and make the American Flag have seven rows of seven stars each? Boy, would there ever be a sale of current flags . . . SORTA WISTFUL: The International Congress of the Printing Industry in Venice, Italy, Sept. 20-26, sounds like the sort of boondoggle I'd really enjoy . . . An Information Service brochure from Postmaster General Summerfield proudly points out that 90 percent of those arrested for a wide variety of postal crimes are convicted. Still can't figure out how our postman on N. Burgess manages to keep the cheery smile on these hot days. Just lugging that mail sack and pounding the pavement in this weather is "a crime" in my book . . . Note to the new "old-timers" (veterans of the BIG War (WW II)): Us'ns who grew up on Zane Grey and his wild and wooly West books will get a real kick out of the Zane Grey exhibit which opened Sunday at the Ohio State Museum. Included are scadles of books from his prolific pen, including original manuscripts, his desk, Morris chair (Those things were really comfortable!) writing board, and his dentist's drill.

THOUGHT-PROVOKER: Mary Lou Pfeiffer, director of women's activities up WRFD-way, writes (A) that by 1967 there'll be three children in our schools were in 1947 there were two. (B) in Ohio today we have 80,, 508 enrolled in kindergarten and 2,810 more teachers are needed in elementary education (a ratio of 28-1) and (C) we must provide 42,000 more classrooms by 1960 to match soaring enrollments and replace obsolete buildings in the nation. Incidentally, those writing to Mary Lou can get information on six worthwhile films plugging elementary education.

TRADE SECRETS: I get a real kick out of writing those little 2-sentence boosting editorials of want-ads in this newspaper. First off, they're all honest-to-goodness true. Secondly, everyone mentioned is amazed at just what you can accomplish with those brief notices. I was just about ready to risk my neck the other day, though, by writing a complaint. Seems I had 24 learn-Spanish records I wanted to trade for either a large fan or cash. Ran the ad for two weeks, but with no takers. Sunday night, however, a Hilltop youth, with ambitions of making foreign service officer his life career, dropped by my house and was real-pleased to get 'em. Dear Want-Ad Desk: I apologize. Guess when you have a real tricky item you want to sell or have an unusual trade in mind, you have to try it twice!

INSPIRING: The big nations could well note the cooperativeness of Hilltoppers Glen Barr and William Reems. Reems and his wife, 736 S. Eureka-av, and Barr, 784 S. Eureka, were seen Saturday morning at work spreading out some seven tons of asphalt on the alley driveway leading to the twin garage that both families use . . . A little more info on the "good neighbors": Barr is in the city fire department and Reems works for the Koback Candy Co.

Question of the week in Congressman George H. Bender's newsletter to selected constituents is the following quip: The premier of France expects to conclude the Indo-Chinese war this month in a "peace with honor." Whose honor? And peace for how long? . . . Two youngsters on N. Burgess established a Kool-Aid stand last week and cleared about $1.20 the first day of operation. The young tycoons are Betty Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolf of 127 N. Burgess, and Roger Tillis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tillis of 131 N. Burgess. They were selling the Kool-Aid at two cents per glass.

STOLEN JOKE: Three men in a rowboat were desperate for a match to light up their cigarets (obviously, they hadn't read the latest from the docs). One finally solved the problem by throwing a coffin-nail overboard, thereby making the entire boat a cigaret lighter.

We'll leave with the thought: "The man who's always looking down his nose usually gets the wrong slant."

U.S. EDITORS' GOODWILL TOUR OF ONTARIO (FINAL INSTALLMENT)

Trip Wind-Up Finds Newsmen Sold Thoroughly on Our 'Good Neighbors'

June 15 was an outstanding day and started off with a breakfast that we'll never forget, three kinds of fish, cereal, eggs, bacon, lamb chops, strawberries, etc.

Chateau Laurier with Hotel Manager W. H. Aylett and the Canadian National Railways acted as co-hosts. The Chateau, by the way, is one of eleven hotels operated by the C.N.R. the year 'round. It is one of the finest in my opinion.

Breakfast under our belts the party set out to visit the Canadian Parliament Buildings, situated on what is commonly called Parliament Hill. Majestically set above the mighty Ottawa the Houses of Parliament crown "The Hill." Memorial to the men who died to keep the world free is the soaring Peace Tower, with its noble warrior chapel, its sarcophagus enshrining Canada's Book of Remembrance.

The speaker advised me his wife is a former resident of Oxford, Ohio, and a graduate of Miami University.

Our visit to the Parliament buildings started by a meeting with the Speaker of the House of Commons, The Hon. Rene L. Beaudoin, M.P., in his chambers. Refreshments were served, and we signed the register, opened by President Eisenhower, and whose last signer was Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

We visited the Senate Chambers and the House. There are 102 senators who are appointed for life. Senators are appointed according to population, with heavily populated Ontario having the most. The Senate has the final say on legislation if they so desire it.

Ten-thirty of this eighth day across the Province saw us heading for Hawkesbury along highway 17. Rocketing along the rim of southeastern Ontario, parallel to the Ottawa River, which is the interprovincial boundary between Ontario and Quebec, the country began to change complexion, losing nothing of its attractiveness, but becoming more like farmland again.

Registering at Hawkesbury had a new twist. We registered at the Ontario Government Reception Centre, which is one of the fifteen Centres supervised and staffed by Travel and Publicity, instead of an hotel. The redcoated receptionists were much prettier than the other members of Travel and Publicity that we've met to date, and much photographing ensued.

At the Abenaki Golf and Country Club another reception and luncheon followed. The Hon. Louis P. Cecile was one of the speakers. Mr. Cecile represents Prescott Riding, the area around Hawkesbury, in Provincial Parliament.

A unique part of this town is the signs in both French and English. Both languages are spoken here, and in thanking the town people for their hospitality, Editor Wharton Hoch of Kansas drew the admiration of all concerned by using French.

A tour of the laboratories and other sections of the Industrial Cellulose Research Limited, where acetate yarns, tire cords, plastics and transparent film are made from wood pulp, completed our stay here.

Entering Cornwall we continued to pick up escorts at an alarming rate. They seemed to come out of every side road until we had three more motorcycles and a motor car to guide us into town.

Next we signed on the dotted lines of the register at the King George Hotel, in the neighborhood of half-past five. The inevitable reception and dinner followed at the Cornwallis Hotel, at which our hosts were the City of Cornwall.

Here we were presented a gift of a five-pound cheddar cheese, bacon, honey and stationery made at the local paper mill. If we had received any more loot we would have had to hire an extra truck.

My remark about "the inevitable reception and dinner" was not made in a spirit of ingratitude. If anyone thinks the spirit of competition is dying on the American continent, they should come to this part of it. So far on this trip each town had tried to outdo the previous one in hospitality. I am realistic enough to realize that this form of cordiality can't be handed out to every visitor entering Ontario, but I'm certain people of this Province must be cordial by nature and extend a lot of it to our people in day to day social and business intercourse, to have them act this way towards newspapermen.

On June 16 it was hi-ho and away we go to Old Fort Henry, with the Ontario Department of Highway and Fort Directors Ron and Beryl Way acting as host and hostess for luncheon.

Erected in the troubled days that followed 1812-1814, when the States and Canada were warring, the picturesque Fort was originally designed to keep Americans off Canadian soil. Today it has been restored as a tourist attraction to help bring American visitors to Canada.

The show and tour took several hours and we left the Fort far behind schedule, or "shedule" as our tour director likes to pronounce the word. But it was worth the extra time. Guides, redcoated but not in uniform, are forbidden to accept tips. Old Fort Henry is operated by the Government as a public service with the admission charge set as low as possible to partially cover upkeep. There is no desire to make a profit on this "living museum" and the Government considers it a good public relations medium.

Our guide informed the party that German prisoners had been quartered there during World War II, and showed murals to prove it.

Kingston is not a big city—it has a population of approximately 43,900. It is the home of Queen's University, Regiopolis College and the Royal Military College, three internationally famous institutions of learning.

I think it was around 7 p. m. when we checked in at Cobourg, and what seemed almost immediately afterwards, we were wading through another reception and dinner. This time at the Cobourg Pavilion as guests of the Town of Cobourg with Mayor J. D. Burnet on hand to do the honors, along with many local dignitaries. Local weekly editor-publisher, Foster M. Russell of the Cobourg Sentinal Star extended greetings on behalf of the local press. I was delegated to give the word of appreciation of the editors' group.

We also had a brief stop at Lesage Sault Rapids, which will be no more once the St. Lawrence Seaway goes through. Other Ontario towns, including Iroquois, will be under water once the project is under way. The Seaway will be 27 or more feet in depth to accommodate large passenger ships.

On June 17 we were back in Toronto at the King Eddy Hotel, as we entered and went through the registering routine once more. If I had been a celebrity I couldn't have signed my name any more than I had in the last ten days. The only thing it hasn't been on is the police blotter.

My stomach, back to normal again, began to call for lunch. I gave the itinerary one of my rare glances and discovered we were due to leave the Royal Canadian Yacht Club Mainland Dock at 11:45. In less time than it takes to type it, we climbed on the bus again, went two blocks west to Bay Street and headed south to the waterfront and the Yacht Club Ferry.

The luncheon was one of those out of this world affairs featuring 18 different kinds of meats.

On hand were the red-jacketed girls of the Department of Travel and Publicity, and the blue-jacketed misses of the Tourist and Convention Association, who made a colorful and pretty picture. These Toronto people certainly go out of their way to make sure you get the proper greeting.

I suppose I should have rested up for the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity reception and dinner upon my return to the Mainland, but instead I took advantage of a free afternoon to do some shopping.

The evening brought two parties—the first rather formal with the Honorable Louis Cecile acting as host. Many officials of the Ontario Government were on hand to greet us.

The second affair of the evening was in the delightful Imperial Room of the Royal York Hotel with soft lights, music and dancing. During the evening we had the opportunity to meet several female members of the Travel and Publicity staff and the wives of those on tour with us.

Canadian Weekly newspapers Association, Ontario Division, with President Clayton Schaus in charge, stood breakfast on June 18.

Subsequent to this we left for Hamilton, "The Pittsburgh of Canada," 43 miles away on the Queen Elizabeth Highway. I don't know whether I've recorded this before, but this is the only main turnpike in Ontario not called a King's Highway. It was named in honor of the present Queen Mother, in honor of her visit to Canada in 1939 with the late King George VI.

First stop outside Hamilton was the Royal Botanical Gardens, originally known by the modest name of Kee's Gravel Pit. On Burlington Heights, Hamilton's Royal Botanical Gardens were commenced in 1930 and finished in 1932, and with 100,000 blooms on display, bear out the truth of the old saying, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Nearby is another delight to the eye—Hamilton's Sunken Rock Gardens at the northwestern entrance to the city.

We made a quick tour of inspection through McMaster university's beautiful Mills Memorial Library, and a stop at the Alumnae House, where we picked up a copy of "Canada's Tomorrow" a compilation of articles by several experts in arts and sciences, and edited by Professor G. P. Gilmour of McMaster, who spoke on the achievements of the college.

Later we were greeted at luncheon by Acting Mayor Jack McDonald of Hamilton and Norman Weir of the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce by another reception and luncheon at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. A boat tour of the Hamilton harbor completed our stay here. I was disappointed at not being able to see the steel furnaces in action and even more disappointed at not being able to try out the tempting-looking golf course.

Our journey to St. Catharine's was along the Niagara Peninsula, covered with fruit farms of all kinds. It was rich, rolling country, and like the song (if we may paraphrase a bit) "everthin' was lustin' out all over". The distance between Hamilton and St. Kit's (which is the native's term for St. Catherine's) is only 35 miles, a mere hop-skip-and-jump compared to some of our other rides. Welland House, one of Ontario's old established houses of hospitality was the scene of feasting in St. Kit's.

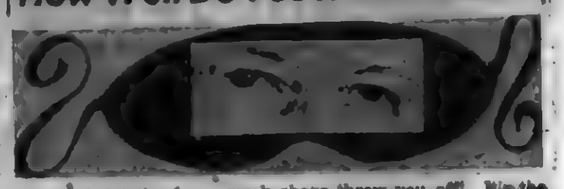
Prior to sitting down to dinner we had been met by a monster escort on the outskirts of the city (these people in Ontario towns make sure you don't lose your way) and transferred from the bus to private cars for a tour of St. Catherine's and a visit to the Welland Canal.

The Welland Canal in operation and the passing craft provided many interesting moments, particularly to those not used to such waterway. The canal connects Lake Erie with Lake Ontario and American ships were prominent while we were there. Some idea of how ships are lowered and raised can be gained by telling you that the Lake Erie elevation above sea level is 569 feet and the Lake Ontario elevation above sea level is 243 feet. Total lift of canal is 327 feet. Freight carried on this waterway in 1958 was 19,971,875 short tons, and the number of vessels in the same year ran to 9521. Handling fees per vessel ran between $25 and $80 per passage. The locks are 30 feet in depth and the overall length is 27½ miles. We didn't get a chance to learn much more about this waterway before they hustled us back to the waiting dinner.

It was 11 p. m. before we reached the Sheraton Brock Hotel at Niagara Falls but we found that darkness took none of the edge off the view of this renowned scenic spot. I might say it looks even more beautiful illuminated than it does in the cold clear light of day. The Falls are 164 feet in height, and made up of the American Falls and the Canadian Horseshoe Falls. The steady roar, as thousands of tons of water spill to form giant curtains of spray on the rocks below, has an almost hypnotic effect on the onlooker.

Our windup celebration was in the form of a K.O.B. initiation where each person taking part in the tour was presented with a pin and became "Know Ontario Better" members—an exclusive organization now numbering approximately 250.

At this meeting prizes were presented to the winners of a photo contest in which all editors participated. C. Dewey Brown of Colorado won first prize of a Hudson's Bay coat and second prize of 24 point candy-stripe blankets went to Herb Hancock of Massachusetts. The Hudson' Bay Company provided a matchin set of plaid shirt, cap and tie which was given to Bill Whitehead of Arkansas who, in the opinion of the judges, took the third best picture. I received an honorable mention.



As I take leave of this part of Canada, I realize that possibly many things have been left unsaid about it. To say everything would fill a book, but one thing I must not forget to say is that if we were in a "foreign" land, it was not noticeable. If there is any difference between the people here and those back home, it would be hard to find. Community pride, forthrightness in calling a spade a spade and not a garden implement was reminiscent of home, as was their evident desire to be good neighbors. I don't think we could have better.

One final adieu, given by one of the officials in the words of "the Ottwa Valley Irish" struck a responsive chord in your editor. It went like this: "May God take you from our hearts and carry you safely to high places."

I wish the same for the people of Ontario.

Three Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

Don't let the fancy mask above throw you off! It's the same popular game, the same rules. Only thing new is the costume in this strictly-for-fun contest, which pays off with that feeling of smug satisfaction in having guessed correctly.

Last week's mystery eyes were those of Never-to-be-Seen Without-a-Friendly Smile Paul E. Leighinger, likeable co-owner of Bellear's Department Store since the 1939 incorporation of the local firm.

Paul Leighinger

Born in Coshocton County, Paul has been a Hilltop resident (he lives at 289 Powhatan-av) and booster for 15 years, coming here from Lexington, Ky., where he traveled for the H. D. Hudson Manufacturing Co.

Paul boasts a happy family, made up of his wife, Dorothy, a native Hilltopper, and their two children, Jane 13, and Jeff, 8. A member of the board of directors of both the Hilltop YMCA and the Hilltop Lions Club, he's often head to express his "neighborhood patriotism" with "I like the Hilltop. It's a wonderful business community. It's made up of close-knit, sincere people. What more could you want for a trade and for a home?"

He's also a member of the Westgate Methodist Church, Hilltop Business Association, Luther M. Turner Lodge of F&AM, and Aladdin Shrine. An ardent golfer up till three years ago, he now lists fishing as his number one hobby.

Peering at you from this week's mask is a man who has earned one of the highest honors that could be bestowed on a Hilltopper, although he's only lived in the community since February of 1960. He's got a daughter who's a student at Westgate School and a son named Max.

Keep on guessing! His name will come to you.

COLUMBUS FAMILIES . . .
PEOPLE WHO RIDE BUSES . . .
JUDGE LOCAL BUS SERVICE ON THE BASIS OF PERSONAL EXPERIENCE
What do the people who ride the buses think of our drivers, service and fares?
These questions, and many others pertaining to our operations and mass transportation problems in Columbus, have now been positively and fairly answered, thanks to an unbiased, scientific fact-finding survey just completed. It represents the largest sampling ever taken in Columbus by the nationally known research organization.
Thirty trained interviewers, calling only in homes of bus riders (none of them in any way connected with the Columbus Transit Company) report that—
79 per cent feel CTC gives the best service possible under the present traffic, parking, street and weather conditions.
67 per cent say the 3 tickets for 35c, or 15c each fare zones, are not excessive.
64 per cent believe service is satisfactory, based on their own personal experiences.
We are grateful for the vote of confidence of the bus riders participating in this citywide survey, and appreciate the frank and constructive comments. A number of the fine suggestions received already have been put into effect in connection with our continuing program of service improvement for Columbus.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

I do not ask for worlds beyond
Nor wings that I can fly.
I only ask that I may see
A tiny piece of sky.
Mary O'Connor, a shutin,

PARADOX

I starve, but not for bread;
I thirst for more than wine,
Yet grudgingly his table grace
Whose hunger matches mine.
Ellen Douglas, in The Lyric.

THE RECKONING

Great men have been among us, the old story
Of cities wrecked and drenched with crimson dew,
And tittle men who pay for all the glory,
Insolvent for a century or two.
Otto Freund, in Florida Magazine of Verse.

He was old and shabby. He had eaten his sandwich and was waiting for the waitress to bring his check. When she did he told her he had left his wallet at home and hadn't any money with him. He told her if she would allow him to go home he would be back in ten minutes with the money. She said in a loud carrying voice, that they had a lot of dishes to wash, but she permitted him to leave. We waited around, drinking coffee, to see if he would return. Some in the party wagered that he wouldn't. I thought he would for I had seen his eyes. He was back in ten minutes with the money. Everyone was happy about the whole thing.

To pass the time while waiting in the heat in a parked car on West Broad Street, I deliberately eavesdropped on what passers-by were saying — "in passing" and while standing to look at a window display of swim suits. Here are a few scraps of conversation I overheard: one lady to another— "If they'd put suntan dye on those dummies they would look more natural" . . . Mom to small boy: "You can't have any candy till we leave grandma's house. You would get her furniture all sticky." Small boy to mom: "But grandma doesn't care if I get things sticky. She said she is used to it because you always got things sticky." . . . One pretty girl to another pretty girl: "He's the masterful type. He thinks he is Brando and G. Cooper in one hunk" . . . One teen-ager to another: "I'd love that suit but mom would never let me wear it."

Little boy to his mother: "I don't want to see that old movie. It's all kissin." Mother: "You're just like your dad."

Mail—From Newark: Outside of Newark on Rt. 79, a Sinclair sign announces "Sin Tair"—better fix that! . . . From my favorite shutin: Why not do a story on Bill Sweet's sweet wife Anna? Bill is sweet too, but he has been given a lot of publicity, and rightly so. Think of her anxiety while he is speeding through the air at 600 m.p.h. He told me once that he doesn't know why he is in such a hurry—he isn't going much of any place. They are both grand and have been wonderful to me . . . From Darien: Conn. (to my favorite shutin): What are friends for, if not, among other things, to share one's difficulties in the difficult pilgrimage? As you know I am an optimist for the long pull. But how long it is!

From somewhere—All her potash is on he, fingernails . . . Army food: the spoils of war . . . Communist: Someone who borrows your pot so that he can cook your goose . . . In the march toward progress, a kick in the pants sends you further than a friendly handshake . . . Mistakes are being made each day, just as they've always been. Erasers are made to rub them out; not to rub them in.

6 tablespoons sweet milk

Mix in usual way and spread in thin layer in two nine-inch pans. Beat whites of 4 eggs until stiff, add 1 cup sugar, spread over batter and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake in slow oven, 350 degrees, 30 minutes.

Hilltop Y Little 9 League In 5-Way Tie After Card's Victory

By Dick Wilson

The Hilltop YMCA Little 9 Baseball League went into a five-day tie for first place last week as the Little Indians hit the dust, 1-0 in their game with the Little Cards. The game was undoubtedly the best played game of the season as both teams displayed "heads-up ball." The Indians were able to get only one hit off the offerings of Calvin English. Larry Fox starred for the Cards, taking the only two hits off Roger Bruns and scoring the lone tally of the game.

The Little Redlegs continued their winning ways by blasting the Little Yanks 8-4. The Redlegs jumped into an early lead, pushed across two runs in the first inning and piled up three runs in the third and fourth. The Yanks rallied in the last two innings, but fell short, garnering only four scores. Mike Cantlon was credited with the win and Don Henne was charged with the loss.

The Little Cubs clawed the toothless Little Tigers 9-2 in the third game of the week as the Cubs moved up to a first-place tie and the Tigers buried themselves deeper in the basement. Bob Ross was the winning pitcher, tossing no-hit ball until the last inning when Jim Ricketts singled sharply to right field. Pat Raver was charged with the loss.

The vacationing Little Braves failed to go on the warpath in their game with the Little Dodgers as too few players showed to play a make-up game which was rained out earlier in the week. The Dodgers were given a 1-0 forfeit win as Coach Jerry Stewart explained that his Braves were at camp and other vacation sites.

TIP FOR HOUSEHOLDERS

If you have an odor in your back yard, it can be removed very easily vouches Mrs. Harry B. Baker of 445 S. Hague-av.

"A good washing of all empty food cans will eliminate odors says Mrs. Baker. She also recommends that all empty bottles be tightly corked before they are thrown into the trash can.

Reaches African Missionary Post Despite Shipboard Fire

After a bit of excitement caused by a fire on board the motor vessel Salaga, Mrs. Lyle Baylis, the former Betty Dunson, and her family, Rev. Baylis and children, Richard and Sharon, have reached their destination, the Gold Coast, West Africa, where they have gone as missionaries.

Mrs. Baylis, Sharon, Richard

Their first stop after leaving Boston Harbor was the island of Madeira, off Portugal. Mrs. Baylis wrote her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dunson, 191 Binns-blvd: "The night before we reached Madeira there was a fire in one of the holds. I was washing my hair when we heard shouts of Fire! To prove I was calm I put up my hair, and felt like Nero fiddling while Rome burned. Then we stood on deck and watched the crew fight the fire.

Our two large crates were not in that hold and the two metal drums in which some of our supplies were packed were floating in the water, unharmed.

The day the motor vessel landed at Takoradi, Gold Coast, was Sharon's third birthday. A shipboard party had been planned for that afternoon, and ship's cooks baked a birthday cake.

Sharon's gifts had been given her at breakfast but by noon she was sleepy and feverish and was taken from the ship at noon at Takoradi quite ill with dysentary. After a 120 mile automobile ride to Accra, capital of the Gold Coast, she was admitted to the government hospital, where she was treated and began to recover after a few days.

Because it was not his birthday brother Richard was given the only relic recovered from the fire, a boy doll, which smelled of smoke every time it was squeezed to make it cry.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foerst relax and enjoy the cool breezes in their summer patio, which they built themselves. The Foersts enjoy breakfasting here on summer mornings, with a view of their own lovely back lawn.

Foersts Are Happy With Home of Own Design

By Grace Durflinger

Many people have admired the neat, little story-and-a-half gray shingle dwelling located at 488 Larcomb-av. It is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foerst, lifelong residents of the West Side. This week they have put out the welcome mat and have invited you inside to enjoy their lovely home with them.

The house was designed for the Foersts about three years ago, when they decided that they no longer needed so much space, since their eldest son, Don, had a home of his own and son, Henry was serving in the navy. The five-room house was built in 1951.

The living room and adjoining dining room are a charming rose and gray decor with birch woodwork and rose twist carpeting accented by rayon gray wallpaper, which gives the striking illusion of a raised pattern. A treasured possession in the living room is Mrs. Foerst's anniversary clock, which their sailor son, Henry, Jr., brought from Germany to commemorate his parents' 20th wedding anniversary.

Off the hall leading from the living room are the two bedrooms. They are both done in green, the walls of one displaying a seaweed pattern of chartreuse and burgundy, while the other has a panel in a gay Mexican pattern enhanced by three panels in a simple "grass" pattern. The suite in this bedroom is of light mahogany, while the companion furniture throughout the house is of dark mahogany. Casement windows throughout the house feature marble sills, which are much more easily taken care of than the conventional wood type.

In the bright and homey kitchen, just off the dining room, the Foersts enjoy eating at the convenient breakfast bar, which, in addition to the sink, is topped by colorful and durable formica. Two enviable features of Mrs. Foerst's kitchen are the automatic garbage disposal and the hidden exhaust fan which eliminates all cooking odors. The floor of the kitchen is laid in the cheerful Spattered Linoleum by Armstrong.

As one descends the stairs from the kitchen, Foerst's handiwork is evident in the splendid recreation room. He has finished the entire room, painting the cement block walls cedar and repeating the cedar color and texture in the pattern of the tile floor. The paneling of the stairs and snack bar is pine. At Christmas and other occasions, a 21-foot table is brought down from the wall and placed in the recreation room to accommodate the Foerst's many guests.

Upon being asked what remark guests usually make about her home, Mrs. Foerst laughingly disclosed that they are usually amazed at the space to be found in such a seemingly small house. Every inch of space is cleverly utilized, and the house includes a cedar closet and spacious linen and guest closets.

The patio, built last summer by Foerst, is the couple's favorite spot for breakfasting. It also affords a great deal of cool relaxation on many warm summer evenings.

Sitting in the patio and looking out across the neat back lawn, which is carefully tended by Mr. Foerst, you are sure to spy the flagpole flying 48H and stately above the little Oriental sumac tree. The flag which proudly waves above holds a deep meaning for the Foersts. A symbol of their love and pride for their youngest son, Henry, Jr., it was raised last Easter Monday when he left to serve with the U. S. Navy in Japan. They have vowed not to lower it until he returns in February, to remain, at last, with his family.

Another son, Don, of Columbus, is married and has two children who are, of course, the Foersts' pride and joy.

A quiet and gracious couple, the Foersts are members of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church and belong to the Southern Way Chapter of the Eastern Star. Foerst is a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner. To occupy their leisure time, the Foersts have kept copious scrapbooks of their family and their activities in the above organizations and regard it as an enjoyable and rewarding hobby.

This summer marks a triumph over nine years of pain and discomfort for Foerst. In 1945 he injured his back and had to have five and one-half discs removed from his spine. A rare spinal fusion proved successful. Recently, Foerst was able to discard the heavy brace he had worn during the intervening years and has taken a position as the office manager for the Pfeifer Excavating Co.

A mottled effect is produced upon the gray shingles of the trim story-and-a-half home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foerst by the many surrounding shade trees which protect it from the hot afternoon sun.

The combination living room-dining room attracts interest with a variation of attractive patterns and designs which complement the rose and gray decor.

This view at one end of the Foerst recreation room reveals Foerst's handiwork. He finished the entire room which is now a favorite spot for get-togethers when friends drop in.

This view of Mrs. Foerst's kitchen is a good illustration of the neatness and charm of her "workshop," a room that would delight any homemaker.

REPAINTING TIN ROOF

Before repainting a tin roof, scrape old paint blisters and rust away with sandpaper and wipe the surface clean with turpentine.

similar heavy loading may occur, the owner should assure himself that service entrance wires are of suitable size and that a special circuit of suitable capacity is run to the range or other appliances.

Attic Den Easily Made

Years ago only the luxurious home included a private den where the man of the house could retreat for undisturbed reading or work. With the building materials now available, however, almost any home owner with unused attic space can provide himself with a comfortable study. An economical material ideally suited to this use is insulating board. It is especially desirable for attic partitions since it provides effective insulation against heat and cold.

Lots Of Storage Space Is A 'Must' In Today's Homes

One of the points a good housekeeper stresses when she consults an architect is that there be plenty of closets and adequate storage space planned for her home.

Any architect, builder or home owner may arrange for adequate closet space, wardrobes and cases of all sorts in the plan of a house if the matter is given due consideration before starting to build, for closets may be worked into the most unusual corners and unexpected places but their placement will require thought and nice planning before the actual building construction of the house starts.

Should List Items to be Stored

One of the first things the home owner should do is to make a list of all the various household items that must be stored away in closets while not in use. Such a list should include seasonal clothing, linen storage, vacuum cleaners, card tables, sewing machines, golf bags and other sport accessories. Of course china and places for food storage should also be considered.

After this list is made, give it to your architect or builder and tell him to plan closets for all these Clothes closets are better about 24 inches deep rather than the old-fashioned deep and dusty closets of a few years ago. Hanging rods are better than clothes hooks; linens should be stored flat with deep shelves and compartments arranged for various sizes of bedding, towels, etc.

It is very practical to have a large storage closet somewhere in the house where off-season clothing may be stored. Such closets should be provided with plenty of deep shelves and hanging rods.

Under sloping roofs of many houses, closets may be built that use the otherwise wasted space to advantage. They make fine closets if not too deep.

If closets are on an outside wall it is advisable to have a small window in the closet for light and ventilation, and by all means have an electric light in each closet so the shelves may be well lighted.

Small House Needs Two Wire Circuits

An electrical wiring system with two branch circuits should be sufficient for the needs of a small dwelling containing two bedrooms, bath and a single other room that accommodates the remaining functions of the house.

Care should be exercised that these branches are not overloaded. In a house where electric cooking facilities are used, or where other

YOU WON'T WANT TO MISS THE HILLTOP BEAN DINNER

Young Named Teacher Co-Ordinator; Darrow Successor At West Hi School

Appointment was confirmed, Tuesday, July 20, of Irvin F. Young, former principal of West Junior-Senior High School, as the city system's first co-ordinator of teacher personnel, Supt. N. G. Fawcett announced the appointment late Tuesday afternoon.

Young, whose work will be effective Aug. 16, will be in charge of recruitment of teachers at all levels, interviewing and investigation of the records of all candidates, making recommendations to the staff, supervision of complete personnel records, direction of the new city-wide program on evaluation of teaching service, and several other related responsibilities.

The new principal of West High School will be Robert F. Darrow, principal of Barrett Junior High School since 1947. Darrow graduated from Wooster College and received his MA degree at OSU. He first taught in Trumbull County from 1937 to 1938. He came to Columbus in 1939 and taught English-Journalism at Central High from 1939 to 1947. His last two years at Central he was principal of the night school.

Darrow stated in reference to his new appointment at West, "I think this will be a real challenge, and I'm anxious to get better acquainted with people on the Hilltop."

Fawcett stated that the position which Young will fill is a newly-created one on the school administrative staff but is commonly found in all of the large cities. The necessity for this office comes about through the great demand for teachers in this area.

Young, who will be succeeded by Robert F. Darrow, former principal of Barrett Junior High School, was graduated from Capital University and received his Master's degree at Ohio State University. His first teaching position was in a private school in West Virginia. Coming to Columbus in 1930, he taught six years at Central High School following a year at Starling Junior High School.

His first principalship was at Mile Elementary school, 1937-40. The following three years he filled the position of principal at Roosevelt Junior High School. Young was principal at East High School for two years before accepting the position at West.

New Gym Facilities For Girls Underway At West

Approximately four acres are under development as a physical education field for women on board of education property adjoining West High School. The field, which will cost $13,960, is expected to be completed before Sept. 15, according to Edward Kromer, architect and structural engineer for the board of education. Kromer added that the south portion of the new area, which is to be leveled, drained, graded and seeded, will be blacktopped for parking.

LEGION LAWN FETE SATURDAY

Whether you've purchased tickets or not, you are still welcome to use the cash-plan in enjoying the annual lawn festivals of Camp Chase Post 96, American Legion, this Saturday evening.

You won't want to miss the excellent food and the special events for the kiddies. Co-chairmen are Dick Howard, of the post, and Madge Martindale of the auxiliary.

Slinking And Drinking Thieves Make Nocturnal Visit To Marianna's

Slinking and drinking night creatures of the two-legged variety burglarized the Marianna Restaurant, 3715 W. Broad-st, Monday night.

Co-owners Marie Mulholland, 168 S. Terrace-av, and Olga Boyka, 842 S. Terrace-av, discovered the theft of a typewriter and a clock when they arrived at the establishment Tuesday morning. The thieves only found about $4 or $5 in the cash register since the restaurant is regularly closed on Monday. An estimated $500 damage was done to the juke box in an unsuccessful attempt to open the coin box.

Proprietress Mulholand stated that the thieves, who evidently gained entry by forcing a window, were believed to be adults since they didn't touch a candy display and left an empty whiskey bottle.

Two Costly Fires Sunday Hit Hilltop Locations

A private residence and business establishment, both located on the Hilltop, were the scenes Sunday of costly fires.

A blaze, resulting in damages unofficially estimated at $900-$1500, broke out Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Primmer, 430 N. Eureka-av. Caused by spontaneous combustion, the fire occured while the Primmers and their two children, Diane, 3, and Terry Jean, 6 months, were at Buckeye Lake.

The fire apparently started in a bedroom closet about 5 p. m., Franklin-Twp. firemen reported. It was confined to this room, although smoke damage was reported extensive in the rest of the three-room, one-floor home.

Earlier, firemen estimated damage at $750 from a fire in the restaurant of Albert Vitek, 1989 Sullivant-av. The fire broke out shortly before 1 p. m. when a cigaret ignited some paper cartons.

TRADE SECRETS REVEALED

Fundamental steps in the production of a modern newspaper will be graphically shown at the Hilltop Business Association Bean Dinner exhibit tent. The display, currently at the Hilltop Branch Library, was especially created to inform the community of the "secrets of the trade." It will be returned to the library following the Bean Dinner.

..Headliners At The Bean Dinner..

THESE HUSKY members of the Hilltop Athletic Association will provide wrestling and boxing of a near-professional variety for the enjoyment of Bean Dinner-ites. Seated front, left to right, are Larry Anderson, Grueller and Jack Morgan, boxer. Standing are Boxers Bob Linamood and Walt Dolder. Another boxer, Byron Bell, who went to the semi-finals in the Golden Gloves welterweight class, will appear in a Hilltop ropes match with Dolder. (J. Curtis Allen Photo)

YOUNG AND ATTRACTIVE Bonnie Lou, Swiss yodeler and ballad singer on WLW and WLW-T, is among the top talent being imported for the Hilltop Bean Dinner. Bonnie Lou, 22, has spent more than half her life entertaining in radio.

HILLTOP BEAN DINNER imported talent will include the Kentucky Boys, Zeke and Red Turner, above, who are one of the most popular acts with WLW and WLW-T.

ALLEY FACE-LIFTING

A number of alleys are getting their faces lifted, it has been reported. Some are receiving the works—from new foundation to new surface, while others are being graded and cleaned thoroughly.

One of the alleys with a complete new bed, graded gravel, and asphalt-bound surface is the alley running west of the first block of N. Burgess-av.

More Fun Than Ever Before; Cash Awards Are At New High

Everything was in readiness today for the 11th annual Hilltop Bean Dinner sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association, stated Ray Dethy, general chairman of this year's traditional event, which will be held in Westgate Park on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 27 and 28.

Dethy also stated that free bean dinner tickets for the grand awards totaling $800 are going fast and folks are asked to get them at the establishments of local HBA members and deposit them in the orange and chartreuse barrels located at strategic spots throughout the community.

Carnival rides to please old and young alike will be presented by the famous Tom Mohan Amusement Co.

This year's schedule of events, size of display tent, participation of local merchants, and exhibits from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base make it a certainty that the 1954 Bean Dinner will be truly the biggest and most enjoyable such event to date.

Those having exhibits or displays in the huge canvas exhibits tent include Westgate Electric, West Hill Furniture, Hilltop Jewelers, Hilltop Record, City Furniture, Val-U Home, Economy Variety, Weaver Furnace, Seiller's Department Store, Westgate Plumbing, Westgate Maintenance and Navy Recruiting.

Starting the program at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday will be a doll buggy parade at the park shelterhouse, followed by games and contests for the children ages 7 to 12 at 2 p.m.

Free beans will be served to all from 5 to 7 p.m.

The Hilltop Y Slo-Pitch League, with four games, will get underway on the park diamonds at 6 p. m. Flippo, the Ward Baking Co. clown, will appear both days and entertain from the grandstand at 4 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m. on the first day, the first of the headline events will take place, which will include the appearance of the well-known TV stars from the WLW-TV Midwestern Hayride—Bonnie Lou, Swiss yodeler and ballad singer, and the Kentucky Boys, Zeke and Red Turner.

Following the hayride show, there will be the crowning of this year's Bean Dinner Queen, at approximately 8:15 p.m. In the meantime, there will be boxing and wrestling by members of the Hilltop Athletic Club.

Displays of the air force, on huge trailers, will include the B-29 fuselage, which people will be allowed to go through, and the F-80 Shooting Star, the Korea combat-proven jet fighter, which will have its insides revealed by transparent

West Columbus Hit Worst By Storm Damage

Starting about 4 p.m. Tuesday afternoon, phone calls swamped the police department switchboard with reports of tragedies, floods, accidents and incidents about "the big storm"—which all adds up that the Hilltop and West suffered severe abuse and costly damage from which this area will be a long time overcoming. This district was hit probably harder than any in Franklin County.

Police Sgt. Francis McWilliams reported that east-bound traffic on Broad-st was stopped about 5 p.m. and not opened until about 8:45 p.m. because of fallen trees and communication poles.

Adding to the traffic tie-up was flooding of S. Central-av underpass and a billboard blown into the center of Mound-st at the Central Point Shopping Center.

Sullivant-av was flooded for an hour by water from sewers. Summit-st, between Fifth and Seventh-avs, was blocked by fallen trees and wires.

Blocking of the above streets necessitated use of gasoline buses on some lines and temporary halts on others until streets were opened. A spokesman for the Columbus Transit Co. said all the lines were operating normally with the exception of W. Broad-st, by 9 p.m. Tuesday. A gasoline bus remained in use there.

A great amount of damage was narrowly averted when a huge

Lightning-Fire Destroy Barn And Equipment Of Farm On Spindler-rd

A fire resulting when a bolt of lightning struck during the Tuesday afternoon storm, completely destroyed a barn on the site of the tenant farm of Emerson Bohlen on Spindler-rd. George Francis, a neighbor, rushed to the Bohlen home on Roberts-rd to give the alarm. The Hilliards fire department was called but, according to another neighbor, George Porschet, "it all went up at once."

In addition to the structure, a number of tons of hay and straw as well as a tractor, wagon and manure spreader were completely destroyed. According to Bohlen it will be impossible to estimate the financial loss until an examination of the ruins can be made and an exact count of the animals having access to the shelter attached to the barn. Two years ago the dwelling on this site was destroyed by fire caused by a defective heating stove.

Four Rezoning Requests Slated For Hearings Tuesday, Aug. 3

Requests for zoning changes on 2 acres at 4822 Hall-rd, four lots in the West Columbus Park Addition, and two lots in the Woodlawn Addition will be the subjects of a public hearing before the rural zoning commission at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 3, in the Prairie Township fire house on Maple-dr in New Rome.

T. R. Hickey, executive secretary of the zoning commission, listed the requesting parties as William P. Mulholland, Jr., 156 S. Southampton-av; Frances Hughes, 231 Mix-av; and the Standard Oil Co., 174 E. Long-st.

Mulholland desires reclassification from residential and agricultural to general commercial district on a 25-acre tract of land at 4822 Hall-rd, which is slightly more than one-half mile west of Georgesville-rd and some 1600 feet east of the New York Central Railroad tracks.

Frances Hughes seeks reclassification from a residential district to a local commercial district of four lots in the West Columbus Park Addition, located on the west side of Mix-rd, some 250 feet south of Bunker-av.

The oil firm wishes to have two lots in the Woodlawn Addition, located at the southeast corner of W. Broad-st and Norton-rd, switched from the residential to a local commercial district.

YOU CAN "BANK ON" the Hilltop to grow and grow and evidence of this is shown above. It is an architectural rendering of the new drive-in West Broad office of the City National Bank & Trust Co., for which ground already has been cleared on the proposed site between Brinker and Westgate-ave on W. Broad-st. Basham, Richards, and Armstrong, Columbus architects, drew up the plans for the fourth City National Bank location. Others are located at 30 E. Broad-st, 9 E. Long-st, and 1245 Olentangy River-rd.

TIMMY MOURNS LOSS OF HIS LIFELONG FRIEND

Little Timmy Mathis is a very sad young man this week because of losing a life long friend on Saturday morning. Timmy has been visiting his great-aunt, Mrs. Ray Hughes, 2251 Sullivant-av, with his mother, Mrs. Stella Mathis of Portsmouth, O.

Saturday morning, at about 6:30 or 7, one-year-old Timmy's toy fox terrier, "Jiggers," strayed from the house without his collar. Jiggers is also just one-year-old.

Timmy cried plaintively all night Saturday, mourning the disappearance of his pal. Each day since the dog wandered away, Timmy has moped about the house and yard calling, "Jiggs" and pleading with the reddish-blond terrier to "come home" in a language only babies and puppies understand.

Timmy hopes that anyone who may have found the dog or knows anything about him will call JO. 2884 or bring home the friend and playmate he misses so much.

BROTHER GETS PROMOTION

James Mitchell, brother of Mrs. Joseph Chesser of 2445 Sullivant-av, has been promoted to first lieutenant. Lt. Mitchell was graduated from the college of commerce and administration, Ohio State University, in 1952. He is presently stationed at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

WESTGATE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL addition, consisting of two rooms, will be completed by September, at a cost of $17,751. Six additional rooms will be completed as soon as possible thereafter. The two-room addition will accommodate 70 additional pupils. The construction seems above the harmonizing modernistic building materials. (Hilltop Record Photo)

STARLING JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL, for many months the scene of intensive building, was comparatively quiet when the picture above was taken. The first part of the addition to the new gym was completed in late May. The current task is covering every device from dome-lighted heaven. A package contract for $568,000 covered the gym and interior remodeling.

ONLY A DREAM just a few months back, the new Franklin Township elementary school at Demorest and Briggs-rds is a beehive of activity today as that dream moves toward reality. In the picture above members of Vernon C. Neal, Inc., general contractors, point out the spot where the building will rise, sharing the same general site as the new Franklin Township High School, funds for which were okayed by township residents in a special election on June 8. The elementary school was covered in a special bond issue for $680,000 passed a year ago, which also included additional classrooms for Skidmore School. Left to right are R. H. Glenwood Crafters Illustrate Story

Illustrations for a children's story "The Papoose and the Wind," were painted by Glenwood Recreation Center's crafters Monday, July 12. The story was written by Pat Hetkow, graduate student in education at Ohio State University, who came to the playground at the suggestion of Mrs. Green to tell her story and enlist the children as illustrators. About 40 children painted pictures which will be edited and incorporated into the book. When it is finished, the book will be displayed at the center, together with names of those whose pictures are used.

Gimp bracelets and earrings are being made in earnest this week. This attractive and professional-looking jewelry is popular with both children and their parents.

Crafts period on the playground is 1-3 p. m. daily. This week, crafters will concentrate on making lanterns out of boxes and crepe paper for the city-wide Lantern Parade Thursday, July 22, 8 p. m., at Central High School.

POWERFUL MIDGET!

We don't like to boast—like fun we don't!! — but this is too good to keep and should be of vital interest to the 32,000 families that carefully scrutinize the want-ads in this newspaper every week.

Vincent Bocks of Nu-Way Slip Covers telephoned the other day and practically chortled the news that his one-inch ad in the classified section of our newspaper had brought him the grand total of 1,457 jobs. He plans to make the want-ad one of the cornerstones of his sales program from now on.

Would you like to be pleasantly surprised with such gratifying results? It's easy, merely dial RA. 1125 or HI. 4-9282 (note the new number) and you'll find a friendly, courteous voice at the other end of the wire eager to help you with your selling problem.

Citywide Lantern Festival Will Be At Central Tonight

The citywide Lantern Festival will take place on the Central High School athletic field 7:30—9:30 tonight. More than 700 children from the city playgrounds are expected to participate in the event with their own hand-made lanterns.

All playground leaders must accompany their children and meet at their playground signs, which will be set up in the north and south practice fields in Central High Stadium. Ten or more children are expected from each of the playgrounds throughout the city. Each child is urged to bring his parents and friends for playground officials promise a very spectacular affair.

One of the most attractive events on the playground program is the lantern parade, combining an interesting handcraft project and an exhibition which may be made genuinely beautiful.

It is desirable for each playground taking part in the parade to have one large float typical of the playground to lead the ground in the parade. Floats may be constructed on scooters, coaster wagons, pushmobiles and bicycles, with decorations made of pennants, bunting, crepe paper, flowers, and lanterns.

Lanterns may be made from boxes and cartons which are strong, substantially constructed and wide enough to clear the flame or light by three or four inches. They may include round or square hat boxes, oatmeal or candy boxes, coffee or square tea cans. Sides in fancy shapes may be sawed from thin board with coping saw or cut from cardboard. A nice effect can be achieved by punching holes in the box or tin in a design or cutting out portions of the original container and covering with crepe paper, or figured silk.

Hilliards Legion Hall Set To Open Around Sept. 1

Hilliards Post 614 American Legion and its auxiliary are making progress toward readying the rooms of the post hall for public inspection and use, according to Adjutant John Pentield.

Addition of a women's rest room is underway and should be completed shortly. Ladies of the auxiliary are preparing draperies and assisting in numerous other ways.

The ice cream social sponsored by the Auxiliary Saturday evening was quite successful, the proceeds being dedicated to the building fund. As in past years, the post will conduct round and square dancing nightly at the Franklin County Fair, Aug. 18 through 21.

The post also plans a games party for August, details not yet complete, Penfield said, adding that a regular schedule of monthly or bi-weekly games might be adopted for the winter months after the building renovation has been completed.

A substantial boost toward the decorating program has been given by Lowe Brothers Paint Co., which has donated 50 gallons of Beadex paint to the organization.

Sept. 1, or very soon thereafter, is the date tentatively set for opening the facilities of the local Legion hall to the public.

TOO REAL

Two men, strangers to each other, happened to be wandering farther and farther down the darkening corridors of an ancient picture gallery. One of them, shivering slightly, said:

"Rather spooky, isn't it?"

"Do you believe in ghosts?" asked the other.

"No", said the first speaker, "do you?"

"Yes," said the other — and vanished.

HEN POORED

"Are your eggs fresh?"

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

'Big Storm of 1954' Brings Dim-Outs, Thawed Freezer Food, Uncooked Meals

The big story of the week out Hilliards-way was the big blow of last Wednesday night. Electric and telephone services were disrupted in many areas when trees were blown across wires, and in some places utility poles were snapped off like matchsticks. Food freezers started to thaw in a number of homes before electric service was restored and quantities of dry ice were brought out from Columbus to maintain cold and preserve the foods.

Rupture of telephone service to the office of Ohio-Midland Light and Power Co. in Hilliards necessitated routing trouble calls through Dublin office, doubling up the labors of the personnel there.

At the home of Nelson Russell, 269 Avery-rd, the heavy downpour of rain flooded the basement. Without electricity, the sump pump was useless. Russell spent most of Wednesday night [illegible] and carrying out water to protect furnace and other installations in his basement.

A willow tree was blown onto the roof of Ralph Geese at 267 Avery-rd and three doors north, a maple tree was split, the weight of the limbs breaking off service wires leading to the home of Walter Arndt at 289 Avery-rd.

Linemen of the electric company worked straight through into Friday before all broken connections could be repaired. On Hayden-Run-rd service was off for over 24 hours and, at the Arndt home it was not restored until some time Friday.

Food losses was the chief complaint heard, with inability to use electric ranges for cooking a close second.

Remarkably, practically all the damage resulting from the storm was from rain and wind. No lightning damage was reported, despite the spectacular display.

At the Hilliards Raceway, several automobiles were pinned under [illegible] downed by the wind during the height of the storm. The racing program was halted by rain after the fourth event. Telephone service to the raceway was out of service until Friday morning.

Numerous buildings in the area sustained wind damage, either directly or from trees being blown upon them. At the home of Henry Olver, [illegible] W. Main-st, a window was blown out of an upstairs room and wind-blown rain damaged the household effects. A basement window was blown out at the home of W. E. Huffman at W. Main-st and Cemetery-rd. At the south edge of town, a barn roof belonging to Kelly Conklin was severely damaged and across Scioto-Darby-rd from the Conklin property, a large tree on the high school campus was lying across a telephone cable.

West of Hilliards, in Brown-twp, at the farm of Carl Schultz, a large tree was blown down upon a concrete block garage, bursting out the walls and causing the roof and fallen tree to drop upon a farm truck, an automobile, and other equipment stored within the building.

Along Renner-rd, a number of utility poles were snapped off and the Central Ohio Breeding Association, it was reported, a large section of [illegible] was ripped off one of the bull barns exposing the animals to the cloud-burst rainfall.

The only fire department run attributed to the storm was one made on Thursday afternoon, to 4500 Dublin-rd, where high high voltage wires broken by the wind had set fire to a wheat field.

A striking feature of the storm was the number of hollow trees broken, split, uprooted, or otherwise damaged by the high winds. From which may be drawn a possibly obvious conclusion that a lot of raccoons may have to hunt new quarters to hole up in come winter, this year.

All whimsy aside, the night of Wednesday, July 14, 1954, presented an experience which those who lived through will not soon forget.

Main-st Gets New Face-Lifting Job

Main-st is in process of a new face-lifting operation. George Holliday, owner of Main Super-Market, has begun remodeling the buildings on E. Main-st occupied as a retail market and surplus storage.

The retail store in use for many years by successive merchants has been outgrown by the increase in business. Some years ago, Holliday purchased the O'Harra building just east of the original store and has planned to incorporte the additional space with it to provide adequate room for his expanding merchandising operations.

The floor area will be practically doubled when the work has been completed and modern equipment will be spaced to provide the maximum of convenience to customers and employes.

Former Local Resident Dies In Lancaster

Word was received here Friday of the death in Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital, Lancaster, of Mrs. Mary Edgar of Rockbridge. Mrs. Edgar was the wife of John J. Edgar and they lived for some years in the Hilliards community. She was the mother of Mrs. Ray Dougherty, 658 Hilliards-Rome-rd, and the grandmother of Jim E. Dougherty, 166 S. Norwich-st. Funeral services for Mrs. Edgar were held on Monday of this week.

The Midwestern Hayride stars will present another show at 10 p. m. to wind up the first day's events.

Wednesday's program will be highlighted by children's games again from 2 to 4 p.m., with a watermelon-eating contest climaxing the event for the kids and producing loads of laughs for envious adults.

Free beans will again be served from 5 to 7 p.m.

The Four Flames, popular barbershop quartet from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., will render several of their studies in close harmony during the evening program. Spotlighted in the evening show will be Willis Fischer, well-known radio, TV and night club entertainer, and his Logjammers, featuring top in dance music and a side-splitting show.

There will be boxing and wrestling again through the courtesy of the Hilltop Athletic Association, followed by the main event of the evening—the presentation of cash awards.

The cash gifts will include one $100 first prize; two prizes of $50 each; six prizes of $25 each; 10 prizes of $10 each; and 10 of $5 each! A total of $600!

Also many exceptionally valuable prizes of appliances and merchandise will be given by Hilltop Business Association members.

That's it, folks — all wrapped up in one big package — the most outstanding of 11 Hilltop Bean Dinners!

Everyone is invited and it costs you not one cent. In the two-day event last year, more than 20,000 attended from all parts of the area.

Will Seek Damages For Flooding In Franklin Twp.

Samuel Weller of 1234 S. Eureka-av. declared Tuesday night that he would initiate court action against the Franklin Township board of trustees within the next 30 days if the township continues to take no action to remedy the flooding caused by a faulty culvert in front of his home.

Weller, who is an electrician and the father of four, said that water was still standing some 18 inches deep in his front yard several hours after the heavy rain Tuesday evening and was nearly two feet deep at the height of late afternoon storm.

He disclosed that he had told the trustees in a registered letter more than a week previously that court action was contemplated if the situation persisted, but that he had received no answer.

Weller said the culvert, which runs along the property line dividing his home and that of Herman Smith, 1230 S. Eureka-av, leads nowhere. "It merely serves to dump the water from across the road onto our properties," he complained. Another S. Eureka-av resident affected by the flooding, he said, is Eugene Richardson, whose home is immediately north of the Smith home.

Since purchasing his home in September of last year, Weller said flood waters have damaged his yard, house and foundation, ruined his furnace and caused sickness to his family on one occasion when the furnace fire was extinguished and fumes spread through the residence.

He declared that a large hole in the pavement, washed by the frequent flooding, constitutes a driving and health hazard and is dangerous for small children in the neighborhood. Weller fixed actual property damage to his home at about $1500.

Radio Appreciation Night At Redbird Stadium Will Be Held Friday, Aug. 27

The annual Redbird Radio Appreciation Night is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 27, at Redbird Stadium, with its primary purpose being to give the folks who have enjoyed the radio baseball broadcasts a chance to show their appreciation to the Redbirds, Station WHKC, Anheuser Busch, and Play-by-Play Commentator Don Hill.

This year's feature event will again be the contest to select Miss Columbus Redbird. All single girls, 18 and older, living within 50 miles of Columbus, are eligible. Girls wishing to enter should send a photograph and vital statistics to Don Hill, WHKC, 22 E. Gay-st, no later than Tuesday, Aug. 10.

The 10 finalists will be chosen by a committee consisting of Woody Hayes, George Sisler, Jr., and Byron Taggart. Miss Columbus Redbird will be chosen at the ball park on Radio Appreciation Night by the applause of the fans as measured by a special applause meter.

In addition to a check for $100, the winning young lady will receive a week's all-expense paid trip to the annual baseball meetings at Houston, Tex., in December. There she will have the opportunity to participate in a national contest for the title of Miss Professional Baseball.

TUG-O-WAR — Pictured above is last year's tug-o-war between the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Lions Club. The event was to have been held at the Bean Dinner but when the rope broke it was delayed and the event was held at a later date on West High's Football field. The Lions Club won last year. This year the annual tug-o-war classic will be held at the Hilltop Bean Dinner and will get under way at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. The trophy to be awarded to the winning club is an interchangeable one and either club winning it three times in a row will get to keep it. Captains in charge of this year's event are Ray McVay for the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and Ed Tonti for the Hilltop Lions Club. Judging the event will be William C. Bryant and referees will be Assistant Safety Director Leo Phillips and Inspector Tom Scully of the police department. This event can give either team a cool ducking.

EARLY ENTRANTS in the Hilltop Bean Dinner Queen contest include, left to right, Diane Holf, Betty Ellingsworth, Stephanie Wright and Bobbie Armentrout. Miss Holf, age 20, is sponsored by Painter's Market; Miss Ellingsworth is 18 years old; Miss Wright is 18 years old; and Miss Armentrout, is sponsored by Mayer's Confectionery.

School Board Announces Retirement Of West Side Teacher; Salary Boosts

With the reopening of the public schools a scant seven weeks away, a timely disclosure has been made by the board of education to the effect that a one-mill levy to cover salary boosts for teachers and other employes has been approved for placement on the November ballot.

In asking the board's approval on the salary increase, Schools Superintendent N. G. Fawcett stated, "For 18 months no action has been taken on salaries for teachers and employes. The condition needs to be corrected or the system will suffer severely."

Fawcett backed up this statement by pointing to the city school's shortage of 80 teachers for the fall term, and the increasing loss of competent teachers because of inadequate salaries.

Other action taken by the board was the acceptance of the retirement of Katherine Jones of Chicago Avenue Elementary School. The board has also contracted to have certain areas blacktopped at Chicago School.

Storm Damage —

limb fell between two homes at 20 N. Eureka-av.

In the Mix Addition in Prairie Township, south of Broad-st, sheriff's deputies and New Rome firemen had to go through five feet of water to rescue an invalid from his home.

Deputy Rolf Slade said he and the firemen carried out Alfred Kelley, 72, of 303 Emmitt-st, shortly after 5 p.m. He said the addition was hit by a flash flood that roared down a ravine during the height of the storm.

Water in spots measured above head height in the midst of the area. Slade said the flood forced four families to flee homes on Mix-rd, two on Emmitt-st and "eight or 10 others around the ravine."

A home in 161 Colerd in Prairie Twp. was struck by lightning.

Eggers Wins First Place In Trailer Park Contest

Melvin Eggers was named first place winner of $15 in a site beautification contest held last Saturday afternoon at Westgate Trailer Park, 201 Wilson-rd. Other winners were Campbell Wolford, of Westinghouse, second place prize of $10; and D. O. Renners, of General Motors Terrastedt Plant, third prize of $5.

Judges were Ben Hayes, columnist for the Columbus Citizen; Businessman Nick Pappas; and Galvy Gordon, editor of The Hilltop Record. The decisions were unanimous.

Eggers will automatically be entered in a contest to select the most beautiful trailer lot in the Columbus metropolitan area.

QUICK-WORKING FIREMEN

Hilliards Volunteer Dept. Quenches Blaze; Could Have Brought Huge Loss

What threatened to be a disastrous and costly fire at Vanlard Farms, operated by William VanSchoyck, on Monday of last week was quickly brought under control by prompt and efficient work of the Hilliards fire department. Loss was estimated at about $700 instead of running into the thousands as might have been the case.

VanSchoyk was combining wheat at the farm on Cosgray-rd and was refueling the motor of the harvesting machine when fumes apparently ignited, setting off a blaze that swept the approximately 10-acre field before being brought under control.

Early reports were that the combine had been destroyed and VanSchoyck severely burned. An interview with Mrs. VanSchoyk later disclosed that the prompt action of the firemen saved the machine and that, while her husband was scorched by the heat of the fire, which singed him rather painfully, he was not seriously injured. The VanSchoyck automobile lost all its tires and the finish was damaged by heat from the fire. The chief loss was the wheat crop, Mrs. VanSchoyck said, and in view of what might have been, the amount of that was almost negligible.

Part of the credit for dousing the fire so cheaply was given to the new 1500-gallon tank truck recently put in service by the department, providing an ample supply of water at locations without public water supply.

Curtain Time Shifted At This Week's Concerts Of Gallery Of Fine Arts

Every evening in July and August, the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts has a concert, usually starting at 8 p.m., but this week the concert will start promptly at 7:20 p. m. The reason for the upping in the time is explainable through the fact that the musicians in this performance are all professional men and have to meet another engagement.

An evening of contemporary American jazz will be in store for those attending. This is a free concert and open to the public. This concert will be given by three groups of musicians directed by Sonny McBroom, Jake Dale and Warren James. The first group is more conventional jazz, the second will illustrate the more classical contemporary, and the third will be a quintet with the lead a flute.

The concert will be narrated by Thomas Patton, president of the Ohio State University Jazz Forum and editor of the "Journal of Modern Jazz" quarterly. He will discuss the elements of contemporary jazz and the music will demonstrate each of the theses. The program will last approximately an hour and 15 minutes. These concerts are free, and free parking in the rear of the gallery is provided.

West High School in 1946. Young has done a great deal to inspire teachers and students alike to take pride and interest in their school and community. He has been instrumental in bringing about many of the fine improvements now in evidence at West.

In reference to his acceptance of the appointment, Young stated, "It was not an easy decision to make. It meant that I must leave the many projects and improvements that I was so anxious to see through. I have thoroughly enjoyed it at West, working with the fine faculty and students and I deeply appreciate the fine spirit of the business men and residents of the Hilltop in connection with their schools."

Clark-Howard Nuptials Read In West Park Church

MR. AND MRS. DAVID HOWARD
(J. Curtis Allen photo)

Arrangements of palms, white gladioli, asters and stephanotis decorated West Park Methodist Church on July 16 for the wedding of Miss Virginia Ann Clarke and Mr. David M. Howard. Rev. William M. George officiated at the candlelit service at 7:30 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Clarke, 2020 Doren-av, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Howard, Grove City.

Imported Chantilly lace over white satin fashioned the bridal gown, featuring a jeweled neckline, basque bodice and long sleeves forming points over her hands. The bouffant lace skirt, in ballerina length, was worn over nylon net ruffles.

A scalloped lace cap edged with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a white prayer book, topped with a single white orchid.

Miss Carol Patterson, the maid-of-honor, was gowned in powder blue nylon tulle and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Linda Bryant and Miss Billie Oliver. Their gowns were of yellow nylon tulle and they carried Colonial bouquets of pastel green carnations.

The frocks were styled with fitted bodices and bouffant, waltz-length skirts with a bustle effect of ruffles, and were worn with matching shoulder stoles. They each wore a matching nylon ballhat.

Mr. Norman Howard served as best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Charles H. Clarke, brother of the bride, and Mr. Terry Horn.

The mother of the bride chose a frock of turquoise blue nylon with a corsage of yellow carnations and the bridegroom's mother was gowned in pink lace with a corsage of variegated pink and white carnations.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held in the church reception hall. Hostesses were Miss Alvada Clarke, Mrs. Louise Carson, Mrs. Jo-Ann Clarke, Mrs. Opal Hart and Mrs. Helen Forster.

The new Mrs. Howard was graduated from West High School and is associated with the Public Employes Retirement System. Her husband is a graduate of Grove City High School and is employed by Fairmont Foods Co.

AN OPEN CHURCH WEDDING at 7:30 p. m. on July 24 will unite in marriage Miss Donna Marie Theisen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Theisen, 4286 San Jose Lane and Mr. William H. Haire, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Haire, 2107 Ellis-pl. The event will take place in Glenwood Methodist Church with Rev. George Brown, pastor of Wesley Chapel Methodist Church, officiating. The bride-elect is a graduate of West High School and is enrolled in Grant Hospital School of Nursing. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from West High School and is enrolled in Business Administration at Capital University.

Bob Cramer retired in 1945 after 36 years association with the Prudential Life Insurance Co. as assistant superintendent for the Hilltop and West Side area. He is a member of Glenwood Methodist Church, Hilltop Kiwanis, Ralph Turner Lodge, and F & AM and Aladdin Temple.

Hilltop Women Are 'Colonels' In Polio Drive

Several women from the Hilltop and surrounding townships are among those who will be colonels to direct volunteers in the Polio Emergency Hour on Thursday, Aug. 26, from 7 to 8 p. m. They are Mrs. George Neibler, 780 S. Wayne-av, RA. 5853; Mrs. Carl Gilliland, 68 Belvidere-av, JO. 2256; Mrs. Jack Mitchell, 344 S. Brinker-av, RA. 2971; Mrs. Lawrence Mack, 176 S. Algonquin-av, JO. 3686; Mrs. William Tinapple, 4464 Fisher-rd, FR. 8-7621; Mrs. John Jones, 1712 Harrisburg-pk, Briggsdale, RA. 9703; Mrs. John Yore, 7032 Rings-rd, Hilliards, FR. 8-7920. In the event volunteers are unable to contact one of the above mentioned women, it is suggested they call the Franklin County Polio Chapter Office at CA. 4-2133.

This marks the second time in the 16-year history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that it has been necessary to have an emergency campaign for polio funds during August.

The Franklin County Polio Chapter, along with hundreds of other local county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, finds itself facing the heaviest polio season of the year with no money in its treasury because of having spent in the first six months of 1954 a total of $53,853.16 for the care and treatment of 16 new and 180 old polio cases. The National Foundation is now unable to assist local chapters fully because it, too, is without sufficient funds for the entire year.

Mothers, fathers, teen-agers, youth groups — any individuals interested in giving just one hour on Thursday, Aug. 26, to help fight polio are urged to call the "colonel" nearest their homes to volunteer their services.

Society News Deadlines Set

The Hilltop Record society department is endeavoring to provide an enlarged and improved service to its many readers. In order to accomplish this and assure that weddings, engagements, club notes, and women's activities receive the attention in Record columns they so richly deserve, it has become necessary to restate sub mission deadlines for contributors.

Pictures which contributors desire to appear on these pages must arrive at the Record office by not later than 9 a.m. Monday for publication in the same week's paper.

Church notices and news of church activities must arrive not later than 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Deadline for the arrival of news of clubs and other women's activities has been set as 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Because of space and time limitation, only those contributors who meet these deadlines can be assured of fullest consideration for publication.

Ideally, wedding and engagement pictures submitted for publication should be glossy prints not larger than 5x7 inches. If pictures are larger and their owners will not permit them to be trimmed, a special engraving fee must be charged. Otherwise, the service is free.

Dungaree-Clad Pizza Pie Chef Tells Culinary Success Secret

Sammy Alford

"Pizza", at first sampled very cautiously by the nation's hardest-to-please, the teen-agers, has quickly met with their enthusiastic approval. This latest food fad is delighting the palate of teensters and adults alike in all the "forty-eight."

Such a top item on the younger set's menu is popular enough to make an aproned chef out of such "he-mes" as young Sammy Alford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alford, 238 N. Terrace-av.

Although it would appear, from Sammy's preoccupied manner, above, that making a pizza is very complex, actually he uses a prepared, ready-mix product and adds cheese and pepperoni.

For the ambitious ones, Mrs. Alford has sent along an excellent recipe for pizza, using prepared hot-roll mix for the dough.

PIZZA

Use a prepared hot roll mix for the dough. Follow directions on box and roll, or pat dough very thin to fit pizza pan. One box will make two large pizzas.

After dough is in pans, sprinkle lightly with olive oil. Drain a large can of tomatoes and arrange over dough, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and ½ tsp. oregano. Arrange thinly sliced pepperoni over all and sprinkle with grated Italian cheese. Bake at 400 degrees 20 minutes or until edges are crisp.

Hand-Fired Heater Can Have Automatic Control

Three out of four centrally-heated homes in the United States have no automatic control of the fire, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. Modern motor-operated draft controls make many of the advantages of automatic heating available to the owner of a hand-fired heating plant. Automatic draft controls are available in a complete package consisting of a damper motor, transformer, thermostat, limit control, wire, and the necessary pulleys and chain.

SERVICES TO CONTINUE

Announcement has been made that the regular Sunday evening services at Glenwood Methodist Church will continue during Rev. Joseph Shellhaas' vacation, with guest ministers scheduled for each service.

Leon Keyserling, former government economic advisor: "A national economy that produces no more jobs, no more products, no more retail sales, no more farm income than it did the year before is doomed to the same kind of economic booby trap that the nation faced in 1929."

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareaus are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, Allton [illegible] W. Broad Street. Adv.

Sunday Sermonette

GOD — ALLY OF THE RIGHTEOUS
BY REV. J. L. DEAN, PASTOR
HILLTOP COMMUNITY CHURCH

Text: Exodus 23:22. According to Webster, an ally is "Anything associated with another as a helper."

It is fully understood that Satan is the sworn and persistant enemy of all who seek to do God's will. The righteous are always endeavoring to do this. Satan is persistant in preventing the righteous from doing the will of God in their lives. Therefore, God voluntarily becomes the

Rev. J. L. Dean

Ally of the righteous. The words of the text confirm this position. "If thou shalt indeed obey his voice and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto your enemies, and an adversary unto your adversaries."

Who is this Ally? Let us investigate. According to Bible references he is: "The Lord of Hosts," "The King of Glory," "The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle," "Ye shall not fear them, for the Lord your God shall fight for you," "The battle is not yours but God's."

When we think of such an Ally we are forced to give vent to our emotions and exuberantly say, "Hallelujah for such an Ally as our God."

He is "Our Rock," the foundation of our FAITH. "Our Refuge," a place of hiding in the time of storm. "Our Fortress" where Satan's darts are stopped.

God's past acts are pledges of his future acts in behalf of those who, by their obedience claim him as their Ally. The psalmist learned the secret of having God as his Ally when he said, "Through God we shall do valiantly: for it is he that shall tread down our enemies." May we learn this secret also.

The Bible

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? —(I Corinthians 3, 16.)

Realizing this truth come down the ages to us, how can we permit evil, negative, hateful and resentful thoughts to remain within us? And in this faith, how strong and joyous, how at peace with ourselves and with the world we may be.

Davis Boys Both Ardent Musicians; Elwood Home On Leave From USMC

Elwood and Parks Davis, sons of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Davis, 269

Elwood J. Davis
USMC

N. Burgess-av, take music quite seriously these days.

Elwood has been accepted in the USMC Band in San Diego, Calif. A graduate of West High, Elwood played in the West High Band and orchestra under the able baton of Clair Barnard. Elwood has played in many contests for both bands and orchestras. He played solo clarinet in the All Ohio Boys' band for four years, was a former member of the Columbus Civic Symphony, and was solo clarinetist for the Delaware Music Clinic Concert Orchestra and Band. He also played with the Ohio State University Summer Concert Orchestra.

Parks, only 14 years old, has already made a name for himself, entering contests since he was in the fifth grade and playing for the state fair and the Franklin County Fair, also radio and television. He has been accepted in the All-Ohio Boys' Band at the State Fair as one of the youngest members. He is also looking forward to the time he enters the Senior Band at West.

Parks L. Davis

Elwood was home on leave last week and had many friends over to say hello. Both boys have had five years of private lessons with George Lutz.

IT'S HOT OUT THERE!

Hilltoppers Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lorenz and daughter, Karen, of 469 S. Harris-av, have just returned home from an eight-day trip through the West where they visited Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, the Badlands, and the Black Hills. Although they enjoyed the mountains and the magnificent scenery, they were happy to return to the comparative coolness of Columbus. Temperatures in Salt Lake City rested at 107 degrees!

Furies' Martin Hurls No-Hitter Against Tigers

The undefeated Glenwood Furies last Friday made Glenwood Tigers victim number four, 8-2, as they kept their lead in Junior Knothole intact. Skip Martin pitched a no-hitter and struck out seven. Martin also had a big day at bat, scoring two of the winners' runs. Harvey Parks continued his heavy hitting with a triple to right.

The high point of the game was with two out in last inning when Eddie Deidrich lined what appeared to be a single into left field. Ten-year-old Ronny Loring of the Furies had other ideas and an on-the-line peg from left field to first preserved Martin's no hitter.

The Furies put the game on ice in the early innings, scoring five in the first and two in the second. A big surprise for the Tiger nine was the pitching of 10-year-old Billy Kara who, though making his first start, pitched commendable ball against the hard-hitting Furies. Sonny Delong threw out three batters trying to steal second as well as going three for two for the day. Harvey Parks is leading the Furies in batting with a .667 batting average, while Delong is second with a .600.

West Park Methodist Wins Diadem For Y Junior Softball League

The West Park Methodist Junior Softball Team assured itself of a place in the play-offs in the YMCA Junior League by winning the first-round title with a perfect record. The West Park team was extended to the limit in their game with the fighting West Junior Hi-Y team, coming from behind to win in the last of the eighth inning. West Junior Hi-Y led until the last of the sixth when the WP boys tied the game up. Don Furry and Dick Furry were the leading hitters for the Hi-Y, while Deyo with three safties was the big stick for West Park.

Glenwood Methodist finished in the runner-up spot for the first round by trimming Westgate EUB 23-11. Steve Byerly, Mike Donaldson, Bill Burke, and Ralph and George Tittle were the leading hitters for the Glenwood squad, while Tom Reeves, Castle, Sines, and Kite each had a pair of hits for Westgate EUB.

The schedule for Thursday, July 15: West Park Methodist vs. Westgate EUB, Westgate Diamond 3; and West Junior Hi-Y vs. Glenwood Methodist, Westgate Diamond 4.

OLD-TIMERS SLO-PITCH SOFTBALL

Westgate EUB Wins 1st-Round Championship With 7-1 Record

Westgate EUB won the first round championship of the Hilltop YMCA Old-Timers Slo-Pitch Softball League with a 7-1 record. Following close on the heels of Westgate were Glenwood Methodist, West Park Methodist, and Westway Post VFW in a tie for the second place position.

In the clincher, Westgate EUB defeated New Rome 13-10. Wielding the big bats for the first round champs were Arrasmith with a homer, triple, and single; Bill Williams, with three doubles; and Hysell and Pendleton, with four hits each. For New Rome, Jim Smith had a perfect day at the plate with four for four, while his team-mate John Fladt belted a home run.

Glenwood Methodist won a thriller from the Hilltop Lions, 16-13, with the lead changing hands several times. Freddie Grasbel and Harvey Postlewaithe each had three hits for Glenwood while manager Al McFarland, John Grassie and Gordon Powell had three safeties for the Lions.

Westway Post VFW swamped Hillcrest Baptist 22-8. Gene Zimmerman had five for five and Bill Blevins hit safely four times for VFW. Jim Reynolds had four for four and Cortland Roth had three hits — one a homer for Hillcrest Baptist.

On July 14, the traditional rivals, Hilltop Lions and Hilltop Kiwanis tangled with the Kiwanis Club coming out on top 15-1. Curt Wilcox, Kiwanis hurler, pitched one of the best games to date with a four-hitter. Al McFarland scored an unearned run to avoid a whitewash for the Lions. Ed Johnson had a perfect four for four day and Don Best had three for four for Kiwanis. Dick Anderson with two safeties was the only Lion able to solve Wilcox's offerings with any degree of regularity.

In a wild game at New Rome on July 15, Westway Post VFW pounded out a 20-9 win over the home team. Roland Wolford, in addition to pitching New Rome into submission, had four safe hits followed by Dick Ryan, Gus Sora and Gene Zimmerman with three hits each for VFW. Herb Steele and Jerry Paters each had three safeties for New Rome.

Hilltop YMCA Intermediate League Has Slugfest In Second Round Of Matches

By Dick Wilson

Slugging and poor fielding were the order of the day as the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church League resumed last week after being rained out for two weeks at Westgate Park diamonds.

DeMolay players put on their hitting caps in the game with Hillcrest to outslug the Baptist nine 24-14. The game was high lighted by eight home runs, with the DeMolay collecting seven of them. Those hitting round-trippers were Bob Thornton of Hillcrest Baptist and Jerry Ruffner, two; Harold Martin, two; Ronnie Klein, two; and Dale Wilson, one; all of DeMolay. Ronnie Klein was credited with the win and John Kuntz was charged with the loss.

West Park Methodist displayed lots of power in its game with Avondale EUB as it smashed out 13 hits to garner 13 runs, while Earl Gates held Avondale to five hits and two runs. George Breckenridge led the runs-scored department with four tallies as he played heads-up defensive ball for the Methodist team. Gates was the winning pitcher and Don Brown was charged with the loss.

Next week will see Avondale EUB facing Hillcrest Baptist and DeMolay meeting West Park Methodist.

Second Round of Play

Indians Fix Hold On Second Place With Win Over Eagles

The Indians strengthened their hold on second place in the Glenwood Recreation Center Little League by defeating the Eagles 14-3 in a game played Tuesday, July 6, at Glenwood.

The losers were held to two hits by the pitching efforts of Pat Purcell and Jay Hess. The Indians collected a total of six hits and 13 walks which, added to five Eagle errors, proved to be very costly.

Bob Jackson and Hollis Simms were the only two Eagles able to hit safely while Bob Thornton, Bill Quinn and Eddie Dedrich of the Indians were able to collect two hits each for the total of the six.

The first inning found the Eagles unable to score but the Indians had little difficulty in producing four runs on one hit, six walks, and two errors.

In the second inning, the Eagles had one hit with two walks and an error to produce three runs, thus ending their scoring for the game.

The Indians came back in the bottom of the second with two hits and four runs to bring their game total to eight. However, in the bottom of the fourth, the Indians took advantage of four walks and two hit batsmen for six runs, to end their game scoring at 14.

The Cowboys strengthened their hold on first place in the Glenwood Little League by defeating the second-place Indians 8-2 Friday, July 9, at Glenwood. For the Cowboys, it was their fourth win in as many outings, the Indians have a 2-2 record to date.

The game was a closely played affair with only nine hits being given up in the game, five by Dowdy and four by Mentel. Neither team scored in the first two innings, but the Cowboys were across the platter two times in the top of the third by error, two walks, and a hit by Howe, the Cowboy catcher. The bottom of the third found the Indians still unable to produce a run, although they had a man as far as third. The Cowboys had not yet cooled off as they came to bat in the fourth, as they were able to plate three runs on two hits and three miscues.

The rest of the game found neither team able to advance a man beyond first base. The big hitters for the game were Thornton of the Indians and Ammon of the Cowboys, who each clubbed two for three.

Last Thursday evening a group from Hauntz Playground traveled to West High School to participate in the Junior Olympics sponsored by the city recreation department.

On Thursday Mrs. Lucille Green from Glenwood Center spent the afternoon at Hauntz teaching the children to make American flags and gimp bracelets.

The Columbian Cowboys game (Little League) with the Eagles was postponed because of wet weather. This means that the Cowboys will have a busy week next week playing their postponed games and one regular scheduled game with the Indians.

On Friday evening, July 16, the Columbian Swamp Rats played host to the Junior League softball team from Holton Park.

Last Friday was Play Day for Highland Playground. Forty children went from Highland to Glenwood Park and most of the youngsters stayed in the wading pool the entire day.

William Green won a blue ribbon in the bicycle races and many of the Highland Avenue Playground participants were runners-up in the various contests and games. Most of the group stayed for the evening picnic and movies and all of them from Highland expressed a wish of having a Play Day more often.

Highland Avenue Park was well represented at the West High sectional track meet last Thursday evening. Highland is very busy these days making lanterns for the annual Lantern Parade. Several bicycles have been entered in the the races at Franklin Park from Highland Avenue Playground.

HOLTON PARK

The arts and craft program at Holton Park has attracted many boys and girls, with many weaving pot holders and baskets, painting plaques, embroidering sewing cards, and making lanyards, bracelets, and other items from gimp.

At present the children are busy making lanterns which will be used in the city-wide lantern festival to be held at Central High School, Thursday evening, July 22, at 8 p. m. In case of rain the event will be held tomorrow evening.

Twenty-six boys and girls participated in the drama festival held recently at Sunshine Park. Eight boys and girls took part in the West Sectional Junior Olympics held at West High School on July 8, and ten have enrolled in the "Learn to Swim" classes which are to be held at Maryland Park swimming pool during a two-week period beginning July 19.

A "Dress Up" parade was held recently at Holton Park. Judy Hudson was awarded the prize for the cutest costume. A very successful "Doll Show" was held Tuesday, July 13, with approximately 75 character dolls displayed. A prize was awarded to Billie June Schulze who displayed 19 dolls. Audrey Kesterson, of Jeffersonville, Ind., who has been visiting her cousin, Martha Joe Lawrence, received a prize for the most outstanding doll. Janet Wagner received an award for the smallest and Judy Henry for the largest dolls displayed.

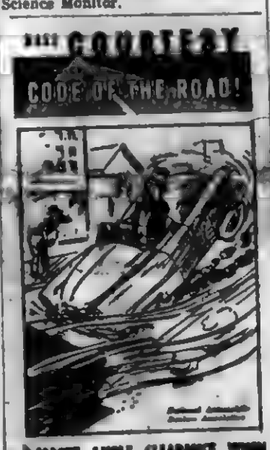
Thirty-five boys and girls have completed the Junior Physical Fitness and Proficiency Standards prescribed for track and field and will receive a certificate as an award from the Amateur Athletic Union.

The fourth period for camping at Indian Village Camp begins August 2. The camping periods are for two weeks. Any one desiring to attend camp may register with the supervisors, Mrs. Leonard Echols and Scott Schragg.

ABOUT MR. DIONE

Two fellows sat in a New York restaurant. Each had a cup of coffee in front of him, and a single newspaper was spread out on the table so that both might read at the same time.

The first pointed to a picture of the Dionne quintuplets. "Look at those quints," he said. Aren't they growing up to be charming women?"



The second glanced at the photo. "Yeah," he grunted. "Sure—they are okay." He sipped his coffee and then spoke suddenly: "By the way, has Mr. Dionne begotten any more quintuplets?"

The first man put down his cup. "More quintuplets?" he echoed. "Of course not!"

The other lighted a cigarette. "Just as I thought," he murmured. "I always imagined he was just a flash in the pan."

Three-Way Tie For First Place Develops In Hilltop Y Little 9

By Dick Wilson

Three teams were tied for first place in the Hilltop YMCA Little 9 League after the smoke cleared from last week's games, which marked mid-season at West High field.

The Little Braves clipped the wings of the high-flying Little Cards 11-6 in the first game of the week. The game was loosely played as only six hits led to the 11-6 conquest. Hitting for the Braves were Mike Engle, Tommy Morrison, and Bobby Timmons, who each got two singles. Dusty Rhoades led the Card attack with a triple which drove in three of the six Card runs. Calvin English was charged with the loss and Mike Engle was credited with his first win of the season.

The Little Yanks played their best game of the season against the Little Cubs as the Reeves-coached team was edged 2-1. Don Henne pitched exceptionally well, limiting the Rector nine to two hits and two unearned runs. Terry Linson and Don Barnes collected the singles. Bob Ross allowed three scattered hits and one unearned run, while gaining credit for the victory. Barnes looked outstanding for the victors and Henne and Jan Lawrence were the sparks for the Yanks.

The Little Redlegs broke the league record of runs scored as they smashed out 16 runs against the Baptist Dodgers in a game called at the end of five innings because of the heat. The Dodgers were able to score five runs from the offerings of Mike Cantlon, but errors and not thinking the plays proved costly to the Stigler team. Ronnie Modes led the Dodgers attack with two singles and a walk in three times up. Dave Dildine led the victors with three singles in four times at bat. Cantlon received credit for the win and Jim Smiley was charged with the loss.

The victoryless Little Tigers threw a scare into the Little Indians as the Furry team had to rally for two runs in the last inning to make certain of the 6-3 win. The Shoemaker-coached team jumped into an early lead as Fortcamp and Ricketts scored on a home run by Sanders. The Indian's big inning was the third as three runs crossed the plate on one hit by O'Keefe and four errors by the Tiger team. Roger Bruns was the winning pitcher and Frank Raver was charged with his third loss of the season.

Crawford Hits Two As Furies Beat Arlington Bears 6-1

Glenwood's Furies Wednesday knocked off previously undefeated Arlington's Golden Bears, 6-1, as they kept their league lead and season's record unblemished.

What the All Star game was lacking, the Furies were not, as Skip Martin's pitching again bordered on major-league style. He allowed only two hits, one a first-inning triple by Angario and a seventh-inning single by Sebastian.

The Bears got their one run in the last inning on a hit batsman, a single, and an infield out.

Marty Crawford furnished the big fireworks for the Furies as he blasted two left-field home runs and drove in three of the winners' runs from his well deserved clean-up spot.

Gary Jewell also contributed heavily to the attack with two for three as did Durfee of the winners. For the winners, it was six runs on six hits as the long ball proved the deciding factor. For Martin it was his third victory as he struck out eleven over the older Arlington team.

The Furies are interested in booking games with other Junior Knothole teams. Any interested team captains should phone Sonny DeLong, CA. 4-2801.

West Park Methodist Juniors Continue Their Streak With Fourth Win

West Park Methodist Juniors continued their winning ways with their fourth straight victory of the season, this time over the Westgate EUB Juniors, 28-7. The West Parkers backed up the pitching of George Breckenridge with some lusty hitting led by Deyo. Bases on balls by the Westgate pitching led to its downfall. For Westgate, Castle and Reeves played good ball while the entire West Park team played well.

West Junior Hi-Y reversed an early season defeat by handing Glenwood Methodist a 12-6 lacing. Glenwood out-hit the Hi-Y gang, but its defenses collapsed to allow several unearned runs. Dick Furry pitched his usual steady game and was aided by some timely hitting by Link and Kontz. Collins swatted a home-run for Glenwood.

Your Neighbors Pick Variety Of 'Most Interesting News'

Do people just read their paper from force of habit, or are they actually interested in the news of the day? We think we can answer the latter part of this question in the affirmative, for the question we asked readers this week was: "What national or local news story in the past week did you find most interesting?"

Mrs. Fred Skinner, 169 Powhatan-av: "Right now I'm interested in the "doctor" and the "dentist" murders. I'm anxious to see who the real culprit is and how they solve the crime."

Mrs. James S. Wallace, 384 Clarendon-av "I read everything. Nothing strikes me as particularly outstanding."

Nancy Farley, 164 S. Harris-av. "We have been following the Guatemalan situation fairly close. After all it's very near to home. Just in South America and that isn't very far away anymore."

Mrs. Gerald R. Thomas, 313 S. Algonquin-av. I think the most interesting thing I've read was about the awful storm we had. Those high winds were terrible and the damage they caused was very accurately and interestingly told."

Robert G. Earl, 151 Elden-av. The thing that interests me most is the Geneva conference. Dulles went to France but not to the conference. He sent his under secretary, Smith. Perhaps Dulles should have gone but I think Smith can take care of things."

Hilltop Area Lashed By Storm; Pumping Station Halted Two-Hour Period

The Hilltop area felt the teeth of a storm which nearly reached hurricane proportions Wednesday night, July 14, knocking down limbs and felling trees in addition to playing havoc with local utilities.

Streetlights were blacked out in several places while a temporary pump at W. Broad-st and the west edge of the Columbus State Hospital grounds was struck by lightning at 10 p.m. and put out of commission for sometime.

Paul Laux, superintendent of water, disclosed that an electricity failure stopped the Hague-av pumping station at Fisher-rd four times during the storm for a total stoppage of two hours. Because of this stoppage, the Westgate tank failed by 20 feet to be refilled during the night.

During the latter stages of the storm, this locality was hit by hailstones which one source described as being "as big as marbles."

The sheriff's office reported that the storm also plunged nearly Millards into total darkness.

Letters To The Editor

June 30, 1954

Dear Mr. Gordon,

We are happy that for the last two weeks you have been sending us our Hilltop Record and we missed it in the intervening weeks since we left Columbus in May. Thank you for helping to keep up with the news of our many Hilltop friends whom we sorely miss.

We need a little help in the matter of a lost article and hope you and the Record can come to our aid.

Our son, Tony, just before we left Columbus, lost a valuable Lindy star sapphire ring which we had given him a year ago for his graduation present. It has his name (C. A. Minor) and the date (6-10-53) engraved inside and is smooth yellow gold. He may have lost it at West High, DeMolay Hall, Hoge Memorial Church or any place in between. Who can tell?

If you think a classified ad would do any good at this late date I would be happy to pay for it and will trust your judgment as to its wording. We will also pay a reward and ask no questions. Since we have no Hilltop address would it be an inconvenience to have a possible finder contact your office?

You are doing a good job on the paper and I hope you are enjoying your work. People tell me we had the best publicity ever for West's Band Variety Show.

Sincerely,
Barbara C. Minor
(Mrs. C. A. Minor)

Mail — From a minister: "Parents who are contemplating divorce should know a little girl who lives across the street from us. She is an adorable child but a most unhappy and lonely one. If parents could see this pathetic little kid and hear her crying in the night for her daddy ('who went away because he doesn't love us any more') they would give a little more; take a little more, and love their children a little more. It is a terrible thing to have a child tell you she is not loved" . . . From Columbus: "You tied into the minister who preached a revival sermon instead of a funeral sermon that should have comforted. I suppose ministers are human too and maybe their livers act up sometimes too. I am sorry for the little girl though" . . . From Portland, Ore.: "Saw Murray Lockhart on tv at last. He announces on the Nite Owl (KPTV). He is a good announcer but what I like about him is that he talks long enough at one time so a gal has a chance to raid the icebox without missing anything. Don't come to the great northwest in June. It rains. July and August are better and we don't have very hot weather for many days at a time; some years, not at all." (Here we are sweltering in Ohio — but Ohio is ours and we love it.)

From somewhere—in these good new days the average housewife, by pushing buttons and flipping switches in her home, commands 65 hp a day to work for her. That is the equivalent of the muscle work of 1,430 men or that many servants, not counting her husband . . . Suspenders are the best source of social security . . . It's easy to control your temper when the other fellow outweighs you . . . Looking back, it seems like a vacation is a period when you give up good dollars for bad quarters . . . Any time you feel indispensable, take a walk through the cemetery and read the tombstones. Those guys were pretty important too . . . When they used to talk about that green stuff, they meant money. Now they mean chlorophyl . . . The man who gives in when he is wrong is wise but the one who gives in when he is right is married . . . A man may fail several times, but he isn't a failure until he starts saying somebody pushed him . . . A young lady received this letter: "Dearest, I find I cannot live without you. Breaking off our engagement was a terrible mistake. Please forgive me and take me back. I need you so much. Yours forever, Rudolph. P.S.—By the way, congratulations on winning the sweepstakes."

More mail—From my favorite shutin, who is bed-fast: "Things I'd like to do—see 'Gone With The Wind' again; take a walk in the rain; race a little boy or girl up a hill; take a child to the Zoo; hear a symphony orchestra—not canned; follow a path; go wading in a brook; stand on the top of a mountain; scrub a floor; do an ironing; dance; go on a picnic; fly a kite and walk down High Street" . . . From Columbus: "Is it hot enough for you? I said it and I'm glad."

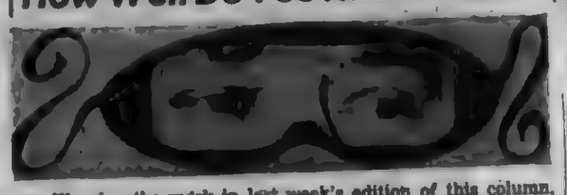
A mother heard her small boy's prayer. After he had asked God to bless all his relatives he added: "And please, Lord, put the vitamins in pie and cake instead of spinach and stuff I don't like."

IT'S AN ILL WIND?

The "big" storm produced some good for Mr. and Mrs. William Sands of 459 N. Eureka-av. A box elder tree in their front yard toppled over and blocked the street. There was no damage to the yard or to the neighbor's porch only a few feet away. The Sands are going to have the tree cut into cord wood which they will burn in their fireplace next winter.

Damages May Hit Figure of $75,000

Damages which may possibly run as high as $75,000 were incurred shortly before 7 p. m. Wednesday, July 14, when a two-alarm blaze raged through offices and the parts department of the Weaver Trailer and Body Co., 1365 W. Mound-st.



S. W. Karl, 900 S. Hague-av, owner of the firm, told Sheriff's Deputy Don R. Gruber that the loss on the building and its contents may run as high as $40,000, with another $35,000 worth of damage on parts stored in the burned-out area.

Franklin Township Fire Chief James Moffitt sent three pieces of equipment to the blaze, which was concentrated in the company's sales offices, the parts departments and its counter area. However, he called for aid from Columbus minutes later.

The cause of the fire was not immediately ascertained, but Chief Moffitt indicated the fire was hottest in a small wall area behind a refrigerator in the company's lunchroom.

Theee Eyes —

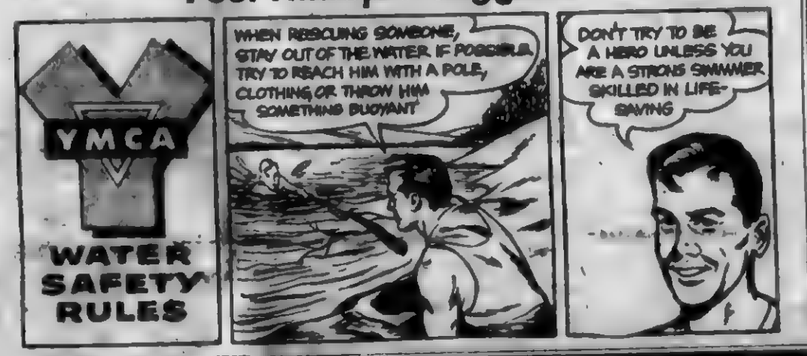
How Well Do You Know Them?

Wearing the mask in last week's edition of this column, in case you didn't guess, was R. E. Parrish, 331 S. Brinker-av, who was named president of the Camp Chase Civic Association on Feb. 18 of this year.

R. E. Parrish

His intense interest in the welfare of the community qualifies him for honorary Hilltop citizenship, even though he has lived at the Brinker-av address for the past four years or so.

Parrish is manager of the Columbus office of the Monumental Life Insurance, Co. A native of the city, he was transferred to other parts by the firm in 1933. Parrish and his wife own their home and have a daughter, Sally, 11, who is a pupil at Westgate School, and a son, Max, who lives at 445 Chatham-rd. Our "exposed mystery man" is a member of the Lions in Carroll, O., Elks Lodge in Blue Island, Ill., Masonic Lodge in Baltimore, O., and the Westgate Methodist Church.



Today's masked man belongs to a man who belongs to just about every Masonic order you could name, has a little girl age three, has lived on the Hilltop since 1943, and manages to get a lot of variety into his life.

If you fail on this one, you'll bite your tongue in frustration when you learn his identity next week.

SPEAKING OF EMBARRASSING MOMENTS: One of our scouts told us of a horrified mother who found her just-past-toddler-age daughter trying out a for-sale potty chair the other day in the basement of Big Bear.

AN "AIRY" NOTE: Just learned that Frank Palmer, owner of a used car lot on the Hilltop, has more than 5500 hours logged in twin and single engine aircraft. He was a light plane instructor at the Sullivant Avenue Airport for quite some time.

Hilltop Jewelers Start Diamond Hunt

Unique Contest Marks Beginning Of The Ninth Anniversary Of Firm

Lou Klass, owner of Hilltop Jewelers, 2421 W. Broad-st, announced this week that he will award six diamonds free, with no obligation, to persons who enter his special Bean Dinner Diamond Contest.

The six diamonds, both imitation and real ones, will be in a glass bowl at the Hilltop Jewelers section in the Hilltop Bean Dinner tent. Anyone wishing to do so may take a pair of tweezers and pick out one which is in the bowl. If it turns out that they have picked one of the six diamonds, Hilltop Jewelers will set it in a 14-carat gold mounting free of charge.

Thousands of imitation stones are in the bowl just to make the contest interesting. Each of the six diamonds is worth $100, according to Mr. Klass, exclusive of the beautiful gold setting. The contest is part of Hilltop jeweler's celebration of the firm's ninth anniversary on the Hilltop.

41st Annual County Fair Preparations Starting At Hilliards Fairgrounds

When the current night racing meet hows out of the local scene this Saturday night, the Franklin County Fair Grounds will not settle down to a period of quiet—at least not for a month.

In preparation for the 41st annual county fair at Hilliards, to be held almost as soon as the raceway is vacated by the racing association, crews will move in to clean up, dress up, and otherwise ready grounds and buildings, erect tents, and similarly engage upon a hectic period of preparation.

Beginning Wednesday, Aug. 18, the fair will continue through Saturday, Aug. 21. Thirteen departments are listed in the 1954 premium list just off the press and now being distributed.

Harold Hart, Hilliards-Rome-rd, is president of the Franklin County Agricultural Society and A. A. Griffith, with offices at 518 E. Broad-st, Columbus, is secretary.

NO LONGER A 'WESTING' HOUSE

Workers in all departments of the Westinghouse Appliance plant on Phillips-rd were back at work Monday, July 19. Workers at the plant were laid off three times last week at which time management charged workers with a "deliberate slowdown."

In a statement made July 19, E. L. Smith, works manager for the plant, said "normal co-operation and effort was evident this morning." Contract negotiations between the company and Local 745 of the International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO) were to resume that afternoon.

Beauty and style are evidenced in every line of this attractive, bungalow-type, one-floor plan nestled among cool green shrubs on a broad, trim lawn at 138 Powhatan-av. The residents and owners are Mr. and Mrs. Lou Saunders.

Home of the Week

A wide, wide view is afforded by the picture window in the living room which also blows a flood of light to brighten the cool green walls and carpet and highlights the colorfully upholstered furniture.

This corner of Mrs. Saunders' kitchen mirrors the bright and neat appearance of the entire room. The many cabinets and broad expanse of counter space make it the answer to every homemaker's prayer.

Lasting beauty and comfort are mutely expressed in every detail of the furnishings and decor of this lovely bedroom. The gaily-flowered drapes at the corner casement windows add a touch of colorful summer gardens to the dainty rose and white room.

Goal of Built-in Comfort Achieved by Saunders

By Grace Durflinger

Mr. and Mrs. Lou E. Saunders, 138 Powhatan-av, have graciously permitted the presentation of their stone and white frame home for the inspection and admiration of Record readers this week.

Comfort has been the Saunders' main goal in their home since they built it four years ago. Guests will find, I'm sure, that this goal has certainly been achieved, for each of the five rooms mirrors the unaffected hospitality of the Saunders themselves.

The broad outer entrance-way, paneled in white-painted random-width pine, seems to welcome guests to the long, low one-floor plan even before the host and hostess open the door.

The first thing generally observed by guests is the lovely Shangri-la pattern which graces the walls of the entry-way. The wispy figures of oriental birds and trees are printed in shades of green, gray, white, and burgundy on a soft gray background. The self-wainscoating is of this same gray.

Blond-finished birch enhances the woodwork throughout the house. The same type of birch, backed by glass, makes attractive shelves which partly partition the entry-way from the living room and tastefully display books, pottery, and figurines.

The combined living room and dining room is inviting with walls of cool green and a carpet of shaded green flowers. Twin fireside chairs, upholstered in a soft rose beige and cushioned in a large flower and leaf design in hues of brown, green, beige, and gray, are arranged before the gleaming white marble fireplace, which is surrounded by attractive birch woodwork.

A comfortable overstuffed sofa, which is upholstered in a flower design of soft hues, occupies the space before the long picture window. The window affords a broad view across the trim, green front lawn as well as a great deal of light and ventilation because of its awning like sections.

The uniquely-designed end tables flanking the sofa are of the shimmering dark mahogany, which is predominant throughout the room. Red and gold occasional chairs and white nylon drapes, featuring a gold metallic design, are a pleasing accent to this attractive and comfortable room.

Glass paneled sliding doors offer full visibility from the living room of the year-round sun porch which is paneled in stained random ping. A stone fireplace with a light brick grating occupies one corner of the porch, floored in red quarry tile. Rattan furniture is cushioned with a bright tropical pattern of green, chartreuse, and melon on an ivory background.

The bright and roomy kitchen is separated from the entry way by a sliding door. Here, as in every other room in the house, are marble-silled windows and light switches which are operated by the touch-plate system. Walls are painted in ivory, a color which is repeated as the background for the linoleum, streaked with red and blue and trimmed by a bright blue border. Cupboards of citron and French blue occupy an end and a side of the kitchen as do the counters, boasting formica tops of a brick-red, linen-weave pattern. An automatic garbage disposal and an exhaust fan help make cooking a pleasanter task. A glass-topped blond maple breakfast set occupies the dinette space, completing this lovely kitchen which might well be the envy of many homemakers.

Across the living room, still another sliding door can be rolled back to reveal a short hallway leading to the bedrooms and bath. Also in evidence here is a spacious four-foot linen closet.

The rose and white master bedroom boasts two corner casement windows, flooding the room with light and fresh air. A blond mahogany bedroom suite is tastefully set upon the rose carpet, which is charmingly complemented by the rose and white fiber pattern of the wallpaper. Cotton sail-cloth drapes, in a bright flowered design, hang in a soft line from the windows. A comfortable and attractive accent to the room is the boudoir chair and ottoman, which can be converted into a chaise lounge. They are upholstered in rose and white-flowered satin brocade.

Across the hall from the master bedroom is the dainty peach and blue bathroom. The combined bath and shower is completely walled on all three sides by light blue tile reaching to a point about halfway up the wall all around the room. It is topped by smooth peach walls which almost approach a pink and the tile is trimmed at the base and top by a strip of tile in a brighter shade of blue. A narrow peach and blue strip in a tiny diamond design runs entirely around the tile walls accenting the dainty effect. A convenient, blond birch dressing table, which is built into one corner of the room, has a formica top and a three-paneled mirror.

The background of the second bedroom, which is furnished in old-fashioned curly maple, is made up of a rose carpet and wallpaper featuring shaded green stripes. This soothing decor is brightened a bit by cotton sail-cloth drapes in a flowered pattern of rose, green, and beige on an ivory background. A dainty boudoir rocker is covered in the same material. Both bedrooms feature spacious clothes closets with sliding birch doors and convenient, built-in cupboards above them.

Comfort, indeed, was the keyword the Saunders had in mind when they built this lovely home. Here, they are able to live, relax, and entertain friends, many of whom are fellow-members of the many organizations to which they belong.

This view of the Saunders' living room offers a glimpse of the bright and inviting sun porch, separated from the room by glass-paneled sliding doors.

The bright, tropical atmosphere of the comfortable sun porch is heightened by the flood of sun and air from the screened awning-type windows which occupy the entire outer wall.

Safety Should Be Kept In Mind When Decorating Baby's Room

Decorating a baby's room should go hand in hand with safety measures that will prevent accidents and sustain mother's peace of mind.

All nursery furniture should have rounded edges and a non-toxic finish (required by law in some states). To prevent baby from putting his head between crib slats, make certain slats are not more than three and one-quarter inches apart.

Additional suggestions come from "Baby Care Manual," quarterly publication for new mothers:

A playpen bought when a child reaches the active and playful age of three months should be sturdy enough to withstand the rompings of an older baby. Select a pen with casters, if possible, so it can be moved out of drafts. Keep a soft washable pad on the bottom of the pen until the baby is old enough to stand or sit most of the time.

Remember that every toy will eventually find its way to baby's mouth. Junior's first toys should be chewable, but not small enough to be swallowed. Make certain all playthings are washable, non-toxic in their finishes, without sharp edges or detachable parts.

'Bicycle Garage' Solves Vexing Home Problem

Are bicycles, tricycles and other wheeled items a problem around the house? The home economics department of a midwestern college has the solution—a "bicycle garage" for storing such equipment. The "garage" may be a lean-to added to the back porch or regular garage or an independent structure.

How To Avoid Smudge From Finishing Nails

Wire finishing nails often make a carpenter's fingers dirty when he is nailing trim. The smudges are transferred to the trim and take time to sand off. One way to prevent this is to put a handful of sawdust with the nails in the pocket of the carpenter's apron. The sawdust keeps the nails and fingers clean.

Regular Inspection Lessens Expense

The wise home owner gives his home a regular inspection and watches out for the little imperfections that will occur in masonry and framework and other materials about his building. A regular inspection will locate the possible damage that may occur and become expensive later on. Roofs, sheet metal, masonry, woodwork, screens, windows, are all parts of the outside of the house that should be gone over thoroughly at least once each year.

ns New Process Halves e Construction Time

T 8 A. M.: Here's the way a Columbus home site looked on the day the new Lu-Re-Co system of building was tried. Only the basement and first floor framing was in place workmen arrived.

AND EIGHT HOURS LATER: By 5 p. m. the house was up ready for inside finishing. A carpenter crew of six erected re-constructed wall panels and window and door frames. Frame parts and trusses were assembled at a local lumber company and hauled to the site.

method which is reported to the construction time for homes and which, according developer, the Small Homes il of the University of Illi- passes mass production econ- to home buyers," is now in cal use in many American unities under the trade name e Lu-Re-Co building system. nber firms licensed to use the ss will manufacture exterior and wall panels under assem- ne methods and deliver the ssembled house parts to pre- ly-prepared foundations. By g advantage of the daily ne forecast it will be possible nish the exterior of homes in or two days, depending upon ire, according to developers of ystem.

cording to the Small Homes ncil, a wide choice of home designs are offered. Pre-assembled solid panels and door and window panels are modular in size—four feet wide and eight feet high and will fit together interchangeably. They may be used as "building blocks," offering a choice of window styles and exterior and interior finishing materials, but still affording the advantage of factory-built house savings, the designers claim.

The council declares that lumber firms using the system conform with local codes, but are able to price panels cheaper than would be possible if parts were assembled at the plant of a distant manufacturer and trucked at high cost to local sites.

The Capital Lumber Company, 341 E. Fifth-st, is the first Columbus firm to secure the Lu-Re-Co system.

Eighth Summer Concert Is Scheduled For Sunday, July 25, at Schiller Park

The eighth band concert of the summer series will be played Sunday evening, July 25, at Schiller Park, starting at 8 p.m. These concerts have been sponsored by the city of Columbus through its recreation department and the Columbus Federation of Musicians through a grant from the Music Performance Trust of the recording and film industries.

Guest conductor for the evening will be Sam Giammarco, veteran musician and conductor of bands. He will have for his soloist, Gino Ventresca, who will play the famous trumpet solo, "Sounds from the Hudson," by Herbert Clarke. Also on the program, he will have Frank Pardi in a concerto for clarinet. The program is based largely on the Italian writings but is well provided with modern and lighter numbers.

There will be two more concerts, one on Aug. 1 and the final appearance of the band on Aug. 8, both of which will be played at Schiller Park.

The program will include: March, "The Flag", by Orsamonde; overture, "La Forza del Destino," by Verdi; novelty, "Rhapsody in Rhumba," by Bennett; Trantala, "Forsetta," by Arditi; Gavotte, "Intermezzo," by Delucs; trumpet solo, "Sound from the Hudson," by Clarke, played by Gino Ventresca.

Intermission will be followed by an Oriental march, "Marcia Orientale," by Orlando; selection from Rimsky Korsokov, by Korsokov; concerto for clarinet by Bellini-Cavallini, played by Frank Pardi; "Capricho Caracteristico-Morisami," by Espinosa; grand selection, "Echoes from the Metropolitan," by Tobani; and "Star Spangled Banner."

PUTTING ONE OVER

Jones lay awake in bed as the burglar quietly filled his bag with valuables. Having exhausted the resources of the one room, the burglar moved into the next but left his gun on the bureau.

Jumping out of bed, Jones seized the gun, extracted the bullets and carefully replaced the weapon.

"There!" he exclaimed. "I guess that will teach him not to be so absent-minded the next time he comes."

FOLLOWING FORMULA

"Children," said the teacher, "bear in mind that the affix 'stan' indicates the 'place of.' Thus: 'Afghanistan'—the place of Afghans.' 'Hindustan'—the place of Hindus.' Now can anyone give me another example?"

"Yes teacher," replied little Clarence, "Umbrellastan!"—"the place of umbrellas'."

PLATTENED TREES were in evidence in many places on the Hilltop last Thursday morning as the community began "digging out" from the effects of the combination lightning-thunder-hail and near-hurricane-wind storm which lashed the entire county last Wednesday evening. One of the most prominent trees which fell victim to the storm on the Hilltop was the one to the left of the main entryway to West High School, shown above. (Hilltop Record Photo)

THE DIFFERENCE

YOUR YOUTH

By Dick Wilson and Bob Schmidt

It certainly is swell to see the Hilltop YMCA Little 9 Baseball players enjoying a Red Sox game through the courtesy of the club management. Last Monday was the third time that our boys have been guests of the club and they have been invited to attend several more times before the close of the season. All of you Little 9 ball players want to watch this column and your monthly program schedules for the announcements of the dates.

The Little 9 All Stars have compiled quite an impressive record this year. They have now won nine games, while losing only to Chillicothe. A new team was selected to represent the league as there were several boys who have made nice showings in the league since the last All Star try-outs.

The Summer Fun Club is really working up steam as the guys and gals alike are all out to earn their 50 points for the Summer Fun Club emblem and to win the grand prize for the member with the most points.

In closing this week's column, we want to remind all of you that the Hilltop YMCA will once again be active at the Hilltop Business Association's Bean Dinner. The Y staff will be working on the games and contests as well as showing free movies to the hundreds of youth who like to watch cartoons and shorts while sitting under the stars.

Hilltop Little 9 All Stars Go On Road For 2 Games

The Hilltop YMCA Little 9 All Stars had road events last weekend before playing the Chillicothe All Stars on Saturday night at Yoctangee Park in Chillicothe and the Lancaster Eagle Gazette Team on Sunday afternoon in Rising Park at Lancaster, O. Dick Wilson of the local Y staff accompanied the y ths.

The Y team, under the guidance of Wayne Engle, was clobbered 17-3 by the Chillicothe aggregation, with Sue Ross Countians collecting 17 hits off the offerings of Mike Engle and Don Barnes. The Hilltoppers got four hits and two runs from three Chillicothe hurlers.

The Engle-coached nine bounced back Sunday to wallop the Lancaster team 10-4. Terry Linson was the winning pitcher. He hurled the entire game and gave up only six hits, which were well scattered. The big bats of the Y teams chased three Lancaster pitchers to the showers. Bill Ingle led this eve-lanche of hits, collecting a walk, two doubles, and two home runs in five trips to the plate.

The road trip gave the Hilltop YMCA All Stars a season record of seven wins and one loss. Any team desiring an exhibition game can secure one by calling Wayne Engle at RA. 9602 or Dick Wilson at JO. 6948.

Sunshine Beats Glenwood Rocetts By 20-12 Tally

Sunshine defeated the Rocetts, Glenwood Recreation Center's junior girls' softball team, 20-12, Friday, July 16, at Sunshine Recreation Center.

Donna Berlo and Dolores Hilliott scored three runs on three hits, while Karen Six scored three runs on an error and two walks. Jackie Patterson, Barbara Fraker and Marilyn Wolfe scored one run each for the Rocetts.

Pitcher Mary Ann Seime led the Sunshine scoring spree with four runs, while Bev Bickertt, Karen Leasure and Joy Lynn Pratt crossed the plate three times each. Mar Jones and Saundra Nulisi scored twice each, and Sandy Brace, Joanne Devereaux and Charlene Baker each scored one run.

Sunshine got off to a 10-4 lead the first inning. The Rocetts outran their opponents 4-1, shortening the latter's lead to 11-8. In the third, Sunshine brought in five runs to Glenwood's two, raising the score to 16-10. The fourth and final inning saw Sunshine scoring four more runs to Glenwood's two; Sunshine winning 20-12.

Glenwood Seniors Drop 10-8 Thriller

Glenwood Recreation Center's senior boys softball team of Sunshine's night league lost a 10-8 thriller to Sullivant Gardens Friday, July 16, in a game that lasted until after midnight. The losers had the winning runs on base in the last inning, but Nickles grounded out to end the threat.

Sullivant Gardens bounced off to a quick 4-1 lead, but Glenwood rallied to make it 7-4, only to have Sullivant Gardens pick away and finally, with a three-run sixth, go ahead for keeps. It was a free-hitting slugfest with Roeder pacing the winners with three for four and Al Nichols driving in four runs for the losers.

HILLTOP BRANCH LIBRARY

New Books On Shelves Satisfy Readers' Yen For Travel To Far-Distant Places

By Mildred Phster

Calling all armchair travelers: "Around the World in 1,000 Pictures," assures you an entertaining evening as you journey from Bermuda to Europe, Asia to the South Pacific, covering the world in excellent photographs. You will find this intriguing new book at the Hilltop Branch Library along with others which will satisfy that travel yen. "Over a Bamboo Fence" by Margery Finn Brown, is still interesting after two years, as an American Woman's interpretation of Japan. Just as revealing is another story, "Persian Adventure" by Anne Sinclair Mehdevi, an American newspaperwoman married to a Persian. The trip back to Iran with her husband is as warm and sympathetic a presentation of these people as is Mrs. Brown's story of Japan.

In a more serious vein are two books published in 1954 by two well-known Americans—William O. Douglas, associate justice of the Supreme Court, has written "North from Malaya," a journey from the Malayan Jungles through the Philippines to Berma, Formosa, and Korea. The purpose of the book is to study the various people who inhabit the areas, their conditions of life, the Gods they worship, the huts they occupy, the work they do, their hopes, ambitions, and social characteristics. A profitable study for the armchair traveler, it is scarcely a travel book, rather it is an important book which should be intensely interesting for its interpretation of the vitally important area covered in the Douglas book as well as India and other Asiatic countries, is "Ambassador's Report" by Chester Bowles Employing perceptive human approach, Bowles offers a different kind of diplomatic report to his countrymen. He traveled alone, visiting thousands of villages, talking to people in all walks of life, and thus acquiring first-hand knowledge of Asian problems. Of utmost importance was his help in establishing economic and technical assistance programs of NATO. Indeed an important instructive book!

Rocket readers are zooming along in the Reading Club. Eighty children have read enough books to receive their reading certificates. Others are working hard. The reading club ends Aug. 14. Certificates will be awarded Aug. 18.

County Fair Treasurer To Address Kiwanis Club

West Franklin County Kiwanis Club members will meet and greet Carl R. Griffiths, treasurer of the Franklin County fair board, this evening at the Colony in their regular weekly meeting. Griffiths will talk on the new voting machines at the fair and their operation. He will also familiarize the members with instructions on handling their part in the admittance gates and parking at the fair, August 18-19-20-21. Members are urged to have in mind the nights that they will be available to work at the fair.

Local Wheat Growers Get Quota Referendum Ballots This Friday

Local wheat producers may vote Friday, July 23, from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m., in the 1955 crop wheat referendum ordered by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Wheat farmers of Norwich, Brown and Prairie Townships will vote in Group 2 at the Hilliards Fire Station, Hilliards; those of Franklin Township will vote in Group 3 at the Township House, Grove City.

Any wheat producer who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1955 is eligible to vote in the referendum.

Producers will have the choice of complying with the allotments and being eligible for price supports, or exceeding their allotments and foregoing price support privileges.

A spokesman for the Franklin County ASC Committee stressed that farmers must have wheat cards in order to sell their 1955 wheat crop. If a producer does not know his wheat allotment he should register his farm at the Franklin County ASC office so that he may receive an allotment.

Prior to Mrs. MacFarlands return to her parents home, 1070 Wilson-rd. she was visited for a month by her sister Becky Lynn, Wilson-rd. Both sisters made the return trip together.

Spending a Sunday afternoon visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Campbell, 1030 Wilson-rd, were Mr. and Mrs. George Nutt of Alwood Terrace . . . Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Riffe, 3681 Plainview-dr, along with their children left on Friday evening to visit relatives in Kentucky. The Riffe family returned home on Sunday.

A day of bathing and enjoying the beautiful scenery was spent by Mrs. Mina Polus and daughter Evelyn, Dover-rd, who motored to Lake Hope one day last week . . . Mrs. Effie Baker, Plainview-dr, and Mrs. Myrna Riser, Dover-rd, spent a day last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Pritchard, James-rd.

Returning home after a two-week visit in Colorado were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayslip, 3577 Plainview-dr. Although the weather reports over the past two weeks indicated that it has been very hot in Colorado, Mrs. Hayslip states that during there stay in Austin, Col. the temperature was very moderate.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Cherry Fields, who for a few days last week was confined to bed with some vertabra out of place. During the time she was confined to bed she stayed at her mother's, Mrs. Kate Campbell, 1030 Wilson-rd.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Cain, 3419 Dover-rd, for the death of their three-month-old son, Donald Louis. Donald is survived by two brothers, Edward and Johnny and two sisters, Kay and Jeanette. Burial was held in Union Cemetery.

May Be Your Own Life You Save

While last year's home accident toll was 1,000 less than the year before, the traffic toll went up 1 per cent to reach 38,300 — biggest in the national history except for 1937 and 1941. Let's keep those figures low this year.

Still Land Of Opportunity

Of 1,000 successful businessmen interviewed, 200 started life as farmers' sons, 200 sold or carried newspapers, 200 started as messenger boys, 100 as printers' apprentices, 100 in factories, and 30 in railroad jobs.

BEAN DINNER highlights vary, of course, according to the age of the spectators and participants. To some kids, for instance, the big moment occurred on opening day, Tuesday, when the doll buggy parade (above) took place at 1:30 p. m., kicking off two days of fun and contests especially for kids. For others, the most interesting spot was the exhibits tent, where the most progressive members of the community proudly displayed their new wares and techniques. For the small fry at the right, the most interesting exhibit was the monkey cage of the city recreation department. One of the busiest places in all the tents was the information desk, shown below at right in one of the quieter moments. "Professional worriers" staffing the desk at the moment the lens snapped are, left to right, Mrs. Evelyn Jones, Welcom Wagon supervisor; Jack Merriman of Sullier's Department Store; and C. H. "Doc" Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, sponsor of the annual event. (Additional Hilltop Record Photos of the Bean Dinner on Page 7).

Shopping Center In Westgate Manor To Open In 60 Days

The new Westgate Manor shopping center, adjacent to Sullivant-av and part of the Westgate Manor project, incorporating some 50 acres, will have its grand opening in approximately 60 days, according to Roy G. Allen, general manager of the Vernon C. Neal Corp., contractors for the project. The new center will accommodate about 1,000 cars.

Opening of the Westgate Manor apartments will follow about eight months later. Allen estimated that 500 apartments had been completed and that an additional 500 would go into construction on Aug. 2. The entire project of one, two, and three-bedroom apartments commenced approximately 18 months ago.

BIG YARD READY

West Side's 36-Inch Main To Start Pumping By Saturday, Laux Reveals

The new 36-inch water main will be supplying water to the Hilltop and West Side by July 31, it was announced this week by Supt. of Water Paul C. Laux.

Although the main was originally contracted to be completed by July 31, Laux made a statement a few months ago indicating that he expected the main to be completed by June. However, complications in getting materials for the unusually large concrete pipe job arose so the main will not be ready for use before the date set forth in the contract.

The new main, which will join at Phillippi-rd and Broad-st with existing 30-inch and 12-inch mains leading from a storage tank in Westgate Park, will carry up to 15 million gallons of water into this area each day from the pumping station across the Scioto River.

The new main, of concrete and steel reinforcements with a steel shell in the center, was started just after the first of this year. Together with the almost-completed booster station at Hague and Fisher-rd, which will commence operations simultaneously with the new main, it will cost nearly $1,000,000.

Laux also stated that although the department had no immediate or outstanding plans for further construction, in its planned program for the next several years it has planned such construction as will be undertaken on a large enough scale to accommodate our rapidly growing city.

Spears Funeral Home Dedicates New Chapel On Sunday, Aug. 1

NEW, enlarged Spears Funeral Home at 2693 W. Broad-st.

On Aug. 1, 1928, Jerry Spears, Sr. opened a funeral home at 2693 W. Broad-st in a large brick building which was formerly the Harris family residence.

Although many Hilltoppers will miss the well remembered pillars on the front of the old building, the new front is beautiful and an asset to the community.

As has been their policy, Spears' are in step with the times. A lot of research has been done to provide the folks in this community with every possible consideration for their peace of mind during the time of need.

On Aug. 1, 1954, at 4 p. m., both Jerry Spears will dedicate this new building.

Five-Vehicle Crash On Hilltop Sends Two Young Sisters To The Hospital

W. Broad-st and Whitethorne-av was the scene last Wednesday of an accident involving five vehicles and the possible injury of two young sisters who were riding with their father in the first of four cars to be struck by a semi-trailer truck.

The girls were Deborah, four, and Antoinette, six months, daughters of Clifford Voss, 23, of 370 S. Weyant-av. The girls were taken for checkups at Mt. Carmel Hospital by police ambulance cruisermen.

11TH DEBUT SUCCESSFUL

Weatherman Cooperates In Making Bean Dinner Among Best On Record

BEAN DINNER QUEEN Sally Thimmes is congratulated by Ella Marie Lichterman of Washington, D. C., who was 1939 Bean Dinner Queen. Miss Thimmes, a native Hilltopper, was crowned by Mayor Sensenbrenner at 7 p. m. Tuesday. (Hilltop Record Photo)

Many Come From Other Cities In Addition To Local Residents

With the weather almost as hot as the beans, Hilltoppers and Central Ohioans flocked to the 11th Annual Hilltop Bean Dinner at Westgate Park Tuesday and Wednesday.

Some walked, some were carried, some rode in baby buggies, and even one watched from her bed in the family station wagon.

"I just enjoy seeing the people," said cheerful Mrs. Ethel Ginley of [illegible] Wedgewood-dr. She is suffering from multiple sclerosis and is paralyzed from the waist down. Her carriage was the family station wagon which had been converted into an ambulance-like vehicle and enabled Mrs. Ginley to see her first Bean Dinner. Her husband, J. R. Ginley, is employed by Westinghouse.

Plenty of entertainment and food kept the youngsters busy and Hilltop merchants supplied numerous gifts and souvenirs. The annual affair drew people from all parts of the city and from other cities.

A 75-year old Chicago real estate man, E. R. Jewett, who left the Hilltop in 1913, made his annual pilgrimage to the Bean Dinner.

"I've been back for the Bean Dinner every year, but I nearly missed it this year on account of my health," stated Jewett. His daughter, Mahala Jewett, lives at 2377 W. Broad-st.

Everyone liked the beans burnished Tuesday so much that all supplies were exhausted early in the evening.

Taking a last minute look at the Hilltop and the Bean Dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Barr of 734 S. Eureka-av. The Barrs leave this week for a trip to Florida and New Orleans.

Hilltopper Named Sponsor Of Lockbourne Sports Car Races

C. H. "Doc" Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, will be sponsor of the 10th Reconnaissance Squadron for the second annual national Sports Car [illegible] to be held at Lockbourne Air Force Base on Aug. 8.

Paul Jones of General Motors Ternstedt Division, and Edward L. Smith of Westinghouse are among members of the steering committee for the event, while members of the general committee include Bob Pumphrey of Westinghouse Electric, Mrs. Jerry Spears of [illegible] W. Broad-st, and H. E. "Bud" Slade of the Shell Oil Co.

This is the second consecutive year for the Lockbourne races which were met with so much enthusiasm and approval last year. They will again be sponsored by the SCCA and the Lockbourne Air Force Base airman's living improvement fund.

The first sponsor, the Sports Car Club of America, is a non-profit organization consisting of more than 4,000 members who race their sleek machines for the sheer fun the competition offers. Each member of the SCCA pays his own expenses.

Columbus sports car racing enthusiasts who encountered last year's traffic jam along the highways leading to Lockbourne's Sports Car event, are assured that this hardship will not be repeated —a greatly improved plan for handling auto traffic within the base area will siphon it off the highways faster than it can build up, according to Major Richard J. Haney, Base Provost Marshal.

This year's National Sports Car Races at Lockbourne will last from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Spectators are cordially invited to attend church services in the base chapel during the noon intermission.

An advanced general admission ticket, selling for $1, or a reserved bleacher seat for $2, may be obtained at all Shell and Pure Oil gas stations, at Beverlee Drive-In, Johnson Restaurants, Neil House, Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Motor Mart, Columbus Sports Car Salesroom, and many other points throughout Columbus. During race day, Aug. 8, tickets will sell for $1.50 at the general admission gates.

FOR MR FIX-IT!

Mr. Fix-It cuts red tape to the bone. If you are unhappy over a traffic condition, a stepped up sewer, zoning, or any of a thousand and one services offered by local government, write Mr. Fix-It. He'll talk the situation over with the proper official and present his findings. The name applies to constructive suggestions for improving conditions. Mr. Fix-It will open your recommendations on to the right department and see if they are practicable. Address future letters of this nature to Mr. Fix-It in care of this newspaper.

Dear Editor:

I'm burned up. Burned up at the city, at freight trains, and at honking motorists.

It happened again to me yesterday and I'm so hot under the collar that I thought writing to you might produce a little action and let some of the steam out.

I live on the Hilltop, my business is on the West Side, and my wife works downtown. To avoid getting tied up at the stoplight at Sandusky and Broad and to avoid stopping a dozen times by going straight down Broad, we like to cut over to McKinley-av, then go north on Granview-av, then cut over east to my wife's office, which is on the northern edge of what you call the 'owntown area. Besides usually being faster, this way is actually shorter by at least a mile.

Here's the joker, though. Twice in the past week I've found myself jammed up on McKinley-av behind a long string of honking and cussing drivers who are waiting pretty impatiently for traffic to unsnarl itself from left and right-hand-turning cars east and westbound on McKinley-av and through vehicles east and west on McKinley-av and left and right-turning autos coming south off Grandview.

I used to join the horn honkers when a train tied up traffic just north of McKinley on Grandview, but I found out that you can pretty much figure out the schedule of when trains are going to mess up the situation. What I can't figure though, is when some fender-scraping accident (and they happen here by the dozens) is going to tie things up and need.

My wife and I realize that making the tracks or the road elevated on Grandview would be a long and expensive process, but that's only about one-third of the problem anyway. Besides, the route would have to be closed, maybe for months, while the work was in progress.

We think the real problem is the need for a stoplight at the intersection. We know it's probably impossible to get one unless you've got the right pull, but we know a lot of people who would go along with us on the need. Maybe your paper can help.

RSK

Mr. Fix-It Says: "I talked first with Service Director Floyd C. Redick, who informed me that he, too, has suffered nerve-wracking delays at this intersection. He told me that I was on the wrong track, however, at his office in asking about stoplights. He referred me to Safety Director George O. Doyle."

"Doyle, chief of the public safety department, told me his hands were tied until his office received a letter of complaint. 'We can't do a thing until we have the complaint down in black and white, whether it is in the form of a petition or a letter from a citizen.' Once he gets such a letter, he said, he'll turn it over to traffic engineers who will study the situation and make the proper recommendations for remedial action."

Accent To Be On High School Bands At 41st County Fair

Visitors to the Franklin County Fair at Hilliards next month may feel some nostalgic pangs reminiscent of earlier years as they hear the martial strains of band music.

The accent will be on high school bands, says Harold Hart, president of the Franklin County Agricultural Society, under whose leadership the 41st annual county fair is being patterned and tailored into shape.

On opening day, Wednesday, Aug. 18, the band from Upper Arlington will be featured, with Hamilton Township's band holding the spotlight on Thursday and Hilliards' own high school band taking over on Friday. On Saturday, all high school bands of the county are eligible to compete in a contest.

Each band that appears will be awarded a trophy and the bands providing music throughout the day will each receive $60, Hart said.

Saturday of Fair Week will be Youth Day, with a grand parade featuring the high school bands, junior fair exhibitors and others. The parade will be held in the afternoon of the closing day.

It is not news that high school bands produce excellent music and it used to be a common feature of county fairs everywhere that band music was presented for listening pleasure of the crowds. It is the plan this year that the bands will roam the grounds with their instruments and every so often give forth with melody to lighten the spirit and quicken the pulse. There is nothing like a good band to set the just-right atmosphere for pleasuring and Franklin County, this year, plans to provide a tuneful background.

PRINCIPAL PRAISES HILLTOPPERS

Irvin Young, departing principal of West Junior and Senior High, gave a short talk of gratitude to the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at noon last Thursday for the many things the club has done for West under his tenure.

In speaking of his regret in leaving the community, he cited the fine faculty at West, the high character of its boys and girls, the good community itself, and last, his reluctance to leave all the new improvements at West. Young will become the city's first coordinator of teacher personnel.

New West High Principal Robert F. Darrow received the assurance of the Kiwanis Club at the same meeting that he "will get the same support we gave Irv."

Free Shooting Exhibition Set For Saturday, Aug. 7 At Police Pistol Range

Local citizens will have an opportunity to see one of the most startling exhibitions of firearms marksmanship since the days of Annie Oakley on Saturday, Aug. 7 at the Columbus Police Pistol Range, 2600 McKinley-av, it was announced yesterday by Sgt. John Grimm, officer in charge of the range.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Beegle, world-renowned marksmen will present their informative and thrilling exhibition of skill with firearms, under the auspices of the Remington Arms Co., Inc., at 3 p. m. There will be no charge. Everyone is invited.

Among the features of the program will be presentation of a new line of rifles and shotguns, shooting with revolver upside down, profile drawing with bullets, smashing of tossed clay targets, sighting with a mirror and smashing aerial targets with rifle and shotgun.

The McKinley-av range is one of the most modern in the nation. It is for the use of all law enforcement officers in the county, sportsmen members, and members of the armed services, Sgt. Grimm pointed out. Automatic targets feature the latest innovations for developing skill.

Central Point Merchants Present Children's Fun, Entertainmnt Devices

Merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center are going all out for children's entertainment. They have brought to the popular W. Mound-st and Harrisburg-pk Shopping Center, something new in children's rides — "The Turnpike" — a winding track on which the children ride in minature automobiles.

It's the nation's newest kiddie ride and was introduced last winter at Burdine's Department Store at Miami, Fla. The ride is being operated at Central Point before it's introduction at the Ohio State Fair.

This week Central Point is also showing Jan Brothers Circus, a miniature Big Top contained in a huge trailer parked alongside the Kresge Store. This Lilliputian exhibit also attracts hobbyists who create scale models, since it is constructed to scale, even down to the smallest tent peg.

Central Point has another attraction for children next Thursday night. Billy Watkins and his Major Dog Family will give two performances at the shopping center, at 7 p. m., in front of Krogers, and again at 8:30 in front of Albers.

Mayor Discloses Okay On New Well Drilling; Population Figures Rise

By Louise Pohlmann
FR. 8-4186

Mayor Patterson said that the board of public affairs had authorized drilling the new water well subject to approval of village council and added that since Council had previously acted to begin the work, such formal approval undoubtedly would be forthcoming at the regular meeting on Monday, July 26.

In discussing further the need for waterworks expansion, the mayor noted that the village's probable population at this date is crowding 1,000, whereas the 1950 census reported 610 persons living in the corporation. Since 1950, more than 50 residential permits have been issued for the erection of new homes, with an equal number expected in the near future.

Louise Pohlmann

This mushroomlike growth in population points up needs for improvement of village services [illegible] perative is the new sewage disposal plant, surveys for which have been started.

The spreading out in all directions from the original corporation limits of the town calls for additional street lighting, and policing and cannot help increasing demands upon all departments of municipal administration, Patterson said.

Mayor Edward Patterson was still confined to his home with the knee injury sustained while helping remove debris from the storm of July 14.

Workmen were still engaged in clearing away the effects of the second violent wind, rain, hail and lightning storm to hit Hilliards within seven days, this week. The same report of the July 14 visitation could be repeated with greater elaboration of individual and community damage and inconvenience. More utility poles were downed, greater property damage incurred and the interruption of normal living more highly accented.

Most harvesting of wheat south and east of Hilliards has been completed with scattered fields of oats only partly combined. North and west of the town, considerable more wheat remained to be harvested with consequent financial losses to farmers because of shattered grain felled to the ground and depreciation in quality from too much moisture. Unharvested grain was reported to be sprouting in the heads, in several places.

Word was received here on Friday evening of the death in a Montgomery, W. Va., hospital, of the mother of Basil Ridenour, 88 E. Main-st. Mrs. Ridenour had been in ill health for a long time. West Hill Church Is Setting For Hoffman-Sands Nuptials

MR. AND MRS. JAMES FINLEY SANDS

West Hill Church of Christ was the setting for the June 5 wedding uniting Miss Kay Joan Hoffman and Mr. James Finley Sands. Rev. M. E. Gordon solemnized the 7:30 p.m. rites. Mock orange blossoms, peonies, palms and lighted tapers in seven-branch candelabra decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman, 178 S. Warren-av, and Mr. Sands is the son of Mrs. Dessie Sands, 342 S. Warren-av.

The bridal gown was made with a Queen Ann collar and a very full skirt. A band of lilies of the valley held her short veil and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Dessa Sands, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Miss Marilyn Borton served as bridesmaid. Their gowns of aqua silk were worn with matching hats and they carried pink carnations.

Karen Schackert, Beth Hoffman and Mary Harvey, cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore yellow organdy over taffeta with pink carnation corsages. Sue Pendergrass, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore aqua nylon and carried a colonial bouquet.

Mr. Charles Sands was his brother's best man. Seating the wedding guests were Mr. Jerry Hoffman, brother of the bride, and Mr. James Delamore.

Hostesses at the reception held at the church were Miss Doris Friend, Miss Janet Hickman, Miss Sarah Slater and Mrs. Carolyn Dean.

The bride's mother chose a gown of [illegible] lace with navy blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother, rose lace with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

MASTERING THE ART OF LIVING

By Rev. A. J. Weld
Pastor of Hoge Memorial Church

"In the world ye have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." John 16:33

Rev. Weld

These are strange words with which to enlist workers in an enterprise, or to enroll members in an organization. Jesus did not say, "If you follow me you will be exempt from all sorrow, suffering and trouble." He promised no Utopia, no escape from the common hazards of life. As young people we start out with rosy dreams and hopeful resolves that none of the troubles afflicting other people will ever come nigh our dwelling. But gradually we awaken to the realization that we live in a world full of changes that in one way or another touch our lives. We too must live, like all before us, our days between birth and death. We must walk the same road that men have always walked—sometimes smooth, sometimes rugged; sometimes easy sledding, sometimes pulling heavy loads up hill.

When trouble strikes, like a thief in the night, many people become panicky and confused. They were not prepared within for the emergency. Their home defenses were down. They had neglected to stock the spiritual cupboard for the frosty days and nights that invariably come to all alike. They had no inner reserve with which to meet the emergency.

Other people reply with words hot with anger, "Why should this happen to me? What have I done to deserve this?" The first impulse is to rebel, to strike back, to meet blow with blow. Many have done that only to get hurt more deeply. To quarrel with life is futile. To accuse God of injustice only leaves the door open to the chilling winds of bitterness and added frustration.

But many people have discovered, though life is hard, it is not impossible. Life can be managed. Instead of stumbling over trouble and hardship, they may become stepping stones to great and victorious living. This is implied in the words of Jesus, "I have overcome the world." It is not what life does to us that really counts; it is the way we react to it that determines the outcome. We may accept defeat at its hands, or we may, by the help of God and faith in His providential guidance, turn the dusty road into a highway of creative living. Some permit trouble to accumulate into heaps of rubble; others turn hardship into building stones from which come lives of strength and character.

Paul's formulae for life's mastery in the Letter to the Romans gives the clue: "What shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us. For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

No person is defeated until he accepts defeat within himself.

The GRIM REAPER

Do you believe in God, the church, heaven, hell? Are you ready to die? If God should say, "this day thy soul shall be required of thee," how would it be with you? Great preparation must be made if the harvest is abundant. Are YOUR treasures stored in heaven or in your barn? When the GRIM REAPER comes to AVENGE, will you be ready? Or are you one who scoffs the church, derides God, and laughs at death? If so the unspeakable bottomless pit awaits you. The GRIM REAPER will not come to AVENGE, but rather to REVENGE. There may be time yet — COME TO CHURCH.

Adventist Church Plans Education Service On Sunday

Building for good citizens through Christian education will be the theme of the worship service at the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist church at 11 a. m. Saturday, Rev. Richard T. Minnesinger announced. The program is scheduled for all Seventh-day Adventist churches throughout the country in recognition of Christian Education Day.

Christian education is an essential enterprise of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, and the church conducts its own system of schools from elementary to graduate level.

The local Seventh-day Adventist church has maintained a church grade school for over 50 years at Union and Ryan av. For those graduating from the elementary school, the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists maintains an Academy at Mt. Vernon. Graduates from high school or the academy in this conference usually continue their education at Washington Missionary College in Washington, D. C.

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareaus are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALton 6-5355, 6701 W. Broad Street.

"It's a pretty nice thing," said Edwin Hoff of 1504 W. Broad-st. The Hoffs moved here from Marietta and this was their first Bean Dinner.

In addition to the 1954 Bean Dinner Queen, Miss Sally Thimmes, girls competing for the honor were Stefanie Wright, Nancy Lee Geyer, Betty Ellingsworth, Shirley Boldt, Marilyn Kight, Bobbie Armentrout, Patti Gibson, Diane Hilf, Kay Tracey, Carol Temple, and Barbara Heaney.

The winners in various contests were:

Winners of the older youngster's sack races were: girls — Rose Kines and Linda Martin; boys — Kenny Kleinhenz and Roger Staten; Peanut roll — Jim Donnally and Dave Ellis; Balloon Breaking Contest for girls 11-12 — Julie Martin and Linda Donnally.

Winners of the 50-yard dash for boys were Russ Stephens and Harry Staten while Judy Holcomb and Sharon Younkin won the girls 25-yard dash. The sack race was won by George Tittle and Larry Hibbs. Rachel Bowman and Kay Wells took first place in the 25 yard skipping race for girls.

The adult ladies shoe kick prizes were taken by Erlene Burley and Jennie Johnston. Clem Walicki and John Courtright won the paper sack bursting contest for adult men.

As the annual bean dinner was drawing to a close later Wednesday evening, C. H. (Doc) Campbell reported, "It couldn't have been better."

WHOLE TRUTH

The personnel manager was interviewing a young lady for a bookkeeping position. "You understand, of course, young lady," the manager affirmed, "that we are looking for a responsible person to fill this position."

"Oh, I'm responsible," the young woman replied eagerly. "On my last job, every time there was something they called a descrepancy, they always said I was responsible."

LAST SCOOP: Bill Justus, 255 Myrtle-av, employee of George J. Igel & Co., Inc., pushed the last load of fill dirt into place in the first operation of the construction of a four-acre girls' gym field for West High students. The field, which will be located just back of the Big Bear Store, adjoining the school, is expected to be ready for use by Sept. 15, according to Architect Edward Kramer. (Hilltop Record Photo)

Job Of Emptying City's Garbage Cans, Cleaning Streets An Unglamorous One

By Charles W. Barrell
83 N. Burgess-av

EDITOR'S NOTE: With the coming of warmer weather, the problem of garbage and sanitation becomes more of a vital health issue. The following is an extract from a speech delivered on several occasions to various groups by Charles W. Barrell, clerk of the Columbus division of street cleaning, garbage and refuse collection and disposal. It deals with not a very pretty subject, with one that should be of interest to all of us, not only for its wealth of information but for the humorous manner in which it is told. We believe that if you will pay attention to the author's advice, you will help your community to become a better place in which to live.

I represent the Division of Street Cleaning, Garbage and Refuse Collection and Disposal.

Unlike the police and fire departments, which you all hope you will never have any dealings with, or other city divisions which you contact maybe once or twice a year, this division is dealing with you daily, in the front of your home, in the allays, and over the streets you travel. All in all it is a thankless job, and criticism for a job not done, is about all the publicity we ever receive.

Many of the questions asked us by students of civic government seem to deal with personnel, rather than the mechanical side of our activities. Our questioners usually start off by asking why more pressure is not brought to bear on the public who make the refuse to cooperate with us. That's rather a hard question to answer.

I am afraid that a great many people right here in Columbus would permit garbage and refuse to build up to the level of their windows unless compelled by laws to do otherwise.

The next question usually contains the query, how about the men who actually do the work on our streets and in our alleys.

Well, YOU get up some morning, it's steaming hot, you go to an air-conditioned office for the day, but these days do not stop our garbage men, the public demands regular service, regardless of weather conditions.

These men must also tolerate abuse, cuts from broken glass, scratches from old wire fences, and nails through their shoes, caused by stepping on old crates thrown out by careless people. Dog bites, jagged containers, garbage cans with bottoms out, and numerous other aggravations try the patience.

There are various methods of disposal such as the reduction method—fermenting, distilling, removal of grease and finally winding up with commercial fertilizer. At one time Columbus used this method. The feeding method, consists of cooking and feeding directly to hogs. The land-fill method—burying both garbage and rubbish together—claims the most economy. Columbus favors the incineration method, but we also have a land-fill project in the course of development, burying rubbish only.

Franklin County uses the land-fill method, almost exclusively, handling both garbage and rubbish. The refuse is dumped into a trench, then packed down very close and tight with a heavy bulldozer, then covered with the dirt which had been removed. Incineration is used generally in our larger cities, as sufficient rubbish, or burnables are collected to consume the garbage.

Some day I believe that we will have to conserve everything that will replenish the soil in the form of mulch. This will include all garbage, which we now destroy. Civilization depending upon six inches of top soil, the constant increase in population, the erosion of soil, and poor farming methods, will eventually compel us to do this.

Because of our present method of disposal in Columbus we encourage the wrapping of garbage for the purpose of assisting in burning together with other burnable refuse. Wrapping not only is more sanitary from your point of view, but lengthens the life of your container. All garbage and burnable material is handled mechanically after being dumped into the storage pit from the trucks.

This division from its inception has depended upon appropriations by city council from the general fund for its operation. Never in its history has any money been earmarked from taxes for this particular work, except the year 1944 when a direct garbage tax was imposed.

Our street cleaning division at present is operated on the basis of direct taxation, collected from assessments on main thoroughfares and downtown streets, together with a portion of the gasoline tax. Other non-assessed streets are cleaned when schedules are completed or when funds are available. Each year we clean more than 18,000 curb-miles of streets using mechanical sweepers, flushers and hand patrol.

In past winters we have usually hauled about 7000 loads of snow and dirt from our streets. In other years our consumption of rock salt and calcium chloride, together with sand and cinders, was only a token, compared with big snow of the winter of 1950-1951.

In 1934 street cleaning assignments were removed from all residential streets which took away from this department about two-thirds of its revenue. Since that time working schedules have been altered at various times to conform to the funds available for labor and outlay for new equipment. This schedule for cleaning is made up annually, however, it necessitates support from the general fund on occasion.

At present we are using five mechanical sweepers and five flushers day and night during non-freezing weather, four to six street crews during the day and about the same number at night, including the market cleaning crews. We have four white-wings continuously on High-st during the day from Livingston-av to Union Station.

More than 7000 dead animals are removed from the streets with one pickup truck traveling about 10,000 miles to do the job. The animals are mostly dogs, but quite a few cats and once included 20 turkeys after a wreck. Also removed have been rabbits, squirrels, a monkey, a bear, several possums, coons, skunks, two goats and 100 chickens at one time, and a truckload of fish.

During the past two years, we have collected approximately 30,000 tons of garbage, averaging 219 pounds per person, and meaning about six million collections by us per year. The total loads per year run about 20,000.

For collection purposes, the city is divided into 27 zones or districts. One truck is assigned to each district. This schedule was set up about 10 years ago. The amount of refuse and garbage collected by each truck is fairly equitable and so arranged that each crew can cover its entire route in five days during ordinary months.

Our peak loads are months of July, August and September, when fresh fruits, vegetables and wet garbage increase the tonnage and also complicate the disposal.

Each truck in each territory averages about 15 loads per week or one time over, with a driver and two ground men. The shortest route is 61 miles, the longest 231, with the general average being 154 miles per route for the five days, or one time over.

Under the new work schedule of 40 hours per week and paid holidays, we forgot to put the public on 40 hours as is evidenced by the fact that more garbage is made on Saturday and Sunday than any other days.

Rubbish, such as ashes, cans, etc., are collected once each month, excepting during snow and hard freezing weather when most crews are assigned to snow and ice control and removal. Rubbish could be handled in just half the time with half the effort if everyone would conform to the ordinance governing this phase.

You would be surprised to know how ineffective can be the most conscientious effort on the part of a crew to find that after they have gone through an alley and cleaned up everything in sight to find maybe a dozen complaints phoned into the office from just one square, complaining of misses. This can be accounted for by the rubbish being put out after the crew had gone through.

We are at present experiencing some difficulty in finding suitable dumping ground within reasonable driving time of various sections of the city. It would be fine if everyone kept their cans, bottles, and cakes separated from all burnables which we could use to help dispose of garbage, leaving all non-burnables for the dump. If this were done, there would be no dump fires, no complaints of people living in the neighborhood of the dumps.

Now here is where you can help: The Columbus general code defines rubbish as all household waste matter such as paper, straw, excelsior, rags, bottles, wearing apparel, corn husks and cobs, tin cans, food containers, grass trimmings, etc. This does not include waste materials accumulated in construction remodeling or repairing of buildings. This must be taken care of by the builder himself.

The code provides that all rubbish be placed in a suitable container, to be water-tight, capacity not to exceed 50 gallons, and not of sufficient weight that cannot be moved by one man. Receptacle shall be placed within suitable location, readily accessable to collectors, or 25 feet of dwelling.

Further, the code requires that ashes and other rubbish shall be separated from garbage, other bulky articles must be broken up and bundled. Receptacle to be kept within the lot line or a place convenient for collection.

Not to difficult to conform to the above rules, do you think?

"Hey, what happened to the vice president in charge of lemonade?"

"The surest way to have happiness and peace of mind is to give them to somebody else."

MAKE THE ROAD BY DRIVING IN THE PROPER LANE . . . . and keep your car in safe driving condition at all times!

Now, every field is clothed with grass, and every tree with leaves; now the woods put forth their blossoms, and the year assumes its gay attire.—Virgil.

Glenwood Center Crafters Take Part In Citywide 1954 Lantern Festival

More than 20 youngsters with their lanterns paraded around the streets near Glenwood Recreation Center Wednesday night, July 21, in a preview of the citywide Lantern Festival.

The lanterns, all built around a circus theme, were made in craft classes during the last week. Included were all kinds of animals in cages, plus the side show, fat lady, snake charmer, nailsitter, two merry-go-rounds, and a "big Top" which, when lit up showed acrobats, tight-rope walkers, and specialists.

The lanterns were also part of the citywide parade at Central High School Thursday, July 22. Those who participated in the citywide parade included Jimmy Cremeans, Cynthia Echols, Danny Echols, Barbara Fraker, Linda Humphrey, Sharon Humphrey, Robert Justice, Janet Metz, Freddy Mick, Suellen Mick, Jackie Patterson, Carol Scheiblich, Robert Scheiblich, John Wheeler, and Ruth Ann Wheeler.

Gimp belts, lanyards, bracelets, and key chains are being made by boys and girls this week. Jay Hess and Orville Scott were first to complete gimp belts.

Puppet-making classes are being held every Thursday at 1 p. m.

'Week Of Storms' Brings $800 Damage To Pool

The Hilltop Swimming Pool suffered damages amounting to approximately $800 from the severe storms within the past week, according to Manager Bob Case.

Lashing torrents of rain and high winds damaged motors and pumps at the pool and flooded the bathhouse with about two feet of water, which involved a great deal of time and labor in sweeping out the water and chemically cleaning the interior of the concrete building.

The pool was closed for two days following the last storm for necessary repairs and draining. Doors were re-opened on Friday, July 23.

DAV STATE CONVENTION

The largest state convention registration in the history of the Disabled American Veterans is expected to be recorded in Columbus, July 30, 31 and Aug. 1, for the organization's 33rd Ohio convention, W. B. Peeples, commander of the Capital City Chapter No. 2, has predicted. He said the local chapter will be represented at the convention sessions. With the Ohio D.A.V. reaching a new all-time high state membership, and leading all states for the 17th consecutive year, the record registration will be easily reached, he said.

With A Camera At The Bean Dinner

JUDGES had their hands full at such events as the doll parade. The kids were so cute. And besides, the mothers were standing right there watching. But everyone agreed that (left to right) Judges Bob Schmidt, Al Stephens, and Jack Imler did a fine job on making decisions.

BIDS FOR GOLF COURSE

Among items the city has asked for bids on for the new Raymond Memorial Golf Course are a flagpole, special grass seed, various fertilizers, and weed killers. The course holds promise of being among the finest municipal ones in the Midwest.

BAD LUCK BEANS?

A minor streak of "bad luck" seemed to plague the 14th annual Hilltop Bean Dinner. Opening day mishaps included summoning of the fire department to quench smoldering power wires, a blown-out master fuse and collapse of a spectator at the evening show.

THAT HELD HIM

A politician was interrupted by a man in the crowd who repeatedly shouted "Liar!"

After about the twentieth repetition, the speaker paused and eyed the tormenter.

"If the man who persists in interrupting," he said "will be good enough to tell us his name instead of merely shouting out his profession, I'm sure we shall all be pleased to make his acquaintance."

How much folly there is in human affairs!—Persius.

GEE! That was just about all those youngsters could say as former Hilltopper Carroll Grandstaff, amusement company ride man who now lives in Canterburg, O., describes his life with the "carny." Lots of comment on honesty of honest-to-goodness skill games in the concessions was heard.

A brass band once visited a small village, and the people were delighted with it, but they could not make out the trombone, so they sent old Cyrus to investigate.

THOUGHT FOR A BUSINESSMAN

There was once a true story of a little old man who lived up in the mountains with very little source of income and poor living circumstances.

As the story goes the old gentleman was an enterprising man and he scraped enough ingredients together to make a few hamburgers, hot dogs and snacks. He set up a little stand on the roadside and practically flagged down tourists to get them to buy his wares.

He put up a lot of road signs, and in his uneducated manner advertised in everyway possible.

His business thrived and grew to fairly great proportions. At least he saved up enough to send his son to college to prepare him to carry on the thriving business.

The son came home from college prepared to take over the business and in a very discouraging manner said "Dad there is no use carrying on, there's no business. Business is in a bad depression."

So the father, believing his son, didn't bother to put up any more signs, dropped all of his advertising and business fell down to nothing.

When the father reached the bottom, because he believed his son, he said "That's right son, There is no business.

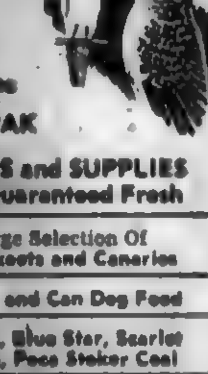
IMPROVEMENTS



"You said," exclaimed the irate caller, "that I had resigned from the town council and intended retiring from business into private life."

"But," protested the editor, "all that is quite true—"

"Quite. But you printed the information under 'Public Improvements'."

Alexander Wiley, U.S. Senator from Wisconsin: "We are ready now as we have always been to cooperate on behalf of world peace."

Two Of Five Hilltoppers Quizzed Decry French Cease-Fire 'Deal'

The recent cease-fire in Indo-China has stirred up no little talk among the peoples of the world. Hilltoppers joined in the discussion this week by answering this question: "Do you think the Indo-China cease-fire is a betrayal of American interests?"

Judy Gilbert, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gilbert, 684 Binns-blvd: "The cease-fire was about the only thing they could do. We're just wasting time and lives over there."

Mrs. Arthur C. Bess, 510 S. Harris-av: "I think they could have prevented the Reds from gaining so much territory in the treaty. I really haven't followed it too closely in the news but now that I think about it, it looks like they are gaining more and more ground and getting closer and closer to us all the time."

Mrs. Max M. Allard, 486 S. Ogden-av: "In one way yes and one way no. It might end war but it might also start war. It's hard to say."

Delbert Truman, 1720 Promenade: "I haven't given it much thought, but I don't think it's to our best interests. This communist bloc is growing too large and too rapidly."

Mrs. Robert W. Doss, 426 Columbian-av: "I haven't read too much about it but I guess I'll be more interested in it in the future."

YOUR HILLTOP BRANCH LIBRARY

Featured This Week Are Several Good Books On Photography And Cameras

"Successful Photography", by Andreas Feininger is a new and timely book now available at the Hilltop Branch Library, 2968 W. Broad-st. With subjects galore at your fingertips, the new techniques in taking pictures are especially valuable.

Other books in this field also on the library shelves are "New Guide to Better Photography," by Berenice Abbott. This is a revised edition of an earlier book which has been very important in developing better standards in the amateur field. "Fun With Your Camera," by Jacob Deschin, has practical chats on amateur camera activity. And by the same author, "Say It With Your Camera" is a distinctive approach to creative photography. "New Lighting Techniques In Photography" is small but compact and very important, since lighting is the key to good photography.

In the specialized field is "Rollie Photography", a handbook for those who own Rolliflex and Rolliecord cameras. "Three Dimensional Photography," by Herbert C. McKay, is an interesting book on new developments of an old art.

The Hilltop Branch Library receives new books every week on a wide variety of subjects. If there is nothing available at the branch library, there will most certainly be something at Main Library which will satisfy your requirements.

Library Story Hour is proving successful this summer. "Story Tellers" have been delighting the youngsters as is evident from the fact that every Wednesday morning brings a hundred or more children to hear the stories. Mrs. Clayton Stickel and Maxine Barnes were present the last two weeks. On Aug. 4 Wilma Borland will tell the stories. Bess Sperry will be the story teller for the last of the series on Aug. 11. Aug. 18 is reserved for "Rocket Readers", who will receive their reading certificates on this date.

Summer library hours are daily from 9 o'clock until 8:30; Saturday from 9 until 9.

THE LONG WALK

I saw the hours walking
As I walked down the lane,
And resting on the mountain
A cloud that carried rain.

Beside the winding river
Where tangled grasses lean
I watched the growing shadow
Advance upon the green.

The sky was blue in patches,
The coming cloud was gray;
The hours went on walking
Until Time walked away.

Mail — From a Hilltopper: "The new buildings on West Broad are certainly improving the looks of our Hilltop. Too bad that drivers can't look at them—the traffic being what it is." . . . From a West Side News reader: "You had no right to criticize the minister who said the man was not a good man because he didn't go to church. Nobody is good who doesn't go to church." (Anonymous writers do not often change opinions, but thanks anyway) . . . From a relative: "Our boys and the Russian soldiers worked together during the flood in Europe. Why can't the Russian-Powers-That-Be take a lesson?" (Perhaps the answer to that is in John Fischer's book, "Why They Behave Like Russians?") . . . From Columbus: "I counted the shopping days till Christmas. If you really want to know how many there are, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope." . . . From Lancaster: "We have lived here for the past 25 years but had never gone to Old Man's Cave. Ohioans who have not seen it are missing a wonderful sight. But don't try that long walk in high heels!"

Life is wonderful. About the time you start feeling very sorry for you, something happens that shames you and makes you realize there are so many people who really have troubles. Then everything is fine again and you decide you'll try to live at least another ten years. A few days ago, the rains came (in) and ruined drapes and a rug and the new wall paint that was hardly dry. I was dismally viewing the shambles and pitying me all over the place when a lady rang the doorbell. She asked if she could sit on the porch and rest a while. She and her husband and three children—the oldest is six—were hitch-hiking with all their worldly goods carried in three suitcases. They had been promised transportation to Indianapolis but had been disappointed so were attempting it on their own.

A truck was making the rounds on the Hilltop, with this sign painted on the side: "For hire. Will haul your blode down trees" . . . "Sanday" Sanford (a friend who always makes everything fine again) told me this one: A young minister was preaching his first sermon and naturally was a bit nervous. He announced to all and sundry that he had come to cast out the sick and raise the devil . . . Each time I see another flag flying from masts in Canada there is a funny feeling. Maybe it's because Canadians are so much like Americans that I think they should be Americans, I dunno.

From somewhere—Lieutenant to Private: "Why didn't you salute me!" P. to L.: "I didn't see you, sir." L. to P.: "Good! I was afraid you were mad at me." . . . Conductor: "How old are you, little girl: Little Girl: "If you don't mind, I'd prefer to pay full fare and keep my statistics to myself."

When Grandma had callers
They sat with timid heart,
And when they sat together
They sat————this far apart.
Now when daughter's boy friend calls
He greets her with a kiss,
And when they sit together

Son to Dad: "Pop, I flunked in my test today and it's your fault." Pop to Son: "Why is it my fault?" Son: "When I asked you how much a million dollars is, you said 'A heck of a lot,' and that ain't the answer."

He's out of this world,
Is Ethelbert Flack,
The street was slick
And his driving was slack.

Wife in back seat: "George, don't drive so fast. That policeman on a motorcycle behind us can't get by."

These Eyes —
How Well Do You Know Them?

Did "the man with variety in his life" fool you? He is, of course, Jack Alkire, manager of Economy Variety.

Jack has been sort of an "in-again-out-again-Finnegan" Hilltopper since he first came to the Hilltop in 1943, went into the service, returned in 1946, and finally returned to the Hilltop in 1947.

He now resides with his lovely wife, Ann, and three-year-old daughter, Jackie, at 3038 Crescent-dr.

Jack, who was born in Mt. Sterling, gained his education there and was Eastern Export Sales Manager for the International Derrick and Equipment Co. previous to exposure to the Hilltop.

Jack Alkire

A member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Jack is active in numerous organizations. He has held all the offices except that of commander in Camp Chase Post 98, and is a member of all of the Masonic orders. He is also chairman of the board of directors for the Hilltop Business Association as well as the YMCA, and is vice-president of West County Associates, Inc.

When not completely occupied with his duties in the above organizations, Jack enjoys fishing, boating, and hunting, and occasionally retreats to his cottage at Deer Creek, to relax in that manner.

The gentleman veiled in mystery this week, is not a resident of the West Side, yet we see him every day. He is a member of Camp Chase Post 98, so you might begin looking for him there.

Air Force Seeks Young Men Interested In Flying

There is a current shortage of applicants for flying training in the air force, essentially due to the high mental and physical qualification standards of a pilot.

All high school graduates and college men are urged to check with their local air force representative who is located in Room 102, Old Post Office Building, or call CA. 1-3407.

Trivia

From THE EDITOR'S DESK

STRAWS IN THE WIND: Don't get too happy when you hear about the opening of the new 36-inch main to service the Hilltop and the West Side within the next couple of weeks or so. The same "sad-song-of-save-and-sprinkle-sparingly" will be on the city's summer "Heat Parade" until latter 1956, when new purifying facilities should become available.

Service Director Redick says the city would like to see people turning the hose on day and night AFTER the new facilities become available in two years. "After all, water is one of our prime sources of revenue," he reasoned. But until that happy day when there is more water available, the odd and even side of the street method of water pressure conservation will have to remain in force.

ALL WET DEPT. Our roaming reporter tells of basements flooded with up to two feet of water in the Brookshire Park area following last week's torrential downpour. He came in with mud on his shoes up past his ankle-bone, claimed he got it by crossing Vanderberg near S. Harris.

Old RR also suggests that pigeon-pestered persons on N. Wayne and S. Harris write in to this newspaper's "Mr. Fix-It" re the problem. Maybe the friendly red-tape-cutter could find a [illegible]. In addition to rattling all residents with their billing and cooing, these fine feathered friends are doing a lot of property damage, he says.

NEARLY FORGOT THE HEAT: The other day when I gazed into a backyard at the corner of Vidapl and S. Harris — coolest looking place I've seen in days. Yard has placid pool, complete with water ferns and all the trimmings, including a cemented sidewall. (Must make a note to get the name and address for a future picture).

As long as I'm writing notes to myself, better check up on what the two industries that are already abuilding in Lincoln Village's five-industry commercial section. Incidentally, write it down in the "future book" that the Village's shopping area has a target date of next Easter for the opening of the first stores. Entire community is supposed to be thriving, bustling, or whatever communities do, by 1960.

SPEAKING OF HIGH PRICES: Another thing that isn't worth what it costs, is telling a man what you think of him.

WARMTH FOR COOLTH: Read it somewhere this week and I'm passing it on. 'Baths and showers with lukewarm instead of breathtaking ice-cold water are not only easier to endure, but more cooling. In the middle of day, try washing your hands and forearms in cool water for several minutes, also splashing your temples and face. Just letting the cool water run over your wrists will help a lot. (I can see a lot of trouble for me, though, if I try it in our 100 per cent union back shop. The grievance will go something like this: "That so-and-so editor is taking baths in our water cooler.")

NOT QUITE NEWS: Division of Wildlife reports one method of keeping tab on the deer census is to check reports of same animals killed by autos . . . Ohio Chiropodists' Assn. press-releases that lawn mowers are not to be used by barefoot boys — or man, women, or girls either. Warning applies to all mowers, whether muscle — or motor-power driven . . . Handout from James A. Rhodes, whose letterhead proclaims him as Republican candidate for governor, lays the blame for "inexcusable delay" in distribution of $1,850,000 in new road money for township roads at the door of the state highway dept.

We're awful glad to see that our good neighbor, the Westinghouse Plant, received a citation for construction of its super-modern $45 million facility here.

REAL PHOTOGENIC: Maybe we are prejudiced, but it seems to us that all our correspondents, whose new hall columns "mug shots" are gracing columns this week are solid, substantial-looking citizens. They're real hard-working souls, too, working for the good of their respective communities, and doing a wonderful job — every one of 'em. You "tipsters" out there who have news that falls within their spheres can help a lot if you'll note their phone numbers at the tops of the columns.

Unbowed Cowboys Edge Indians In Glenwood Little League Game

The Indians gave the league leading Cowboys a rough trial to ride before going down in defeat, 11-10, in a Glenwood Recreation Center Little League game Monday, July 19.

The Indians started off with a bang after rocking Cowboy pitcher Mike Mentel for eight runs in the first three innings. The Indians collected two runs in the first and second innings and four in the third. The fine hitting of Bob Thornton and Jay Hess accounted for six of the eight runs.

In the bottom of the fourth, the Cowboys scored their first two runs of the ball game on two walks and a hit to center by Ammon, the third baseman.

The Indians added two more in the fifth, with singles by Deidrich and Thornton and a three-base clout by Tom Dowdy. This put the Indians out in front, 10-2. The Cowboys came back in the bottom of the fifth and scored eight runs to tie up the score at 10-10. The wildness on the part of Indian pitchers counted for seven of the eight runs.

In the top of the sixth, the Indians were unable to cross the plate. The Cowboys won the game in the last of the sixth after Mike Mentel walked and came home on a double by Beezler.

The Eagles lost to the Indians 9-5, Thursday, July 22. The game was a loosely played affair with a total of 12 errors in the game.

The Indians took a 2-1 first inning lead after the Eagles had committed four errors, accounting for all Indian runs. In the second, the Indians were able to load the bases, but found it difficult to score as the next three batters went down in order. The Eagles found it more difficult to get to first base as all three batters went down via the strike-out route, due to some fancy hurling by Tom Dowdy.

The Indians showed their batting power in the third as they scored seven runs on six hits, highlighted by a home run clout by Jay Hess. The Eagles tried desperately to get back in the game, scoring two runs on two hits and a pair of errors by the Indian third-sacker. The Indians were unable to score for the remaining innings, but the Eagle burst of two in the sixth fell short as the Indians won 11-9.

Hilltop YMCA Little League In Three-Way Loop Lead Tie

By Dick Wilson

The Little Indians, Little Redlegs and Little Cubs remain tied for the loop lead as they won their games last week in the Hilltop YMCA Little Nine League by winning over second division opposition.

The Don Furry-coached Indians kept in the running by defeating the Little Braves 11-2 as Roger Bruns gave up two hits, did not walk a batter and struck out 12 of the opposing team. The Indians scaped the Braves by smashing out six hits and capitalizing on 12 walks issued by Dick Williamson and Mike Engle. Williamson was charged with the loss. Bill Kuhn led the Indians' batting attack with two singles in three times at bat. Bobbie Dent collected the hits for the Braves as well as playing heads-up defensive ball.

The Little Cards scared Dick Rice's Little Redlegs in the second game of the week as they forced the Rice-coached nine to put on a last inning rally to eke out a 14-13 victory. The Cards jumped into an early lead by scoring six runs in the second inning to send Mike Cantlon, the starting Redleg hurler, to the showers. Bill Ingle relieved Cantlon and pitched good ball for the remainder of the game to receive credit for the victory. Cal English was charged with the loss. Joe Mann played good defensive ball for the victors and Billy Stimson looked good afield for the losers.

The Little Cubs served notice in their game with the Little Dodgers that they intend to stay in first place as they shut-out Larry Bigler's Little Dodgers 12-0. Bob Ross received credit for the win as he pitched his second one-hit ball game of the season. Jim Smiley collected this lone hit in the fourth inning when he singled between first and second with two batters out. Stu Randall looked good for the victors as he collected two singles in three times at bat and played very good defensively. The losing pitcher was Dave Levering.

Two records were broken in the finale of the week as the Little Yanks edged the improved Little Tigers 6-5 in the first extra-inning ball game of the year. The score was tied at 5-5 at the finish of the regular six innings. Both teams played errorless and scoreless ball in the seventh.

The Tigers went down 1-2-3 in the top of the eighth and then the Tigers got their teeth pulled in the bottom of the eighth. Jim Ricketts, the Tiger pitcher, had two players retired and two players on base when his teammate made a costly error on third base which allowed Steve Galentine to score the tie-breaking tally. Don Henne received credit for the win and Jim Ricketts was charged with the loss.

The second record broken was by Dave Morris, who started and assisted the first triple play of the year, Jan Lawrence lined to Morris, who made an unexpected catch and tabbed the base runner off second base and threw to first to catch the runner trying to scramble back.

Cubs Undisputed In First Place Y League Claims

By Dick Wilson

The Cubs, captained by Tom Reeves, gained undisputed first place last week in the Hilltop YMCA—Westgate Park Little Bigger League by edging Dick Furry's Jets 5-4.

Both teams secured six hits, but the Cubs bunched five hits in the fourth inning to push across five runs. Larry Bigler scattered the six hits he gave up and managed to stop the rallies of the Jets who scored one in the second, two in the fourth and one in the fifth.

Tom Reeves starred defensively for the Cubs, while Roger Rees looked good afield for the losers. Dick Furry was charged with the loss and Bigle gained credit for the win. Jim Topping's Hawks and the Cards, captained by Clif [illegible], battled into extra innings to see who would have the cellar position of the league.

The Hawks won the hard-fought game 7-6 as Francis Fletcher scored on singles by Jim Topping and Gary Fullerton. Dave Ewing played heads-up defensive ball for the losers while Dave Mack starred for the victorius Hawks. Mack collected two singles and a double in four times at bat and scored two runs. He also played good defensive ball at his first base position. Francis Fletcher, who relieved Jim Topping, was credited with the victory. Bill Cummings, who relieved Tom Straubaugh, was charged with the loss.

Next week the Cards will face the Jets on Diamond 1 and the Hawks meet the Cubs on 4. All games are played at Westgate Park on Friday at 1 p. m.

Hills' Brinker-av Home Is Lovely And Trim Residence

By Grace Durflinger

One of the lovely smaller homes which has graced the Hilltop for several years is located at 66 N. Brinker-av, home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd S. Hill.

The Hills' five-room, one-floor plan stands on a corner lot and was built some 14 years ago. At that time there were scarcely any other homes on the street. The tidy appearance of the white frame exterior is enhanced by evergreen trees and shrubs about the house and lawn and a trim white picket fence enclosing the back yard.

The theme in the decor of the Hills' wedgewood green and burgundy living room is a gilt-edged oil painting of the 19th century Swedish songstress, Jenny Lind, which hangs in a prominent place over the birch-mantled fireplace.

An antique spinning wheel of polished dark mahogany is one of the Hills' prized possessions, and stands before the fireplace. It was acquired from an antique dealer on a trip through the Hocking Hills in Southern Ohio.

The room is further furnished with green and rose drapes of a flowered print on a maize background. The rose over-stuffed sofa is complemented by occasional chairs upholstered in green stripes, a green print, and a cream and beige pattern. A marble-topped cherry table also has it's place on the carpet of a hooked rug design, and accentuates the feeling of early nineteenth century grace.

A pair of birch inserted shelves, flanking the archway leading to the dining room, display some of Mrs. Hills' favorite pieces in her collection of antiques. One of these is a china clock, delicately ornamented with tiny painted scenes, which was given to her by her aunt who brought it from Liverpool, England, in 1913. A green and white china tea set, displayed on the opposite set of shelves, was made over 100 years ago.

A cherry dining table occupies the center of the dining room while a built-in birch corner cupboard holds many of the antique pieces of Mrs. Hill's collection of plates and dishes. Among these are a cranberry glass mug, dated 1806, a compte vase, and a crystal cracker bowl which was saved from the 1913 flood by Mrs. Hill's mother.

Birch cupboards line the cream walls of the roomy kitchen and dinette. Corner shelves over the sink display various designs of antique three-legged dishes. The kitchen is floored in marble linoleum with maroon and black trim. The room is completed with gay green-checked curtains.

The master bedroom has the soft and delicate air of a nineteenth century springtime. The pale green walls are complemented by hunter green rugs and gayly-flowered drapes on a cool green background. Dainty yellow rosebuds amid twining green leaves are reproduced on the white background of the spread which covers the dark cherry bed of the period bedroom suite. A delicate flowered hurricane lamp completes this lovely room.

The Hills are members of Columbia Hts. Methodist Church, New Rome. Mrs. Hill belongs to the Lorraine Chapter of the Eastern Star and on the job she carries the imposing title of Suburban Supervisor of Christmas Seal Sales of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society. Her husband is a member of Westgate Masonic Lodge.

This exterior view of the Hill home exemplifies the frimaless dwelling. The evergreen trees and shrubs are natives of northern Michigan. of lawn and shrubbery surrounding the five-room bungalow-type

The hooked rug design of the carpeting in the living room and dining room emphasizes the period atmosphere that Mrs. Hill has created with her antique pieces.

Illustrating two different periods of early Americana is the oil painting over the fireplace of Jenny Lind, the Swedish songstress whose fame swept the country, and a genuine antique spinning wheel, dating to a later period.

Metal Drip Edge Protects The Roof

When applying asphalt shingles to a new deck or over an old roof, a metal drip edge and a "flashing strip" of mineral-surfaced roll roofing at least 36 inches wide should be applied along the eaves.

The purpose is to protect the roof deck and interior walls and ceilings from damage in the event the roof drainage system becomes clogged because of ice forming in eaves troughs. The flashing strip, extending 36 inches up the roof, prevents back-up slush and snow from penetrating the roof deck.

First to be applied is the metal drip edge, made of corrosion-resistant 26-gauge sheet metal. Galvanized steel, painted on both sides, generally is used. The drip edge, two to four inches wide, should be bent down over the edges of the roof deck sheathing.

Then the flashing strip of heavy asphalt roll roofing is placed along the eaves in such a manner that it will overhang the metal drip edge by one-fourth to three-eighths of an inch.

WINDOW CORD CARE

Window cords will last longer and raising and lowering of the windows will be easier if cords are dusted twice a year and rubbed with an oil-saturated cloth.

Home of the Week

The trim white picket fence enclosing the back yard completes the neat, well-kept appearance of the house and yard. A small rose garden (not shown) adds a great deal of beauty and charm to the rear of the white frame house.

What Home-Repair Kit Should Contain

A suggested sample kit for home repairs includes:

Small cans of paint, varnish, enamel and shellac, selected for matching purposes. Turpentine. A 3-inch paint brush. A 1-inch paint brush for small work. Caulking compound. Patching plaster. Furnace cement. Portland cement. Plastic wood. Glue or other suitable adhesive. Shellac or stick form for filling small cracks. Putty. Putty knife. Razor blades and holder. Sandpapers—"0" and "00." Steel wool. Wall cleaner. Metal polish. Art gum. Screwdrivers, large and small. Hammer and wrench.

Many more items can be added, but those listed will be outstandingly useful.

How To Get Longer Life From Carpet In Stairs

Important to remember when stair carpet is laid, is to have extra padding under the carpet around the nose of each step. Have a few spare inches of carpet at the top or bottom. When steps begin to look worn, pull the worn carpet up or down so the worn part moves to the riser and the steps look newly carpeted.

TV Is Bringing Living Room Rearrangement

Television is spreading so rapidly that from a decorating standpoint every homemaker should be prepared for it.

If there is already a television set in the home or a possibility of acquiring one in the near future, any new furniture for the living room should be selected with this in mind. Sectional pieces and small pull-up occasional chairs are good for this purpose. The new stools that can be nested are excellent ideas.

Whether or not extra pieces of furniture are required, the living room does not have to be turned inside out to make space for a television set. Often a little rearrangement is all that is needed. This should be planned so that the sofa and chairs are placed within a 60-degree arc and not closer than eight to ten times the height of the television screen.

Soft light is essential in a room enjoying television. Venetian blinds on the windows will control outdoor light and cove lighting is best for artificial light.

The new television sets are available in size, style and finish to fit into any decor. Tied in with the architecture of the room, they become inconspicuous when turned off. For example: A large set can be nicely fitted into a niche in a bookcase, wall, or a bookshelf can amply accommodate a table model.

Aerator Faucets Halt Splashing

Splashing is eliminated and suds are created faster when faucets are equipped with an aerator, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. This device mixes air with the water to create a soft, foamy effect which increases cleansing qualities. The unit can be taken apart easily whenever cleaning is necessary.

Roomy birch cupboards line the walls above the counter-top in Mrs. Hill's neat kitchen. Old-fashioned three-legged dishes are displayed on the corner shelves above the white enamel sink.

VARNISH HINT

If you plan to varnish over a wood surface, use No. ½ sandpaper at the start and finish with No. 0. For turned surfaces, such as table legs, chair legs and spindles, steel wool is best.

NEW RUBBER PAINTS

The new synthetic rubber paints are both odorless and easy to apply. Besides being washable, many of them have the same colors available in both flat and semi-gloss finishes.

SUBMITS LOW BID

The Concrete Construction Co., 856 McKinley-av, has submitted the lowest bid for street improvement on Bernadette-av from Richardson to Regina-av; and on Wilson-av from Frebis to Columbus' south corporation line.

Service Director Floyd C. Redick disclosed that no bids were offered on improving St. Patrick-rd from Regina to Warren-av; and Warren-av from Regina to St. Joseph-av. Those projects are expected to be re-advertised later.

PLANNING NOW WILL MAKE YOUR VACATION HAPPY!

Now is the time to be thinking of a few items to be included in your plans for a safe and pleasant motoring vacation, says Russell E. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club.

Heading the list should be a good first-aid kit, ready for immediate service in the event of an accident. Another item of valuable equipment is a dependable flashlight, including fresh batteries and a spare light bulb—for use when trouble strikes after dark. A small fire extinguisher may prove the difference between a little bit of trouble and a major tragedy on the summer trip.

And before you start, check your brakes, tires, windshield wipers, and all lighting equipment. Don't take your automobile for granted—remember it has to be serviced if you want it to give good service to you.

Leave your worries behind—forget the impulse to speed but do take along your common sense and your good judgment. The vacation will be a pleasant one if you do!

"The man who's always looking down his nose usually gets the wrong slant!"

The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.—Solomon's Song 2:12.

NOTHING AT ALL

Don McNeill has a dentist friend who told him: "Making bridges is nothing compared with getting the patients to come across."—The Gosport USNAS, Pensacola.

Ease leads to habit, as success ease,

Springtime is Zing time! These beautiful days certainly make you feel full of get-up and go, don't they, boys and girls? Well, zip and run and have your fun—but don't be reckless on stairways, street corners or other dangerous places. Boys and girls, ever hear about the boy who accepted a playmate's dare and climbed way up a telephone pole? Well, that boy fell off and landed in the hospital. West Park Methodist Juniors Wallop Glenwood Methodist By 26-9 Tally

West Park Methodist Juniors continued their victory streak with a 29-6 walloping of the Glenwood Methodist team. A 17-run seventh inning turned a fairly good game into a farce as the West Park team had a track meet in handing their Methodist rivals defeat number two in the second round. The entire West Park squad hit and fielded like champions — especially Deyo, Breckenridge and Little. Glenwood had as it's top hitters, Byerly and Lowrey.

West Junior Hi-Y remained in a tie for first place in the second round with an 11-5 win over the improving Westgate EUB team. J. Francis, Herold and Ash, with two hits each, were the leading hitters for West Junior Hi-Y, with Kuntz pitching a steady game. Castle, in addition to playing a good game afield, weighed in with two long triples for Westgate EUB.

West Park Methodist Juniors Wallop Glenwood Methodist By 26-9 Tally

West Park Methodist Juniors continued their victory streak with a 26-6 walloping of the Glenwood Methodist team. A 17-run seventh inning turned a fairly good game into a farce as the West Park team had a track meet in handing their Methodist rivals defeat number two in the second round. The entire West Park squad hit and fielded like champions — especially Deyo, Breckenridge and Little. Glenwood had as it's top hitters, Byerly and Lowrey.

West Junior Hi-Y remained in a tie for first place in the second round with an 13-5 win over the improving Westgate EUB team. J. Francis, Herold and Ash, with two hits each, were the leading hitters for West Junior Hi-Y, with Kuntz pitching a steady game. Castle, in addition to playing a good game afield, weighed in with two long triples for Westgate EUB.

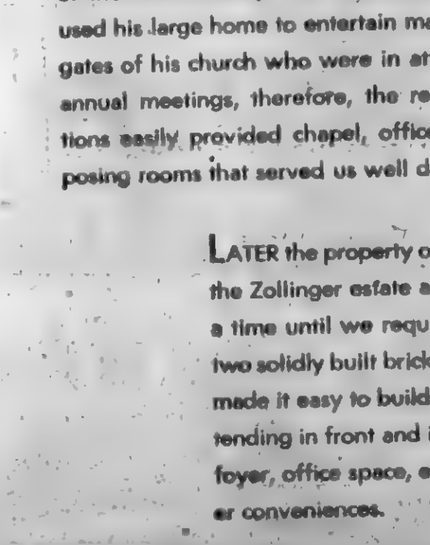
JERRY SPEARS FUNERAL HOME SUPPLEMENT

OUR NEW FUNERAL HOME

26th Anniversary

It Was A Dream—Now A Reality

AUGUST the first, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, we opened the funeral home, having purchased the large brick building which was the residence of the Harris family. Mr. Harris, being a Quaker, used his large home to entertain many of the delegates of his church who were in attendance at the annual meetings, therefore, the removal of partitions easily provided chapel, office space and reposing rooms that served us well during the years.



JERRY SPEARS, SR.

LATER the property on the east was purchased from the Zollinger estate and was used for residence for a time until we requisitioned it for an annex. The two solidly built brick buildings placed as they were, made it easy to build the chapel between them, extending in front and in the rear to provide entrance, foyer, office space, elevator location and many other conveniences.

THE chapel and reposing rooms of the original funeral home are retained and are decorated and lighted beautifully. The new building has increased our floor space more than nine times.

OUR sincerest thanks go to our host of friends throughout Columbus and Franklin County for their confidence over the years. We pledge to all of them that always our ethical and professional standards shall be of the same high caliber that has helped to advance us to our present position. Human interest, human value, and human courtesy shall control our entire administration, always.

WE do not advertise prices, it violates the Code of Ethics. The families we serve always control the cost, whether it shall be the most expensive or the most inexpensive.

JERRY SPEARS, JR.

West Park Methodist Juniors Wallop Glenwood Methodist By 26-9 Tally

West Park Methodist Juniors continued their victory streak with a 29-6 walloping of the Glenwood Methodist team. A 17-run seventh inning turned a fairly good game into a farce as the West Park team had a track meet in handing their Methodist rivals defeat number two in the second round. The entire West Park squad hit and fielded like champions — especially Deyo, Breckenridge and Little. Glenwood had as it's top hitters, Byerly and Lowrey.

West Junior Hi-Y remained in a tie for first place in the second round with an 11-5 win over the improving Westgate EUB team. J. Francis, Herold and Ash, with two hits each, were the leading hitters for West Junior Hi-Y, with Kuntz pitching a steady game. Castle, in addition to playing a good game afield, weighed in with two long triples for Westgate EUB.

West Park Methodist Juniors Wallop Glenwood Methodist By 26-9 Tally

West Park Methodist Juniors continued their victory streak with a 29-6 walloping of the Glenwood Methodist team. A 17-run seventh inning turned a fairly good game into a farce as the West Park team had a track meet in handing their Methodist rivals defeat number two in the second round. The entire West Park squad hit and fielded like champions — especially Deyo, Breckenridge and Little. Glenwood had as it's top hitters, Byerly and Lowrey.

West Junior Hi-Y remained in a tie for first place in the second round with an 11-5 win over the improving Westgate EUB team. J. Francis, Herold and Ash, with two hits each, were the leading hitters for West Junior Hi-Y, with Kaess pitching a steady game. Castle, in addition to playing a good game afield, weighed in with two long triples for Westgate EUB.

JERRY SPEARS FUNERAL HOME SUPPLEMENT

EDGAR A. GUEST, the poet, placed things properly when he said, "It takes a lot of living there to make a house a home." A large and well-ordered building can become a funeral home only when that building is under the auspices of some human being who is interested in other human beings.

HE MUST have been trained in mortuary science and, in addition, he must have been schooled in the psychology of sorrow, professional ethics, and must be sensitive to human values. In his business relations, he must be known for his reliability, integrity and mental honesty.

IN ADDITION to the staff members we extend our heartiest thanks to the building supervisor, the contractors and supply companies who helped to make our new funeral home possible and we pray for the gracious qualities of character that shall inspire your confidence.

Casto Father-Son Team Lisf New Mart Details

Don M. Casto, Sr., and Don M. Casto, Jr., who are largely responsible for "putting Columbus on the map" as a model city, nationally known for its shopping center industry, and directly affecting the shopping habits of 160 million people in the United States, have their own special brand of development philosophy.

The elder of the famous father and son team explains that shoppers nowadays are "on wheels and will not walk one block to the corner drugstore from their homes." The cruising lane design, proven in the East Columbus Miracle Mile Town and Country Development, permits customers to take their cars with them right to the store and places them during normal shopping hours only 30 feet from the store of their desire.

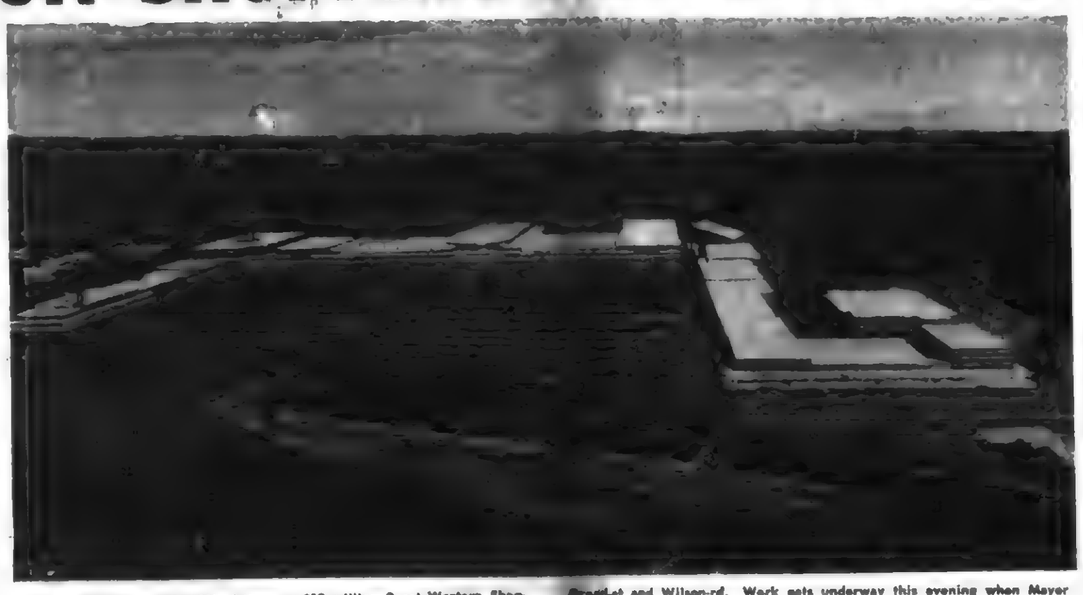
Casto, Jr., is especially enthusiastic about the new Great Western Shoppers Mart because of its strategic location on the hub center of the whole Greater West Side of Columbus. He points out that it is fed by W. Broad-st from the east and west, Hague-av, Demorest, and Georgesville-rds from the south, Dublin, Trabue, Phillippi and Wilson-rds to the northwest and Valleyview-av, McKinley-av, Hague-av, Grandview-av, and Wilson-rd, to the north and northeast.

Don M. Casto has pioneered the shopping center industry for 35 years in Columbus and Central Ohio. During the past 10 years, the two Castos have assisted in making Columbus the mecca for developers nationally, to study the Casto Developments. They have been here by the hundreds from every state in the Union, Canada, Hawaii, South America, and other countries throughout the world.

The Castos have built or have under construction in the Greater Columbus area:

(1) Town & Country, E. Broad-st; (2) Miracle Mile Shopping Center, E. Broad-st, and Robinwood-av; (3) Great Eastern, now under construction, Hamilton-rd and E. Main-st, with (2) and (3) both designed to serve the Greater East side of Columbus; (4) Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st and Central-av, designed to serve the central and southwest sections; (5) Northern Lights Shopping Center, Cleveland-av and Huy-rd, designed to serve northwest section; (6) Graceland Shoppers Mart, greater north and northeast sections; (7) Dayton, O., Dayton Town & Country; (8) Salem Miracle Lane, North Dayton; (9) Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh Town & Country, East Pittsburgh; (10) Great Southern Shoppers Mart, South Pittsburgh; (11) Toledo, Toledo Town & Country, now under construction; (12) Zanesville, Zanesville Country Fair" now under construction.

Joseph Skilken of Joseph-Skilken, General Contractors, 363 S. Third-st, is associated and affiliated with the Castos in the Great Western Shoppers Mart Development, and will be in charge of construction.



Skilken is one of the midwest's largest general contractors. He has built such well known projects as a $5 million installation in Toledo for the U.S. Army, the central tower at Lockbourne Airforce Base, remodeled and rebuilt the five-story building on N. High-st for the Boston Store, and the Morehouse-Fashion Building on N. High-st, and recently completed the beautiful Dicarpuit State Hospital and three maintenance buildings for the highway department of Pennsylvania.

Coupled with the above construction, Skilken Company completed 15 schools in 1953.

Skilken contracts now under construction are as follows: a $3.5 million field house at Ohio State University; a $2 million six-fold and all facilities for the Ohio National Guard being built at Springfield; a United States post office in Ironton, O., and a building for the Shoe Corporation of America at Battle Creek, Mich.

Harley Schofield is in charge of the leasing and property management division of the Casto interests and Schofield and Charles Warner, his assistant, are in charge of leasing the Great Western Shoppers Mart.

Harold Voelker and Morris Loppes, attorneys, represented the Casto and Skilken interests. Nate Berlin, former owner of the site, was represented by Schwartz and Gurevitz. William Trayis, public relations executive, is in charge of publicity and promotion of the Great Western Shoppers Mart.

ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the new $10 million Great Western Shoppers Mart, which will be constructed at the northeast corner of W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd. Work gets underway this evening when Mayor Sensenbrenner turns the first spade of dirt on the project.

Work Starts Tomorrow On Huge New Great Western Mart Here

Construction will begin today on a $10 million Great Western Shoppers Mart on the northeast corner of W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd, with plans already in the mill for a $6 million, 500 apartment development on the 50 acres adjoining to the north.

Full details were disclosed yesterday by Don M. Casto, Sr., and Don M. Casto, Jr., of 42 S. Fourth-st, nationally known developers.

The gigantic new Hilltop shoppers mart, located within the city limits of Columbus, will be one of the largest in the United States, and is projected to be more than double the size of any shopping center now operating or planned within the Greater Columbus or central Ohio area.

U-shaped in design, the Great Western Shoppers Mart will feature parking space for approximately 5,000 cars. The nationally accepted cruising lane traffic layout, created by the Castos in their original Miracle Mile Town and Country development on E. Broad-st will be used in the new mart.

Casto Sr., stated that negotiations for the Great Western Shoppers Mart site have been going on for more than five years. And if his firm had been able to acquire the site when originally planned, Great Western would have been completed several years ago, he added.

Dense population areas now surround the site of Great Western on three sides. Employees of heavy industrial plants such as Westinghouse, General Motors, and more to come immediately to the west, will be provided a convenient one-stop shopping service on their way to or from work.

Bustling building activity is also in progress in the immediate vicinity on all sides. Thousands of homes and apartments are now under construction or planned.

Casto, Jr., stated that many great, nationally famous chain stores have completed leases for locations in the Great Western Shoppers Mart.

A huge J. C. Penney Department Store, fronting 200 feet on the midway, will form the center motiff of the mart. Flanked on either wing of the 775-foot center building to the south by a 150 foot x 275 foot W. T. Grant Junior Department Store and to the north by a 100 foot x 150 foot F. W. Woolworth Variety Store.

The center building will also house many great national chains such as Schiff Shoe, Thom McAn, a large New York and California dress and children's shoe chain, 50 foot x 200 foot, and many others to be announced during the next two weeks.

C. Melvin Frank, Architect, 148 E State-st, is in charge of completion of plans for the development.

Progressive Enterprises, Inc., a corporation affiliated with the developers control 50 acres immediately north of Great Western Shoppers Mart. Progressive Enterprises, Inc., plan to construct 500 apartments, a complete medical center, office buildings, and many other commercial merchandise buildings on this site.

Great Western Shoppers Mart will be completed during the summer of 1955.

PUBLIC TO SEE FIREWORKS FRIDAY

The general public is invited to a tremendous fireworks display Friday celebrating the start of construction work on the new $10 million Great Western Shoppers Mart, with colorful and spectacular pyrotechnics scheduled to light up Hilltop skies from 9 to 10 p. m. Parking will be no problem as there are more than 40 acres to choose from.

Earlier, at 6 p. m., Mayor Sensenbrenner will turn the first spade of dirt at the W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd site, with members of the press, radio, TV, and other public officials taking part in the ground - breaking ceremonies. To ensure that everyone will get "a big bang" out of the gala evening, the Castos have announced that aerial bombs will explode every half hour starting at 6 p. m.

Judge Randall's Death Is Loss To Community

Death has taken a fine public spirited citizen from our community.

His thousands of friends were saddened this week to learn of the passing of Judge Cecil J. Randall, a familiar figure in the building of the Hilltop and West Side for many years.

While he became as well known as the able jurist he was, he had earned this position through his many contributions to the growth and development of the city over many years.

West High School may well stand as a monument to his memory. For so many years this community had needed a new high school and it was while Judge Randall was a member of the Columbus Board of Education that West High was built and it was largely due to his leadership and planning that this fine school was placed where it is.

The locality is a finer place in which to live because of the efforts of Judge Cecil J. Randall. He will be missed.

WINS $40 AWARD

A $40 fourth place award was won by Joseph Seidel, 16, 347 Columbian-av, for a clock entered in the wood division of the nationwide Industrial Arts Awards competition sponsored by Ford Motor Co. The clock will be displayed at the Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago, beginning Aug. 7, along with other winning entries.

UNAWARE SHE'S $50 RICHER

Mrs. Roy C. Ward of 52 S. Eureka-av is $50 richer, even though she doesn't know it. Winner of the $50 Bean Dinner Subscription contest conducted by The Hilltop Record, she has been away on vacation.

Various notices, telephone calls, and visits to her home have failed to produce information on her whereabouts, her friends, or relatives.

Late Flash: We understand now that Mrs. Ward is in New York City to attend a wedding and will return Aug. 9 to claim her surprise award. Her hubby, an Ohio State University student, and her children, John, 14 months, and Victoria, 3½ months, are with her in the Empire State.

Judge Cecil J. Randall Rites, Burial Will Be This Afternoon

Judge Cecil J. Randall of 1989 W. Broad-st, a revered resident of the West Side, succumbed to cancer at his home, Monday at the age of 68.

A public servant in Franklin County for 38 years, Judge Randall was known for his love of people and his Christian manner in living and meting out justice.

He had served as a Franklin County common pleas court judge for nearly a quarter of a century, and was suffering from the illness in 1953, but refused to step off the bench because a bribery trial had been scheduled in his court.

In criminal cases, he believed that first offenders should have an opportunity to rehabilitate themselves under probation when their crimes are not marked by personal violence.

If a prisoner left an impoverished family, it was Judge Randall's practice to investigate the man's home. If he found the family in need and unable to cope with the situation, he would contact a social agency which could supply temporary relief. He also often obtained jobs for discharged prisoners or interceded with employers to save the job held by a man before his conviction.

$134,265 Bid To Modernize Incinerator

The low two bids for remodeling of the old McKinley-av city incinerator, built as a WPA project in 1939, totaled $134,265 and were submitted Tuesday by Joseph Skilken & Co., 363 S. Fourth-st, according to Service Director Floyd C. Redick.

Director Redick said the remodeled incinerator will be used for garbage and rubbish from the Hilltop area, with a possibility that it will take care of similar refuse from Grandview Heights in the future.

Its use will cut the cost of hauling refuse from the Hilltop to the 300-ton Short-st incinerator. The McKinley-av incinerator was abandoned as too expensive after being in operation a few years, Redick said. Remodeled, it will have a capacity of 120 tons per day and because of its self-dumping grates, will not be continually out of service for the removal of non-burnable materials.

Workman Escapes Serious Injury In Hilltop Fire

A 33-year-old workman counted himself "lucky" Wednesday, July 28, after being treated for superficial burns which he suffered in a fire at 103 S. Highland-av.

The workman, Sam Miller, 2507 Gayle-dr, was installing a furnace at the Highland-av address, residence of Clarence Davis, when leaking gas caught fire. Firemen said if the leak had not been ignited by a spark it might have gone undiscovered until enough gas collected for an explosion. Therefore Miller counted himself lucky, as he only suffered burns about the right ear and neck.

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

Council Asks For Additional Street Lights; Talks Annexation Of Land

By Louise Pohlmann
FR. 6-4166

Hilliards Village Council convened in regular session Monday evening, July 26, to consider a number of pending matters. Formal request was presented to the Univ-Midland Light and Power Company for installation of additional street lights on Linda-rd in the southeast section and on Grant-st in the North Grant Addition, in the northeast section of town.

Permission was granted to the Grant-Wayne Co. to hook on to the sanitary sewage system at the treatment plant to take care of the company's development on Linda-rd and also to C. H. O'Brien for lots on Hilliards-Cemetery-rd.

An amendment to the ordinance recently enacted for the control of water tap connections was recommended to the board of public affairs. The proposed change would affect contractors who have completed water taps themselves, in which cases they would be charged only for the meters and their installations.

Advertisement for bids for drilling a new well on the ground recently purchased from Donald Tarbox was authorized.

Council discussed proposed annexations of property adjacent to the village at the west end of Main-st. Petitions for annexation are expected to be presented as soon as necessary signatures have been obtained, which are anticipated in the near future.

The hordes of flies and other obnoxious insects emanating from the fairgrounds drew official attention of council. Requests were addressed to the Ohio Trotting Association and the Franklin County Agricultural Society, asking that spraying for such insect control be undertaken promptly.

BROWNIE TROOP 494 MOTHER-DAUGHTER FETE

An inviting and tasty supper prepared by the members of Hilliards Brownie Troop 494 featured the annual mother-daughter party of the group, which was held at the fairgrounds Thursday evening, July 29.

Members and guests included Joy Adkins, whose sister, Beverly, was her guest; Margie Anderson and mother, Mrs. Glen Anderson; Carole Bauer and mother, Mrs. Phyllis Bauer; Carla Feldpausch, whose mother was unable to attend; Linda and Ruth Anna Grace and their mother, Mrs. Carl W. Grace; Sue Meeker and mother, Mrs. James Meeker, who is Troop Leader; Mary Lou Morris and sister, Lois Anne; Carol Richardson and mother; Patty Ritchie, whose mother was unable to attend; Joyce Scofield and mother, Mrs. William Scofield; Mrs. Bernard Fultz, assistant leader of the troop, and Mrs. Grace Snider, whose daughter, Jean, was ill but who assisted with the preparations and serving of the supper.

Troop members and leaders say a big "thank you" to Bob Steele and to Mayor Patterson for the help provided in arranging tables and benches for the supper.

Besides the troop members and guests, others present included Program Director Howard of WBNS-TV and Joe Russell, who selected two girls to be spokesmen on the "Kitchen Fare" program for Aug. 3 at 11 a.m. Choice among the group proved so difficult that the candidates were finally selected by lot, Joy Adkins and Cathy Wilkinson being chosen. The entire troop appeared on the program on Tuesday.

Investiture services planned for the occasion were altered because of the illness of Jean Snider, whose mother performed the honors for her at her sickbed at home. Mary Lou Morris was invested at a camp fire service following the dinner, her sister, Scout Lois Ann, being the investing officer.

Will Spare Aching Dogs of Postal Routeman

Beginning Aug. 16, the Columbus post office department will take over rural routes heretofore served from Hilliards. The area affected will cover Dublin-rd from its southern intersection with Trabue-rd and service all locations on Dublin between Trabue and Scioto-Darby-rds.

Roberts-rd from Dublin to Walcutt, Walcutt from Roberts to Trabue-rd, Wilson-rd, also between Roberts and Trabue, and all of Trabue-rd will be part of the Columbus post office system. All addresses on the above named roads will be designated as (respective house numbers) Route 4, Columbus 4, Ohio.

Postmaster Florence Wilcox at Hilliards said this is an attempt to relieve the local routeman who has been serving an excessively long rural route for several years.

Fifty-six members of the Van Houten family gathered at the home of Mary Van Houten on Scioto-Darby-rd Sunday. Relatives from Marion, Plain City, New California and Columbus joined with the Hilliards members of the clan for an all-day reunion, which is held annually at Miss Van Houten's home on the first Sunday in August.

BEAN DINNER HORSIN' AROUND

Junior went hungry Thursday and all because of a wayward mother. He and his mother, a white pony, were to be moved from the site of the Bean Dinner at Westgate Park Thursday, however, the four-legged tyke awoke Thursday morning to find that his mother had slipped her tether and his maternal food source was gone. Police were searching for the equine mother Thursday at junior's urgent request.

FATE

Fate steals along with silent tread,
Found oftenest in what we dread;
Frowns in the storm with angry brow,
But in the sunshine strikes them low.—Cowper.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

The Bible

The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth His handiwork. — (Psalm 19, 1.)

Looking upward to the beauty and the orderly course of the myriad stars at night, how is it possible that a man could doubt there is God? And how wondrous it is that each of us, as each of the stars, is part of a loving God's creation, and of His plan.

TRUE

I perceive
That fear is like a cloak which old men huddle
About their love as if to keep it warm.—Wadsworth.

Great Western Shoppers Mart

NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

A MESSAGE FROM DON M. CASTO AND DON M. CASTO JR.—DEVELOPERS

The Casto interests have been in constant negotiation for over five years for the 95-acre tract of land on Wilson Road between West Broad Street and Valleyview Road. We recognized this tract as being the only strategic, logical, hub center location for a great regional shopping center to serve the greater West Side of Columbus and the Central Ohio Area. All roads lead to the corner of Wilson Road and West Broad Street. We do not believe it safe or sound for family shopping to front our shopping centers on arterial truck highways, forcing families to battle heavy four to six lane traffic.

Due to technical difficulties we were not able to acquire the land from the owner. However, May 14th, 1954, we surmounted these difficulties and acquired the land for Great Western Shoppers Mart.

We immediately started in motion our long delayed plans. We had many great merchants standing by. Great Western Shoppers Mart was born. We immediately went to work on our designing of the center and plans for its construction.

Referring to our original statement on plans for construction of Town & Country Shopping Center published in the Columbus Sunday Dispatch, page 1, section C, July 6, 1947 (seven years ago), we quote:

> "... future plans contemplate the erection of a similar shopping center on North High Street in the vicinity of Worthington, and on West Broad Street near the city limits."

We designed Great Western to form a huge U, giving careful study to the proper balance of the great stores and convenient, easy-flow parking to the front of each store with our nownationally famous cruising lane design so that customers can take their cars right with them.

Our buildings are designed so that the great stores can expand to three or four times their present size in the future. 80% of our tremendous 5000-car parking area is in front of the stores. With 35 years of shopping center experience we know the customer wants it there. Parking can be expanded to accommodate 8000 cars.

A huge J. C. Penney Department Store fronting 200 feet on the midway forms the center motif of the Mart. Flanked on either wing of the 775-foot center building, to the south is located the 150x275-foot W. T. Grant Junior Department Store, and to the north a 100x150-foot national chain variety store.

The center building will also house many nationally-known firms such as Schiff Shoe, Thom McAn, a large New York and California women's store chain, and many others to be announced during the next two weeks.

The building on the south flank of the U will comprise such great stores as Albers Super Market, 120x200 feet, one of the largest in the country; Zettler Hardware, Moores Auto Accessories, Swan Cleaners and twenty other chains and leading independent merchants.

The building on the north flank of the parking square will comprise such great stores as Kroger Super Market, 120x200 feet, one of the largest in their entire chain; Cussins & Fearn, 60x200 feet, the largest shopping center store in their entire chain; Gray Drug Super Department Drug Store, 75x155 feet, the largest drug store in their chain; Miracle Cleaners, 15 other commodity stores and eight other chain stores to be announced later.

A large commodity store section containing 20 stores will also be located between the W. T. Grant Department Store and Albers Super Market.

Project No. 1 fronting on Wilson Road and West Broad Street to the south, will comprise approximately twenty stores on which leases are now being negotiated.

At the northeast corner of the Great Western Shoppers Mart a large reserve is set aside for a sizable merchandizing building in the 100,000 to 300,000 square foot class.

A beautiful drive-in restaurant to serve the center will be erected on the corner of W. Broad Street and Wilson Road.

The Great Western Shoppers Mart is also complemented with one of the finest 24-lane bowling centers in the United States.

The Great Western Shoppers Mart will be a complete, integrated, diversified community of merchants comprising 100 great stores and the project to be erected now will be the largest shopping center, now built or projected in the Central Ohio area.

The design of Great Western is flexible so that all stores can expand to future needs.

For example, the great J. C. Penney Store with a frontage of 200 feet can expand as future requirements demand to a department store of any size up to 500,000 square feet.

Progressive Enterprises, Inc., a corporation affiliated with the developers, control 50 acres adjoining to the north of Great Western Shoppers Mart. The plan is to construct 500 apartments, a complete medical center; office building and many other commercial merchandise buildings and stores on this site.

The potential expansion of this great shopping development is projected for well over one million square feet, which would make it 2½ times the size of any center of the Greater Columbus area, now built or projected, and one of the largest in America.

Mr. Joe Skilken, of Joseph Skilken General Contractors, Columbus, Ohio, is associated and affiliated with Don M. Casto and Don M. Casto, Jr., Developers, in the Great Western Shoppers Mart. Mr. Skilken will be in charge of construction of the huge project.

Great Western Shoppers Mart will represent an investment of approximately $10,000,000 and Progressive Enterprises, Inc., development will represent an investment of approximately $6,000,000.

It presents a $16,000,000.00 projected overall development.

Great Western Shoppers Mart will be completed during the summer of 1955.

Society News Deadlines Set

The Hilltop Record society department is endeavoring to provide an enlarged and improved service to its many readers. In order to accomplish this and assure that weddings, engagements, club notes, and women's activities receive the attention in Record columns they so richly deserve, it has become necessary to restate sub mission deadlines for contributors.

Pictures which contributors desire to appear on these pages must arrive at the Record office by not later than 9 a.m. Monday for publication in the same week's paper.

Church notices and news of church activities must arrive not later than 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Deadline for the arrival of news of clubs and other women's activities has been set as 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Because of space and time limitation, only those contributors who meet these deadlines can be assured of fullest consideration for publication.

Ideally, wedding and engagement pictures submitted for publication should be glossy prints not larger than 5x7 inches. If pictures are larger and their owners will not permit them to be trimmed, a special engraving fee must be charged. Otherwise, the service is free.

Sunya, whose great ambition is to be a dancer, is a toe and ballet pupil. She is also a second-year member of a Brownie troop of which Mrs. Graham is the leader.

Sunday Sermonette

AN UPSET WORLD
By Rev. Jacob Ashburn
Pastor of Oakley Avenue Baptist Church

Rev. J. Ashburn

An eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings.—Deut. 32:11.

It is said that an eagle, in building her nest, builds it hundreds of feet up upon some mountain cliff. She fills the bottom with sharp thorns sticking up. Upon these sharp thorns is placed soft downy material, so that thorns are covered up and cannot be felt. When the little eagles hatch they rest upon this soft downy bed in comfort. In this comfortable position they would ever remain and not leave the nest while being fed by the mother eagle.

After a while the mother bird feels that it is time for them to learn to fly. It is then she comes to the nest, pulls out the soft bedding upon which the little eagles rest and they find themselves upon the sharp thorns. To escape the prick of these sharp thorns they climb to the rim of the nest. The mother eagle then comes and knocks them from the rim. Down, down they go seemingly to fall to their death upon the rocks hundreds of feet below. However before they reach the bottom the mother eagle stretches out her wings, dives down beneath and catches them before they fall to the rocks. Through this method the little eagles are taught to fly.

We are now in an upset world. Home, business, economic social, political and religious life, all are upset. Some are asking why God is allowing such. Why does God permit the things that are disturbing us? Why not a life of all ease, all plains and no hills, everything smooth and nothing rough, no crooked ways, all straight. God permits us to be disturbed to develop strength and character, that we may grow morally and spiritually.

God has disturbed this world to teach men their limitations and His strength. These times have brought men to the realization that there are problems they cannot solve, difficulties they cannot overcome, obstacles they cannot surmount and burdens they cannot bear. They need a power outside of themselves and above themselves and that power is God. To shut God out is to bring confusion and death. He has been shut out of so many places, sometimes even His Church.

When He said, "Behold I stand at the door and knock," He was speaking of His church.

The world is what it is today for good or ill because of what somebody did in the past. The future depends upon what we do now. The eagle has stirred her nest and in this upset world we are being tried and tested as to whether we will allow God who is a living presence to use us in helping Him to usher in His kingdom in the earth.

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareous are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALton 8-5355, 6050 W. Broad Street. Adv.

Delong Pitches Two-Hitter; Furies Whip Boys' Club 6-0

Glenwood Recreation Center's Furies made another step toward annexing the Junior Knothole crown as they turned back the Boys' Club, 6-0, Tuesday, July 27, at Sunshine [illegible].

For the winners, it was six runs on six hits. Larry Durfee had a big night at the plate, going three for four and scored one half of the winners' runs. Marty Crawford was his old reliable self as he drove in three Fury runs.

The Furies' big inning was the third, in which they scored three times. Martin led off the inning with a single and stole second. Parks was safe on a fielder's choice. Durfee singled, loading the bases. Crawford singled home two runs, and Delong struck out. Then, in the picture-play of the day Danny Gallucci laid down a perfect squeeze bunt, permitting Durfee to scamper home.

While Sonny Delong struck out only five, his support was nigh perfect and only one Boys' Club runner got as far as third.

Thompson and "Howdie" Lewis collected the losers' only two hits. Howdie's glove work at first leaves little to be desired since he is one of the league's best.

This was Delong's second victory of the year, largely because of his very sharp control.

The Furies' batting average as a team is .348. Larry Durfee is batting a healthy .714 and the club strong boy, Marty Crawford, is second with a .600 average. The pitching of the Furies has been fabulous with an earned run average of two per game.

Down But Not Out; Furies Win Again

Glenwood Recreation Center's Furies, shut out for three innings, stormed back to defeat the Golden Bears, 8-1, Thursday, July 28, at Arlington.

By virtue of an unearned run in the first, Arlington was leading; but Mr "Clutch" Jewell tied the game up with a single, and Dave Dehl plated the tie-breaking runs. After the smoke had cleared that inning, the Furies led 4-1.

Keeping up the pace, the Furies scored four more times in the fifth to ice the decision — their seventh without a loss.

Skip Martin's blue darter and curve was as effective as ever as he allowed only one hit and struck out 13 in winning his fifth game of the season. Sonny Delong had a perfect day at the plate and scored two of the winners' runs. For the Furies, it was eight runs on eight hits. They are coached by Lon Wright and Mel Stickle of Glenwood Recreation Center.

Leading the Furies with a 1.000 average is Link. Other batting averages include Crawford, .538; Deist, .500; Nance, .500; Durfee, .454; Delong, .416; Jewell, .357; H. Parks, .333; Martin, 263; Dehl, .200; Galluci, .125; E. Parks, .080 and Loring, .000.

Tigers Are Downed 8-0 By Boys' Club

The Glenwood Tigers lost to the Boys' Club nine for the second time this season by an 8-0 score in a Junior Knothole game played on Thursday, July 29, at Glenwood Recreation Center.

The Boys' Club had little trouble in winning the contest behind the one-hit pitching of Risinger with the one hit being a triple by Allen Strickler in the Glenwood half of the fourth inning.

The first inning found the Boys' Club scoring two runs on one hit, a pair of walks, and a fielder's choice. The next inning and a half found the teams going out in order; but in the top of the third, the visitors again scored on a walk and two sacrifice flys.

The fourth proved to be a very good inning for the Boys' Club players, who scored three runs with the assist of three Tiger errors, two walks, and one hit. In the Tiger half of the fourth, the team saw a chance to advance a shut-out slip through their fingers as the first man up tripled and was followed by two walks. The Tigers then saw their chances die as Thomas flew out to short left field and the next two batters went down via the strike-out route.

The last two innings saw the Boys' Club crossing the plate once in each inning and the Tigers went down in order. Jay Hess struck out to end the game bringing Risinger's strike-out total to seven.

New Radiator Will Go Under Picture Window

A new type of convector-radiator only 12 inches high is designed especially for installation under picture windows. The unit may be recessed or it may be installed in a free-standing position. It may be obtained in eight different lengths ranging from 40 inches to 96 inches, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

CONARD FAMILY IS NOW WELL-STOCKED WITH BEANS

Words in advertisements on the Bean Dinner ad page of last week's issue were intentionally misspelled as part of the Record's Bean Dinner Contest. The misspelled words were to be put together to make the best possible sentence, slogan, or poem.

The Conard family (mother, son and daughter) of 1443 Thomas-av, were the only ones to find all the misspelled words.

Robert Conard's entry was in best order. The 14-year-old Starling Junior High student said, "Gee, I don't know what to say," when he was told he had won the first prize, a case of baked beans.

Mrs. Conard won second prize, 12 cans of baked beans. She likes contests, always gets into them and has given the bag to her children.

Eleven-year-old Connie Sue Conard won five pounds of white navy beans, the third prize. The Dana Avenue School student said, "Boy, we'll be eating beans 'til next Bean Dinner comes!" She also came in second with the best decorated bicycle.

The Bean Dinner was quite an event for the Conard family, for little sister, Rita, was a winner also. She won first prize in the baby buggy contest.

BULLETIN ON EARLIER STORY IN THIS ISSUE

Manslaughter charges were filed Tuesday against Hilltopper Joseph A. Sullivan, driver of a motorboat which struck and presumably caused the death last Tuesday of a Ross County man at Buckeye Lake. Fairfield County Sheriff Dudley Crider filed the charges against Sullivan, who was released from custody Saturday after questioning. Not previously reported in the daily press is the fact that the motorboat had been damaged largely by a storm which whipped the lake about two weeks ago and was repaired just shortly before the fatal mishap.

"It must be a fight in the audience."

Judge Randall—

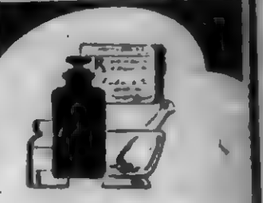
Judge Randall was convinced that petty legal problems of the poor were just as distressing and vital to them as were more extensive matters to those able to employ counsel. This prompted him to persuade city council to add civil duties to his office and the position became a clearing house for indigent persons involved in a variety of legal predicaments.

Presiding Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter issued this statement, in part, on behalf of the court: "—— Obviously, no judge can be said to reach perfection in his work, but Judge Randall in his 24 years on our bench came as close to perfection as anyone could."

In August, 1953, Judge Randall was named as the first "Father of the Year" by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, of which he was an honorary member.

A member of Glenwood Methodist Church, where he taught Sunday School for some 40 years and served as a board member, he was also a conscientious member of over a dozen lodges and many organizations, both national and local such as the Columbus Lions Club, a member of the board of trustees of the Methodist Union, Board member of the Columbus Goodwill Industries, advisory board of Gladden Community House, a council member of the Columbus Camp Fire Girls, and a member of the YMCA Boys Work Board.



He also found time during his years of private practice to serve seven years as a member of the Columbus board of education, being elected in 1923 and re-elected in 1927. He was president of the board two years.

Judge Randall is survived by his wife, the former Ruby M. Case; two sons, David P. of 83 Powhatan-av, and Chester B. of 43 S. Warree-av; two daughters, Mrs. Edward Nicklaus of Kokomo, Ind., and Mrs. Charles Carpenter of LaCanada, Cal.; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. today at Glenwood Methodist Church, 64 S. Highland-av, where the Masonic 33rd degree ring ceremony will be performed at the church service. Interment will be in Sunset Cemetery, west of Alton.

LIKE A 'SORE THUMB'

Ordinarily we wouldn't string together an editorial like this one, mainly because we believe that Emily Post has got us beat by a mile on the etiquette issue. But these lines of type are the direct result of a phone call we received on Thursday of last week by a woman who just had to let off steam.

Her plaint went something like the following:

"I was never so disgusted in my life as I was the last night of the bean dinner. And I went home right in the middle of it—even though this year's bean dinner will probably go down in its history as one of the biggest, best, and most enjoyable ever. It wasn't enjoyable for me.

"In spite of the time-tested safety devices on the various carnival rides, my little boy was nearly killed two or three times by rude, shoving, grasping, uncouth parents. You expect little kids to act a little bit that way in the excitement of the carnival atmosphere. But taking it from grownups is too much!"

We'd like to say that the "pushy people" our caller ran into were not Hilltoppers. Surely, they wouldn't come from a section of the city that has become known over the years as a center of truly gracious living. We can only hope that the "furriners" will behave better next year and nothing will mar the feeling or real satisfaction that comes in having taken part in such a gala, cooperative community event.

Hilltop Postal Station Lists Extensions For Rural Route 4, Columbus

Effective Aug. 16, Rural Route 4, will be extended, postal officials noted this week. In addition, they pointed out that the complete address will be Rural Route 4, Columbus 4, Ohio.

Extensions as listed by the superintendent of the Hilltop Post Office include the following:

Northeast on Trabue-rd to Wilson-rd, southeast on Wilson-rd to 1143 Wilson-rd and retrace, northwest on Wilson-rd to 2070 Wilson-rd and retrace, northeast on Trabue-rd to Dublin-rd, Northwest on Dublin-rd to Roberts-rd, north one fourth mile on Dublin-rd and return.

West on Roberts-rd to Walcutt-rd, south on Walcutt-rd to Trabue-rd, west to Rome-Hilliards-rd, south to Fisher-rd, southeast to Phillipi-rd, south three-tenths mile to Route 665 and retrace, east on Fisher-rd to Wilson-rd, south to W. Broad-st, and east to Hilltop [illegible].

2 Hilltoppers Officers In Local NACA Chapter

Alex J. Gaal, 2252 W. Mound-st, and John K. Miller, 126 N. Chase-av, have been appointed associate directors for the Columbus chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants. They will assist the Director of Attendance in maintaining records on more than 400 members of the local chapter.

Fifteen events have been scheduled for the 1954-55 chapter year and recognition is given members who year after year have high attendance record.

Gaal is associated with Marble Cliff Quarries Co., and Miller is with the Wartburg Press.

These Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

This week we unmask David E. Gochenour, a man well-known to all — even though he is not a resident of the Hilltop. Surprised?

David E. Gochenour

Although his residence is at 1578 S. High-st, where he lives with wife Roberta, and daughter, Ann, he's almost always to be seen behind the block as proprietor of Ed's Meats at 1036 Harrisburg-pk, a role which he has filled since 1946.

Gochenour was formerly with Armour and Co., an affiliation which was abruptly terminated [illegible] entered the Army in 1941.

Born in Harrisburg, Gochenour is still a member of St. John's Lutheran Church there. He also listed in the membership of the Grove City Lions and Camp Chase Post 98.

Fishing is a favorable past-time with him and he often rents a cabin at Lake Erie on weekends to indulge in this hobby.

Next week you'll meet a man who is a "sure bet" and has lived on the Hilltop for two score and four years.

"Aw, come on out from under that black cloth. You're too old to play hide and seek."

Perhaps that half-amazed, half-amused look on the face of four-month-old Kenneth mirrors his thoughts as he muses over the alarmingly childish ways of his elders. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Evans, 282 Mix-rd.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

WHO CHOOSES LONELINESS

Who chooses loneliness must live with her forever after. Once her hand is taken the cool, soft fingers tighten, sun-dreams blur, the world of men and laughter is forsaken.
Who follows loneliness into the deep,
dark realms of inner knowledge to strange places cannot awake from his self-chosen sleep nor quite remember other hands and faces.
She feeds upon his bone and then he dies as he has lived . . . alone.

Lola S. Morgan,
in The Lyric.

Congratulations to the Robert Cramers of Hilltop House, on their Golden Wedding anniversary. Mr. Cramer was the first Hilltop man we met after moving to Columbus, 'way back in 1927. He doesn't remember, but the Weakleys do.

My private Waterlook—Painting ceilings . . . "I-told-you-so," even when I have it coming to me . . . Trying not to look like I have ulcers or toothache when the sun shines bright in my old eyes while the amateur photographer of the family tries to find me in the finder . . . Standing in line (did you see GWTW?) . . . Telephone advertising yet/again/still . . . Watching adults drag toddlers along the sidewalk, holding their hands so high the little guys have to walk on tiptoe to hang on. It's no wonder the youngsters often stage sit-down strikes right on the sidewalk.

Heard as they passed by, at Old Man's Cave: "We can't eat till Aunt Alice comes. She is bringing fried chicken" . . . "Criminy — there goes a run and this is my last pair too" . . . "I forgot to bring forks so you kids will have to use your fingers" . . . "Be still, do you want that woman to hear you? It's over there—don't you see the sign?" . . . "I wouldn't walk all that distance again if the old man is the cave paid me."

A good friend sent in this one: First Maid — "How did you like working for the college professor?" Second Maid—"It was awful. He was always quarreling with his wife and it wore me out, running from the keyhole to the dictionary."

Mail—From Columbus: "Wonder who will be the first ex-WHKC announcer to call it WHKC, now that it's WTVN. I also wonder if radio and tv people really receive all the thousands of requests they claim to receive" . . . Also from Columbus: "We drove out through the new housing project in our end of town, trying to find a house. Try and find one! Where do all the people come from who buy all the new houses and move in before they are completely finished?" . . . From my favorite shutin from Buffalo: "One of the doctors told me the roar I keep hearing is not my ears but Niagara Falls. I almost believed him but now I know it is the traffic six floors down. I did get a glimpse of the Peace Bridge, and from what I saw of the Buffalo traffic, it is worse than Columbus traffic."

From somewhere — Sign on a store which went bankrupt after being open two weeks: "Opened by mistake" . . . Most women don't park a car, they abandon it . . . A sewing circle is where women come to needle the absent members . . . A pessimist is sometimes a man who financed an optimist . . . The Kinsey report proved one thing—that some women talk too much . . . Nowadays, when you're through eating at a swank restaurant, you really need an after-dinner mint—the Philadelphia mint, say . . . If Patrick Henry thought taxation without representations was rough, he should see it WITH representation . . . The recently-inducted private wrote to his parents: "I've gained 60 pounds since I came here, 2 pounds of flesh and 58 pounds of equipment."

Hilltoppers Say 'Yes' To The Council Pay Boost

We found Hilltoppers pretty sympathetic toward council members when we asked them this question this week: "On the ballot next November will be a charter amendment raising the salary of city council members from $1,000 a year to $3,600. Do you think the proposed salary is more than they are worth or is it justified?"

Mrs. Everett Beckwith, 3259 Valleyview-dr, "They really and truly work hard and anyone who works that hard for their city deserves at least that much. Our city should be grateful for its responsible leaders."

Mrs. C. A. Reed, 130 Wrentham-av "I think they are doing quite a job because they're always open to criticism and slander and their salaries should be raised but I think the proposed salary is too much. They should find a happy medium."

J. W. English, 1760 N. Hague-av, "I think they need more money but not that much. About $2500 would be enough because they all have separate businesses."

John N. Bieber, 116 Elden-av, "I would imagine if it was raised they would be able to take more time from their business and put more effort into their council work."

Mrs. Thomas Gamble, 495 Midland-av, "Everything is pretty high and I don't think anybody is getting paid enough to meet demands now-a-days so I think it's justified."

Mayor Not At All Teed Off... As New Muny Golf Links Open

MAYOR SENSENBRENNER, who had the honor of hitting the first ball at the opening rites for the new golf course, examines the ball after his Herculean swing. It was made of plaster and shattered with a prankster-satisfying burst of chalk. (Hilltop Record photo)

Columbus public links golfers beamed with long-delayed joy Saturday, July 31, when the city-owned Raymond Memorial Golf Course, bounded by Trabue and Wilson-rds, was officially opened with Mayor Sensenbrenner swinging at the first tee.

The 18-hole course was designed with the typical golfer's game in mind, for it boasts no deep ravines, lakes or other serious hazards. However, Pro Manager Joe Thomas stated, "It is a course that, in time, will suit most everyone who plays it."

Among the approximately 40 celebrities who visited the new course Saturday were officials of Columbus golf organizations and champions of the different tournaments, in addition to many outstanding personalities from radio, television and the press. Seventy-seven paying golf enthusiasts had visited the links on opening day until rain considerably dampened plans for further activity at about 3 p. m.

Thomas said that improvement on the greens would continue for four or five years although many of the golf celebrities testing the links Saturday were amazed at the exceptional condition they were in considering they were only a year old.

The course will experience many more improvements in addition to its present ample caddie service, which will undoubtedly make it a favorite of golfers throughout the city in the near future.

Trivia

THE EDITOR'S DESK

STRAWS IN THE WIND — There's more than meets the eye to the interest of Hilliards Village Council members in matters of community growing pains, as related by Miss Louise Pohlmann in her newsy column from out thataway this week. Keep your eyes on the little community. Arguments as to whether you say Hilliards with or without the "s" will soon take a backseat to wonderment at its growth.

SORTA REMINDS ME: Louise was telling me only yesterday that three of her regular news contacts had difficulty in getting her on the party line these last few days. She plans to get a general delivery box, if she can, to accommodate those wonderful tipsters of hers. Sounds like a good idea to me.

THOUGHT YOU'D BE INTERESTED: John Taylor Moore, long-time Hilltopper who lived at 253 N. Hague-av before he and his wife "retired" and moved to Colusa, Cal., a few years back, was named city engineer just the other day for the thriving little metropolis. Previously, our "retired Hilltopper" was an engineer for Columbus for years and years.

NOT QUITE NEWS: Western Union called the other day and read me a long telegram from Senator Burke re: federal assistance he's helping promote for Mifflin Twp. schools. It's a shame he had to spend all that money, but thanks for thinking of us . . . Emergency March of Dimes people sent out a flattering form letter to weekly editors, concluding with "the editorial support of th weekly press has helped bring us close to this conquest of polio. I'm sure we can count on you now." (They have our sincere, heartfelt support and could get a lot more space if they'd just "localize" their material, tell us who in this community is collecting, and give us the slant on how our immediate neighbors have and will benefit) . . . G. A. Page of 56 S. Roys-av was given a real write-up in the Dispatch last Friday for his pioneer role in Columbus golfing. Story was in connection with opening of new Raymond Memorial Course.

FLEXIBLE RULES: Even though it's not local, I'd better get this in or the club tailtwister might apply his art to me—Monroe L. Nute of Kennett Square, Penn., has been named president of Lions International. This particular interational (note the absence of the "e", please) has better than half a million members in 58 countries and ranks as the world's largest service club.

DOGGONEST THINGS: Received a beautifully-addressed manila envelope from the army hometown news center. Contained nothing but a sheet of glossy white paper . . . Ohio Electric Institute informs us a nickel's worth of electricity will furnish about seven hours of TV and 20 hours of radio. . . . Our "train-riding" photographer, Harley Groom, has dared me to print just one paragraph of copy as it comes unedited from my typewriter. Won't do it because it would set the typewriter business back about 20 years.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE: Mrs. J. P. Tully of 429 S. Warren-av tells us she's been taking the Record for 37 years and remembers when it was 50 cents a year. You'll probably remember that the dailies cost one and two cents in those days, too.

PARK-ING PROBLEM SOLVED: Subscribers in the vicinity of Hauntz Park, around 18-1900 have complained, with all reason to do so, of the lack of recreation facilities at this overcrowded playground. Meanwhile, we've heard complaints that valuable tax money is wasted on all the fine recreational equipment at the playground in the 600 block of S. Burgess-av, since only a half dozen or so kids show up to utilize the costly play-time materials. Mebbe some of the mothers who pack their kids off to Hauntz Park could send 'em to the Burgess-av playfield. Huh?

CAPSULE EDITORIAL: Every time we drive out immediately west of the city we get more and more convinced that the Hilltop should have its own airport for the convenience of our progressive industries. For instance, we understand that the ag lab of the Funk Seed Co. on the northwest corner of Phillippi and Broad has four light planes for company executives to use. They're quite happy with the Sullivant-av site, we understand. Seems to us with a little improvement, we could make this port the envy of many other communities.

NEW LOOK AT STARLING

Starling Junior High School is boasting the "new look" with workers practically finished grading and landscaping the area that used to be occupied by several brick and frame dwellings. With the sparkling new gymnasium ready for fall use, it is understood that school board consideration of plans for a new auditorium at Starling is being talked.

Mrs. Jane Sherman, Whitethorne av, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayslip, 3577 Plainview-dr, drove to Delaware one evening last week to visit at the home of Mrs. Sherman's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherman.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hylton, 10025 E. Broad-st on the recent death of their son Chester who passed away following a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hylton are former residents of this community.

Hilltopper Released After His Boat Causes Fatality

Hilltopper Joseph A. Sullivan, 40, 921 S. Hague-av, was released from the Fairfield County Jail Saturday after he was taken into custody Thursday as the driver of the speedboat which struck and fatally injured Harry Minor, 29, of Kingston, at Buckeye Lake.

Fairfield County Prosecutor Ray Hershner and County Sheriff Del Weldon said they would confer on the case again Monday to determine if any charge will be filed against Sullivan.

Hilltopper Catches Man Prowling On Back Porch

William Knowles, 37, of 487 S. Wayne-av, caught one of his neighbors prowling early Friday when he was awakened from his sleep on the back porch of his home by suspicious noises.

Knowles grabbed a man who was lurking near the rear of his home and held him while his wife called the police. The man was later identified as a 42-year-old resident of the neighborhood.

The suspect told police that he, too, had heard prowlers and was investigating but later changed his story, saying that he was just out for a walk.

He is being held in city prison for investigation of burglary.

Modernity and Sweeping Floor Plan Featured In Home On Powhatan Ave.

Home of the Week

A breath-taking picture of architectural beauty is this low, sweeping one-floor plan of stained redwood and briarhill stone owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Moyer, 365 Powhatan-av. It is shown to best advantage on its well-landscaped corner lot surrounded by attractive evergreen shrubbery, some of which is banked behind briarhill stone.

By Grace Durflinger

A truly lovely and modern Hilltop home, that has caught the eye of no end of residents and visitors since its completion, is the low, sweeping one floor plan owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Moyer, 365 Powhatan-av.

The eight-room home of stained redwood and briarhill stone was designed by Moyer. Since Mr. and Mrs. Moyer moved into their new home in November with sons Denny and Norman, they have had many visits from strangers desiring to see the inside of this striking abode, a number of whom were interested in purchasing the place.

The outer wall of the entranceway to the house is paneled in grooved pluralite glass, allowing full use of the sunlight outdoors to brighten the usual dark spots indoors without losing one iota of privacy.

Just within the doorway, a comfortable leopard-upholstered chair is placed, lending a tropical air to the large, bright green plants banked behind a low wall of briarhill stone to the left of guests entering the home. A huge guest closet at the right boasts sliding doors.

The floor of the entrance-way is of the same red and gray Vermont slate flag stone which surrounds the raised hearth in the living room to the left. The outer corner of the briarhill stone fireplace, extending across the whole width of the room, is devoted to the grate itself, while an additional inner crevice has been created for the attractive and convenient storage of corded wood. The sand walls of the living room blend well with the imported Puerto-Rican carpeting of the same shade and are complemented by white drapes printed in a coral, brown, and gold metallic pine branch pattern flowing from the matching sand valances which boast concealed lighting to add warmth and charm to the room.

The wood furnishings by Widdicomb throughout the room are of light hickory. A polished hickory bench, six feet in length and one-foot high, makes a delightful window seat for the paneled glass wall opposite the fireplace. In addition to flooding the room with golden sunlight, this attractive window-wall gives a broad view of the trim lawn and the summer beauty of the trees and lake in Westgate Park. Awning windows in a companion wall provide more light and air for this charming

A step up from the living room is the dining room with seafoam green walls and the overall sand carpeting. The gleaming oval dining table of hickory seats twelve people and is placed before a large panel of paned glass which is framed by the same branch pattern drapes found in the living room. This glass partition gives a complete view of the year-round sun porch which can be screened in for summer use and weatherproofed for winter time.

Marble window sills are in evidence throughout the house, while the woodwork throughout is of birch. This same birch is fashioned into handsome shelves which partly partition the dining room from the kitchen.

The attractive kitchen is a link to the dinette and the utility room. All three rooms boast cream walls which rise from yellow and brown rubber tile. The cheery curtains present a tan, yellow, coral, and white figured pattern on a brick

A truly glamorous sight is the foyer of this modern, eight-room home. Floored in red and gray Vermont slate, it has a tropical air due to the leopard-upholstered occasional chair by the entrance and the large tropical-type plants in the briarhill stone planter.

The wall-length briarhill stone fireplace with the raised hearth of Vermont slate flag-stone is a fitting background for the knubby textured carpeting and furnishings. Notice the unusual design of the light hickory based coffee table right of center.

Looking toward the paneled glass wall in the background, the camera catches all the modern charm and comfort which abounds in this lovely livingroom. Sand walls and carpeting are a perfect background for the colorful and uniquely-designed furnishings.

Walls of dusty rose blend in a soft background for the gay profusion of colors in the tropical print of drapes and bedspread. The headboard of the bed is made up of a convenient shelf, flanked by additional handsome, fitted shelves.

OLD TILES SALVAGED

Clay tiles manufactured about 1718 were found in the ruins of the colonial governor's palace at Williamsburg, Va., and were in such good condition that they were reset when the building was restored.

QUESTION BOX . . .

I am planning to purchase new draperies for my living and dining rooms, and large reception hall off the living room. Would it be advisable to have the draperies alike for all the rooms? The wallpaper is cream with a light yellow and white design and the woodwork is dark. The living room furniture is lipstick red with one cream plastic chair; tables and dining room furniture are mahogany. The rugs have an over-all design of variegated colors, but I am planning to get new ones in medium green. What would be a good color for the draperies? W.F.C.

Since your living room, dining room and reception hall open into each other, I advise the same color and style draperies throughout. Green, slightly darker than the rugs you intend to buy, would be a good color.

The Walls of my bedroom are bright yellow, the rug medium blue, the furniture is oak and I have Colonial lamps with blue shades. What colors would you suggest for draperies, bedspread and throw rugs? Also my living room walls are gray, the furniture is burgundy and the rug is a floral pattern on a wine background. What colors could I use for draperies and lamp shades that would brighten this room? S.T.

For your bedroom draperies, I suggest a pattern in chartreuse and yellow on a wine background, and for the bedspread and throw rugs, chartreuse. Coral would be a good bright color for your living room draperies and for the lamp shades I suggest green.

I am redecorating my bathroom. The lower walls are ivory plastic tile with maroon trim and I would like to paint the upper walls and ceiling Wedgewood blue. What colors would you suggest for the window curtains, shower curtain, floor covering and towels? C.P.

For the floor covering in your bathroom I suggest red; for the window curtains, red and ivory stripe; for the shower curtain, royal blue, and for the towels, royal blue and red.

Advise Delay In Installation Of Hardwood Floors

If you are planning to build a house or have one built to specifications by a contractor, see that installation of the hardwood flooring is deferred until the proper time if possible, flooring manufacturers advise.

And when is the proper time? After all other structural work has been completed, the plumbing installed, the plastering and interior painting finished.

The purpose of this procedure is simply to protect the beauty of the hardwood. When the finish floors are laid too early in the construction stages they may be scratched or gouged by the dropping of workmen's tools or the movement of heavy equipment. The damage may be so severe that it cannot be easily remedied, even by sanding.

Covering the floor with heavy paper, as some builders do, affords a measure of protection, but the best insurance against damage is to follow the manufacturers' recommendations. The subfloor meanwhile can serve as a working surface for the various building mechanics.

Wave Of Color Hits Kitchen Appliances

Color is the big news in kitchen appliances. In a field that has been noted for its rigid adherence to gleaming white, unexpected glints of pleasant blues, silvery grays, chartreuse and gold have added newness and beauty. Some manufacturers have even gone in wholeheartedly for color. One firm has brought out washing machines in blue, soft green and fireman red. A refrigerator line has come out in five vibrant hues.

For the most part, however, color is introduced as an accent. In the refrigerator field, for instance, color has been introduced on door handles and on the decorative disks that fit behind them. The interiors of refrigerators have also proved to be fertile fields for color styling. In one gleaming model, a distinctive chartreuse is used as an interior trim color. This, it was found, harmonized with such popular kitchen colors as yellow, soft green and red. Gray is also being used as an interior trim for refrigerators.

Try That Paint Color Under Artificial Light

When selecting paint or hangings for walls, don't decide entirely by daylight, advise decorating authorities, who suggest viewing the colors under artificial lighting as well as by daylight. Also be careful where you try color samples on walls, these authorities advise.

The differences in the number of windows on individual walls may cause the colors to seem correspondingly lighter or darker. For example, in a room with windows on only one wall, the color applied on that side of the room will appear considerably darker than on the side facing the windows.

Hilltop Y Little League All Stars Cop Honors At Annual Bean Dinner Classic

The Hilltop YMCA Little League All Stars won their second straight victory over the Westgate Park Little League All Stars by 5-3 in the annual classic held every year at the Hilltop Bean Dinner. The game was a close and hard-fought contest all the way. The Engle-coached nine jumped into an early lead by scoring two runs in the first inning on hits by Mike Engle and Bill Ingle.

The Westgate team came back in the third inning and scored one run, but the Y nine put a halt to the rally by playing heads-up defensive ball. Both teams scored in the last inning but the Fulton coached team was unable to take the lead at any time during the game.

Outstanding defensively for the Little "Y" All Stars was Tommy Hartranft, who made several nice plays from his second-base position. The victors' offense was led by Ingle and Engle, who displayed lots of power at the plate. Dick Houk, the second baseman for the losers, led the Westgate attack by blasting out two triples in three times at bat. The offensive star for the losers was Gary Aldrich, who played a good game at first base. Winning pitcher Roger Bruns went the entire six innings. The losing pitcher was Terry Kruse who was relieved in the fourth inning.

red background. Thirty-six cupboard doors of birch enclose a wealth of cupboard space of which many a house-wife dreams. Built into one of the spacious counters of brick red linen weave formica, is a stainless steel sink with an automatic garbage disposal and dishwasher. A custom-built oven has been inserted at waist-height in the opposite wall, while the four-plate electric range occupies the counter top which partitions the kithen from the dinette. The dinette set is made up of a round table, topped with pearl gray formica with chrome chairs of brown and yellow marble upholstery. Awning type windows and an exhaust fan make fresh air a certainty throughout the kitchen, dinette and utility room.

The Moyer's lovely home boasts three bedrooms all decorated with charm and taste. The walls of the master bedroom are of dusty rose with matching valances trailing drapes in a tropical print of pink, green, chartreuse, aqua, coral, burgundy, and gray on white. A spread of the same pattern is a splash of color on the low, modern bed. The headboard of this bed is made up of convenient shelves which place objects within easy reach. One such object is the modern reading lamp which can be bent in any direction. It sprouts from a base of imitation cattails.

A bathroom with tangerine walls wainscoated with tan carara glass is located directly off the bedroom. It boasts a square white enamel bath and a wash basin built into the convenient counter - cabinet. The rubber tile flooring is of beige and tan.

An office, where Moyer can catch up on his desk work, is also accessible from the bedroom. It is paneled in knotty pine and features a cork floor.

The second bathroom off the hallway has a lemon yellow tile floor. The yellow walls combined with wedgewood green carara glass produce a cheerful and charming effect.

The second bedroom is of pale green with matching throw-rugs and boasts a huge clothes closet with double sliding doors of birch. Chintz curtains in a seaside pattern of gray, yellow, green and coral on white frame the awning type windows. Green, yellow, and white checkered spreads cover the twin beds of light wood. A matching double chest completes the suite.

Robin's egg blue is the predominate color in the third bedroom which doubles as a nursery at the moment for two-year-old Norman Moyer. Chintz curtains, printed with the old-fashioned winter scenes made famous by Grandma Moses, hang in soft folds about the awning type windows. The rustic effect is completed by a maple bedroom suite tastefully placed on a room-sized hooked rug of pastel shades.

The Moyers plan to finish the three rooms in the basement into a recreation room in the near future. A lavatory and a stone fireplace with Vermont slate are already completed.

Several of the newer devices that the Moyers have in their home and which they found to be household words in the later modern homes of today is the automatic garage door, the exhaust fans in the kitchen, hallway, and bathrooms, and the spot and valance lighting that lends so much to the atmosphere of a room.

The Moyers, who are both life residents of the Hilltop except for six years which they spent in Pickaway County, are very pleased with their new home, as one may well imagine, and will be completely happy when all of their furnishings finally arrive and they are, at last, "settled in."

AT THE PLAYGROUNDS

By Pat Martindale

Last Friday the Columbian Swamp Rats (Junior softball) bowed in defeat to West Mound Diamond 1 to the score of 12-4. However on Friday, July 30, they attempted to redeem themselves against West Mound 2 with Johnny Warren on the mound.

In the Little League, the picture is much brighter for Columbian. The Cowboys now lead the league with nine wins and no losses. Pitching has been by Mike Mantel and Vaughn Ammon.

Highland Avenue Playground placed fifth in the West Sectional Track Meet held at West High School on July 15. Highland made 34½ points.

Arthur Slate won two second places and one fourth place. Other winners were Ronald Davis, Pat Bradley, Carolyn Davis, Deloris Parks, Jim Allen, Ken Smith, Jerry Keyes, and Karen Davis.

Highland, like all other Hilltop Playgrounds took part in the annual Lantern Parade at Central High School last Thursday evening.

Five of Highland's children have attended Indian Village Camp. They are Willie, Junior and Junie Brown, and Seneva and Martha Nichols.

Steven Rutledge has returned to participate in Highland's activities after a month's vacation in Indiana and Michigan.

Mrs. Rose Trigg, Highland-av Playground supervisor extends an invitation to all children in Highland's vicinity to spend the remainder of their vacation at the playground taking part in the special activities yet to take place, to learn crafts or just play.

Cubs Lead YMCA Westgate Little Bigger League

The Cubs retained first place in the Hilltop YMCA-Westgate Park Little Bigger League last week as they blasted the victoryless Cards by 9-4. The Cubs showed that they intend to be championship bound by scoring runs in their half of the first inning. The Cards retaliated with 2 runs in the first, one in the second and one in the sixth. All of these rallies were shortlived as the Cards lacked a strong scoring punch.

Outstanding for the Cubs in the hitting department was Larry Steece, who collected two for three. Dick Castle looked good defensively for the victors. Fred Ash looked good for the losing nine, hitting well and fielding errorlessly. Larry Bigler was credited with the win and Dave Ewing was charged with the loss.

The return of Chuck Lantz, star southpaw for the Hawks, was the determining factor in the Hawks 3-2 victory over the Jets. Lantz limited the Jets to three hits, which were well scattered; Dick Furry collected two of them. Furry was the losing pitcher, but fielded well and hit consistently. Dave Mack looked good afield for the victors, while Earl Wilson starred defensively for the losers. Next week will see the Jets facing the Cubs on Diamond 1 and the Hawks meeting the Cards on Diamond 4.

New Rome got off to a 6-0 lead the first inning, and neither team crossed the plate in the second. The Eagles outscored their opponents 4-2 in the third to shorten the New Rome margin, 8-4. The fourth inning proved fatal to the Blue Eagles when New Rome drove in 25 runs. One run in the fourth was all the Eagles could score.

New Rome's Ruth Hoffman scored five runs on three hits and Virginia Rings had four runs on four hits. Carol Planck, Kathryn Benson, and Janice Streitenberger scored four runs on three hits each; Roush and Roesch had three for, three: Smith had three for two; and Benson had three runs on one hit.

PRECIOUS STONES WORTH $400 'MISSING' ON HILLTOP

If you are among the many who "stuck in your thumb and pulled out a dud" at the bowl of diamonds exhibit of the Hilltop Jewelers at the Bean Dinner, this will interest you immensely:

Owner Lou Klass tells us that out of six genuine diamonds, each worth $100, in the bowl, only one has been returned for a free setting in 14-carat gold. Another was not selected from the many imitation stones in the bowl.

He's afraid the other "lucky" four may not realize their good fortune and throw a real valuable "plum" in a chest or toss it away.

Y Intermediate Church League Has Two Thriller Tilts

By Dick Wilson

The Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church League resumed at Westgate Park last week after being rained out the previous week and displayed lots of plate power, with 61 runs scored in the two contests. Avondale EUB won their first game of the year by trouncing DeMolay 24-9. West Park Methodist kept pace with the EUB nine by blasting Hillcrest Baptist 25-2.

Both games were loosely played, with all four teams making errors and bad plays. The bright spot in the games was the power hitting of Dave Guyton of West Park and Gary Ragot of Avondale EUB. Ragot also played good defensive ball.

The winning pitcher of the DeMolay - Avondale game was Don Brown. Ron Klein was charged with the loss. Earl Gates was the winning pitcher of the West Park-Hillcrest game. Bob Thornton was charged with the loss.

Next week will see Hillcrest Baptist facing DeMolay and West Park Methodist versus Avondale EUB.

All the Brikcrete
Required to Build the 8-inch-thick walls of the "BRIKADIER"

3-bedroom ranch-type home; 37x26'. Blueprints now available; $15.00 per set.

You don't have to build the Brikadier to get the value of Brikcrete economy. Same low price per square foot applies to any size or type of home you may be planning to build.

Brikcrete is the world's most modern and practical masonry. Colorful beauty, streamlined symmetry, ample strength, and self-contained insulation values. Costs less than lumber, yet is masonry at its best.

Low price is due to elimination of two big costs: freight and distribution. For Brikcrete is a community enterprise—locally manufactured from local basic materials and employing local labor.

The preferred masonry for home building, but also outstanding for all types of commercial and industrial construction.

Bring in your plans for estimates, or ask us for descriptive literature.

Television Appearance Of Glenwood Crafters Makes For Increased Interest

The television appearance of Glenwood crafters, Beverly Deidrich and Jay Hess, demonstrating masks made at the center, spurred interest at Glenwood in mask-making. Wolves and bears were favorite subjects this week, and a father, mother and baby bear now adorn the bulletin board, as well as a "Big Bad Wolf" made by Carol and Bobby Scheiblich. Goldilocks and Little Red Riding Hood were also made.

The children have continued on Thursdays the making of puppets, gimp bracelets, earrings and belts. Ruth Wheeler has completed two pairs of earrings.

Linda Featherolf made a swan out of a coat hanger and clothes pin, wrapping the wings with white gimp. Jane Squeo made a coat hanger wire stand for a basket or flower bowl.

Franklin Township Incorporation Forces Reportedly Raising Court Fight Fund

Franklin Township incorporation backers have reportedly decided to raise $6,000 for the court battle with opponents of incorporation in September.

A majority of residents who went to the polls in May in the huge township, wrapped around the west, northwest, and southwest sections of Columbus, voted in favor of incorporation.

Opponents have claimed that the selection of only one voting place in the heart of the most populous area plus the unusually large area involved make the incorporation vote invalid. The area includes many "tax prize" industries, including Westinghouse Appliance Plant and Ternstedt Division of General Motors.

Sue Atchinson Rolls High 194 in Glenwood League

Sue Atkinson of the Blazers rolled a high game of 194 in Glenwood Recreation Center's league last Thursday, July 29, at the Hilltop Bowling Alleys.

The Blazers also rolled the high-est series, 1778, and highest single game, 624, to date in the Glenwood league. The Five Aces held second high game of the evening with 469 and series, 1390. The Poodles placed third with a high game of 454, and a high series of 1296.

Warren McAdams' 148 was second to Sue Atkinson's 194 in the individual high single game division, while Ken Shuman's 142 was third.

Ken Shuman's 423 was the high-est series rolled. Sue Atkinson's 395 was second, and Annette Forgrave was third with 352.

Jim Penoff still holds the high-est average to date of 136, while Ken Shuman's 131 is close behind. Beman Pound is third with 113. Sue Atkinson is leading the girls with 112, while Peggy Castle and Annette Forgrave have 108 each, followed by Sonja Forgrave's 107.

CIO Council To Petition For Changes In Ohio's Work Compensation Law

Residents of the entire Columbus West Side will probably be approached within the next few days and asked to sign a petition calling for modernization of the Ohio unemployment compensation law, according to Harry E. Mayfield, president of the Columbus CIO Council.

James Ogden

James B. Ogden, 42 S. Harris -av., recording secretary of the local council, will be among those giving instruction to the petition passers.

It is the union's contention that the Ohio unemployment law has grown steadily worse, as the law authorized 54.8 per cent of the weekly wage as a benefit in 1939, but now only permits a maximum of 40 percent of the average wage paid production workers. CIO seeks increased weekly benefit maximum to $40.

David Davies Sues To Recover Meat Inspection Fees

David Davies, Inc., of 616 W. Mound-st, largest independent meat packer in Columbus and paymaster for some 280 Hilltoppers and West Siders, last Thursday filed suit in common pleas court against the city board of health to recover $145,785 it paid between May 1, 1947, and Oct. 31, 1953, as meat inspection fees.

H. W. Jameson, president of the firm, said David Davies had paid the sum "under protest." He alleged that the fees, although illegal, were paid, so that his company could "remain in business."

The Ohio Supreme Court held last year that the board of health did not have power to levy fees, saying that the power was vested only in city council.

The Davies company is the first to seek recovery of fees.

SWIM CLASSES POPULAR

The "Learn to Swim" program of the Columbus recreation department attracted 210 children daily during the two weeks of July 19 and 26. These classes, which were held at Maryland Park Pool, were sponsored by the recreation department in cooperation with the American Red Cross.

A total of 78 boys and girls earned "polliwog" patches for learning to swim at least 10 strokes. "Turtle" patches were awarded to 46 children who completed their beginning swimmer tests and "porpoise" patches were given to five children who passed their intermediate swimmer tests. These bathing suit emblems were furnished by the Red Cross and WBNS-TV.

EAT WISELY IN SUMMER

A frequent contributor to discomfort during periods of high temperature is overeating or consuming heavy meals, Dr. Ollie Goodloe, city health commissioner, says. "Many feel better if they reduce their intake of protein foods, such as eggs, fish and meat. They replace this with more fruits and vegetables, which reduces chances of constipation, besides being at peak quality and in good supply and therefore, less expensive.

Commissioners' Nod Paves Way For Recreation Center

The way was cleared this week for the construction of a skating rink and swimming pool on a 21-acre tract on Valleyview-dr by the approval of rezoning of the site from agriculture and residential to general commercial classification by the county commissioners.

Owner Harold Cunningham, 3118 Valleyview-dr, said yesterday he had been informed orally by one of the commissioners that the recommendation for granting of the rezoning petition by the rural zoning board had been unanimously okayed by the commissioners.

Cunningham said that Attorney Phil Stout would handle the details of future financial arrangements, disclosing at the same time that building of a modern roller skating rink is the number one project. Eventually, plans include a complete play-recreation center.

Before rural zoning would approve the change, Cunningham had to sign an affidavit to the effect that no intoxicating beverages would ever be served at any of the contemplated establishments on the tract.

MIDWAY ABOUT TO OPEN

Franklin County Fair Will Feature Four Days And Nights Of Exhibits

Once again the Franklin County Fair at Hilliards is ready to break into full swing. Four big days and nights of exhibiting, judging, and fun are in store for participants and visitors Aug. 18-21.

Judging of Junior Fair Swine will start off activities at 8 a. m., Wednesday, followed by many other interesting exhibits. Among the features of the afternoon will be a Western Horse Show and Judging of Junior Fair Dairy Cattle, while the evening will be the scene for another Western Horse Show, the Jersey District Show, and the selection of the Junior Fair King and Queen.

Round and square dancing and midway attractions will be outstanding entertainment highlights each evening of the four-day event.

Activities Thursday morning will commence with the judging of Junior Fair Beef Cattle followed by Junior Beef Cattle Showmanship, Open Class Hog Show, Home Economics Demonstrations, and an Open Class Sheep Show. Events of the afternoon will include Horse Racing, Judging of Junior Fair Sheep, Judging of Holstein and Brown Swiss Cattle, and Home Economics Demonstrations.

The Ayrshire District Show is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. followed by the 4-H Recreation and Home Arts Contest. Night Horse Racing will be the featured event on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

Friday will be Farm Machinery Day and will begin with the judging of Hereford and Angus cattle, and the Junior Fair Livestock Judging Contest. The afternoon will be studded with such attractions as the Tractor Pulling Contest, the Guernsey District Show, Judging of Junior Fair Poultry, Food Revue, and 4-H Style Revue. The evening activities will begin with the Polled Shorthorn Show at 7:30 p.m., followed by Agricultural Demonstrations and Safety Speaking Contest.

Saturday, the final day of the fair, will be, as in the past, Youth Day. Morning activities will commence with the High School Band Contest at 10 o'clock, followed by the 4-H Tractor Rodeo and FFA Safe Driving Contest.

The afternoon will be the setting for the Junior Fair contests and a gala parade of bands, floats, livestock and farm machinery. The evening activities will terminate the fair with thrilling horse racing, round and square dancing, and colorful midway attractions.

FAIR WEATHER is in the air at Hilliards. In fact the whole climate has changed as preparations are rushed for the annual event, which opens next Wednesday. Accompanied by their vocational agriculture director, K. L. Holtrey (kneeling at right) and assisted by Charles High (standing at right) director in charge of the Junior Fair sheep department, Phillip Windle, Bobby Lane, Robert Willing, Marion Frantz, and Joe Brown came from Dublin last week to aid in finishing the stalls. 'PENTHOUSE' FEATURED

The "penthouse" home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip V. Stout, 2494 W. Broad-st, is the featured "Home of the Week" in today's Record. The attractive home, which is located over Stout's office, was designed by their son and may well be an incentive to other local office owners to copy the idea for an attractive and convenient dwelling.

New Subdivision Is Opened At Hilliards Village

The westward trend in the population growth of metropolitan Columbus received further impetus this week with the announcement of the opening of a new subdivision near Hilliards.

Ultimately planned to include homes for approximately 500 families and a shopping center, the developers, headed by Kelly Conklin, have initially placed on sale 70 lots.

The area, which lies across from the Hilliards high school on the Scioto Darby road, will be known as the Mary K. Conklin subdivision, in honor of the wife of the developer.

Approval for sewer and water connections with adjoining Hilliards have been given by village officials, according to Mr. Conklin, and these improvements as well as streets are to be supplied by the developers.

Homes, which are to be built by approved contractors, will be in the $14,000 to $18,500 class. Restrictions include 1,000 square feet of "living space" in each home on the ground floor.

Plans are also being made to establish a park within the area.

Mr. Conklin is being assisted by his father, Henry Conklin of Plain City, C. H. Brown, and Harry B. Shaefer, Columbus attorney.

Approved builders include Ted R. Mason, H. E. Brown, John Pasicka, Colony Homes, Inc., Progressive Homes, Inc., Right Construction Co., James M. Davis, Leo Brown and Berlin-Defenbaugh.

West Park Methodist Jrs. Cop 2nd Round Softball Crown By Win Over Hi-Y

The West Park Methodist Juniors copped the second-round Hilltop YMCA Junior Softball title with a 10 inning 11-9 victory over the West Junior Hi-Y team. Third Baseman Little of the West Park club belted a home run in the 10th, with his team-mate Schwartz on base, to settle the issue in the most interesting game to date. Breckenridge again pitched a steady game for West Park. Dick Furry pitched good ball for Hi-Y, with Don Furry and Link getting two hits each.

Glenwood Methodist Juniors came from behind to win over the luckless Westgate EUB Juniors, 18-11.

Residents Petition For Traffic Light Where Two Meet Death In Collision

GREAT WESTERN DIGGING STARTED— Mayor Jack Sonsenbrenner turns over the first shovelful of earth at the site of the new Great Western Shoppers Mart, northeast corner of Wilson-rd and W. Broad-st, this past Friday evening. Celebrating the official beginning of the $10 million shopping center by Developers Don Casto, Sr., and Don Casto, Jr., thousands observed one of the most spectacular fireworks displays ever seen on the Hilltop. Left to right are Don Casto, Sr.; Joseph Skilgen, general contractor in charge of construction of the center; and Mayor Sonsenbrenner. (Hilltop Record photo)

Hilliards Youth And Columbus Woman Are Drowned In Mishap

Four hundred residents of the Hague-av and Fisher-rd area petitioned county commissioners Monday for the installation of a traffic light at the intersection where two persons died as a result of an auto collision early Saturday morning.

In the petition, concerned residents asked that trees blocking the view of the intersection also be removed or trimmed. Approved by the commissioners, the petition was forwarded to the county engineer's office for surveys and other checks to determine "whether the light is warranted."

Meanwhile funeral services had already been held for the two victims of the crash:

Dwight Churry, 18, of 3221 Leapard; and Miss Myrtle Bartram, 51, 1225 King-av.

Services for Churry, a widely-known and liked athlete at Hilliards High School, were at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home. High school classmates of Dwight served as pallbearers at his funeral. Burial was in Sunset Cemetery.

He is survived by his father, Frank, of Columbus; his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Girton, with whom he lived, and two half-sisters, Cassandra Churry of Whitehall and Mrs. Kathryn Girton Williams of Hilliards.

The second victim of the accident, Miss Myrtle Bartram, is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Gordon Knepper of Columbus, Mrs. Richard Graves of Erie, Pa., and Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch of Mt. Gay, W. Va.

Funeral services for her were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Deyo Funeral Home. Burial was in Sunset Cemetery.

Injured in the accident were Myrwood A. Beck, 43, of 268 Ashbourne-pl, treasurer of the Clark Grave Vault Co., who was listed in "poor" condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital, and Jerry Kaltenbach, 17, of 3901 Hayden Run-rd, listed in "fair" condition at the same hospital.

Miss Bartman, who was a passenger in Beck's car, had been employed at the grave vault firm for 27 years and was returning with Beck from a business trip to Hamilton.

Kaltenbach, a friend of Churry's at Hilliards High School, was returning home with him after visiting a Hague-av drive-in.

Deputies stated that all four persons were thrown from the demolished cars. Coroner's report indicated that Churry and Miss Bartman were drowned when they were thrown in a deep drainage ditch.

Dwight Churry

Although only sketchy details were available to sheriff's deputies Sunday as to what may have caused the cars to suddenly go out of control and crash into the ditch, those investigating the accident surmised that Beck was driving his car east in Fisher-rd, while Churry was driving on Hague-av, headed north. There is a stop sign located on Fisher-rd at Hague-av.

Opening Of New Lincoln Village School Will Affect 100 Families

More than 100 families in Prairie Twp. and all residents of Lincoln Village will be affected by the opening of the new Lincoln Village School on Sept. 7. Arrangements for the opening were completed by the board of education at the regular monthly meeting on Aug. 4.

Mrs. Helen Nelson, teacher for several years in the Prairie Twp. schools, was appointed head-teacher in charge of the school. Initially, the school is planned for grades one, two, and three. Teachers employed are Mrs. Estella Prior, first grade; Mrs. Helen M. Daniels, third grade. Mrs. Nelson will teach second grade in addition to her administrative duties.

Boundary changes in the Prairie Township District to provide pupils for the new school are as follows:

All children of grades one, two and three who live within the area bounded on the east by all residences on Phillippi-rd, on the south by the residences on the north side of W. Broad-st, on the west by all the residences on Rome-Hilliards-rd, and on the north by the township line will attend Lincoln Village School. Children of Grades one through three from the balance of Prairie Township will continue to attend Prairie Schoool. All children of grades four through eight in the Prairie Township School District, including Lincoln Village, will attend classes in Prairie School.

"As new residents move into Lincoln Village, the school there will be expanded to include other grades," Principal of Township Schools Paul S. Noblitt stated. Transportation matters have not as yet been worked out, and it may be that the board will have to transport everyone until paving of the streets in Lincoln Village is completed. At any rate, a further announcement concerning transportation will be made before school opens," he concluded.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Plans Announced For New Church In Lincoln Village

G. F. Peters, pastor of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church of New Rome, announced this week that papers were signed Aug. 5 for the purchase of a 2½-acre plot in Lincoln Village, which is to be the site of a new church.

The congregation hopes to start building within the next two to two and one-half years on the site at the corner of Sturbridge and Beacon Hill-rds. The first unit of the building which is to be modified colonial style is expected to cost approximately $100,000.

Here is one of the signs that will be given away by Seely's Hardware to help make Columbus a safer place for school children. The exact size and color as the official ones issued by the state and city, the signs will be available to organizations and individuals to place in strategic positions to caution motorists. The signs may be acquired at Seely's Hardware Store, 1185 W. Broad.

Mr. Fix-It Helps Wiltshire-Rd Weed Haters, Trash Can Victims

Mr. Fix-It cuts red tape. If you are unhappy over a traffic condition, a stepped up sewer cleaning, or any of a thousand and one services offered by local government, write Mr. Fix-It. He'll talk the situation over with the proper official and present his findings. The same applies to constructive suggestions for improving conditions. Mr. Fix-It will pass your recommendations on to the right department and see if they are practicable. Address future letters of this nature to Mr. Fix-It, in care of this newspaper.

Although Mr. Fix-It had no direct complaints from readers this week a circulation soliciter received inquiries as to why the city hadn't cut weeds growing at Racine and Mound and at Wiltshire-rd and Eakin-rd.

Mr. Fix-It says: "Citizens who are disturbed by unsightly and unsanitary weeds should first find out to whom the property belongs, whether it be a vacant lot, which would be reported to the division of parks and forestry; or city property, which would be reported to the city engineer's office, or private residential property, which should be reported to the board of health."

The same representative received several complaints from residents of the Sullivant and Ogden-avs area. Residents complain that a group of apartments has no garbage facilities and that the garbage and trash are kept in open, unsealed receptacles, causing an exceedingly unpleasant odor throughout the neighborhood.

Mr. Fix-It says: "I contacted the sanitation department of the board of health. They had no record of any complaint having been made from that area. Annoyed residents should call the above department and register a complaint with any of the four young ladies on duty there. They, in turn, will give it to an inspector, who will make a full investigation of the area, and if he finds grounds for the complaint, he will see that the situation is quickly taken care of."

2 Hilltop Requests Now Pending Before Council

Two communications were submitted to city council by Hilltoppers at the regular meeting on July 26.

Alva O. Boystel, past commander Veterans of Foreign Wars I, requested that Midland-av be opened from Mound-st to the city limits about 200 feet south.

Charles Buchaleb, 40 Binns-blvd, asked measures be taken against the flooding of basements from the sanitary sewers in the Westgate area. Both communications are in committee pending further discussion.

NO LONGER DISCOURAGED

Jack Adams was discouraged. He had advertised his two racing bikes in two different downtown papers, but with no results. It seemed no one was interested in such unusual items as racing bikes.

As a last resort he inserted this ad in this paper:

WANT TO SELL or trade 2 racing bikes. 1 almost new, 1 with motor. 47 E. Mithoff. HI. 2-2462.

Here's the happy ending to our story:

As a result of his ad in this paper, he received 15-20 calls and, of course, sold both bikes.

If your house is overrun by puppies or you're tired of looking at the kitchen sink—you can dispose of them both with a classified ad. Try it and see! Twirling the dial to RA. 1125 or HI. 4-9262 will connect you with our friendly want-ad takers.

BIG BEAR SCORCHED—Firemen are shown as they battle the $150 blaze which took them nearly an hour to extinguish Thursday night in the Mart Store in the basement of the Hilltop's Big Bear Store, 2835 W. Broad-st. Thick smoke from burning cardboard billowed over the neighborhood, but there was business as usual at the store. (Hilltop Record Photo)

Hard Luck Continues To Plague DeMolay Team Of Intermediate League

DeMolay, the hard luck team in the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church League, continued its bad breaks last week as a last inning rally, which could have meant victory, was stopped because of darkness. The "Big Blue" scored six times with no outs in the bottom of the seventh to come within four runs of the Baptist nine. Because the game was called for darkness, the score reverted to the sixth inning, which had Hillcrest ahead 12-5.

The Tallman-coached Baptist team had their big inning in the second when 15 players batted and nine runs were scored. High scorer for the victors was Don Bieber, who crossed the plate four times. Dale Wilson and Phil Edwards led the loser's scoring with two runs apiece. Ron Klein, who pitched good ball in the later innings but was wild in the early ones, was charged with the loss. John Kuntz received credit for the win.

West Park once again scored high as they clobbered Avondale EUB 21-5. The game was never in doubt from the beginning as the Breckenridge-coached nine scored seven runs in the first inning and managed to add at least one in each remaining inning. The Avondale team was limited to four hits by Earl Gates, who once again displayed good form on the mound and gained credit for the victory. Don Brown, charged with the loss, gave up 20 hits and walked nine.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cruse, 336 N. Hague-av, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Daisy Rollins, 581 S. Highland-av.

The former Miss Cruse chose a ballerina-length wedding gown of chantilly lace over net and satin, fashioned with a portrait neckline of scalloped lace, fitted lace bodice and long lace sleeves coming to points at her wrists. Her bouffant skirt of lace over net and satin was worn over an old-fashioned hoop skirt.

A tiara of pearls and iridescents held her fingertip-length veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of red roses with white satin streamers.

Betty Stickel, her only attendant, wore a pink ballerina-length gown fashioned of net and satin and carried a bouquet of white roses with satin streamers. Mr. Bill Stickel served as best man.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Claire Gillivan, Lee Balmert

MRS. LEE E. BALMERT (J. Curtis Allen photo)

Dozens of exquisite Florida-grown orchids were flown to Columbus for the wedding on Saturday, Aug. 7, of Miss Claire Jane Gillivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herald B. Gillivan, 77 S. Brinker-av, to Mr. Lee E. Balmert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert I. Balmert, 3141 Bremen-st. The flowers were a gift from the bride's cousin, Robert Scully of Miami, formerly of the Hilltop. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. William Maloney, at 9 a.m., in the St. Aloysius Church, followed by a nuptial high mass.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Gillivan chose for her wedding a gown of swiss tulle and imported hand-clipped Chantilly lace over satin in candle-light shade. The lace fashioned the bodice and long sleeves which came to points over the hands and the bouffant skirt of tulle was trimmed in cutout motifs of the lace and extended into a wide circular train.

A matching lace crown, trimmed in sequins and pearls, held her triple-tiered veil of imported silk illusion, and she carried five white cattleyas orchids. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls worn by her mother on her wedding day.

The bride's attendants, Mrs. John Hillebrandt, her sister; Mrs. Albert E. Balmert of Marion, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Miss Rita Gallucci and Miss Margaret Southworth, were dressed alike in floor-length gowns of sheer silk organza in ballet blue. The fitted shirred bodices were fashioned with low portrait necklines and brief sleeves and the full skirts were worn over hoops. They were matching halos of small flowers and carried bouquets of Vanda orchids.

Albert Balmert of Marion served as his brother's best man and the wedding guests were seated by Mr. Ralph Cook, Mr. John Hillebrandt, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. John Gillivan, the bride's brother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gillivan wore aqua nylon mesh with matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose printed sheer with dusty pink accessories. Both mothers were lavender orchids.

Following the wedding a breakfast was served at the Colony Restaurant and in the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Assistant hostesses were Miss Elaine Balmert, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. John Gillivan, Dayton, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Paul Perkins and Miss Joan McKinney of Cleveland.

The new Mrs. Balmert was graduated from St. Joseph Academy and studied dance at the Perry Mansfield School of Dance and Theatre, Steamboat Springs, Colo. She is associated with the Linden and Hilltop branches of the Jack Sherick School of Dance. The bridegroom, a graduate of Rosary High School, attended Ohio State University, served 18 months with the armed forces in Korea and is now associated with the Big Bear Stores.

For their trip to Florida, the bride chose a dress of grey embroidered silk organza with dusty rose accessories. They will be at home after Aug. 22, at 1636 E. Mound-st.

Little Cubs Win Little 9 Crown

The Rector-coached Little Cubs walked into the Hilltop YMCA Little 9 League championship by blasting the Little Braves last week 12-0. Bob Ross hurled his third one-hit ball game of the year to gain credit for the victory. Mike Engle was charged with the loss. The Cubs played good defensive ball throughout the game and displayed lots of plate power. Joe Ditrick looked good afield for the victors, while Don Barnes led the scoring attack with three runs. Bobby Dent was the bright spot for the hapless Braves, showing spirit and know-how at his second base position.

Don Furry's Little Indians knocked the Little Redlegs out of a chance for a first place tie by edging the Rice-coached team 5-2 in the best-played game of the year. Bill Kuhn sparked the victors, playing heads-up defensive ball and driving in three of the team's total runs. Jimmy Walker starred for the losers, collecting two of his team's four hits and driving in one of their two runs. Roger Bruns went the route for the victors and was credited with the win. Mike Cantlon started for the Redlegs and was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Bill Ingle in the third who did not allow any further scoring.

The Little Tigers showed lots of spirit when they upset Dick Furry's Little Cards 6-5. The Cards jumped into a first-inning three run lead but the Tigers were not to be denied as they displayed lots of determination to come from behind in the last inning to win the game. Cal English went the route for the losers and was charged with the loss. Jim Ricketts was the winning pitcher.

The Little Yanks and Little Dodgers were rained out in their last game of the year, and will make it up this week. Neither team can change its standing.

League standings include Little Cubs, 6 wins, 1 loss; Little Redlegs, 5, 2; Little Indians, 5, 2; *Little Yanks, 2, 3; *Little Dodgers, 2, 4; Little Tigers, 2, 5; Little Braves, 2, 5, and Little Cards, 2, 5. (*Denotes make-up games to be played.

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

Post Office Box Expected To Better Record Coverage Of Community News

By Louise Pohlmann
FR. 6-4186

The Record is experimenting for a few weeks in the hope of further improving its service to the community and broadening its news coverage. Because the Hilliards representative has a party-line telephone and connections are too often impossible to make at the necessary time, a box has been rented at the Hilliards Post Office, with the view of providing a local depository for news items from interested persons in the community.

Any items desired to reach the paper may be mailed to The Hilltop Record, Box 29, Hilliards, O. The box will be visited every Monday morning between 8:30 and 9 o'clock for the purpose of collecting mail. Since our news deadline is Monday noon, it will be necessary for mailed items to be posted in time to be picked up at the hour noted if publication is desired for that week. Response of the public will determine the continuance of this experiment.

Fair Activity

The county fairgrounds rapidly assume the appearance associated with the season as crews work to clean and spruce up buildings, driveways, and midway sites for the opening day, next Wednesday. Fair board officers say this will be one of the biggest, if not the biggest, fair ever held at Hilliards.

Exhibits are overflowing the existing buildings and numerous tents are being provided to house animals being entered by both senior and junior departments of the Fair.

Indicative of the swollen entry lists was the volunteer help provided by the Dublin High School FFA chapter, five members of which devoted time to construct hurdles for the sheep tents necessary to shelter FFA entries.

Red Men Meet

Zone 4 of Improved Order of Red Men held a zone meeting Sunday afternoon at the Stillwater Tribe lodge rooms in Hilliards. Four candidates were initiated at ceremonies presided over by Herb Riebel, with Milburn A. Hoffman as captain of the degree staff.

Zone four is composed of lodges from Hyatt's, Marion, Hilliards, and the Sioux, Deerfoot and Algonquin lodges of Columbus. Refreshments were served following the initiation rites.

The 102nd Great Council Session of Red Men will be held Friday and Saturday of this week at Marion. The delegate from Stillwater Lodge is Art Price. Also attending the Session will be Past Great Sachem Milburn Hoffman and Past Great Trustees Henry Okert and Marvin Weber.

Stillwater Lodge will have a stag fish fry on September 11 at the Riebel Implement Co., 5580 W. Broad-st, Hoffman said.

Cowboys Win Glenwood Crown With An Unbeaten Record

The Glenwood Recreation Center's Little League crown was annexed by the Cowboys who ended the regular season's play with a 9-0 record, after hanging an 11-5 defeat on the Eagles in a game played Monday, Aug. 2, at Glenwood Recreation Center.

It looked like the Cowboys had finally met their match for the first three innings of the contest, but the Cowboys who were still rounding up runs in the last frames came through the victors.

The Cowboys jumped off to a 1-0 lead in their half of the first, but the Eagles bounced back to score two runs after Pitcher Mike Mental had struck out the first two men to face him. Billy Diedrich tripled down the left field line, and Robert Jackson slammed a home run into left center to put the Eagles ahead, 2-1.

In the second inning, the Cowboys out on their hitting coats and collected seven hits, which were good for four runs. The Eagles, taking advantage of a free pass, followed by a single, scored one in the bottom of the second.

After putting the Cowboys down in order in the third the Eagles still wanted runs. An error and two hits produced two runs, and the score was deadlocked 6-5 after three full innings of play.

The Cowboys took advantage of four Eagle errors and added them to six hits for three runs in the fourth and fifth innings. The fine play by the Cowboy infield then sent the next nine Eagles back to the dugout in order.

The Cowboys will represent Glenwood in the citywide tournament which began Aug. 9.

By Rev. George S. Brown
Pastor of Wesley Chapel

GOD'S WAY IS BEST

Today, in our modern world, we experience many new wonderful accomplishments. Our way of living and our everyday pursuits are constantly changing. We, as individuals or a nation, are caught in the march of time.

However, I say today that there is one thing that never changes; that is God's plan and God Himself. Theologians, preachers, educators have tried to change God and His will. They still try today but it is all to no avail. God's Holy Word teaches us in Mal. 3:6, "For I the Lord do not change . . ." We find in the Bible these words, also, "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever."

God changes not nor does His will change. His way of salvation is the same today as it ever has been.

"The blood of Jesus Christ cleanses from all sin" (I John 1:7) is a positive statement as to our salvation.

Rev. Brown

God gave us His Son as a sacrifice for our sins to be accepted by us. God changes not and He still offers His Son and His shed blood as God's way of salvation.

Take His Word, read it, believe it, accept the Lord Jesus Christ. let His blood wash your soul and you will find, God's way is best.

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareous are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALton 8-5355, 6959 W. Broad Street. Adv.

Rosalind Russell, star of "Wonderful Town," with her son, Lance

"Ever stood next to your youngster in church?

If you have,
then surely you've felt that surge of warm feeling spread over you . . . as I have.

Maybe it's his wide-eyed, absorbed expression . . . perhaps it's the happy feeling I get just at being in church with Lance and my husband, Fred—and knowing we've already introduced our son to God. As we attend church each week with Lance, we see his heart grow bigger with the qualities of love, friendship and tolerance. Because Faith has made our lives so much richer we want Lance to grow up in its wisdom."

ATTENTION ROCKET READERS

Control Tower At Hilltop Library Gives 'Radar Warning' Of Aug. 14 Deadline

The Hilltop Branch Library is sending out a last "radar warning" to all space ships, flying saucers and Rocket Readers, all of whom must land on Planet Earth not later than Saturday, Aug. 14. All "pilots" are requested to report to the Hilltop Branch Library on Wednesday morning, Aug. 18, at 10 a.m. sharp—for an account of hair-raising flights they experienced while piloting their rockets over the different planets and back to earth by reading books.

Weird stories will be told of strange sights seen these last three months on their perilous "journey through space." This party on Wednesday, Aug. 18, will bring the 1954 Space Rocket Reading Club to a close. A total of 639 pilots enlisted for the take-off, but vacations and camping trips "stranded" some of the pilots, who missed the party. Certificates will be awarded to every pilot who reads 12 or more books.

The library wishes to thank the following people for the delightful stories told on Wednesday mornings during the summer for Story Hour: Miss Patty Gibson, Mrs. Catherine Hakola, Mrs. Ruth Cray, Mrs. Cleo Stickel, Miss Maxine Barnes, Miss Wilma Borland, Miss Bess Sperry.

WHAT CAN SEELY'S HOPE TO GAIN?

Most of you who take the trouble to read this message will know by now that Seely's Hardware, at Yale and Broad, is giving away signs which read "Caution—Watch for Children."

Usually, when a merchant makes such a free offer and especially if the giveaway item is really useful and of a civic sort of nature, some people say "Well, there must be a catch to it" or "they must expect to make a mint from this sort of stunt."

Want the simple truth?

HERE'S THE SIMPLE TRUTH!

We couldn't have been on the same corner in the same building doing business with many of the same people for 59 years without learning a few things about — among other things — the value of business good will. We want YOUR good will wherever you live and wherever our delivery vehicles may pass on YOUR street, and where YOUR children may be playing.

We know that many of you who ask us for a sign to put at your particular danger spot will never make a purchase nor come into our store at any other time. WE DON'T EXPECT YOU TO!

You're welcome to the sign — get it and put it up — WE may pass it on YOUR corner or in YOUR alley and be reminded again of OUR obligation to YOU and YOUR CHILDREN.

So actually, we're helping ourselves.
With three delivery vehicles on the streets — maybe on your street — six days a week — we need the same reminder now and then that every motorist needs — Caution — Kids.

And that's what Seely's expect to gain.

Three Of Five Hilltoppers Say Excessive Issues On Fall Ballot

We were informed this past week that there will be some 50 issues on the ballot this November. With this fact in mind, we were prompted to ask this question of Hilltoppers: "Do you think lumping them together on one ballot, rather than holding separate elections on five or 10 issues at a time is wise?"

Mrs. Edwin S. Anthony, 836 Dorrer-rd, "I think to lump them all together would be best. That way they'd have it all done at once."

Mrs. W. N. Callahan, 158 Haldy-av, "Spread them out and give people a chance to study them instead of all in one lump. I don't like to vote blind."

Mrs. E. Howard Foster, 2194 W. Mound-st, "I think it's better to have them all at once because many times people can't always get away to vote. That way they could get it all done at once."

Mrs. Marjorie Hunt, 27 N. Ogden-av, "Do them separately because people get too confused with so many issues all at once."

Mrs. Ida M. Dowler, 446 Belvidere-av, "About five or 10 at a time would be best. It would give you more of a chance to understand them and to vote wisely."

An editorial in The Columbus Citizen of August 3, entitled "Cecil J. Randall", impressed me very much. In part, it said it seems a shame that all of us forget to tell a man how much we love him, how much we respect him and how great a contribution to our lives he has made —, until he is dead. So here is a "flower for the living." It goes to Irwin A. (Early Worm) Johnson who has just begun his 15th year as a dispenser of good cheer, good will good philosophy and humor, good music and everything else that's good. Columbus wouldn't be Columbus without the Early Worm. In the old days, he helped me mightily in getting my son off to school on time. The kid actually washed behind his ears, he was so engrossed in what the Early Worm was saying and playing! Then later, during the war when we couldn't hear from that same son, the Early Worm's program helped pass the dragging hours. Thousands listen to him on car radios going to work in the morning and housewives listen while they clean up the debris left by departing families; shutins love him too. Besides the fine work he does for many charitable organizations and for shutins, youth groups, ad infinitum, I have it straight from the ones who have benefited by his kindness, that he does a lot of good nobody ever hears about except the ones he helps. He is a loved member of many Ohio families, of which ours has long been one. Thank you, E.W.

Mail — From a vacationer in Michigan: "Having fine time. Wish you were here" . . . From a ditto in Florida: "Wish you were here instead of me. It's hot here" . . . From my favorite shutin in Buffalo: "Now they are accusing me of causing that little 18,000-odd ton pebble to fall from the Falls. They say I jarred it loose, ranting around in my strait-jacket-cast to you" . . . From a brother-in-law in Tucson: "Come out here if you want a real reason for griping about the heat" . . . From an Ohioan in Au Train, Mich.: "While you are sweltering we are sleeping under blankets, love that breeze from the Lake. It has been suggested that we bring it home and put it in the deep freeze for next summer."

The five-year-old son of a friend started to dial the phone to talk to his Daddy whose office had an Adams number before the change of numbers. He had dialed "Ad" and heard the noise and said "Mommie, come here. Somebody is on the line and he has the same pain Grandpa has in his legs."

Heard on tv and radio: A contestant on a quiz show included baby-sitting in a list of occupations in which the worker gets wet, along with window-washing, diving, etc. . . . David Niven, who played the role of a pediatrician, said Heaven protects babies from the stupidity of adults . . . A comedian told these two: Four-year-old Nanty had been taken to church for the first time. Later, she was asked how she liked the service and she said she didn't think one thing was right—the man in front did all the work and then another man came around and took all the money . . . A patient told his psychiatrist that he dreamed about baseball every night. The doctor asked if he never dreamed about girls. The patient said, "What, and miss my turn at bat?" . . . Another comedian said all women do is either put on fat, take off fat, or rearrange it. (He is a very un-funny comedian, as any woman can tell you.)

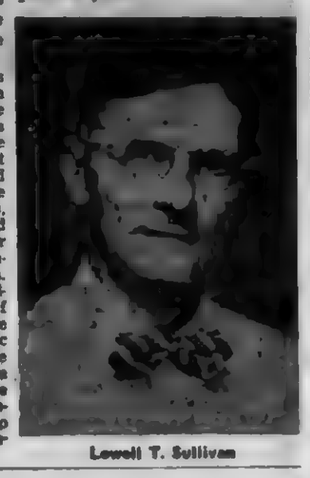
YOUR YOUTH
By Dick Wilson and Bob Schmidt



The new tent given the Hilltop Y by the Mothers Council of the Y passed the acid test this past week. Wednesday afternoon eight Y boys, Harry Graebel, and Bob Schmidt left the Y office for an overnight campout. Arriving at the campsite the boys pitched the tent, just before it started to rain. All during the night and early morning the next day it rained, but thanks to the tent, all of us were nice and dry. Thanks to the Hilltop Y Mothers Club for the dandy tent.

By now each youth member has received the August Summer Fun Club schedule. Gee, wish I were a boy again with all those events scheduled! Looking down the schedule I find there are overnight campouts, free swims, boys and girls craft classes, Indian Guide dancing, movies, rubberneck tours, softball, baseball and treasure and scavenger hunts. Check your schedule every day, gang, and enjoy a summer packed full of fun.

Indian Guides and Indian Maidens are enjoying a summer of outings and picnics. Sunday the Cherokees enjoyed a family picnic at the South Side Y Park. The Indian Maidens are planning a family picnic this Sunday at the South Y Park. This type of program is the planning of the Hilltop Y board of management in developing family program events.

These Eyes —
How Well Do You Know Them?

Lowell T. Sullivan

Lowell T. Sullivan was the personality who might have stumped you last week from behind our tricky mask.

Sullivan and his wife, Laura, have been residents of the Hilltop for the past 24 years and now reside at 3573 Clime-rd. The Sullivan Insurance Agency is a familiar establishment to Hilltoppers and has been located at 2211 W. Broad-st for the past 30 years.

A fact that may not be so familiar to many of those who know him is that he was an embalmer with the Edward E. Fisher Co. before he began his insurance business.

A member of many organizations such as HBA, Hilltop Kiwanis, and YMCA, Sullivan enjoys fishing at Lake Erie on brief vacations.

You probably looked twice at our masked mystery man for next week, but, honest, those eyes are really crossed! It's all in fun, though, and that's probably the best clue we could possibly give you to his identity.

George A. Smathers, U.S. senator from Florida: "As much as we want economy and as pleasant as is the prospect of cutting taxes, with conditions as they are in the world, tax cuts are definitely part of the long gamble."

YOUR BRANCH LIBRARY

Hilltop Library Has Many New Books On Its Shelves, Including 'How To's'

New books received at the Hilltop Branch Library include "War's Unconquered Children Speak", by Allen Cobb. The book is made up of eyewitness stories of real ordinary people. The author talked with the people living today in Greece, Italy, Germany, France and Finland. Some are living in ruined cities, some in ragged tent-cities, some in DP camps. All of them, youths or young adults, are children of war. These are not sob stories, but an attempt to understand and to evaluate in human terms. It makes the reader ask what can be done to solve some of the problems of war before they lead to more war.

"The Execution of Private Slovick," by William Huie, is the hitherto secret story of the early American soldier, Private Slovick, who was killed by the United States for the crime of refusing to FIGHT AGAIN for his nation in combat duty. Since 1864 he is the only American to be executed for such an offense.

"The Long Quest" by Harry Harrison Kroll is the simple story of a famous church man's search for God and will find a response among all those who are interested in a personal glimpse into the life of John Wesley.

"Driven", by Richard Gehman, opens with a simple situation, then peels off layer after layer from the minds of the characters to reveal the unsuspected complexities beneath. So skillfully is this done that the reader hardly realizes how deeply he is becoming involved in the drama and fascinated by it.

"Three Men", by Jean Evans, is a story of stark fidelity in the portrayal of three strange and tortured men, at odds with themselves and with society. "For Fathers Only," by Earl S. Reedstill, concerns the very complex matter of being a father and is useful as a guide for fathers and grandfathers. In recent generations it has been conceded that not only must father share in the creation of a new life, but he must as well be the family breadwinner, counselor and leader. In the present generation, father is expected to be all this as well as an outstanding citizen and a community leader.

"Dancing Made Easy", by Betty White, is a social dance book at an adult level that really makes it possible for anyone to learn to do all the popular dances. It is clearly and thoroughly illustrated for the person wishing to teach himself. There are helpful suggestions for practice and for leading and following. There are chapters on how to organize and run dances.

"Fanfare for a Witch," by Vaughn Wilkins, presents early 18th Century Hanoverian England as the backdrop of an intriguing problem from the very outset. One of the outstanding questions is just why did King George II and his queen so hate and despise their eldest son, the Prince of Wales, to the point of condoning plots against his life? In this storm we find two people of mysterious background, one a mature handsome soldier of fortune and the other the English-born Empress of Morocco, who is loved for her wit and beauty and a little feared for her reputation as a sorceress in close touch with the "Powers of Darkness."

"The Future of Undeveloped Countries", by Staley, deals with the history, strategy and practice of Communism. "The American President" by Hyman, is an authoritative study of the nature of the job, the qualifications needed to fill it and the way it has grown into a unique institution — the headquarters not only of America but of all the free world.

"American Income and Its Use" by Hoyt, illustrates the character of the American family in general and of the government which controls such a large share of the national income, and indicates the need for reshaping fundamental policies on the use of our income both at home and abroad. "George Washington's America," by Tebbel, is a vast storehouse of contemporary material, primarily the first president's letters and diaries, rich with detail, intimate pictures of Washington as he appeared to the people, a Virginia Gentleman and the commander-in-chief as he lived and traveled.

Niagara Franchise Secured By A. & A. Furnace Co.

Another milestone is the success story of Joe Jubert, owner of the A & A Furnace Co., 107 N. Guilford-st, was reached this week with the announcement of his appointment as sales and service representative for the Niagara Co., manufacturers of gas, oil and coal furnaces, as well as air conditioning equipment.

Joe Jubert

According to Mr. Joubert, better known to his friends as just Joe, who started the A & A company in 1944, being permitted to handle the Niagara line is considered somewhat of an honor among furnace dealers.

"The Niagara company has been making furnaces for 68 years and no outfit could stay in business that long without having a top-notch product," Mr. Jubert said.

Joe himself has been around furnaces quite some time and admits he was cleaning them for 20 cents an hour at the tender age of 14.

He attributes much of the success in his present business to the fact that he's always available in any emergency in which a furnace is involved. He recalls that in 1948 he left his Christmas dinner to aid an elderly couple whose smoke pipe had fallen.

"I made only $1.50 on the call at that time, but actually it was responsible for the sale of two furnaces to the same West Side folks a few months later. They purchased a new furnace for each side of their double house."

While the A & A Furnace Co. is by no means a one-man organization, Mr. Jubert does personally inspect every installation the firm makes, he says.

"We couldn't exist if we didn't have buyers of our products and services and I am of the firm belief that this personal touch which I give is responsible for the ever-growing list of satisfied customers and continued success of our organization," he added.

Despite the many hours business claims of his time, Joe, who is a native of Columbus, is an active member of several organizations, including the Hilltop Business Association, Chamber of Commerce, Elks, Moose and Eagles.

Eighth Annual Jr. Olympics Set For Saturday, Aug. 14

Five city recreation department playground leaders have been chosen to reign as queens at the awards portion of the Junior Olympics, Saturday, Aug. 14, at which time they will present awards to the winners of the citywide event in Ohio State University stadium.

Olympia Pappas

Junior Olympics will start this year with Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner lighting an Olympic torch in front of city hall. A relay team will then carry the torch to the stadium, marking the start of the program.

Central Point RR Crossing Survey Findings Given

In a check made at the Mound-st crossing by the B&O Railroad on Aug. 5, between 7:30 and 9:30 a.m., it was discovered that out [illegible] motorists who traversed the crossing in that time, 143, or eight per cent, violated the safety regulations concerning a railroad crossing. The crossing is just west of Central Point Shopping Center.

The survey, which was made in cooperation with the National Safety Council, under the supervision of H. D. Hedges, general safety supervisor, showed that the percentage of Columbus motorists who failed to observe the flashing red lights at the crossing was one percent higher than the average percentage shown in some 70 similar surveys made throughout Ohio.

The state law concerning traffic regulations at railroad crossings maintains that a motorist must come to a full stop and then proceed with caution. However, the surveyors did not count it as a [illegible] just slowed down enough so that they would be able to stop in the event of the approach of a train.

Surprising Amount Of Room Is Found In Stout 'Penthouse' Home

The "penthouse" home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip V. Stout, 2494 W. Broad-st, is a pleasing surprise to guests visiting for the first time.

The five-room home, over Stout's law office, is surprising in its roominess in comparison to its appearance from the outside, and exceedingly pleasing to the eye, owing to the modern and comfortable interior.

The Stouts are doubly proud of their home, since it was completely designed, together with the office below, by their son, Skip, as a problem connected with his studies as a student in the college of architecture at the University of [illegible].

The residence is reached by the concrete steps to the right of Stout's office, which occupies the lower level. A wrought-iron railing runs the length of the stairway, offering safety and added attractiveness. The steps terminate in a concrete balcony-type veranda, surrounded by a wrought-iron railing, where the Stouts may enjoy the cool breezes of the summer evenings. The doors to both the entranceway and the kitchen open on this veranda.

The entranceway opens on the seemingly spacious living room, which is given a feeling of extra dimension by the full-length windows, occupying a space of about 20 feet on the outer wall. The eaves above these windows are designed to extend a certain distance figured on the meridian of the sun in this district, so that the sun doesn't even touch the windows in summer and in winter it extends the entire breadth of the room, warming and brightening it considerably in contrast to the dull winter world outside.

A dominant feature is the stone fireplace at one end of the living room with its sandstone, raised hearth. The cocoa brown walls and the cocoa and beige linoleum tile blend beautifully and are bright-

Home of the Week

The exterior view of the Stout's office and "penthouse" above gives the impression of an attractive but very small home. Actually, it is designed with four rooms of medium dimensions in addition to a lovely, large living room, which is given greater depth by the wide, floor-length windows set in the front wall of stained redwood, visible in the picture.

Bright yellow walls and ceiling, in the kitchen, combined with a Wedgewood green tile floor, lend a festive mood to the otherwise dread "K.P." duties.

Chartreuse, deep hunter green, and mottled gray is the combination of hues artfully displayed in the bedroom. It is brightened to just the right degree by the flare of color in the flower printed bedspreads.

This view of the living room, from close to the entranceway, includes the attractive stone fireplace with its raised hearth and the wide, floor-length windows which offer warmth in winter and cool shade in summer, due to their unusual design.

The eye-flattering dinette with its wheat-colored furnishings, found throughout the house, is located between the living room and kitchen and is separated from the latter by attractive partitions of birch and corrugated glass.

The drapes in the background of the combination den and guest room form a pleasing frame for the sofa-bed and break the monotony of the wall in a colorful and unique fashion.

The Stout's balcony-type porch, attractively railed in block wrought iron, is a perfect spot for sunbathing in the afternoon or quiet, cool relaxation in the evening.

Noisy Floor Board Easy To Remedy

A carpeted floor which develops squeaks can prove quite an annoyance. If it is on the first floor, and the basement joists are not covered with wallboard, they can be stopped by driving thin wedges between the joists and the floor boards.

Thin ends of shingles can be used for this purpose. It will be necessary for someone to walk over the floor in order to locate the squeaking spots.

In case the basement has a finished ceiling, the carpet will have to be taken up. Long finishing nails should then be driven into the floor boards where the squeaking occurs. At least two nails should be used at each noisy spot, and they should be driven at opposite angles. Nailheads can be countersunk and the nail holes filled with wood putty.

Dust And Polish Waxed Floors Once Each Week

Waxed floors should be dusted with a dry brush or cloth and polished once a week. This holds true whether the wax is applied directly to the wood or over shellac or varnish. An oiled mop should never be used on a waxed surface because oil will soften the wax.

Tips On How To Keep Your House Plants Healthy

Foliage plant roots will be much healthier if they are properly watered and are never allowed to dry out completely. When you water plants, use tepid water and see that it reaches their roots. But never let surplus water stand in the saucer under the pot for more than an hour. This may make the soil soggy and perhaps rancid.

Plants need less water on cloudy days than on sunny ones. They also dry out quicker in the summer than in the winter.

Foliage plants usually require water only about twice a week unless their pots are small. Blooming plants require more water. Plants with thin leaves, such as caladiums, often need more water than the thicker leafed ones like [illegible].

Keep plant leaves clean, spraying the foliage plants or going over each one with a moist cloth.

Don't let a hard crust form and stay on the top of the plant soil, because it keeps out the air. Use a fork or similar implement to loosen the soil, but don't push it more than half an inch deep.

Water your plants in the morning so they may have the entire day to drink up the water. Don't let them "go to bed" with "wet feet."

Trees Should Be Fed After Trimming

Just after trimming, if any is necessary, the tree should be fed. Any of the complete plant foods can be used at the rate of about three pounds for each inch of trunk diameter. The food can be scattered on the soil, then turned in or, better still, the bar-hole method used.

In this method of tree feeding a pinch bar or pipe is driven into the ground to a depth of about 12 inches with holes about three feet apart over the entire area occupied by the roots. The fertilizer is distributed in the holes which are afterward plugged with soil. When rains come, the food goes into solution and the entire root system obtains a share of fertilizing elements.

Hints For Selecting Wallpaper Designs

When selecting wallpaper from samples, remember that patterns look smaller on the wall and color shades darker.

Always make the selection in daylight, to be sure of the colors.

If possible have a couple of rolls of the pattern you are considering placed side by side to get the effect of a larger surface.

Avoid large patterns if the room is small.

If you know you're going to live with the paper for some time, don't buy a design that's overwhelming.

If your furnishings are only so-so, use a distinctive wallpaper for [illegible].

Patterned wallpaper should be used where plaster is cracked or uneven, where offsets jut out at strange angles or where fabrics and rugs are too plain.

Niches In Dining Room Offer Color Possibility

If your dining room boasts niches, built-in shelves or any similar modern feature, why not accentuate the fact by painting that particular part in a color which contrasts with the remainder of the wall surface? It can be highly effective — another little touch in making the mealtime meeting place of the family attractive and delightful.

ened by a cherry-red, cotton-cut, shag rug.

A turquoise sofa and chair are mixed with a beige and rose upholstered piece for comfortable conversation. The furniture throughout the house is wheat-colored of a conservative-modern design. The full-length draw-drapes of a heavy woven cotton material feature a red, wine, and chartreuse leaf design on a mottled gray background. Wrought iron stands, lamps complete the room.

Adjoining the living room is a combination guest room and den which may be partitioned off by a folding door of cream and beige, bleaded to form a marble effect. The conservatively modern sofa-bed is upholstered in a rich, brown tweed. The drapes, walls, and flooring match the living room, while a desk and an occasional chair upholstered in a rose and beige leaf design complete the furnishings of the cozy room.

The dining room of this unique home, heated by concealed ceiling pipes, is floored in the same beige and cream linoleum tile and the draw-drapes are the same as are found in the living room. However, the walls are of a sandalwood rose mixed with cocoa brown, making them a delightful off-shade of the original cocoa brown of the living room. The dining table and chairs are in wheat and the chairs are upholstered in the same rose and beige pattern found in the living room and den. The wheat buffet displays a wrought iron lamp with an inverted parchment shade.

Birch partitions topped with corrugated glass form a doorway between the dining room and kitchen. The shelves of the partitions are adorned with attractive planters of ivy and other greenery.

The kitchen, tiled in linoleum of wedgewood green, is surrounded with cheerful yellow walls and ceiling. The long counter top enclosing the sink boasts a green formica top. A dinette set of light wood is upholstered in salmon plastic matching the valance on the green and chartreuse draw-drapes. A unit of attractive birch cupboards completes the cheerful room.

The two sections of the bathroom off the hallway are completely walled in gray tile with a floor of black and cream mottled asphalt tile. A yellow, papered ceiling and yellow ruffled curtains brighten the room.

The walls of the bedroom are of chartreuse with a deep hunter [illegible] panel, in which are sliding doors concealing a huge walk-in closet. The floor of both the bedroom and closet is of gray linoleum tile, mottled with black and cream. Occasional chairs of bright green leather and of chartreuse upholstery blend with the draw-drapes of hunter green faille. Handsome, low shelves of hunter green place books, radio, clock and other such items within easy reach of the sleeper. The spreads on the twin beds are of a panel of taffeta gayly decorated with bouquets of mingled yellow, green, burgundy and cream on a white background with a deep dust ruffle of hunter green faille. The attractive vanity of the wheat-colored suite is lighted by hunter green boudoir lamps with shades of chartreuse.

Son Skip, who was graduated from the University of Cincinnati this past June, is now affiliated with Firestone-Motter, Architects in Canton, O., where he resides with his wife, the former Juanita Krull, and their three-year-old daughter, Jean Ann.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club and its auxiliary are only two of the numerous organizations to which the Stouts belong. He is a past president and is past lieutenant governor of District 8, Kiwanis. Mrs. Stout is a past president of the Kiwanikwe.

OLD-TIMERS LEAGUE

Westgate EUB Suffers 15-11 Upset At Methodist' Hands

By Harry Greshel

Westgate EUB, the first-round champions, were upset by a fighting West Park Methodist team, 15-11, thanks to a 10-run fourth inning. Chuck Dillie's home run was the big blow for the West Park team, which now shares the lead in the second round with the Hilltop Lions. C. Horne clouted a long homer for Westgate EUB.

In a well-played game, New Rome rebounded with an 8-7 decision over Glenwood Methodist and must be regarded as a definite threat in the second round. New Rome combined six hits with three Glenwood errors to score seven runs in the third inning and then staved off Glenwood's late inning bids. First Baseman Shotts was the hitting star for New Rome, with Curt Koons hitting and fielding well for Glenwood.

Hilltop Kiwanis rallied in the fifth and sixth innings for seven runs to win a tougher from the improved Hillcrest team, 11-8. Gurina, the hard-hitting left fielder for Hillcrest, clouted two homers, while his team-mate McInturff hit one round-tripper. Ray McVay hit two circuit blows for the Kiwanis Club.

The Hilltop Lions remained undefeated in the second round of play by trouncing the Hilltop Record squad 23-12. The entire Lion Club was tee-ing off on the ball with base hits too numerous to mention. Crayler, on the mound for the Lions, pitched his usual steady game.

Westway VFW smothered the Northway VFW team by the count of 24-14. The Northway team started out strong with nine runs in the first two innings but ran out of gas as the game progressed. Les Click and Fenner were the big hitters for Westway VFW. Bill Brobst was the bright light in the Northway VFW attack.

Second-round standings are: West Park Methodist, won 2, lost 0; Hilltop Lions won 2, lost 0; Hillcrest Baptist, won 1, lost 1; New Rome, won 1, lost 1; Hilltop Kiwanis, won 1, lost 1; Westgate EUB, won 1, lost 1; Glenwood Methodist, won 1, lost 1; Westway VFW, won 1, lost 1; Northway VFW, won 0, lost 2; and Hilltop Record, won 0, lost 2.

Chillicothe Team Whips Hilltop Y's All Star Players

The All Star teams from the Hilltop YMCA Little 9 League and the Little Bigger League were both defeated at Chillicothe last week by the Junior Midget All Stars and the Intermediate Midget All Stars.

The Little Bigger Hilltoppers jumped into an early lead by scoring three runs in the second inning as Roger Rees and Don Furry scored on an inside-the-park-homer by Chuck Lantz. This was enough to chase Peek, the Chillicothe starter, to the showers. Gallagher, the Chillicothe relief ace, snuffed out the rally and allowed the Wilson-coached team only one hit for the remainder of the game.

While the locals were being held by the Chillicothe ace, the Dolan-coached nine went on a hitting spree to score four in the third, one in the fifth and two in the seventh. Lantz weathered this barrage, but was charged with the loss. Gallagher was credited with the win.

The Little 9 All Stars played a terrific game to throw a scare into the highly favored Junior Midgets but were edged in the final inning 5-4. The locals once again jumped into an early lead as Don Barnes scored in the first, Don Henne and Bill Ingle scored in the third, and Tommy Hartranft scored in the fourth. Once again a Chillicothe relief hurler stopped the locals at this point while the Chillicothe nine went on to outscore their visitors in the final innings.

Mike Cantion was charged with the loss and Clark, who relieved in the fourth inning, gained credit for the win. The loss gave the Engle-coached team the season record of 10 won and two lost. Both defeats were handed them by Chillicothe.

Linden Park Girls Kayo Glenwood's Rocetts By 17-16

Linden Park eliminated the Rocetts, Glenwood Recreation Center's junior girls softball team, 17-16, in a city tournament game Wednesday, Aug. 4, at Linden Park.

Linden Park jumped off to an early 4-0 lead in the first inning, prompted by two Rocett errors and three hits. The Rocetts, not to be denied, fought back in the top of the second by scoring three runs on one hit and two Linden miscues.

Going into the third, with the score being 4-3 in favor of Linden, the Rocetts had a splurge of runs with the aid of two hits, and Linden again helped the cause by committing four errors. Once more, the Linden team came back and matched the six runs to remain ahead 11-9. In the fourth the Glenwood team scored two to deadlock the game 11-11.

The home team then took advantage of five walks, an error, and a single by their first baseman to score six in their half of the fourth for a 17-11 lead, which was never overcome by the visitors.

Although down six runs, the Rocetts did not give up, and came back to score five runs in the final frame, but falling short, absorbed a 17-16 defeat.

The Rocett first baseman, Sandy Walz, collected three runs on three hits. Wanda Cook scored four runs on two hits. Carol Scheiblich tallied two runs on two hits. Emily Neely scored [illegible] runs on no hits, while Judy Creamer and Barbara Fraker scored two runs each on no hits.

"He calls her his 'Queen of the Links'."

"Ah, their courtship began on the golf course, I presume."

"No—far from it. She sells wieners at a hot-dog stand."

Franklin County Agricultural Society Suggests You Bring Family For Whole Day To The Fair

The Franklin County Agricultural Society extends a big hearty welcome to all to visit the 1954 Fair at Hilliards which started yesterday and extends through Saturday Aug. 21, with day and night attractions for everyone.

Wednesday will lead off with the judging of Junior Fair Livestock. Band music during the fair will be provided by various high school bands with a big high school band contest to be the feature attraction Saturday morning. The bands, together with livestock, junior fair floats and farm machinery will make up the big colorful parade Saturday afternoon — Youth Day.

The harness racing program will get under way this afternoon, with night harness racing being staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Some of the best horses and most prominent drivers of the horse racing sport will be at the fair for your enjoyment.

A big Western Horse Show, conducted by the Western Exhibitors Association, will be the feature attraction in front of the grandstand Wednesday afternoon and evening. No charge will be made for seats in the grandstand for this horse show, so come early and select a choice seat, fair officers advise.

Entries as of the beginning of this week point to the largest livestock show ever held with three breeds of dairy cattle, Ayrshires, Jerseys and Guernseys holding

LOOK AT THE 'GLASS HOUSE'

People in . . . shouldn't throw. But we invite you to read . . . the story of the Glass home on page 12 in this issue. You'll enjoy seeing how your neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glass have furnished and designed their attractive bungalow-type home at 740 Wiltshire-rd.

Hilltop Scene Of 17th City Fatality

The Hilltop was the scene of the city's 17th traffic fatality this year.

An employe of the Concrete Construction Co., 386 McKinley-av, was fatally injured Wednesday afternoon, Aug 11, when he was struck by a truck owned by the same firm as he emerged from an unprotected sewer manhole in which he was working at Wicklow-rd, near Harris-av.

Boles, 57, a construction worker, whose last known address was 567 Edward-st, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital after he was hit by a truck driven by Kenneth Tanner, 28, of 2046 Woodland-av.

Local Merchants And Citizens Plan For Huge US 40 Reopening Celebration

SURPRISE PARTY—Claude "Skip" Moss, 66, of 26 N. Westgate-av, retired last week after 47 years as a post office employe, 16 of which were spent as superintendent of the post office annex on Spring-st. Moss, who passed his civil service examination while he was still in high school, was presented with numerous gifts by his fellow associates at a party given in his honor Friday afternoon. In picture above, he (center) accepts congratulations of Postmaster Rowe. "Skip" and his wife, Hazel, will leave Sept. 1 on a motor trip to California where they will spend several weeks visiting relatives.

'Gateway West Jubilee' Set Thursday, Friday, Sept. 23-24

Scores of Hilltop, West Columbus, and New Rome merchants, industries, and civic groups are cooperating in the sponsorship of a two-day jubilee and citizens celebration marking the official reopening of W. Broad-st between Columbus and New Rome.

Official sponsorship of the event, scheduled for Sept. 23 and 24, will be the West Franklin County Associations, according to D. J. Kunz, mayor of New Rome and chairman of the planning group.

Proceeds will go to the building committee of the proposed new YMCA to be built on the west side of Columbus. The West Franklin Group is made up of Hilltop, West Side, and New Rome business and service organizations.

Work will be completed on W. Broad-st, transcontinental U. S. Route 40, in time for the celebration. A lowering and repaving program along the 1.54 mile stretch provides a divided thoroughfare which will link New Rome with the West city limits of Columbus.

Inspired by the fact that Route 40 was the Cumberland Trail which the pioneers followed in their westward trek a century ago, the sponsors are calling the show the "Gateway West Jubilee."

A ribbon cutting at Phillippi-rd, the east end of the stretch, will officially open proceedings at 9:30 a. m. on Sept. 23.

Two housing events, one in Lincoln Village and the "Parade of Homes" in Georgian Heights, will be features of the festival. It will also follow closely the public opening of the new Westinghouse plant on Phillippi-rd.

A giant parade, the selection of a Jubilee Queen, an open air carnival on the site of the Lincoln Village Shopping Center, round and square dancing in the street and an ancient auto race are among the highlights being planned.

Bean Dinner Fun For 40,000; But Tough On HBA Members' Wallets

While the final accounting of the 1954 Bean Dinner committee indicates that the affair was tremendously successful from the standpoint of attendance, it caused many a furrowed brow among those who promoted it.

That's the opinion of C. H. "Doc" Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association. He says that though some 40,000 persons attended the two-day affair and apparently enjoyed themselves, it was made possible through the cooperation of the members of the HBA, who not only provided much of the manpower, but also dug down into their pockets to provide many hundreds of dollars to finance the event.

"Receipts from the stands by no means cover the affair," Campbell said. "Costs, such as entertainment, free airplane displays, the many awards, and advertising and publicity—they all cost money.

"Members of the Hilltop Business Association deserve a pat on the back for originating and continuing this event, the fame of which is state-wide. It is still, as it was in the beginning, a good-will gesture toward the community," he added.

HILLTOP KIWANIS LUNCHEON

Today's luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will be under the direction of the club's support of churches committee, with Roy Kistner, chairman, serving as co-speaker with Ray Anderson and Henry Buegg. Dick Nash will present the invocation.

Ground Broken for 400 Apartments

New Addition For Westgate Manor To Feature All Rentals

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new addition to Westgate Manor—currently the West Side's largest apartment project—were held Monday afternoon on the 25-acre site at the corner of Wedgewood-dr and Eakin-rd, immediately south of Westgate Manor.

Among those present at the ground-breaking ceremonies were D. J. Kunz, president of the West Franklin Civic Association; John Dixon, president of the Hilltop Lions Club; G. H. "Doc" Campbell, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, and William Coulthard president of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club.

The addition to the present 360-living-unit project will contain 400 additional rental units containing, four-, five and six-room suites bringing the total of units to 800. The rents will range from $67 per month for the four-room units to $74.50 per month for the larger six-room suites, according to Vernon C. Neal, developer.

Equipped playgrounds for the tenants' small children will be contained in the new project, and in addition, there will be four tennis courts and a swimming pool 140 feet wide by 130 feet long, for the use of tenants and their guests.

Neal, of Pittsburgh, sponsor and developer of the entire Westgate Manor apartment and shopping center project, expects to begin housing tenants in the new addition by the first of the year.

The shopping center on the Sullivant Avenue frontage of the project is now in the process of being leased. The first tenants now in business there are the Westgate Manor Drug Store, operated by William C. McKinley, who owns several other stores and the Moots Home Bakery, owned by John W. Moots. A laundry and dry cleaning store operated by the Springfield Laundry and Cleaning Co. will be open for business about Sept. 1.

Storeroom leases are in process of negotiation for the other 15 shopping center storerooms including a super-grocery, hardware, and other stores. The stores will give the tenants of the apartment project and the nearby residential area a complete selection of merchandise for their needs. Burgess-Edwards Co. of 10 E. Long-st is leasing agent for the shopping center.

DIGGERS — D. J. Kunz, civic association proxy, and Vernon C. Neal, developer, look over the shovel used Monday at the ground-breaking rites for the new section of Westgate Manor. Stickers on the shovel indicate that Neal has used it in the ceremonies denoting the launching of several millions of dollars worth of projects.

Hilliards School Will Open With Half-Day On Sept. 7

Opening date for the Hilliards schools has been set for Tuesday, Sept. 7, at 9 a. m. with a half-day session the first day. Full day sessions will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 8.

Lunch rooms will open on Wednesday. There will be no change in prices for lunches over last year, which was 20 cents for elementary pupils and 30 cents for high school.

Some bus route changes are necessary, parents on such routes to be advised before the opening day of school.

Pupils may enroll in the first grade if they are six years old on or before January 15, 1955. Beginners are required to bring with them a birth certificate or other legal evidence of age, a smallpox vaccination certificate and a certificate of diphtheria immunization.

New students in the Hilliards schools should contact Mr. Thomas, high school principal, or Mr. Moore, elementary school principal, for enrollment before the opening day of school. The principals will be in their respective offices mornings and afternoons beginning Aug. 23. School authorities stress the importance of this measure because many new students are anticipated this fall.

The faculties for the schools have been completed and were announced this week by M. D. Hartsook, executive head.

The elementary staff is composed of Roy C. Moore, principal; Lillian Traschel, Carolyn Lautzenheiser and Janet Loeder, first grade; Betty Fultz, Cecil Hartin and Madge Johnston, second grade; Ellen Traftzer and Juanita Smith, third grade; Ruby Day and Jean Shaw, fourth grade; Lois Harsh and Ruth Wagoner, fifth grade; Carrie Kidwell and Donald Shaw, sixth grade

Seventh and eighth grades will be taught by Mary Nash, mathematics; Grace Shultz, English; Marilyn Wilson, science, and Samuel Fink, history. Mary G. Duncan will return as director of music.

"VILLAGE" STARRED IN FILM

Street paving operations at Lincoln Village will be featured in a color movie to be released soon by the Portland Cement Association's educational films bureau. Art Mandler, PCA photographer from Chicago, spent Tuesday and Wednesday taking moving pictures of paving work now in progress on Lincoln Village streets.

Approximately nine miles of streets in Lincoln Village are being paved with concrete. Curb is being placed simultaneously with pavement.

Patrolman Chases Car Theives, Hits 6,900-Volt Wire

Patrolman Ray McKnight considers himself a lucky man after running into a 6900-volt wire early Sunday and living to tell about it.

McKnight saw two cars speeding east on Sullivant-av from Central-av about 2:10 a.m. When the two cars took off in different directions, McKnight followed one north in West Park-av to W. Richst. There the fleeing auto attempted a left turn and slammed into a utility pole, shearing it off.

The two men jumped from the wrecked auto, stolen from the rear of 2711 Sullivant-av. McKnight sprang from his cruiser and started after the pair, firing three warning shots into the air.

McKnight then ran into a dangling high tension wire. He suffered a shock that left him dazed, but managed to return to his cruiser and radio for help.

A city linesman, called to the scene, looked at McKnight and shook his head wonderingly. "You sure are lucky. You could have been killed," he told McKnight.

McKnight remained on duty.

LEGION TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Camp Chase Post 96, American Legion, will hold joint installation of post and auxiliary officers at 8:15 p.m., Aug. 27, at Westgate Park shelterhouse. The post degree team, under the direction of Elmer Young, will officiate at the post installation, with Larry Scales assuming the role of installing officer. Mildred Myers will be the installing officer for the auxiliary.

'Rough-Riders' Have Little On Sullivant Avenue Auto Drivers

Mr. Fix-It cuts red tape. If you are unhappy over a traffic condition, a stopped up sewer, zoning, or any of a thousand and one services offered by local government, write Mr. Fix-It. He'll talk the situation over with the proper official and present his findings. The same applies to constructive suggestions for improving conditions. Mr. Fix-It will pass your recommendations on to the right department and see if they are practicable. Address future inquiry of this nature to Mr. Fix-It, in care of this newspaper.

Dear Mr. Fixit:

The rough-riders as portrayed in the television versions of the "Wild West" have nothing on those of us who find it our bitter lot to drive Sullivant-av each day. Granted, Hilltop students are known as "Cowboys", but MUST we be so very realistic about the situation?

Residents of the Hilltop who use the stretch of Sullivant-av between Whitethorne and Richardson will readily recognize what this writer is referring to. Seriously, last summer (1953) the city of Columbus — believing they were improving driving conditions on Sullivant-av—resurfaced the street with some kind of an asphalt mixture that obviously was very insufficient. The heat of last year's summer melted the resurface job and each motor vehicle, bus, truck or bicycle left its indelible impression on the pliable street. Winter came, and these ruts were firmly frozen into shape, and there they remain.

The result of this condition is apparent—you cannot hold your car as you drive Sullivant-av. This writer has followed police cruisers, Columbus and Southern Ohio buses, big trucks, little trucks, and the regular pleasure cars, and without exception, they are "all-over" the street on this area.

The hazard of this situation should speak for itself. True, many country roads may be found in this condition, but they are not traveled so heavily as is Sullivant-av.

If you, Mr. Fixit, can do anything about improving this situation, you will have the undying gratitude of those who daily plod through the ruts of this busy Hilltop thoroughfare.

"Outraged Hilltonia Reader"

Mr. Fixit says: "I contacted the department of engineering and construction early this week. At that time a spokesman told me that the area above mentioned is slated to be retopped before 'chilly weather'

Dear Mr. Fixit:

As you probably know, the streets on the Hilltop are far too narrow to permit safe parking on both sides. Why not restrict parking to one side only, for safety reasons and also to allow a smoother flow of traffic?

North and South Eureka are on

BECOMES SUPER-SELLER

Do you have something to sell? Take a tip from Mrs. J. A. Michel, 1136 S. Champion-av, who can count herself a "super salesman" because she knows how to go about it.

Mrs. Michel had a washer to sell—so she inserted this ad in this paper:

DOUBLE TUB Dexter washer. Perfect running condition. $25. 1136 S. Champion HI. 4-7588.

Mrs. Michel sold the washer by 9 the morning the paper came out and received 25 additional calls that day. That makes 25 people who want to buy a washer. Do you have one to sell? Let them know with a classified ad. They make a super salesman out of the inexpensive. Merely call RA. 1123 or HI. 4-9262 for aid in the best message for your own "salesman"

HIT, HIKE & HUG

The three HTH menaces on highways these days, according to some authorities, are drunken driving, uncontrolled thumbing and indiscriminate speeding. To put it briefly: hit, hike and hug. — The Jax Air New., U. S. Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla.

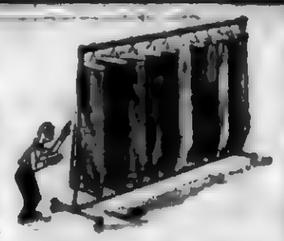
JOHN BURROUGHS

The grounds have been closed again for the summer, although the playing fields, slides and swings will be available for a few weeks.



Mr. Beachler and Mrs. Smith report a happy two months with your children who came in greater numbers this year than in any of Mr. Beachler's previous seasons here.

The six tournament entries last week were very successful, getting five firsts and one second. Roger Bruns was top spot in midget class checkers. Larry Steece was first in midget class and Dave Brophy won the senior championship. In horseshoe pitching, Joe Hanes won the senior and Jack Talmadge took second place in junior division. Brophy also came home with the blue ribbon in senior badminton.

Mrs. Smith wants again to express appreciation to the many parents who came in to open house evening and saw the craft work the youngsters did the past few weeks.

Several youngsters were so regular at these craft sessions and did such nice work they deserve special mention: Perry and Russell Jaccard, Gloria Dearwester, Mattie Miller, Sharon Amore, Ronnie Molner, Jim and John Monsour, Carol and Dan Tigyer, Sandy Athen and so many others who made work with them so much fun.

Beachler wishes also to remind the dads who came to spend the evenings at the horseshoe pits, the badminton courts and baseball diamonds that they made the summer much more enjoyable.

Trivia

From THE EDITOR'S DESK

STRAWS IN THE WIND: We understand that quite a few clerical positions will be open when the Ohio State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation completes its projected move to the brick building on the southeast corner of Central-av and Broad-st. Several of the workers at the present office of the bureau in London, O., have indicated an unwillingness to battle Columbus traffic.

PRIDE GOETH BEFORE A FALL (and next month is September, already) and it looks as though pride is going to cause a bigger fuss over the proposed bypassing of Columbus by the new turnpike. Quite a few Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizens we've talked to have acted real hurt that the state would attempt to go around its (what they consider) most important city. Only a couple have thought about it and decided that maybe we've got all the traffic we can bear.

THRILL OF A LIFETIME was enjoyed by Pfc. Carl J. Latsche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Latsche, 211 N. Wheatland-av, when he arrived home last Friday after 13 months in Korea to greet his young wife and six-month-old son, Michael, whom he had never seen. We can drop the army title now and refer to him as Mr. Latsche for he has been discharged after 18 months service and is living with his young family at 57½ Dakota-av. Latsche is slated to work for Dodson, Kenney and Lindbloom, construction engineers.

OUR MAILBAG THIS WEEK had a letter too short to carry in the letter to the editor column, but certainly worthy of consideration. Even though unsigned, it had some food for thought:

"Why doesn't the city of Columbus think enough of West Mound School to give us a full-time principal, rather than having to share one. Another thing that burns us people in the Hilltonia area is the speed tunnel other motorists have made out of W. Mound-st from Central-av to Wayne and beyond Wayne to Richardson."

A THOUGHT-PROVOKER is the recent statement by the National Fire Underwriters organization that not having your house number plainly visible from the street could mean the difference between your house burning to the ground or merely a minor fire.

Seems that the first minute and each succeeding minute are the most important ones in the extinguishing business. If the fire engine misses your house on the first trip down your block, it may be too late by the time the driver can turn around.

'TWAS REALLY GRATIFYING to see how helpful the county commissioners have been to the Franklin County Fair. That fact was evident at a recent home-style smorgasbord fest for press and others the fair board would like to see friendly out Hilliards-way. Fella next to me said under his breath: "They better be helpful; this is election year." I don't care—I still think they deserve a wee pat-on-the-back, mebbe even a hearty one!

A WEE SMALL BET was won by the editor on the wording of the Pledge of Allegiance and it might prove a real money-maker. Thanks to the Hilltop Lions bulletin, the other day when someone bet me I could recite the correct version of the great affirmation of faith in the American way of life.

Here is the amended version:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands,

One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

County Boys' And Girls' Camp Fund Needs Money

The Franklin County Boys' and Girls' Camp fund committee is sending out an "S. O. S." in order to secure an additional $400 to complete the $3,000 which they had hoped to raise to send 300 under-privileged boys and girls to camp for a two-week vacation along the Olentangy River this summer.

The youngsters who hope to go, are deserving children who for various reasons, would otherwise be left in the city to devise their own recreation. For some of these children, these two weeks in camp may prove a turning point in their lives. The committee has found that juvenile delinquency is definitely discouraged by this summer camp program, which is financed entirely through public donations and every dollar is spent for this work.

Children are outfitted for camp, where necessary, by clothing sent to Doris Ferrel, director of the Juvenile Center, by women's organizations, other groups and individuals.

All donations should be sent to Franklin County Boys' and Girls' Camp Fund, 50 E. Mound-st. Any and all contributions will be welcome in order that these forty additional youngsters may enjoy two weeks of camp life.

More Than 250 Take Part In Junior Olympics Swim Meet Held At Maryland

The Crystal-Grandview Swim Club scored 157 points to win the third annual Junior Olympics Swim Meet held Wednesday, Aug. 11, at Maryland Park Swimming Pool. This meet, sponsored by the Columbus recreation department with the cooperation of WBNS-TV, attracted over 250 participants from city playgrounds and seven local swimming pools. The event was witnessed by 300 spectators.

Scioto Country Club was second with 116 points. Olympic Pool, last year's winner, was third with 108½ points. Other team scores were as follows: Maryland Park Pool, 26; Brookside Country Club, 20½; Lincoln Playground, 4; YMCA, 2; and Medary Playground, 1.

POLIO HOUR SET

Several thousand Franklin County polio emergency volunteers are waiting to go into action next Thursday, Aug. 26 at 7 p. m. when there will be a Polio Emergency Hour throughout the county. At that time, every home in Franklin County will be visited by a volunteer asking for a contribution to the fight against polio. The volunteers hope to raise enough money during the hour from 7 to 8 p. m. to replenish the treasury of the Franklin County Polio Chapter.

STOP FIRES WEEK SET

Fire Prevention Week this year is being observed Oct. 3-9. Its purpose is to direct public attention to the tremendous annual loss of life and property resulting from fire, and to the safety measures which must be taken if these losses are to be reduced.

President Eisenhower, in his proclamation setting aside this one week of the year for nationwide fire prevention effort, has pointed out that safety to life and property is the year-around responsibility of each one of us—as individuals, and as members of our communities and of the nation.

Miles Drive-in Theaters, Including West Broad, Feature Two New Films

Two fine motion pictures, having their first showings in Columbus, are now playing the the four Miles Auto Theatres, one of which—West Broad—is the West Broad Drive-In Theatre. The movies will continue to play the Miles Theatres through Saturday, August 21st.

Main feature is "The Weak and The Wicked" which exposes life behind the walls of a women's prison in much the same fashion as "Riot in Cell Block 11" did to men's prisons. A young woman's experience in two different prisons, one grim and forbidding, the other modern but a prison no less, is the dramatic theme of the picture. The story is based on the real life experiences of Joan Henry, a girl in her 20's, who was framed into a prison sentence because she could not immediately pay off a large gambling debt. Characters include Glynis Johns as Joan, Diana Dors, Simone Silva, Olive Sloan, Josephine Stuart, and many others.

The companion attraction is "Return from the Sea", starring Jan Sterling and Neville Brand, who was catapulted into stardom as a result of his performance in "Riot in Cell Block 11." A large part of the picture was filmed at sea aboard the USS Maddox, a destroyer recently returned from a long tour of duty in Korean waters.

FIRST LT. Ralp D. Lause (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto M. Lause, 759 S. Terrace-av, recently completed a one-year internship at Tripler Army Hospital, Honolulu, and has been assigned to U.S. Forces, Far East. Commissioned in June, 1953, Lt. Lause is a graduate of Ohio State University and is a member of the Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity.

Salvatore's Hold Second Annual 'Dollar Days'

Dollar days to most folks mean an advertised item at the bargain price of one dollar, but, according to Frank and Dante Salvatore, owners of the Salvatore shoe store at the Central Point Shopping Center, they are actually giving away a silver dollar with the purchase of school shoes of the sizes worn by boys and girls of school age up to grade 12.

This is the second annual event of this type sponsored by the Salvatore brothers, with the sale ending at the close of business Saturday. According to the proprietors, indications are that there's going to be quite a jingle in the pockets of many youngsters — between now and time for school to open on Sept. 9.

YOUR YOUTH

By Dick Wilson and Bob Schmidt

Westgate Park Shelterhouse Tuesday, Aug. 24, 7:30 p. m. Mark this down in your diary now! This is the time, place, and date for the Hilltop YMCA Summer Fun Club Awards Night.

Paul Leighninger, chairman of the event, announced this week that the program committee has a terrific program lined up with new and different awards for everyone. All members of the family are invited to attend.

I (Wilson) woul like to take this opportunity to thank all the parents and elder boys who helped me in the baseball program because I will be away on vacation on Awards Night. I would like to be there to give all of you public recognition, because you have certainly earned it, but I will be unable to as I will be eagerly waiting on "Mr. Stork" to pay a visit to my humble bungalow.

Anyway, it has certainly been a swell summer and it sure gives a guy a terrific feeling to know that there are so many people who are willing to give time and effort to insure a good program for our Hilltop youth.

The spirit displayed this past summer has been one I have never seen before. It certainly presents a challenge to our younger leaders for next summer.

Now that summer is coming to a close we are looking forward to our fall school program. Of course, this means that it is drawing close to the time for the annual Hilltop YMCA Membership Enrollment. This is scheduled for Sept. 9, when the business district will kickoff and Sept. 20-29, when the residential drive will take place. This enrollment will be headed by John Broden, Works Manager of GM Terminal.

So—"Y" SURE; JOIN TODAY.

School Patrol Members To Have Mass Induction

Columbus schools will hold a mass induction of all school patrols in Greater Columbus Thursday, Sept. 2, at 10 a.m. at Central High School stadium. In case of rain, this will be held inside, according to N. C. Fawcett, superintendent of schools.

Fawcett stated that this is a cooperative program with the Columbus Police Department, Parochial Schools, and the Columbus Automobile Club joining together for the one-hour festivities. The Columbus Automobile Club, which furnishes the Sam Brown belts, badges, stop flags, etc., has arranged transportation with the ColumburTransit Company so that all patrol members may ride on the buses during the hours of 9 a. m. to 12 noon. The program will be under the direction of M. D. Sheatsley, director of physical education for the Columbus board of education.

Machine Transmits And Takes Phone Messages

Explaining to a Customer the Telephone Message

An automatic answering machine now made available throughout its territory by the Ohio Bell Telephone Company does two jobs.

First it answers the telephone and gives a previously recorded message as an announcement. Then it records the calling party's message and telephone number. The 10-inch answering disc can handle about 250 messages on both sides.

The equipment was developed chiefly for the businessman who needs 24-hour telephone answering other than secretarial or answering service.

Mrs. Genereux Submits French Recipe 'Pouding Au Carottes'

From an old French cookbook comes this week's recipe contribution, the favorite recipe choice of Mrs. Rudolph Genereux, 86 N. Burgesse-av.

Mrs. Rudolph Genereux

"Pouding Au Carottes" combines with traditional French artistry, the most surprising ingredients into a delicious dessert.

Mrs. Genereux was born in Montreal, and has lived in Columbus for the past three years. Her husband is of French descent and the couple has three sons, Marcel, a student at Aquinas, and Roger and Leo, enrolled in St. Aloysius.

An active member of St. Aloysius PTA, the Christian Mothers and Aquinas PTA, the donor also helped to organize the cafeteria procedure and routine now in effect at Aquinas. Many of her friends benefit from her hobby of designing clothes.

"Pouding Au Carottes," or carrot pudding, has been a favorite dessert in Mrs. Genereux's family for generations. A truly different-tasting dessert with healthful ingredients, "Pouding Au Carottes" might well become a favorite in your household, too.

Pouding Au Carottes (Carrots)
1 cup grated carrots (raw)
½ cup shortening or oleo
1 cup seedless raisins or dates and nuts
1 cup grated potatoes (raw)
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon [illegible] soda
1 cup flour
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Sift flour, salt and baking powder, and combine shortening or oleo with grated carrots, potatoes and raisins and alternately mix with sifted flour.

Fill greased pan and steam for 3½ hours. Filled pan should be covered with wax paper in order to prevent pudding from becoming soggy. Remove from pan and serve with hard sauce, a rich fruit sauce, or whipped cream.

If individual portions are desired, steam one hour only.

OHIO RETIREMENT BALANCE

Ohio's four retirement systems have an aggregate balance of $472,406,818 as of the close of July, representing an increase of $71,219,126, or 17.7 per cent, over a year ago, State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy has disclosed.

At the same time, the total bond account of the four systems, including teachers, public employes, school employes and the highway patrol, amounted to $470,215,483 as of the close of July, Tracy said. This was an increase of $73,068,890, or 18.5 per cent, over the total bond accounts of July, 1953.

Is he conceited? Why, he joined the navy to let the world see him. —Gosport U.S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

L. K. Evans has opened a sales office on the Hilltop at 136 N. Burgesse-av, to handle the county-wide sale of Bob Evans Farms Country Sausage in grocery and institutional outlets, it was announced today. Evans comes to Columbus from Gallipolis where he has been associated with the Bob Evans Sausage Plants near Xenia and Gallipolis. Bob Evans sausage is an old-fashioned country sausage made by farmers on the farm Evans reports.

OLD TIMERS LEAGUE

West Park Team Remains The Sole Unbeaten Team

By Harry Grashel

When the smoke of battle cleared after the third set of games in the Hilltop YMCA Old-Timers Softball League, West Park Methodist remained the only undefeated team. West Park scored a 15-7 win over Hillcrest Baptist to keep the top spot. Leading the 21-hit attack for the Methodists were Bill Kearney, Razor, Bill Kuhn, and Brownfield with three hits each. For Hillcrest, Roth, McInturff, and Gurina each had three hits.

Glenwood Methodist swamped Hilltop Record under an avalanche of base hits and runs to win 30-7. Frank Watts, Don Roederer, and Frank Grashel each hit safely five times for Glenwood. Roberts and Dunham led the attack for the Record "10."

In a game between the traditional rivals of the Hilltop, the Hilltop Kiwanis romped to a 13-2 victory over the Hilltop Lions. Chuck Detrick, Kiwanis' reliable short-fielder, led the Kiwanis hitters with three safe blows, followed by Ed Johnson, Rice, and Al Stephens with two hits each. Al McFarland had two hits for the Lions with Ronnie Jones sparkling afield. Curt Wilcox on the mound for Kiwanis permitted only eight safe hits.

Westgate EUB, the first-round champ, belted out a 17-2 verdict over Northway Post VFW. Darrell Horne clouted a long homer for Westgate, with other lusty clouting by Arrasmith, Kistner and Hysell. B. Sanderson and Bob Blakesly were the top performers for Northway.

In the closest game of the evening, two other great rivals met with Westway Post, VFW, downing New Rome 13-10. Gus Sora had a perfect four-for-four day for Westway with Teammates Bill Blevins and Ryan hitting safely three times. Pitcher Jim Smith had a perfect four-for-four day at the plate for New Rome.

WORTH HIS SALT

Hot Summer Hint: Although perspiration may cause a salt deficiency, most people in normal work get enough salt in their food to make it up. Those who work extraordinarily hard in high temperatures may find it advisable to take salt tablets. But people with heart disease, kidney trouble or high blood pressure should take the precaution of having medical advice before increasing their salt intake too much.

Glenwood Furies End Season With Unbeaten Record

Glenwood Recreation Center's Furies finished the regular season play Tuesday, Aug 10, with an undefeated record by beating the Glenwood Tigers 18-6.

Delong started the game, but wildness forced him to retire. He was relieved by Skip Martin, who chalked up his sixth victory without loss.

The Furies started strong with a four-run first inning and matched this total with four more in the second. The Tigers made a valiant bid to get back in the game as they plated four runs in the second inning.

The Furies continued to pick up runs in early innings, and broke the game wide open with a seven run fifth inning.

The Furies had on their hitting shoes and banged out 14 hits, four of which were for extra bases. Although he was forced to leave the game early, Sonny Delong had a perfect two for two at the plate. Skip Martin hit two long triples and Marty Crawford had two doubles to his credit.

Jay Hess scored two of the Tigers' six runs. Stickler started on the mound for the losers and was relieved by Kara. Both pitchers were hit freely as Strickler took the loss.

Much of the Furies scoring was due to keen base running as they freely stole with few fatalities.

Carryout On Whitethorne Under New Management

Announcement was made this week of the change of ownership of Thornton's Carryout to Reed's Carryout, 458 Whitethorne-av, just around the corner off Sullivant-av.

Ivan Reed, 887 Belvidere-av, is the new owner. The store will carry all cold carryout legal beverages, soft drinks, mixes, and party snacks. Reed spent 24 years with the army and is now retired as a master sergeant. He has been a Hilltop resident the past 18 years.

Thornton, well known local sports figure, has operated the carryout for many years. Hours for the carryout under new management are 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Monday through Saturday.

HIS DOWNFALL

Lady — Here are five pennies for you, my poor man, but tell me how did you come to get this low?

Beggar — Al, my dead lady, you might well ask — once upon a time I was like you — gave away magnificent sums to the poor every day.

AAA OFFERS SERVICE CARD

A new service signal card is available to all members of the Columbus Automobile Club, which should be used in case of emergency road service, according to Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club. On the back of this signal card is the mileage from Columbus to 200 cities.

This service signal card will be placed under the windshield wiper when a member has called for emergency road service, stated Campbell. This will aid AAA garages to locate the member's car in the quickest possible time.

Cubs Drop First Tilt In 7-5 Bow To Hawks Players

By Dick Wilson

The Cubs lost their first game of the season 7-5 last week at Westgate Park in the Hilltop YMCA-Westgate Little Bigger League as they were upset by the Hawks.

The Cubs jumped into an early lead as they chased Chuck Lantz from the mound in the third inning. Jim Topping came in to relieve the Hawk's star left hander and allowed only one run for the remainder of the game. Larry Bigler started for the losers and was relieved by Larry Steece when he got in trouble in the third inning. Bigler was charged with the loss.

The Cub's season record was still good enough after the loss to still hold the number one spot in the league standings to be crowned the league champs. Tom Reeves and his team will be presented championship awards at the Hilltop YMCA Awards Night on Tuesday, Aug. 24, at 7:30 p. m. at Westgate Park.

The Cards won their first game of the year as they upset the Jets 3-0 on a two-hit shut-out pitched by Dearwester. The victorious pitcher issued three walks and his mates made three errors behind him. Dave Snavely started for the losers and was relieved by Dick Furry. The two pitchers gave up three walks and the Jets made four miscues behind them. Snavely was charged with the loss.

The Championship Cubs will play a league All Star Team for the final game of the year next Friday at Westgate Park at 1 p. m.

League Standings are Cubs, 8, 1; Hawks — 4, 2; Jets — 2, 4; and Cards, 1, 5.

LOVE FOR AN UNSEEN SAVIOR

By Rev. O. G. McClure
Pastor of Hilltop Church of God

The Apostle Peter made the following statement: "Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory."

Rev. O. G. McClure

Although we have not seen our Saviour, we can love him. But before we can love him, we must have a personal knowledge of him. Knowledge is the basis of true love.

We may know our Redeemer by a personal experience through his promises and grace. We may know him by the teachings of the Holy Spirit. We may know him by the testimony of his friends. We may know him by the declarations of the Bible. We may know him by divine revelation.

His invisibility does not affect our knowledge of him. His invisibility does not affect our obligations to him. His invisibility does not affect our relations to him. His invisibility does not lessen our responsibilities to following him. Neither does it lessen our obligation in obeying his gospel.

On one occasion our Saviour said: "He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him."

The secret then in being able to love our unseen Saviour is found in our knowing him and keeping his commandments. This is the channel through which our Saviour will manifest himself to us.

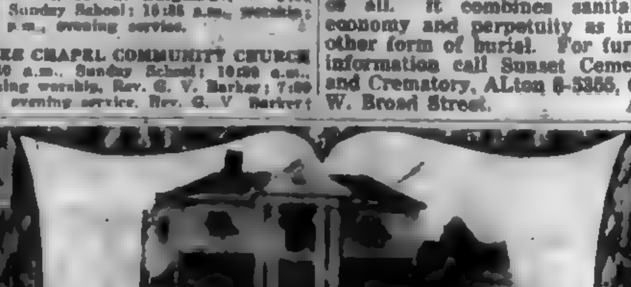
About Cremation



Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareous are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALton 8-5355, 6959 W. Broad Street. Adv.

things that NEVER CHANGE

It will take you only about thirty seconds to read these lines. Yet in that short half minute, the map of the world will change.

Somewhere in the world, a long-quiet volcano will erupt with a roar that sends tons of molten lava streaming down the mountainside to alter the face of that mountain and the lives of the villagers at its base. As you read this sentence, a tiny, pink line of coral is emerging in the Pacific to start a new island which, God willing, will never become another Guadalcanal. An earthquake shakes part of Japan; a new skyscraper foundation is begun in an American city; a giant glacier changes its course in Labrador:—all as you read this page.

So it's apparent that the only constant thing about this old earth of ours is its inconstancy. Nothing is permanent except the moral truths of the Creator who fashioned this changing world in which we live.

God's truths are rockfast. No matter how the world changes, God's truths will always exist for man in an otherwise impermanent world. From the pulpit or altar of your church, these truths and values become self-evident to all. And perhaps that is why, in these days of stress, more men than ever are turning for assurance to God and his churches for truths that have never changed . . . and never, never will.

For I am the Lord, I change not.—Mal. 3:6.

FARMER OF THE WEEK

Ray Dellinger Got His Start In Farming As 4-H Youth; Is Ayrshire Fan

To look at Ray Dellinger, owner of Brook Lea Farm on Amity-rd about five miles west of Hilliards, one finds it a bit hard to accept the statement that he has been farming for 33 years. But there are a good many others who, like Ray, really got started in farming when they first joined a 4-H Club at the age of 10.

Ray Dellinger

Known far and wide as a breeder of fine Ayrshire cattle, he just sort of drifted into Ayrshires, he says. He was farming where he now owns, as a tenant for H. B. Donley who became enamored of the Ayrshire cow and suggested to Dellinger that they specialize in producing good cattle of the breed.

From that casual beginning has grown a herd of 86 fine cattle, all of which are produced for sale as breeding stock and out of which a milking herd of 26 cows at present and 35 to be milking in winter is maintained.

Besides his own 135 acres, Dellinger farms 100 acres for his father, Fred Dellinger, and 45 acres for his uncle, Charles Windle, renting about 40 additional acres to provide sufficient pasture for his stock. All the work is performed with the help of one hired man on a permanent basis with an occasional extra hand or two in rush periods.

Dellinger also produces hogs for meat, keeping an average of 15 to 20 brood sows. There are about 150 hogs being readied for market by Dellinger at the present time.

There could be no question in anyone's mind that he is a good man with livestock, on observing the concern he showed when the Record photographer went to take some pictures at Brook Lea, lest the flash would disturb the animals in the barn. He led out the senior yearling Brook Lea Empress III, winner of the Tri-state Section of the Mid American Classic, to be photographed in daylight where the brilliance of the camera's flash would be absorbed.

Graduating in 1930 from Hilliards High School, Dellinger was the first secretary of the Hilliards chapter FFA and was also president of the First Ohio State Junior Fair, celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. As vice-president of the Franklin County Agricultural Society and director of the cattle department of the 41st annual county fair, with all his farm responsibilities, he hasn't had much time hanging on his hands in recent weeks.

What time he manages to find, he probably devotes to trying to think how to comply with the current crop allotment programs of the federal government and figure out some way to get his fields to grass without the customary wheat for a starter, which he says is going to be a tough problem. Aside from his crop acreage plans, the chief and dominant concern of this farmer is the reduced income from his dairy business, this year, he says, being the worst he has ever known, with his monthly milk checks averaging about half the normal figure, while there is no indication of any early drop in the price of things he has to buy to run his farming operations.

Hershberger Will Become Swim Coach At Detroit

Richard L. "Dick" Hershberger, former West High, Capital University, and Ohio State student, will assume his new position as head swimming coach and teacher of American history at Allen Park High School near Detroit this fall. Hershberger was graduated from West in June 1948, where he won seven letters, three each in football and swimming and one in golf.

Graduated from OSU with a bachelor of science degree in education at the June commencement, he received his commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army reserve at the same time. Hershberger will continue as athletic-director and counselor at Grand River Academy in Austinburg, O., until starting the new post. Recently married to Miss Ella Lee Hunt of Franklin, Ky., Dick and his new wife will make their home in Allen Park, Mich.

Goodale Edges New Rome Girls In City Tournament

Goodale edged New Rome out of the citywide senior girls softball tournament by a 24-22 score Tuesday, Aug. 10, at Haunts playground.

Goodale got off to an 8-4 lead the first inning. New Rome outran Goodale 5-0 to lead 9-8 going into the third. In the third Goodale tallied 14 runs with the aid of 14 New Rome errors. Meanwhile, New Rome scored only once. New Rome outscored Goodale 6-2 in the fourth to shorten the latter's margin 22-16. In the top of the fifth, New Rome could score only six runs, giving Goodale a 24-22 victory.

For New Rome, it was Mary Ann McCann scoring four runs on five hits, Janice Streitenberger tallying five runs on one hit, Ruth Hoffman scoring three runs on three hits, Jackie Craven registering three runs on one hit, Dorothy Smith getting one run on three hits, Virginia Rings and Iris Roush making one run on two hits each, Shirley Benson scoring two runs on one hit, Nedra Leist making one run on one hit, and Polly Roesch marking up one run on no hits.

A Scot was playing golf with his wife when the thought struck him: "Is this yer' birthday? Well then, I think I'll give ye' the hole.

West Park Wins Y Intermediate Church Loop With No Hit Games

By Dick Wilson

Ellis Breckenridge and his West Park Methodist team clinched the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church League last week at Westgate Park by blasting DeMolay both games of a scheduled double-header.

The first game started out as though DeMolay really means business, but the West Park nine got to Klein in the second inning and scored six in the second, five i the third, and eight in the fourth. While the Methodists were collecting 19 runs off Ron Klein, Earl Gates did not give the DeMolay a hit and issued only one base on balls.

The second game was a carbon copy of the first as the Breckenridge-coached team clobbered the "Big Blue" 16-0. Gates once again did not give up a hit in the four innings played before the game was called because of darkness.

All nine members of the championship team managed to cross the plate in each of the two games. This scoring parade was led by Little, Edsell and Breckenridge, who were credited with five runs apiece for the two contests.

Hillcrest Baptist gained revenge over Avondale EUB for a second-round defeat by slugging the Murphy-coached nine by 19-13. This game was tied at three different times and the lead changed four times before Jerry Tallman's team went on a scoring spree in the fifth inning to mark up 11 runs. The "Black and Orange" tried to rally in the last inning, but the rally was put out after four runs scored. Every member of both teams managed to score at least once during the game. Thornton and Lanch led the victors scoring attack with three runs apiece. Clark led the losers with three tallies.

John Kuntz was the winning pitcher and Don Brown was charged with the loss.

Next week will see the league champions playing an All Star team made up of players of the other three teams in the league. The game will start at 6 p. m. at Westgate Diamond 4. Ralph Murphy of Avondale EUB will manage the All Stars

Members of the All Star Team are: DeMolay—Hooper, Klein, Edwards and Koontz; Avondale—Royot, Clark, Steirhoff and Shoemer; Hillcrest Baptist — Kuntz, Thornton, Swicegood and Bieber. Harold Martin of DeMolay was unanimously voted a position on the team because of an injury incurred at the first of the season which stopped him from actively participating. Don Brown of Avondale EUB will be the alternate in case one of the players fails to show up for the game.

Cowboy Pigskin Prospects To Meet At Magly Field This Friday Evening

By Woody Owen

West High School's 1954 football prospects will meet with the coaching staff for their initial practice of the season Friday evening, Aug. 20, at 6 p.m. at Magly Field. Only the juniors and seniors are asked to report at that time.

Sophomores will not report until the beginning of the new school term.

West Coach A. M. "Mack" Pemberton and his assistants are faced with an almost complete rebuilding of the Cowboy eleven as only seven lettermen are returning to form a nucleus for the 1954 squad. However there are high hopes of improving over the one-win, one-tie and seven loss record of last season's squad.

The letter-winners returning are. Ends: Jim Vincent, Dana Deshler, and Jim Kruckelburg; tackle, Dave Randall; guard, Dan Green, All-City and All-Greater Columbus selection last season; quarterback, Larry Nafager; and fullback, Ron Nebringer.

Practice equipment was to have been issued earlier in the week, but the coaching staff asks that any junior or senior who has not received theirs to date to report to the stadium between 6 and 8 p.m. Thursday evening.

Blazers Drop Senior Girls' Game To Livingston, 24-14

The Glenwood Blazers were defeated 24-14 by the Livingston playground team in a city wide senior girls softball game played Wednesday, Aug. 11, at Haunts playground.

The Blazers were the Glenwood senior league runners-up and represented Glenwood, along with the first place New Rome team, in the tournament.

The Blazers jumped off to a 3-0 first inning lead on two hits and one error, but the Livingston team came back strong and scored five runs in their half of the first. Six errors helped the visitors send to bat, and the errors, combined with two hits, put them ahead.

The Blazers were able to account for one run in the second, but Livingston kept with the times by sending nine players to bat and scoring more to bring the score 8-4 going into the third.

The third inning gave Livingston their biggest inning as they put together seven hits with one error and netted six runs. The Blazers, not to be counted out, came back to score three and trail by a 7-14 tally.

In the fourth, after the Blazers were unable to add to their score, the visitors kept their band wagon rolling by adding three more after two men were down.

The Blazers began to blaze again in the fifth and added four, bringing their game total to 11, and three more in the sixth, but this was not enough as the Livingston team ran its total to 24, eliminating the Blazers from the tournament, 24-14.

The Blazers showed very good fielding as Second Baseman Annette Forgrave fielded a ground ball and turned it into a neat double play.

For the Blazers, Sandy Tasmer had one run on three hits, Ann Calland had one run on no hits, Eleanor Curry scored two runs on one hit, Sue Atkinson tallied three runs on three hits, Martha Calland had one run on no hits, Annette Forgrave scored two runs on two hits, Sonja Forgrave scored one run on no hits, and Barbara Stocker tallied three runs on two hits.

Glenwood Upsets West Park In YMCA Junior Softball By 7-4 Tally

By Harry Grashel

In the upset of the year, Thurman Donaldson's Glenwood Methodist Juniors defeated the first and second round champs, West Park Methodist Juniors, 7-4 in a very interesting game. This was West Park's first defeat of the season.

Glenwood solved the offerings of George Breckenridge for 10 safeties, with Steve Byerly leading the hitters with three bingles while John and Jerry Hummel had two hits each. George Tittle held the West Park hitters to five hits, T. Author getting two of them.

West Junior Hi-Y won a slugfest from Westgate EUB in the other game on last Thursday's schedule. Don Furry led the 17-hit assault for Hi-Y with four hits, while Dick Furry was belting out three hits. Link, Herold and Francis each had two safeties. Dave Snavely was the big hitter of the game with two triples and two doubles in four trips to the plate. Liston and Christoff each hit safely twice for Westgate.

Today's schedule finds Westgate 8 the stage for play between West Jr. Hi-Y and West Park Methodist and on Westgate 4 a match between Westgate EUB and Glenwood Methodist.

YOUR HILLTOP LIBRARY

14 New Books On Shelves Reviewed For Information, Pleasure Of Readers

Among the many new books, both fiction and non-fiction recently received by your Hilltop Branch Library are the following fascinating titles—fascinating, at least, to those who have formed the gratifying library habit.

"Children Are Artists," by Daniel M. Mendelowitz, suggests the proper attitude which parents and teachers should take toward children's art work in order to stimulate artistic expression.

"How to Plant Your Home Garden" by Henry B. Aul, is a complete guide to home landscaping. There is information on what to plant, how and where to plant around the house.

"Don't Cry for Me," by Mary F. Roseborough, is a memorable story of young love, courage and adventure laid in the pine lands and rivers, the hunter's paradise that is Northern Florida.

"Doctor at the Crossroads," by Elizabeth Seifert, is another of her Doctor stories. It is a vivid, warm, exciting and deeply human story of a young country doctor and his young and charming wife.

"In His Hands," by Edwin Balmer, is the story of a young doctor who falls deeply in love with a girl he knows is suffering from a dread disease. He knows they will have only a few years of happiness but there is always hope that medical science will find a cure aided by the power of prayer in which he is a firm believer.

"La Cucina," by Rose L. Sorce, is a complete Italian cook-book, full of the secrets that make Italian home cooking so simple and satisfying.

"The Royal Box", by Keyes, Lady Laura Whitford, the high born but impoverished widow made no secret of her deep-rooted dislike for Americans, though she never explains the reason for it. She openly favors an attractive French cavalry officer for her lovely browbeaten daughter. A party was arranged for the theatre and by the end of the evening a murder was committed. By morning, the inspector had discovered the murderer and goaded the perpetrator of the crime to a confession of guilt.

"Beyond the Hungry Country," by Stinetorf. More at home in black Africa, where she was born under a trailside bush, than in America where she must go for her education, Laura Woodbury is a creature of two widely divergent cultures, and under guidance of her "Aunt Bessie" back home who called her "a little heathern" because she saw "black" more readily than "white,' created a "attern rich with adventure, humor, and varied personalities.

"The Offshore Light,' by Franklau. There were no reporters, no dignitaries, no farewells. The chartered plane took off unobserved. One of the world's leading statesmen was being spirited away, into retreat in the south of France. You will find a delightful story which is well worth reading. You will want to know why this celebrity in official seclusion is being watched and feared.

"Private Interests," by Baichin, is a story of a British factory being torn apart by its own private industrial revolution. Walter Lang, the managing director, sees himself as an artist who will shape the business to his own will and to his own satisfaction.

"Thieves' Hole" by Howarth. The Sunday Times, London, says, " a first-rate thriller with a good story, real characters and distinguished writing." A thriller of distinction. Thieves Hole is a mysterious cave in the sea cliffs.

"Houdini on Magic," by Houdini, is a fascinating book which reveals one of the most ingenious and colorful personalities of recent times. It tells far more than any biograph-er could. It is an interesting document for students of magic.

"The Betrayers" by Chatterton, is a tense and dramatic behind the scene story of a Washington witch-hunt. A young nucleur physicist was the object to be destroyed by Senator Floyd Glavis, headline hunter and rabble-rouser extraordinary.

"More Power to You", by Schneider, is the story of how man learned to master the elements and make them work for him. Now you can understand engines without being an engineer. There are many simple simplements to do and several working models to build out of simple things found around any home. These experiments and models help to clarify the basic principles of power and they are great fun as well.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

IF I WERE YOU

It's easy to say the quick, sharp word
That will injure through and through
The friend you have always held so dear—
But I wouldn't, if I were you.

It's easy to spread an idle tale
That perhaps may not be true,
And give it wings like thistledown,
But I wouldn't, if I were you.

The word once spoken, if harsh and unkind,
You must ever bid adieu—
Though you may speak them if you will—
But I wouldn't, if I were you.

Miss Florence Stone of Indianapolis recently published a volume of poems, titled "Rose That Opens." One of the poems in this delightful book is about my favorite shutter, and it is as follows:

For those of us who run the busy route
In search of pleasure, fame or silver loot,
It is a thrill (a thrill we can't ignore)
To find a friend like her at our door!

In solitude, in quietness, she lives
A worthier life, by far, for she gives Us things on which to build; for which to yearn!
She shows the way—we can but meekly learn!

A message from her is a melody
Played on her heartstrings — for her heart can see
Much plainer than the eyes can keenly sense
The kindred hearts—their meaning; their intents!

If you would like to know what the state of Ohio, the American Legion and the faculty of the Home are doing for the war orphans of the state, take a drive over to Xenia. Go out Home Avenue and turn in through the big gates of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home. The grounds are beautiful; everywhere you will see happy youngsters, and courteous, friendly matrons, teachers, nurses and other employees. We stopped at the chapel first. The obliging caretaker proudly showed us the new organ, new seats, floor and lighting fixtures which had been donated by several patriotic organizations. There are magnificent school buildings, an auditorium, and new cottages in which the children live. We were told there are still a few children of World War One veterans at the School, but most of them are World War Two orphans, with perhaps a few Korean War orphans. Our informant was not too sure about that. About 1915, an article appeared in an Ohio newspaper which said that after the children of Civil and Spanish-American War veterans had been graduated from the O. S. & S. O. Home, it would be made into a home for crippled children!

Mail — From Newark: "Wasn't that a sweet tribute to the Dionne quintuplets in this morning's Ohio State Journal (Aug. 10)? If you are permitted to reprint from other papers you could pass along these lines from the editorial: 'Once again the Dionne quintuplets have captured the eyes of the world, but this time the mist of sadness instead of the light of joy is reflected' " . . . From Columbus: "For the first time since the roaring twenties, I am in style, thanx to Dior" . . . From a Mom in Cincinnati whose only son recently left for the Air Force: "Bob left Monday. He wouldn't let us go to the station with him. I guess he was afraid I'd cry all over and embarrass him. I had made me promise that he wouldn't see me cry, and by golly, I made it! Who knows when we are right or wrong —maybe now he will think I didn't care enough to cry over him. How much worse those millions of moms felt when there was a war on, when their sons left!" . . . From the mother of a rancher in Healdsburg, Calif.: "My son never married. Guess he has his hands full with his old lady and his cows. When I hear him rounding up a bunch of recalcitrant heifers (he starts easy by saying 'Now girls, be reasonable!') I never knew there were so many names for uncooperative females. Guess he thinks I am out of earshot, but crafty old me, I never miss a thing."

The booklet is available upon request to the Department of Industrial Relations, 221 State Office Bldg., Columbus. Also copies will be distributed to school boards and superintendents' offices for redistribution to students.

COUNTY TO MAIL TAX BILLS

Tax bills were mailed Saturday, preparatory to the opening Monday of real estate tax books for the last half of 1963, Newton Thatcher, county treasurer, said.

Many taxpayers will call for their bills at Thatcher's office. The county treasurer estimated $9,500,000 will be paid by Sept. 27, when the books will close.

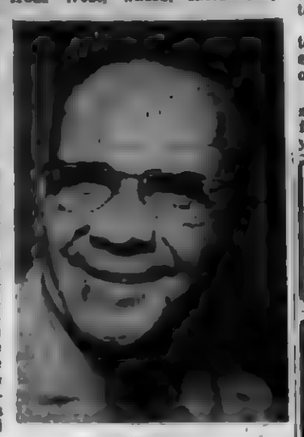
Those Eyes —



How Well Do You Know Them?

The cross-eyed character behind last week's mask probably didn't stump you at all. Who else could it be but—Bill Coon!

A well-known figure about the Hilltop for the past 30 years, Bill resides with his wife, Dorothy, and sons Alan and Bill, at 338 N. Warren-av.

Bill and Dorothy were, as he terms it, "high school sweethearts" and both were graduated in 1931 from West, where, incidentally,

Bill Coon

Bill was a cheerleader for three years.

Starting out on his own in the depression years, Bill's first job was at $7 a week as a mechanic's helper. He is now manager of the outdoor advertising department at the Haire Sign Co.

Bill belongs to the Hilltop Lutheran Church and is an active member of the Westgate Masonic Lodge and the Hilltop Lions. He has been an important asset to the Hilltop Minstrel Show for the past nine years. He has played endman for several years and interlocutor for the past two years.

For many years, Bill's main interest was showing western horses although he claims he's "too old for that stuff now."

Nothing — not rain, sleet, or snow, will stop our mystery man from appearing next week. Do you know him?

TIPS ON SAFETY AFLOAT

Safety statisticians, who don't like to rock boats or toss wet blankets, nevertheless point out to summer pleasure seekers that about 1,200 people a year are drowned in accidents involving rowboats, motor-driven boats, canoes and other small craft.

Carelessness, recklessness, sudden storms, high winds and dangerous water conditions are mostly to blame, although 10 per cent of drownings are caused by unseaworthy boats or motors conking out.

Inability to swim contributes to many fatalities; good swimmers, too, have been drowned because they wore heavy boots or clothing.

A Texas kindergarten teacher asked her tots to write down words beginning with the letter "M". Wrote a five-year-old lass — "Mmmmm-good."

Travel And Vacation Should Be A 'Family' Joy And Experience

A travel feature prepared by Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club, in cooperation with the American Automobile Association.

Travel is intended to be a family experience. The whole family going together, doing the same things and getting fun out of them. It can be, and should be, the sort of activity that ties mother and dad and the youngsters into a happy, understanding group.

We were talking the other day about family trips, when someone brought forth an attractive little magazine called "The Fisherman" and introduced not one, but two, articles appearing in the same issue touching on this matter. The common interest of these families was, to be sure, fishing, which in these days has come to be a major attraction of the open road.

One of them, covering the opportunities of charter boats available at salt water fishing ports along our coast line, recounts how the novice aboard has landed a Wahoo, "one of the big top prizes to be taken from the gulf stream grab bag." The novice was the author's 13-year-old daughter.

The other feature is directed to the right point with its title, "Why Be a Fishing Widow?" The author, Marion Rubinstein, brings up the question of children, as well as wives, passing along his advice from the head of the psychology department of the University of Miami:

"I always advise parents of an only child to take that child to a beach where he or she will meet children of the opposite sex when the child is only a year old. Later, I counsel them to take their only child to a playground for the sooner the child learns to socialize, the sooner he or she will become a well adjusted person."

And from a doctor, this advice: "The female child should be taken in hand by the father and deliberately taught to be a fisherman or a golfer. Sincerely, these are the two great classes of sports widows."

And finally, from a minister: "Common hobbies, like fishing, can add much to the stability and strength of a marriage, provided those hobbies are in themselves wholesome and recreative."

That seemed to make a world of sense. It doesn't necessarily have to be fishing. There are countless other interests, hobbies and avocations to be followed along the travel lanes of our land—and very few in which any member of the family, regardless of age or sex, need be excluded.

More and more families these days hold pre-trip planning sessions, when they unfold maps and touring literature and chart a course that includes their common interests. The result of such a conference more often than not will be a successful vacation for all. Why not try it around your house and see how it works for you.

AAA Tells You How To Stretch Travel Dollars

As a suggestion on vacation trips, the A.A.A. offers the following tips on stretching your travel dollar:

1. Drive during the early part of the day, so that you can stop in the late afternoon in plenty of time to find the type of accommodation you want at the price you can afford to pay.

2. Visit travel attractions that offer you something worthwhile for your money, avoiding "tourist traps."

3. If possible, plan your vacation for the spring or autumn, avoiding peak travel seasons when roads and overnight accommodations are crowded and prices at their highest.

4. Consult your local travel counselor for practical advice and guidance on getting the most from your time and money.

Above all, there is the reminder that trying to cover too much distance with too little time and money takes the pleasure out of the vacation trip. Add up your vacation time and money. If you don't foresee enough days or sufficient funds to make the trip you planned on, shorten your objectives to derive the most from your vacation.

Let's Explore Ohio

In the shriek of slim jets and the roar of bulky bombers, the 1954 National Aircraft Show over Labor Day week-end of September 4, 5 and 6 at Dayton, birthplace of aviation, will draw 300,000 motorists.

'WHAT, NEVER?'

'Motion Sickness' Is Problem On Increase In Modern World

(Editor's note: The following is presented in the interests of better community health by your Christmas Seal agency. Pamphlets on a variety of health subjects may be obtained free by phoning or writing the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, 546 Oak-st, Columbus.

"What, never?" . . . Well, hardly ever."

Even the Captain of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore" occasionally suffered the pangs of sea-sickness. You don't die of this horrible malady. You only wish you would.

The fact is that modern science, instead of controlling sea-sickness, has caused it to become more widespread. More and more ways of traveling have been invented, and more and more people are going places. It is now known that it isn't only sea travel which brings on that awful feeling in the pit of the stomach. Planes, trains, and cars can also be villains.

The Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County points out that "motion-sickness" would be a more suitable name for it than "sea-sickness."

In wartime experiments, thousands of military personnel suffered in the cause of science by being jounced in swings, spun in tilting chairs, flown through turbulent air, and bounced about in small boats on rough water. One result of their sacrifice has been a precise definition of the signs of motion-sickness; drowsiness, pallor, cold sweating, salivation and swallowing, nausea and vomiting — appearing in that order.

Among other things learned was the fact that motion-sickness is not "just your imagination." It's always caused by motion, even in the classic case of the old lady who got sick before the ship left the dock. Boats do move while tied up. Inexperienced travelers were found to be more susceptible, but really rough travel will make nine out of 10 persons sick.

The Tuberculosis Society suggests that motion-sickness is a problem for the doctor and pharmacologist, as well as for the engineer. Shock absorbers, gyros, and other devices to stabilize the equilibrium of vehicles aren't enough.

Some types of motion are almost impossible to abolish mechanically.

In recent years drug compounds have been found to protect the passenger with some success, providing him with an internal "stabilizer." Physicians today can prescribe several remedies almost as effective as the sailor's favorite — "go sit under a tree."

What You Can Do About The Weather

There's nothing much you can do about hot weather except talk about it (remember Mark Twain's crack?) But there are quite a few things you can do about yourself which, if they won't air-condition you 24 hours a hot day, will help you to be a little less hot.

First of all, take it as easy as you can. Relax whenever and wherever possible. Don't worry about either the heat or the humidity — don't even talk about it! Get plenty of sleep.

Eat sensibly. Salads and fruit are O.K., but they're not enough to keep you going. You still need proteins, carbohydrates and fats for energy and for strength to get through the uncomfortable days.

Eat an extra hearty breakfast in the cool of the day, go light on lunch. Cold foods are not cooling (except psychologically), because it's not the food but the calories they contain that raises body temperatures. So don't pass up hot dishes.

Drink plenty of water — 12 to 15 glasses a day — cool but not necessarily icy; iced drinks actually interfere with the body's temperature controls. Alchoholic drinks, no matter how cold you make them, just make you hotter.

Wear light, loose, porous, light-colored clothing; avoid exertion in the sun. Be glad if you perspire (or even sweat!), for that's the body's way of refrigeration through evaporation.

WARMTH FOR COOLTH

Add Hot Summer Hints: Baths and showers with lukewarm instead of breath-taking ice-cold water not only are easier to endure but they're also more cooling. In the middle of the day, try soaking your hands and forearms in cool water for several minutes, also splashing your temples and face. Just letting cool water run over your wrists will help a lot.

Many Hilltop Residents Enjoy Late Vacations And Explain Why

Although the usual three months Ohioans figure on as summertime are almost spent, several Hilltoppers disclosed this week, through a survey made at random, that they have chosen the later part of the season for their vacation trip.

Their reasons were varied. Some thought it was more economical to travel during the end of the tourist season, some thought the weather was more comfortable in August and September, and still others chose a late vacation date because it was the last chance they'd have to enjoy the summer sun before the long hard winter set in.

At any rate, they all seem to have fine ideas on how to spend a vacation.

Mrs. Percy A. Jackson, 213 Powhatan-av, "We're leaving tomorrow on a motor trip to North Carolina. Then we're going down the coast and take a ferry to Washington. My husband and son, Dennis, and I will stay in Washington for two days and return on the Skyline Drive."

Mrs. Laura Fisher, 76 N. Wayne-av, "I visited my son in Chicago the week before last. I took the bus and it was just a wonderful ride, very comfortable. That brand new underground bus station in Chicago is just marvelous. Everyone should see it. I enjoyed the loop too. I liked shopping in the wonderful stores like Marshall Fields and the Fair store."

Robert J. Keeley, 2800 Vanderberg-av, hopes to go to Florida the first part of September. However, he has his fingers crossed because his vacation isn't a certainty yet since his work is of a fluctuating nature. He says, "My wife and I are planning on two weeks at Daytona Beach. This will make the fifth year in a row that we've spent our vacation there. We always drive down. It's close to Miami but a lot more economical."

Mrs. Andrew J. Haley, 167 Lechner-av, "My husband and some friends and I spent a week in the latter part of July at a lodge at Lake St. Mary's. We had a lot of fun boating and fishing, although we didn't catch many fish!"

Mrs. J. W. Alberty, 137 S. Burgess-av, "My husband and our six-year-old son, Johnny, and I visited my husband's family in Welch, W. Va., in the latter part of July. We were gone a week on our motor trip."

Mrs. Willard Harper, 3057 Palmetto-av, "My husband and I and another couple just returned from two weeks in Canada. We had a lovely vacation at Beechwold Lodge at Peterborough, Ont. We spent a lot of the time fishing. As we were leaving we ran into two more Hilltop couples checking into the same lodge. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grabill, 1890 W. Mound-st, and former Hilltoppers Mr. and Mrs. Joe Case."

Mrs. J. P. Dillin, 2487 Elliott-av, "My husband and I spent two weeks in July motoring through the Smokies. We didn't mind driving in the mountains a bit. It was just beautiful. We stayed at Pigeon Porch, Tenn., and enjoyed swimming in a private pool at the motel."

Eugene A. Long, 3300 Wicklow-rd, "My wife and I and our two children took a week-long motor trip during July. We visited Pennsylvania, Niagara Falls, Canada, and came back through Detroit. The children got a big thrill out of walking under the falls. We stood directly under Prospect Point which recently crumbled away. We all enjoyed touring through the Ford plant in Detroit too."

C. F. Jacobson, 310 Derrer-rd, "My wife and son, Bill, and I just returned from three weeks in Wisconsin. Bill had the time of his life deep sea fishing in Lake Superior and he caught several beautiful lake trout. On the way home, we visited friends at Shell Lake who were celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary. I was the best man at their wedding."

Paul Kirby, 2726 Grace-st, will leave the latter part of this week for Canada. He and several friends have rented a cabin at one of the lakes there where they will spend the week fishing.

Mrs. Richard Curtiss, 265 S. Burgess-av, "My husband and I and my parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Nipp, 234 S. Harris-av, and our 12-year-old son, Dick, just returned from a three weeks trip through the West. The trip was sort of in honor of our 13th wedding anniversary which was Aug. 13. We visited San Francisco, Salt Lake City and the Grand Canyon, among other places.

Glass Home Built Three Years Ago

A pedestrian's-eye view of the Glass home on a lovely summer's afternoon includes the simple lines of the trim stone and shingle house as well as the velvety lawn dotted with flowers and shrubs making a colorful setting for a truly lovely dwelling.

Features Many Innovations In Bungalow Plan

By Grace Durflinger

The lovely home featured this week is located at 740 Wiltshire rd, and was built three years ago by its gracious inhabitants, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glass.

The one and one-half story bungalow-type home of pale green shingle and stone is surrounded by a neatly trimmed lawn, bordered with evergreen shrubs and colorful flowers. Green and white permanent aluminum awnings protect the windows from sun and precipitation as well as the porch, which is brightly arrayed with a coat of green deck paint and a black wrought iron railing and corner post.

Upon entering the living room of the five-room home, one is pleasantly greeted by a combination of glowing India rose walls, white ceiling, and gray carved pile carpeting. A fireplace at one end of the room is faced with gray tile and a mantel of birch topped by a full width mirror.

The furniture throughout the lower floor of the home is of gleaming dark mahogany combined with the warm hue of birch woodwork.

In the pieces furnishing the large, inviting living room and the colorful tones they have used in the decor, one can easily see the owners' love for flowers. A shaded floral design is reproduced on the gray carpeting, as well as in the companion pieces of carpet of shaded gold, rose, and green on a deep gray background. The cotton woven drapes are flowered, too, with hearty dashes of deep rose, yellow, blue, and green on a muted gray background. Even the white china lamps, which grace each end of the blue upholstered sofa, feature a delicately painted bouquet, and a rocker-type easy chair is upholstered in a muted rose floral design on a beige background.

Eye-catching pieces in the room, which is combined with a dining area, include a dark mahogany spinet piano, plainly an object of artistic craftsmanship, a two-tiered, glass-topped coffee table, and an attractive glass paneled bookcase, both of dark mahogany. Displayed on the bookcase are the graduation pictures of the five Glass children in a five-paneled frame.

In the compact dining area is a two piece suite made up of a dark mahogany Duncan-Phyfe drop-leaf table and large china cabinet where a lovely silver tea service is displayed. The tea service was given to Mrs. Glass in appreciation of the 13 years which she served as president of the missionary society in her church.

The combination kichen and dinette, which Mrs. Glass finds just the right size for comfort and convenience, is light and gay with white walls and countertops and backing of bright red linoleum. The floor is also covered in linoleum with a cream background spattered in red and black and trimmed with a bright red border. Birch shelves flank the window over the sink which boasts pert curtains of a red, black, and maize antique print on a white background and trimmed with white organdy ruffles.

Kitchen and dinette are partly partitioned by a counter, terminating in circular shelves. The dinette set is of chrome and red formica and is upholstered in red leatherette. The area may be lighted by a little brass wall lamp with a glass chimney.

Mrs. Glass is very pleased with the hallway location of her utility and guest closets off the living room. This same hallway gives access to the two lovely bedrooms on the first floor. The walls of the first are a petal pink with ruffled curtains of dainty white organdy which are exchanged in winter with burgundy drapes. The fringed carpets are of a floral design on a burgundy background. The three-piece mahogany bedroom suite is completed by a boudoir chair, which, in addition to the vanity bench, is upholstered in a gayly flowered pattern of rose, burgundy, green, pale chartreuse, and white on a gray background.

The second bedroom, with its combination of bright yellow and green, is a sight to gladden any weary soul on a dull, dreary day. The walls of "cheer" yellow are a warm-as-sunshine background for the curtains of ruffled white organdy. The right touch of additional color is provided by deep green shag rugs and green trim on the yellow chinelle bedspread. Adding a final dainty note to the room is the pair of crystal boudoir lamps with frilly shades of yellow taffeta.

The tile bathroom is decorated in burgundy and yellow with white enamel fixtures. It features a huge linen press.

A large single bedroom on the second floor is reached by a carpeted stairway off the living room. The stairway is concealed by a door.

The walls of the room are pale green with shaded green carpeting on the stairs and hallway and matching green shag rugs in the room itself. The room features

The Glasses spend many of their spare moments working in the yard, keeping it beautiful for their own enjoyment as well as for visitors and passersby. Mrs. Glass is shown working on the colorful bed of cannas, while her husband stoops to trim around a young tree that will afford them a great deal of shade in a few years.

In the background of this view is the dining area. The lovely china cabinet attractively displays Mrs. Glass' shining silver tea service together with crystal and china.

The red and white kitchen bespeaks its own merits as an attractive room with its corner shelves and perky curtains as well as a convenient working area for the lady of the house.

The general motif of warm rose and gray in the Glass living room is highlighted with flowers—flowers everywhere—as bright garlands and bouquets of blossoms are reproduced in carpet, drapes and upholstery.

Home of the Week

The gleaming mahogany spinet is another point of interest which draws the attention of visitors to the living room of the hospitable Glass home.

Dining Set Designs More Varied Now

The new dining tables and chairs, offered in a greater variety of designs and materials, usually are adaptable to more than one purpose. Removed from the dining room, a chair will fit in nicely as an occasional piece in the living room, while a dining table also may perform double duty as a room-divider.

Some tables have tops that raise to dining height or lower for cocktail use. There is a trend toward over-sized tables that back up sofas for room division, and also more numerous are oval tops which give the dining group a sense of intimacy.

Designers also have produced interesting and highly functional dining storage units, equally suitable to the environment of a combined living-dining area or a room used only for dining. Providing maximum storage space, these pieces can be found in all the popular veneers and in the whole range of furniture styles from 18th Century to casual modern and ranch designs.

Three Causes Given For Stucco Cracks

There are three common causes of stucco cracks. They may develop if the house settles. Improper mixing or application of the stucco is another cause. Or cracks may appear if there is any movement of the lath or other base to which the stucco has been applied.

Metal lath, instead of wood, should always be used in stucco work. If moisture penetrates to wood lath it will expand and something will have to give. Usually it's the stucco.

USE PROPER PRIMER

Porous surfaces, such as wood, plaster and wallboard, must be sealed with the proper primer as specified in each case. Otherwise the finish "strikes in" unevenly and does not give the best results.

TIP ON FAUCET WASHERS

Leather washers should not be used for hot water faucets and valves. They don't stand up long under the high temperature. Fiber washers should be used.

Expert Says Some Weeds Aid Soil

"Some day, you may be proud of a crop of weeds in your garden," says Dr. Firman E. Bear, Rutgers University soils expert.

The reason is that certain weeds accumulate minor plant food elements, says Farm Journal. Ragweed and lamb's quarter, for instance, both help store up zinc in the soil where they grow.

To say that soil needs organic matter is not enough, says Dr. Bear. It needs a variety of organic matter. And that's where he thinks certain weeds eventually may prove to be valuable and thus achieve respectability.

CAUSES PAINT TO PEEL

Excessive condensation on the inside of windows may cause paint to peel from the sash; or it may send water down into the frame and cause paint to peel on the outside of the house. Water vapor going through wooden walls can do just that.

REMOVING DRIP STAINS

Drip stains, found under window sills and door frames, can be removed by scrubbing with a cleaning solution composed of one cup of trisodiumphosphate in a pail of hot water. Then rinse off the solution with plenty of hot water.

TO BANISH 'FOGGY LOOK'

Occasionally, highly polished furniture develops a "foggy look". To remove it, dampen a clean piece of cheesecloth with a solution made from one quart of clear water and a tablespoonful of vinegar. Apply it to the surface, rubbing with the grain.

WAX PROTECTS CORDS

Some wax or paraffin rubbed on the Venetian blind cords will make them last much longer.

DON'T SHAKE PAINT

For best results in painting, do not shake the can to mix the pigment with the liquids. Pour off the liquid content into a clean container, then stir the pigment in the can with a wide flat paddle, working from the bottom up. Add the liquid again, stirring while you do it.

AAA CLUB LISTS VARIOUS THINGS TO APPLY IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

"What would you do in case of an accident during a trip away from home?" asks Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club. He suggests "Seven Simple Steps." They are intended to help you meet what could be a difficult and trying circumstance.

1. Stop immediately after an accident.
2. Determine the extent of injury to individuals and give all the aid and comfort you can. However, don't try to move anyone who may be unconscious. You'll be helping plenty if you stop severe bleeding and keep the victim warm.
3. Call the police! If anyone is injured the police will bring an ambulance and physician.
4. Get names and addresses of all possible witnesses.
5. Check your surroundings carefully—the position of the cars, license numbers, and anything you feel has bearing on the accident. Step off distances, if possible.
6. Do not discuss the accident with the other party; do not admit liability. Remember that you have an insurance company to handle the claim against you. So leave the handling to your insurance representative.
7. Report immediately to your insurance company the details of the accident, even though it may appear trivial.

large walk-in clothes and storage closets in addition to the maple bedroom suite and the dainty old-fashioned boudoir rocker.

Two enviable features of the Glass home are the breezeway and the recreation room—still incomplete.

The breezeway, connecting the kitchen and garage, may be screened in for summer use and has storm windows for winter weather-proofing. A floor lamp and comfortable porch furniture make it a pleasant spot for cool summer relaxation.

The basement of the home is soon to be divided by a partition to form a recreation room and a utility room. The rooms are nearing completion. The walls have already been painted a warm yellow and the floor is laid in asphalt tile of green, yellow and gray. The sole furnishings of the recreation room to date are a ping pong table and a desk where Glass, an insurance agent, puts in a good deal of time.

Both the front and back lawns of the Glass home are highlights that draw the attention of visitors and passersby. The couple greatly enjoys keeping it trim and colorful. The large backyard is dotted with well-kept flower beds. Among the beautiful plants are some three-foot hibiscus and a bed of bright red cannas surrounded by marigolds, which is seven feet in diameter. The canna bulbs that the Glasses plant each year and give to their friends, have been in the family for decades. Zinnias, asters, and marigolds make a colorful border along the low, trim hedge at the rear of the lot.

Glass will soon be allowed to spend all the time he wants in pursuing his hobby of gardening and beautifying his home, for he will retire in December from the Prudential Life Insurance Co. after 30 years in the business. He has won many district and local honors in his work and is still leading his office at the time of his retirement.

The couple belongs to the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, where Mrs. Glass has spent 13 years in missionary work and several years as choir director and pianist.

The Glasses have five children, all graduates of West High School, and now are the proud grandparents of nine grandchildren.

FAIR BAND CONTEST

Clair Barnard, 3920 Fremont-av, director of the West High marching band, dance band, and orchestra, will serve as one of the three judges who will preside during the band contest Saturday at 10 a. m. at the County Fair at Hilliards.

The eight bands appearing in the contest from throughout the county on Saturday, Youth Day at the fair, will each receive $50 and in addition, the winner will receive a handsome trophy in recognition of their prowess. The other two judges in the event will be columnists Johnny Jones and Don Mack.

PAINTING A BULL'S HEAD to be used in the citywide pageant tonight, Aug. 19, are Kelly Richards and Bob Young at Glenwood Recreation Center. The head will be used in a "picture" of a bull fight. Posing in the picture will be John Miller and Bob Young as the bull, Bobby Schublich as the matador, Kelly Richards as the pickador and Cahal Scheibliek as a dancer.

SEES REAL NEED

Mrs. Barbara Canny Opens Hilliards Kindergarten To Aid Pupil Adjustment

For quite a while now Mrs. Barbara Canny, along with many other mothers in the Hilliards area, says she has been aware of the need for a kindergarten. Since there is no room in the local school system to provide fo a kindergarten, the burden of educating children in the transition from family life to group training falls upon private facilities.

For this reason, Mrs. Canny has decided to open th Busy Bee Kindergarten which will be located in her home at 204 Linda-rd. The basic aim in her work with the children is to help them make the social and mental adjustment which the first grade teacher with a class of 35 to 40 children cannot work out individually. Another important goal which she will strive for it to help the child learn self expression so that he can more adequately participate in first grade work.

The 29-year-old Hilliards mother has had one year of college plus extra art training. She has done a great deal of volunteer work with children such as in church nurseries and so forth, and writes children's stories in her leisure time.

There will be one room in the Busy Bee Kindergarten for classwork and another for play. The kindergarten facilities are adequate to accommodate 12-15 children in each of the two sessions. The morning session will be held 9 to 11:30 a. m. and the afternoon session will be held 1 to 3:30 p. m.

The daily schedule will consist of stories, records, a play period, cookies and milk, and special projects. The latter will include learning to count and to make the numbers, learning to color and name the colors, learning about children of other lands and the names of their countries, learning to print their own names, working with clay, learning to cut with scissors, learning to tell time; learning to polish their own shoes, painting with water colors and finger paints, and weaving. Once a month, there will be a field trip to places of interest such as the zoo, Fort Columbus, the fire department, and a visit to the public schoool.

Open house will be at the Busy Bee kindergarten on Sept. 25, which will also be enrollment day. Enrollment requirements are that a child be at least four years and eight months old. Mrs. Canny has recommended that each child have a complete physical examination before enrollment, and would appreciate a record of each child's immunizations and communicable diseases for the kindergarten files.

The first semester will start Oct. 4 and end Jan. 15 with Dec. 17 to Jan. 3 for Christmas holidays. The second semester will begin Jan. 17 and end April 29.

For further information, Mrs. Canny may be reached at her home at FR. 8-7700. She will also be glad to meet with any interested parents immediately following the Mothers' Club meeting to be held on the evening of September 18 in the Grade School Auditorium in Hilliards.

Teach Children How To Escape From Home Fire

Many young victims were found huddled under a bed or in a closet—obviously having had no idea how to save themselves, an Eastern fire chief recently reported. If they have been trained in periodic home fire drills, they might have been able to escape. Show your children at least two ways to get out of the house from their bedrooms. Wake them up at night to practice this "drill"; they may need to remember the instructions when they are foggy with sleep. If a rope is needed to get them out, provide a rope—and show them how to use it.

Be sure they know how to test a door before opening it in case of fire. They should place the palms of their hands against it; if it feels hot, the hallway is filled with deadly heated gases and the door should be kept shut. If it does not feel hot, open it slightly, head turned away, door braced with foot. Pass one hand across the opening to test heat of the air. If the hallway appears safe, it can be used as an exit.

STILL HOSPITALIZED

One of two women injured in a collision on Georgesville-rd near Sullivant-av Sunday night, was still in Mt. Carmel Hospital Tuesday.

Della Roberts, 60, of 6393 W. Broad-st, was listed in good condition. A companion in the car, Elizabeth Boyer, 52, of 1604 Fernhill-av, was treated and released. The accident occurred when their car went out of control, sheriff's deputies reported.

AWARDS FOR WORKERS

Westinghouse Electric Corp., which operates a plant west of Columbus, paid its employes more than $110,000 during the first half of 1954 for ideas on how to improve the company's operations.

During the first six months, 16,-266 suggestions were submitted by employes of which 3264 were adopted. The number of suggestions was up 21 per cent from the corresponding 1953 period.

their district show at the 1954 Franklin County Fair. Officials of the Junior Fair report they have more exhibitors for the fair than ever before.

A family ticket for man, wife, all children under 12, and car permitting admission to the fair all week can be purchased at the office or at the gates for $3. Round and square dancing will be held every night sponsored by Hilliards Post 614, American Legion. Friday's program will feature a tractor pulling contest, open to all, to begin at 12 noon. It is to be supervised by the Franklin County Farm Machinery Dealers Association.

The Activities Tent will permit Fair Visitors to see and watch the various Junior Fair activities, such as King and Queen selection, 4-H Style Revue, 4-H demonstrations, safety speaking contest, and 4-H recreation and rural arts contest.

There are plenty of good eating stands on the fairgrounds which means fair visitors can enjoy the whole day and evening at the fair. For real enjoyment and wholesome fun don't miss the 1954 Franklin County Fair. (Editor's note: No kidding, you'll have barrels of fun and the exhibits are truly educational.)

Hilltop Office Mgr. For Ohio National Bank Will Complete Special Course

Robert E. Kneisley, manager of the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank, will leave Aug. 21 for two weeks atendance at the school of banking at the University of Wisconsin, in Madison. This will be his third year and bring graduation from the school, which requires two weeks resident attendance each year for three years to earn the certificate of graduation. Throughout the year between resident sessions students are required to do extension work involving problems in all phases of banking.

The present high standards of banking service in communities throughout the country will be enhanced by attendance of bank officers at this specialized banking school.

Mr. Fixit says: "A spokesman for the traffic regulation and engineering department told me, upon my inquiry in this matter, that before any action can be taken prohibiting parking on both sides of a street, a petition containing the signatures of at least 25 people living in that area must be sent to the traffic commission which will convene for regular meetings in about a month. The petition should be addressed to the traffic commission in care of the traffic regulation and engineering department at city hall."

HURT IN FALL FROM TREE

Robert Fugate, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Fugate, 632 S. Roys-av, suffered possible head and internal injuries in a fall from a tree near his home Tuesday morning. He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital by the Fire Department emergency squad. His condition was listed as fair late Tuesday.

PIGEON RACE RESULTS

Garrett Allwine of Southern Flying Club, Inc., won the 86-mile race from Bainbridge, O., Sunday, 8-15-54, with a speed of 1,332.05 yards per minute. He was also second with 1,324 yards per minute. Charles Clark was third with 1,313.77 per minute. Twenty lofts shipped 354 pigeons. Two lofts gave no report.

TO ADDRESS LIONS

Richard J. Anderson, assistant to the director of Battelle Memorial Institute, will address the Hilltop Lions Club at 6:30 p. m. today in the Colony Restaurant. He will speak on aspects of work in progress in various sections of the institute.

BASEBALL RECEIPTS

West Franklin County Kiwanis Club enriched the funds available to the Big Brothers to the tune of $2,850, according to the club officials, with the members' participation in the recent Kiwanis Baseball Night at Red Bird Stadium.

STRIPPED OF 'WHEREAS'S'

Here Is Ordinance Paving Way For Vote This Fall On Annexation Of Franklin Township

Editor's Note: For the benefit of Franklin Township residents, the following summation of the major portions of the ordinance paving the way this fall on annexation to the city of Columbus is presented. Only the "whereas's" and other legalistic phrases have been deleted from the ordinance passed on July 26 by city council and approved the same day by Mayor Sensenbrenner.

According to the ordinance, its purpose is to assure the inhabitants of Columbus an orderly program and area of expansion, and at the same time, give Franklin Township residents the chance to use the services of the city.

It declares that annexation is necessary to accomplish these objectives "for the immediate preservation of the public peace, property, health, and safety" and that the proper method is by balloting next fall.

The following area would be involved in the annexation:

Beginning at the northwest corner of Franklin Township and the center line of Trabue-rd; eastward to the east line of Franklin Township, then southward following the Scioto River and the west right-of-way line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, to the west bank of the Olentangy River and the corporation line of Columbus.

Then southward to the corporation line; then westward to the corporation line as established by Ordinance 6085; then westward to the city corporation line and the intersection of the corporation line of the village of Valleyview.

Then eastward, northward, westward, and southward with the corporation line of the village of Valleyview, to the Columbus city limits; then westward with the corporation line to its intersection with the corporation line as established by Ordinance 34563; then westward to the east line of Joan Heights Subdivision.

Then northward to the north line of the subdivision and the south line of Valleyview-dr; then westward to the west line of the subdivision; then southward with the west line of the subdivision to its intersection with the corporation line of the city of Columbus.

Then westward and southward with corporation line to intersection with corporation line as established by Ordinance 35039; then southward and eastward to the corporation line as established by Ord. 34596; then southward and eastward with the corporation line; then eastward and northward with the corporation line to its intersection with the corporation line as established by Ordinance 34596.

Then eastward to the intersection with the corporation line as established by Ordinance 37958; then southward and eastward to the west line of a 9.56 acre tract owned by L. Savage; then southward to the south line of the tract; then eastward to the east line of the tract and the north right-of-way line of the B and O Railroad.

Thence northeastward with the railroad right-of-way line to its intersection with the city limits; then eastward with the corporation line as established by Ordinance 25131; then southward, eastward, southward, and eastward with the corporation line to its intersection with the corporation line as established by Ordinance 402-48.

Then southward and eastward to the intersection with the east line of Franklin Township, and the west line of Marion Township, the point being in the center line of the Scioto River; then southward with the east line of Franklin Township and the center line of the Scioto River to the southeast corner of Franklin Township; then westward to the southwest corner of Franklin Township.

Then northward with the west line of Franklin Township and the east line of Prairie Township, to the place of beginning. The area contains 22.93 square miles or approximately 14,675 acres.

The City Attorney is hereby authorized to prosecute the proceedings necessary to effect such annexation. This ordinance is declared an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval by the mayor.

Are You Ready To Send Your Youngsters BACK-TO-SCHOOL ?

Just a few weeks now and our streets will be alive again with thousands of youngsters on their way to school.

And what an important time this is! No one knows better than mother. There is the problem of new clothes, new shoes, school supplies of all kinds. In general it is a time to restock to take care of the youngsters needs.

Why not take advantage of these days before the end of August and not be extremely rushed in doing this necessary shopping?

And better yet, why not plan now to do all this shopping right here on the Hilltop among your locally operated and owned stores. These business people are your neighbors and throughout the years have worked for everything that is good for the Hilltop. They deserve your business.

But better yet, you will find their quality merchandise among the best and their prices in line with any in the city. And you don't have that terrific strain of finding a parking place downtown or shoving your way around in the crowds.

Yes sir, your shopping can be a pleasure right here on the Hilltop.

THESE PROGRESSIVE HILLTOP BUSINESS FIRMS SUGGEST THAT YOU DO ALL YOUR SHOPPING ON THE HILLTOP

First Federal's Hilltop Branch Sets Open House For Saturday

Souvenirs For All Visitors At New Building

The formal unveiling of the new First Federal Savings and Loan Association building at the northwest corner of W. Broad-st and Warren-av, will be marked by an open-house, to be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Favors will be presented to everyone. No business will be transacted until the following Monday.

Almost a year of construction work has gone into the new Colonial type building, which features a drive-in window as well as a night depository. Ample parking space is available for more than 30 cars.

First Federal, with present offices at 2369 W. Broad-st, 53 E. State-st and at 2450 E. Main-st, is an outgrowth of the Hilltop Savings and Loan Association, founded in 1922. The original office was located at 12 S. Wayne-av.

The organization moved to 2369 W. Broad-st in 1925 and in 1936 the name was changed to First Federal Savings & Loan Association when a federal charter was issued—the first such charter to be granted to a savings and loan company in Columbus. The First Federal was also the first local savings institution to have its accounts insured.

Operations of the firm were expanded again in 1935 with the opening of the Downtown office and in 1951 with the opening of the Bexley office.

According to officers of the institution, hundreds of Hilltop families have acquired their homes through loans made by First Federal.

Heading the organization, which has assets of more than $29,000,000, is Willard C. Eidson, who became president 27 years ago. Herbert Deems, a director and secretary for 25 years, will continue to serve as manager of the Hilltop office. Assisting Mr. Deems in the management of the office will be Nelson Greene, assistant cashier.

Visitors at the openhouse will also be greeted by another person, Miss M. Lucille Glick, assistant secretary, whom they have long associated with First Federal.

Others who will serve at the new offices in various capacities include Virginia Murphy, Lorene Washburn, Margaret Colliver, Marjorie Wallace, Nora Grabill, Marjorie DeRolph, Jeannine Ellingsworth, Jo Ann Ryan and Judith Vernon.

Those who have played important roles in the success of the First Federal include Edwin H. Stauch, vice-president; Dr. T. R. Fletcher, treasurer; Dr. T. S. Fox, and Morris Lopper, general counsel. They have each served as officers or directors for more than 25 years. Mr. Stauch and Dr. Fletcher were members of the original board of directors. Paul J. Solomon, cashier, is also a director and manager of the downtown office.

Among the services to be offered by First Federal are insured savings accounts, home loans, Christmas club, safe deposit boxes, money order checks, travelers' cheques, customers' checks cashed without charge and government bonds issued and cashed.

The building was constructed by Robert W. Setterlin & Sons Co. The architect and designer was Arthur C. Lenander. Mr. Lenander designed the Bexley office of the First Federal.

INTERIOR of the new Hilltop office of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association features modern elegance.

Bids Readied For Building Of Franklin-twp Firehouse

Will Go On The Site Purchased From Ternstedt Division Of GM

The architects were preparing bids this week for the new Franklin Township firehouse and fire department headquarters, with completion at the site at 4100 Sullivant-av hoped for the spring of 1955.

Township trustees approved the plans last week for the structure, which will be erected on a 2.99-acre, triangular tract of land purchased last year from the Ternstedt Division of General Motors.

The structure, which will front on Sullivant-av, will be approximately 100 feet across at its front, and 96 feet from front to back. Of brick, it will feature a 45-foot wide apparatus room with three access doors, a 24-foot wide training room to the right of the entrance, and a fully-equipped 12 x 14-foot communications room at the left of the [illegible].

Bids, which may be on the whole job of general construction or on its component parts, will be opened on Sept. 16.

The new building, which will house Fire Company 2, in addition to serving as fire department headquarters for the township, will be built from funds provided by the present fire levy, with no additional expense for its construction planned.

Architects are the firm of Ramsey, Crosse, and Abbott, 490 City Park-av, who recently designed one of the city of Columbus' fire [illegible].

The board of township trustees, with its chairman John Guy, has served as the building committee.

As part of the further expansion plans of the fire department service, trustees report that they have already advertised for an emergency squad truck — "about the only thing our volunteer system is [illegible]."

In addition to the many volunteers, the Franklin Township Fire Department has three fulltime salaried personnel. These include Fire Chief James Maffitt and two communications men, who man the network system and telephones on an around-the-clock basis.

Jubilee To Be Held At Site Of Shopping Mart

The site of the proposed Lincoln Village shopping center will serve as the focal point of activities for the Gateway West Jubilee to be held Sept. 23 and 24. That announcement was made by D. J. Kunz, following a meeting of the jubilee committee held last night at the Hilltop Business Association office. Located on US Route 40 at Murray Hill-rd, the area, according to Mr. Kunz, will be graveled and placed in good condition by the Peoples Development Co.

Within the grounds will be a midway, with numerous entertainment devices as well as a reviewing stand.

"Everything is shaping up fine," Mr. Kunz said, "and an announcement of the complete program will be in the near future.

"Numerous contests to appeal to all age groups and a mile-long parade to mark the opening of the new stretch of pavement on Route 40 between New Rome and Philippi-rd are down to details," he added.

GM WORKERS GET PAY BOOST

General Motors last week announced an upward revision of one cent per hour in its cost of living allowance to approximately 370,000 hourly-rated employes, including Columbus workers. The new pay rate becomes effective with the first pay period after Sept. 1.

Building Contracts Let For Hilltop Branch Office Of City National Bank

General contract for the construction of the new West Side office of the City National Bank at 3100 W. Broad-st, has been awarded to Garwick and Ross, general contractors, according to J. H. McCoy, president of The City National Bank and Trust Company.

The plumbing contract was awarded to the Huffman-Wolfe Co., and the electrical contract to the Superior Electrical Engineering Co. Plans for the building were drawn by Benham, Richards and Armstrong, architects. All the firms are local.

Work on the new banking office is expected to begin soon, with completion planned sometime next spring. The West Side office will offer complete banking services and will feature drive-in banking and ample parking space.

Initial Football Practice Is To Be Held Friday At West High Field

Sixty-five prospective candidates reported for the West High Cowboys unitial football practice of the season last Friday night at Magly Field, with that number likely to swell over the 100 mark when the sophomores report.

By that time, however, several prospects who are now on the squad will probably drop by the wayside as the "men are separated from the boys."

The spirit of the squad is high at present, which is a very healthy condition and may see the local lads on the rebound after a rather disappointing 1953 season.

Head Coach "Mack" Pemberton stated at the opening session, "It seems the less lettermen we have returning, the better team we have."

This year's team may be a little heavier than in 1953 as Junior Tackle Dave Randall is up from 188 to 204; Senior Quarterback Larry Nafsger from 150 to 162; Junior Fullback Ron Nehinger, 165 to 175 Senior End Dana Deshler, 185 to 175; and several others of unknown quanity tipping the scales around the 180-pound mark.

Only two major changes in positions are contemplated at the present time. Dave Randall, a fine Defense tackle, will also see some service as an offensive center and Dana Deshler, an elusive open field runner, will move from his offensive end position to a halfback spot, where his left-handed forward position will also be more effective.

The Cowboys are continuing their one-a-day practice sessions this week and Friday, Aug. 27, will see their first real action as they collide with the Grandview Bob-Cats of the Central Buckeye League in a scrimmage game at Grandview.

Starting time had not been set at this writing.

Two Pre-Teensters Take Top Talent Awards

The youngest winning duo in the 4-H recreation and rural arts talent show held in the activities tent at the Franklin County Fair in Hilliards, last Thursday night included 10-year-old Virginia E. Whalen of New Rome, Virginia and her partner, Carol Wilt, 12, of Hilliards, members of the 4-H Livestock Farmerettes Club, placed first in the dancing section of the talent show. Carol and Virginia presented a song and dance act to the music of "Carolina in the Morning."

They, along with the other first award winners in the three classifications (dancing, music, and dramatics) were slated to compete at the Ross County Fair, Chillicothe yesterday for the state semi-finals, the winners of which will compete at the state club congress at OSU in September.

Class A music winners were the Harmony Belles of the Katy-Did 4-H Sewing Club of Hilliards including Sharon DeWolf, Mary Jane Sharp, and Roseanne Wolpert. Accompanist was Martha Ann McCarthy.

A "very close" second, also rating A in performance, were the 4-H Kitchen Kaperettes from New Rome — Dixie LaRue, Penny Pennell, Patty Denman, Caroline Kaderly, Patty O'Harra, and Lynda [illegible].

The dramatics contest was won by a group from the Central College Junior Farmers 4-H Club, who presented a comic sketch, "Lily of the Alley," complete with a galloping horse.

Rating special praise from judges — Jim Chapman, farm service director of WRFD, Worthington; and Bob Werrel of the State 4-H Office — were the class B winners, some of whom missed by a mere fraction the class A rating. These clubs were the Dublin Sharp Shammies, who participated in the dramatics section and presented "Casey's Daughter Struck Out," in the music section: "The Flint Stitchers," composed of 10 members, dancing section; and the Needles and Pins Club of Central College, who had 10 members doing the can-can. The Harmony Belles will be unable to go to Chillicothe because of the 4-H Camp.

There were approximately 70 young people representing their 4-H Clubs throughout Franklin County. They presented 16 different acts.

30 Hilltop Streets May Go One-Way

Converting traffic to the one-way plan on about 30 north-south Hilltop streets is being considered, Assistant Safety Director Leo Phillips disclosed Saturday.

Although no decision has been reached as to which direction the one-way streets will carry traffic, Phillips said that is all probability north-south streets between Lechner-av and the west city limits will be converted.

Traffic Engineer James A. Musick said through streets such as Hague-av and Demorest-rd will be excluded from the one-way plan from the Hilltop area. Musick explained it is felt one-way streets are necessary because many houses in the area do not have garages or side drives, forcing residents to park their cars on both sides of the street.

Musick said it is a question of removing parking from one side of the street or converting to one-way traffic.

NEW GRANDPA

Wearing an unusually wide smile this week was Mayor (Jack) Sensenbrenner, brand-new grandfather. A daughter was born Friday to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, 2806 Fremont, University Hospital.

BUSTIN' WITH PRIDE—We'd like to think our own Mr. Fix-It was responsible for the above scene on Sullivant-av in the 2200 block. At any rate, Mr. Fix-It talked last week with the city department of engineering and construction and explained how impossible it was to drive with safety on Sullivant-av's washboard surface. The resurfacing machinery shown above, started the work on Monday of this week. It certainly wasn't "Blue Monday" for the residents of the Sullivant-Hilltonia area. (Record photo)

Mr. Fix-It Asked About Buckled Condition Of Algonquin Avenue

Dear Mr. Fixit:

While speaking of rough streets, let's take a look at the buckled condition of Algonquin-av leading from curb to curb at each man-hole in the middle of the street. A dam exists in front of No. 96 at gutter, and from No. 125 on south to Wicklow-rd is an easy thing to knock your wheels out of line at 25 mph. This condition has existed for a long time. Do we have street in[illegible]

Yours Truly,
"A Subscriber"
(Louis Holzbecher)
97 Algonquin-av

Mr. Fixit says: "In addition to the above letter, I received complaints about a dip in the intersection of Day-av and Midland-av this week. Another dip was reported to be creating a sewer problem in Belvidere-av near Broad-st.

"For these and any other problems that may arise pertaining to the condition of streets, all one needs to do is to make a formal complaint by telephone to the department of engineering and construction at city hall. This will bring immediate investigation of the matter.

"A spokesman for the department told me, 'We rely about 95 per cent on complaints, for it only stands to reason that we cannot cover every inch of every street with enough regularity to do any good. We would be very happy to have their call. The number is CA. 1-3211, ext. 334.'"

Westinghouse Dedication Rites Set For New Hilltop Plant On Sept. 16

The 45 million dollar Westinghouse Electric Appliance Plant at W. Broad-st and Philippi-rd will be formally dedicated on Sept. 16, with the rites followed by a two-day open house and invitation to the general public to tour the largest plant ever built by the firm.

In announcing the plans, John H. Ashbaugh, company vice-president, declared that "all who so desire may see the plant in action" on the 16th and 17th of September, with the plant remaining open to visitors from 1 to 8 p. m. on the first day and from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. on Sept. 17.

The dedication rites will be held on Sept. 16 at 1 p. m., with distinguished guests from Columbus, Franklin County, and other parts of the country taking part.

"We are also especially anxious to invite the many civic and industrial leaders of Columbus and the state who have helped us to establish this plant here," Ashbaugh declared. "From the initial decisions on the location of this plant, through the construction of it and the process of getting it into operation, we have had much voluntary help and cooperation. We sincerely hope all of these people will visit the Westinghouse Columbus plant on Sept. 16 and feel that they have had a share in making this plant dedication possible."

Other plans call for the plant doors to be opened to the public at 1:30 p. m. following the dedication ceremonies. Visitors will be able to observe every step in the manufacture of refrigerators and freezers in a complete tour of the plant and its facilities. Besides the tour, visitors will see all the most up-to-date electric appliances for

No immediate plans are in view for the property, according to Gervetz. For the time being the firm of Lee Motor Sales will continue to occupy it.

Crop Insurance Again Available To Franklin County Growers-Farmers

All-risk crop insurance protection is again available to Franklin county wheat growers, according to Albert C. Koehler, agent. This insurance protects a farmer's investment against all unavoidable causes of loss, such as winterkill, excessive rainfall, flood, insect infestation and plant diseases, which may destroy his crops. The protection is offered to eligible Franklin county producers at a low cost.

Sales representatives are now contacting eligible growers, and will continue to do so until the closing date for this year's program. Farmers interested in learning details of the program may call at the Franklin County ASC office, 1251 E. Broad st.

Crop insurance is written by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Public Action Can Stop Home Fires, Says Expert

For the first time in four years the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports a decrease in residential fires in the United States! The decrease is slight—only 2 percent—but it shows what public support of fire prevention techniques can do.

The ultimate goal, however, is a long way off. Last year's 295,000 home fires were too close for comfort to the 1952 toll, and the list of their causes bears a discouraging similarity to the figures for previous years. Basic fire safety rules may be an old refrain to many people, but the tragic truth remains that most of our fires start because those rules were carelessly forgotten or ignored.

Indian proverb: Give squaw an inch and you'll walkum aisle.—Betty Jay Rood.

JOINS SAME LEAGUE AS KIWANIANS—Scene is the same; only the contestants are different in the climax of a tug-of-war, shown above, at Westgate Park. This time, however, it was the Columbus police department taking a dunking in Hardar Lake instead of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. Also, this time the occasion was the all-afternoon municipal employees picnic held Saturday and the victors were the firemen instead of the Hilltop Lions at the recent bean dinner. Mayor Sensenbrenner presented the award to the fire department.

Mrs. Carter And John R. Hayes

MRS. JOHN R. HAYES

The garden at the home of the bride's parents was the scene Saturday, Aug. 21, of the summer wedding of Miss Donna Lee Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel L. Carter, 7830 Smoky Row-rd, Worthington, formerly of the Hilltop, to Mr. John Richard Hayes, son of Mr. Myron B. Hayes, 1692 E. Whittier-st.

The bridal party approached the wedding circle through a closed center aisle formed with white wrought iron yard markers which were adorned with satin tied clusters of dainty summer flowers. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. T. Langhols before a double trellis in which huckleberry leaves, woodwardia and summer gladioli were entwined.

Filmy nylon tulle over satin fashioned her waltz-length bridal gown. A brief jacket covered a strapless fitted draped bodice while the sleeves tapered gracefully to points over her wrists. The bouffant skirt, worn over an old-fashioned hoop, featured an apron of handkerchief points which, like the jacket, was frosted with sprigs of lily of the valley.

Her double tiered fingertip veil of imported French illusion fell from an open crown of lace and tulle, with tufted edges caught with tiny seed pearls and sequins. She carried a traditional nosegay of lily of the valley, stephanotis and white orchids.

Miss Ann Manus, maid of honor, wore a waltz length gown of mint green crystallite, fashioned with a portrait neckline and very full hand-stitched circular skirt. Her open crown hairbraid picture hat was in a matching shade, as was the garden basket she carried which contained a variety of summer flowers.

Miss Carolyn Emig of Gahanna was bridesmaid. Her gown was identical in styling to that of the maid of honor, in a soft maize with matching picture hat and garden basket which contained similar flowers. The attendants wore a single strand of seed pearls.

Mr. Bruce McGinnis of Pittsburgh was best man and the ushers were Mr. William Boyd of Coshocton, Mr. Louis Cunningham and Mr. John Welch of Elmira, N. Y.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carter chose a champagne lace dress, moss green velvet hat and neckline corsage of moss green orchids. Mrs. Albert Dickerson, sister of the bridegroom, wore an iridescent dark green over blue nylon tulle gown. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of white phaleonopsis orchids.

A reception was held in the Carters' garden immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Welch of Elmira, N.Y., aunt of the bride, Miss Ada George and Miss Mary Lou Wolske.

The bride is a graduate of Ohio State University, College of Education, and a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Hayes is a graduate of Linden McKinley High School and is a senior at Capital University.

For the wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., and New York, the bride changed to a slate blue shantung sheath dress with a matching short jacket. Her accessories were of black velvet and pinned to her jacket was an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After Sept. 1, Mr. Hayes and his bride will reside at 4041 E. Main-st. Apt. 4.

Glenwood Methodist Is Scene Of Guyton-Manring Nuptials

MR. AND MRS. DONALD G. MANRING

Baskets of gladioli decorated the altar, and white carnations tied with white satin ribbons marked the pews of Glenwood Methodist Church on Aug. 14, for the wedding of Miss Helen Louise Guyton and Mr. Donald Gene Manring. Rev. Joseph Shellhaas read the double-ring service at 7:30 p.m.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Guyton of 267 N. Hague-av, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wanetta Manring of 1400 Oak-st.

Her floor-length gown of chantilly lace and nylon net over satin was designed with a sheer yoke and long lace sleeves forming points over hands. Chantilly lace fashioned the fitted bodice and extended into points over the very full skirt, which was worn over hoops and crinoline.

A tiara of pearl and lace held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a lace and nylon fan mounted with a crescent arrangement of gamellias and a white orchid.

Miss Harriet Hunter served as maid of honor, Mrs. Ernest Taylor, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmatron and Miss Phyllis Guyton, as bridesmaid, for her sister.

Their gowns of chantilly lace and nylon net were styled with formal lace bodices and tiny matching jackets with a five-tiered bouffant net skirt in ballerina-length.

The honor attendant's gown was in blossom yellow and the others were in powder blue. They each wore a halo of flowers and carried Colonial bouquets of glamellias and carnations.

Cherry Holt, the little flower girl, wore a ballerina length white nylon gown and carried a small basket wrapped with white satin ribbon and filled with white pompons.

Mr. Ernest Taylor served as best-man for his brother-in-law and the ushers were Mr. Wallace Ervin, Mr. Albert Johnson and Mr. James Taylor. The bridegroom's nephew, Rusty Taylor, was the ringbearer.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony and serving as hostesses were Miss Barbara Constance, Mrs. Joe West, Miss Nancy Moore and Miss Shirley Kanavel.

The new Mrs. Manring is associated with Seiler's Department Store. Mr. Manring is a graduate of East High School and is enrolled as a senior in the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University.

The newly-married couple traveled to New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, D.C., on their wedding trip. They are now at home at 1400 Oak-st.

Sunday Sermonette

THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD

By Rev. John P. Adams
Pastor Of Hilliards Methodist Church

There is no animal mentioned in the Scripture which compares in symbolical interest and importance with that of the sheep. It is spoken of in the Bible more than 500 times. The sheep was important to the ancient Hebrews, for it supplied most of their needs: milk, butter, cheese, meat, and even a sort of currency.

It is not a wonder that the Hebrews used the language and the terminology of sheep-raising in their attempt to describe their relationship to God and God's association with them.

Yet of all of the religious truth which has been expressed in the words of those who tended sheep, the most treasured is the Twenty-Third Psalm. The writer of this song was evidently a shepherd himself, for he knew the ways of sheep and the methods of leading them. He knew the care that a shepherd gave his flock.

But then he saw himself no longer as a shepherd, leading his flock. He saw himself as a sheep, and to him, God was his shepherd. He did not see himself as being a wanderer on this earth. He was not wandering, he was being led, and by the Eternal Creator and Provider of mankind.

God is represented in three ways in the Twenty-Third Psalm. First, he is the shepherd who provides for his sheep. "The Lord is my shepherd, and I shall not want. As long as God was leading him there was nothing that he really needed that would not be provided. He provides pasturage, "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures." He provides rest. "He maketh me to lie down." He provides water, "He leadeth me beside the still water."

God is shown to be the guide of his sheep. He leadeth me . . . He leads his sheep in the right paths.

God is the shepherd who guards his sheep. When the sun fell and the deep shadows filled the valleys there was danger of attack by wild animals and from robbers. But the sheep that are with the shepherd are not afraid. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

God is our shepherd. O come, let us worship and bow down and let us kneel before the Lord, our Maker, for He is our God and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

God is our shepherd and we shall not want for anything. He leads us quietly into green pastures and causes us to rest. He takes us to still waters. He refreshes our lives. He guides us into true paths. Even if we walk through the darkness we will not be afraid, for God is near, and his presence is our comfort.
